AWARD

By order No. 3537-I.R./IR/10L-97/62, dated the 6th August 1962, the Government of West Bengal in the Labour Department, referred for adjudication to this Tribunal industrial disputes existing or apprehended in the engineering industry in West Bengal between employers of the engineering establishments mentioned in the List I annexed thereto and represented by themselves or by the organisations mentioned in the List II attached thereto, on the one hand, and their workmen represented by the Trade Unions mentioned in the List III attached thereto, on the other, relating to two issues, viz.—

Issues

1. Wages.

Holidays and leave—festival holidays, sick leave, casual leave and privilege leave.

2. The Engineering Establishments in the List I, the Organisations in the List II and the Trade Unions in the List III are shown respectively in Annexures A, B and C of this award.

3. Since receipt of the original Order of Reference No. 3537-I.R./IR/10L-97/62, dated 6th August 1962, and during the course of adjudication proceedings started thereon, a number of engineering establishments and also trade unions were added as parties to the reference under section 10(5), Industrial Disputes Act, as per Annexures D and D(1).

4. Notices were issued to all the Employers' Associations and the Trade Unions of Lists II and III and also to the individual companies of list I. Notices were also issued to companies and Trade Unions subsequently added under section 10(5). Notices on the Associations and Trade Unions were duly served. Notices issued on the individual companies were not served in all cases Quite a good number of notices were returned with the remarks 'Left' or 'Not claimed'. After this, this Tribunal wrote to the Government for furnishing correct present addresses of such companies. After quite a long time, the Government replied stating that no further addresses of the concerned companies were available. In view of this position, this Tribunal directed substituted service of notice upon these companies by publication of a notice of this reference in a local newspaper. This notice was published in the Amrita Bazar Patrika, dated 20th July 1964. After publication of this notice, only one or two concerned companies appeared in the present proceeding.

5. One joint written statement was filled by the four representative Associations of the Employers in List II of the Order of Reference.

6. Of the five Trade Unions in List III of the Order of Reference, the first four filed a separate written statement each. Trade Union No. 5 in the list did not file any written statement.

7. Some individual companies and Trade Unions which claimed to represent workers of some individual companies under section 36, Industrial Disputes Act, also filed separate written statements.

8. On the point of authority and competence of some individual Trade Unions not named in List III of the Order of Reference nor subsequently added by any Government Order, my order No. 40, dated 3rd January 1963, may be referred to. Some individual Trade Unions claimed to be added as parties for the purpose of representing the workers of some particular companies. This was opposed on behalf of the employers concerned. The matter was heard and disposed of by the aforesaid order, dated 3rd January 1963. By this order, I rejected the claim of the individual Trade Unions to be made parties without prejudice to their right to intervene in the proceeding as representatives of the workers concerned by having recourse to the provisions of section 36, Industrial Disputes Act.

9. Quite a large number of companies and a few Trade Unions filed applications challenging the present Order of Reference as not maintainable in respect of them and claiming exemption from the present adjudication on the ground that the parties concerned were bound by some previous awards and settlements. Some of these applications were not opposed and some were opposed. The whole matter was heard at length and disposed of by interim awards, dated 6th February 1963, 9th April 1964, 24th February 1965, 3rd March 1965 and 10th February 1965 and order, dated 30th March 1965 (order No. 128). Some compromise or "no dispute" awards were made and in some cases the claims for exemption were disallowed and in some cases granted. As a result, the companies shown in Annexure E were exempted from the scope of the reference and necessarily from the present adjudication proceeding and these companies will not be bound by the award made in the present proceeding. The interim awards have already been published in the "Calcutta Gazette" on different dates. The order, dated 30th March 1965, is reproduced in Appendix I. The interim awards and the order, dated 30th March 1965, are confirmed.

10. In some cases also, there were compromise petitions in respect of one issue only leaving the other issue open for adjudication and in some cases some companies were granted exemption from the present adjudication on either party's application and after hearing the application either in respect of both the issues or one of them only. Particulars of these cases are shown in Annexure E(1).

11. Some Trade Unions prayed for interim relief pending the final adjudication of the dispute which was likely to take a long time. This matter was heard on contest and disposed of by an interim award, dated 18th September 1964. By this interim award, some provisional increases were granted on the following terms and conditions:—

(1) Workmen getting consolidated wages up to Rs. 55 per month shall get a flat increase of Rs. 6 per month.

(2) Workmen getting consolidated wages from Rs. 56 to Rs. 86 per month shall get a flat increase of Rs. 5 per month.

(3) Workmen on consolidated wages from Rs. 86 upwards and who are covered by the recent Government orders under the Defence of India Rules, granting interim increase of D.A. by Rs. 10 shall not get any interim relief, but workmen on such consolidated wages who are not governed by the recent Government orders under the Defence of India Rules regarding interim increase of D.A. shall get an interim increase of Rs. 4 in wages up to the wage scale of Rs. 96 and workers getting wages above that sum but below Rs. 100 shall get the difference between their wages and Rs. 100 as interim relief.

(1), (2) and (3) will apply to all categories of workmen, including piece-rated workers.

(4) Engineering concerns who have challenged the legality of the present reference and the jurisdiction of this Tribunal to adjudicate upon such reference on the ground of their still being bound by certain existing awards or settlements shall be excluded from the operation of this interim award.

(5) The engineering concerns covered by the two interim awards already made by this Tribunal and other engineering concerns who together with their workmen, either acting by themselves or through their unions, have filed joint "no dispute" or settlement petitions, shall also be excluded from the operation of this interim award.

(6) Ad hoc or special increments granted to the workmen by way of relief against increasing prices at any time during the year 1964, if any, should be adjusted against the amounts of interim relief indicated in (1), (2) and (3).

(7) The interim increase in wages as in (1), (2) and (3) shall be operative from 1st September 1964.

This interim award which was subject to the final adjudication of the dispute now merges into this final award which will be binding and effective from the date on which it takes effect and the interim reliefs already granted will continue up to that time. The whole interim award is reproduced in Appendix II.

12. After the passing of the aforesaid interim awards, some other joint compromise or "no dispute" petitions were filed by some companies and their workmen. The parties have certainly the right to file compromise or "no dispute" petitions at any stage of the proceedings and so such new joint applications could not be barred. But it was not possible to make another interim award regarding those joint petitions because it was felt that other such petitions might be coming in at any stage. I directed that these new joint applications would be considered and disposed of in the final award. The following companies and their workmen have filed such joint petitions for compromise or "no dispute" award.

1. Messrs. Walford Transport Ltd., 71 Park Street, Calcutta-16.

2. Messrs. Walford Transport Ltd., 21/1 Darga Road, Calcutta-17.

3. Messrs. Walford Transport Ltd., P40/1 Hide Road, Calcutta-23.

4. Messrs. Walford Transport Ltd., 117 Park Street, Calcutta-16.

5. Messrs. Crown Iron Works, 390 Road Belgachia, Howrah.

6. Messrs. Orient General Industries Ltd., Sl. No. 313.

7. Messrs. Electrical Manufacturing Co. Ltd., Sl. No. 61.

8. Messrs. Electric Manufacturing Co. Ltd., Sl. No. 65.

9. Messrs. Electrical Manufacturing Co. Ltd. Sl. No. 73.

10. Messrs. Lagan Jute Machinery Co. (P) Ltd., (Sl. Nos. 40 and 421).

11. Messrs. Electrical Industries Corporation, Sl. No. 300.

12. Messrs. J. K. Business Machine, Sl. No 9.

13. The Indian Statistical Institute Workshop, (Sl. No. 15).

14. Messrs. Voltas Ltd. (Workshop).

15. Messrs. Modern Malleable Casting Works.

16. Messrs. Diana Rolling Shutters & Engineering Works, Sl. No. 363.

17. Messrs. Bharat Tin & Enamel Co. (P) Ltd., Sl. No. 941.

18. Messrs. Varat Machinery.

No objections have been raised regarding these joint applications. I have considered the terms of compromise. The terms have appeared to me to be quite fair and lawful and I have been satisfied that there have been bona fide settlements of the disputes between these companies and their workmen on those terms. Accordingly, the disputes between these companies and their workmen are disposed of by compromise or 'no dispute' awards in terms of the joint petitions, copies whereof are made parts of the award as Annexure E(2). The cases of such companies are accordingly disposed of by such awards.

13. Before taking up the general case on merits, I would here dispose of some special cases put forward by several Companies.

(a) Shamsingh Workshop (Sl No. 425)

The special case put forward on behalf of this establishment is that it has been permanently closed down and has, therefore, ceased to exit and accordingly there can be no award in respect of this establishment. OPW 11, a senior officer in the Tea Department of Messrs. Duncan Bros. & Co., who are the agents of Chalsa Tea Co., to which this establishment was attached as a repairing workshop, has given evidence and has produced the relevant documents, viz. Ext. G, the closure notice, Ext. G(1) the resolution of closure passed at a meeting of the Company Directors and Ext. G(2), notice of discontinuance of subscription to Medical Association on account of closure of the establish ment. This whole evidence has not been opposed or challenged at all. Accordingly, I accept the case of permanent closure of this establishment and so I hold that adjudication proceedings in respect of this establishment have abated and become infructuous. In the circumstances, I hold that no adjudication in respect of this establishment can be made because it has ceased to exist and the dispute has also abated and ceased to exist.

(b) Ramnagar Cane and Sugar Co. Ltd. (Sl. No. 411)

This Company has already been exempted from the scope of the reference in respect of Issue No. 1 only by the order, dated 30th March 1965 (No. 128). In respect of Issue No. 2, the Company and its workers fave filed a joint petition of compromise in terms of a conciliation settlement [Ext. G(8)]. This joint petition has not been challenged or opposed. I have considered the terms of compromise. These appear to be quite fair and lawful. I am satisfied that there has really been a bona fide settlement of the dispute regarding Issue No. 2 on the terms given in the joint petition. Accordingly, I make a compromise award in respect of this Company and its workmen regarding Issue No. 2. A copy of the joint petition, together with the Memorandum of Settlement made Annexure C thereto, is made a part of the award as Annexure F(3).

(c) Anglo-India Jagaddal Jute Mill (Engineering Workshop) (Sl. No. 230)

It is stated in respect of this Company that it is covered by successive Jute Tribunal awards and the unainmous recommendations of the Central Wage Board for Jute Industry. OPW 12 Shri K. D. Mukherjee, Labour Adviser of the Company, has given evidence. He has proved that this establishment is a part of the jute mill and is used as a repairing workshop and is bound by the Jute Tribunal awards and recommendations of the Central Wage Board for Jute Industry. He has been nominally cross-examined on behalf of the two Trade Unions, but his statements have not been shaken. I accept the evidence and hold that this unit is really a part of the jute mill to which it is attached as a repairing workshop and this workshop enjoys all the benefits and amenities of the Jute Tribunal awards and the recommendations of the Central Jute Wage Board, which are still in force. Not a single worker of this establishment has come forward to raise any grievance against the present wage scale or leave and holidays enjoyed by them under the Jute Tribunal awards and the recommendations of the Central Jute Wage Board. In fact, there is no evidence to show that the workers of this establishment has really any grievance after the Jute Tribunal awards and the recommendations of the Jute Wage Board. Ext. G(3) is the chart of wages paid to the workers under the Jute Tribunal awards and the Wage Board recommendations. The wages appear to be quite fair and reasonable. Accordingly, I confirm the Jute Tribunal awards and the recommendations of the Jute Wage Board in respect of this establishment and hold that the workers of this establishment shall continue to be governed by the Jute Tribunal awards and the recommendations of the Jute Wage Board in respect of wages and leave and holidays, irrespective of the general decision regarding wages, leave and holidays that may be made in respect of other establishments in this award.

(d) Dooars Tea Co. Ltd. Central Workshop (Sl. No. 427)

The case put forward on behalf of this establishment is that the workshop is a part of the Tea Estate and its workmen enjoy all the benefits and privileges of plantation labour and recommendations of the Central Wage Board on Plantation regarding interim increase of wages have been implemented in the case of these workers and besides such increased wages, the workmen are supplied with firewood and living quarters free of cost and rent respectively and they are also given rice at concessional rate. OPW 13 Shri Panchanan Kushari, Senior Assistant in the Tea Department of Gillander Arbuthnot & Co., agents of Dooars Tea Co. Ltd., has given evidence. So far as holidays are concerned, it is stated by this witness that the workmen are allowed holidays according to an award of the Sixth Industrial Tribunal made in 1957. He has stated that according to this award, workers get 8 paid festival holidays. He has also stated that the workers are granted 30 days' privilege leave on full pay and 14 days' sick leave on full pay in a year, but no casual leave is granted. In cross-examination by Shri Anil Das Chowdhury on behalf of workers of some other units covered by the present reference, the witness has admitted that leave and wages of the workers are not covered by any award or settlement. He also stated that in Ext. G(5), said to be a chart of wages and other amenities enjoyed by the workers, the Company has shown its assessment of the value of amenities. No previous award or settlement has been produced. Admittedly, this establishment is registered under the Factories Act. The rates of wages including dearness allowance and interim increases shown in Ext. G(5) does not seem to be quite fair and reasonable in all cases. In my view, there is no sufficient ground for exempting this establishment from the scope of this adjudication upon the evidence produced on behalf of the Company. So, there shall be adjudication in respect of this Company in respect of both the issues on the condition that the terms of the award in respect of both the issues in so far as they afford higher benefits and privileges on the workers in comparison to those shown in Ext. G(5), shall hold good and apply to the workmen. The special case for exemption put forward on behalf of this establishment is rejected, subject to the terms just stated above.

(e) Lucas Indian Service (P) Ltd. (Sl. No. 376)

Exemption of this establishment from the scope of the present adjudication has been claimed mainly on the ground that it is not an engineering establishment but is an establishment for sale and service of products manufactured by Lucas Group of Companies (England) and Lucas T.V.S., Madras. It is stated that this establishment does not manufacture any product but its activities are only confined to sale and service of products manufactured by Lucus Group of Companies and Lucus T.V.S., Madras. I am unable to accept this contention. Servicing by this Company is also an engineering operation. Admittedly, it is registered under the Factories Act. So, I reject the claim of exemption of this Company on the ground alleged. The Company has produced Exts. I and I(1) showing scales of pay and D.A. and annual increments enjoyed by the workmen of all categories including clerical and supervisory staff. As to leave and holidays, the evidence is that the workmen enjoy privilege leave under the Factories Act and 7 days' sick leave with full pay, and the estblishment also observes bank holidays and Viswakarma Puja day. I have considered the chart of wages and D.A. and increments enjoyed by the workers. It appears that all categories of the staff of this Company enjoy quite decent scales of pay and D.A. and increments granted to them are quite decent and fair. Prima facie and for the present, I do not think that there is reason for interfering with these scales of wages and D.A. and increments. The total emoluments of the lowest paid sweeper consisting of minimum basic wage and D.A. is Rs. 125. So, in respect of wages, I hold that the scale of wages, D.A. and increments as shown in Exts. I and I(1) shall continue, unless higher scales under this issue are fixed by this award. In other words, the award in respect of Issue No. 1 made in this case would operate to modify the existing scales of basic wages, D.A. and increments as shown in Exts. I and I(1) only where the award rates are higher than the current wages, D.A. and increments according to Exts. I and I(1). The existing scales according to Exts. I and I(1) are, therefore, confirmed subject to this condition.

As to leave and holidays, I think that the Company should be governed by the genereal award that would be made in respect of this issue.

(f) Kusum Engineering Works (Sl. No. 260)

It is pleaded that the issues of (1) wages and D.A. and (2) sick leave and casual leave, which formed the subject-matter of a dispute between this establishment and its workmen, were referred to the Fourth Industrial Tribunal and that Tribunal made an award, published in the "Calcutta Gazteete", dated 20th July 1961. Ext. 5(b) is that award. It is contended on behalf of this Company that the present reference on the same issues is not maintainable. No doubt there was an award in respect of wage and D.A. and sick leave and casual leave in 1961. Witness for this Company, OPW 30 Shri Bhupati Mohan Ghosh, was constrained to admit in his evidence that the cost of living has increased much as compared to 1961 when the award was passed and to meet the increased cost of living, wages of persons depending on service should be increased. He has also stated that the Company has given some increments to the scales of wages granted by the award and he has given the different rates of increments. So, this witness has practically admitted that since the award there has been substantial change in circummstnces necessitating revision of the wages and D.A. In view of this position, the present reference cannot at once be held to be not maintainable simply because of the previous award of 1961. The issue of leave and holidays of the present reference is much wider than the analogous issue in the previous reference. After considering all the aforesaid facts and circumstances I hold that the present reference cannot fail as not maintainable simply because of the previous award of 1961 and the award made in this case on the two issues in so far as they confer higher benefits and amenities in respect of wages and leave and holidays as compared to those granted by the award of 1961 shall hold good and be effective in modification of the said award.

(g) Sanyal's New Engineering Works (Sl. No. 258)

The case put forward in respect of this Company is that a dispute between the Company and its workmen on the issue of (1) grades and scales of pay and (2) D.A. and (3) sick leave and casual leave was referred for adjudication to this very Tribunal on 23rd July 1960 and the reference was disposed of by a settlement award, which was published in the "Calcutta Gazette", dated 8th June 1961 [Ext. V(6)]. OPW 32 Shri Sashi Bhusan Bhattacharjee who has given evidence for this Company, has stated that he cannot say definitely whether this award was terminated by the workmen. I find from the award, Ext. V(6), that according to the terms of Settlement, only some increments to different grades of pay were provided for in the award, but no grades and scales of wages were fixed. There is also the patent fact of change of circumstances since 1961 by reason of rise in the cost of living index. In any case, the same principles which were followed in some earlier cases should hold good here also and the present wages and leave and holidays enjoyed by the workmen under the award of 1961 shall continue and the award regarding these matters made in the present case shall operate in modification or supersession of the said award in so far as the present award confers higher benefits or amenities in respect of wages and leave and holidays as compared to the award of 1961.

(h) Krishna Iron Foundry (Sl. No.)

Here also the plea is that the present reference is not maintainable in view of some previous awards on the issues (1) wages and (2) leave and holidays. This plea has not been supported by any evidence, oral or documentary. Hence, this plea must fail and I reject this plea. Both the issues of the present reference shall be adjudicated in respect of this establishment.

(i) Bill Engineering Works (Sl. No. 9)

This factory is owned by J. K. Business Machines Ltd.

In respect of issue No. 1 (weges), a joint petition has been filed by the Company and Union of the workmen named Blackwoods Labour Association [Ext. Z(3)]. The evidence in that the name of this Company was previously Blackwoods (India) Ltd. and this name was changed to J. K. Business Ltd. in 1961 and this Company is a member of J. K. Organisation since 1958. OPW 46 Shri R. N. Lodha, Secretary of J. K. Business Machines Ltd., has given evidence. He has also proved the joint petition of compromise containing the Memorandum of Settlement. Clause (8) clearly provides that in this case there is to be a compromise award regarding the issue of wages in terms of the settlement. This witness has been cross-examined at length by representatives of several trade union organisations, but I am fully satisfied from his evidence regarding the joint petition and Memorandum of Settlement that there has really been a bona fide settlement of the dispute on the issue of wages between the Company and its workmen in terms of the Memorandum of Settlement and so there should be a compromise award in respect of this issue as praved for in the joint petition. Accordingly, I make a compromise award in respect of Issue No. 1 (Wages) in relation to this Company and its workmen in terms of Ext. Z(3), a copy whereof shall form part of this award as Annexure F(4).

On the issue of leave and holidays, the Company has put forward the case that at present it grants too many festival holidays to the workers and this should be reduced. According to the evidence of OPW 46 Shri R. N. Lodha, the Company grants 19 fully paid and 2 half-paid festival holidays in a year besides leave under the Factories Act and sick leave under the E. S. I. Scheme to factory workers and 14 days fully paid privilege leave and 10 days fully paid casual leave and 14 days sick leave on half pay to its office staff. In fact, the Company filed an application under section 33(1), Industrial Disputes Act, praying for reduction of the aforesaid leave and holdays. That application was disposed of on the terms that the matter would be decided when the issue of leave and holidays would be taken up in general in respect of other companies. I still think that the Company's prayer for reduction of leave and holidays now granted to its workers cannot be considered as a special case and disposed of here and now, but it would be considered under the general issue of leave and holidays and decided there. All that I can state here is that if I fix leave and holidays for lesser number of days then what is granted by the Company now, I will certainly consider and decide if this Company should also be brought into line with the general scheme of leave and holidays approved in this case by reducing the number of leave and holidays.

(j) Progressive Engineering Works (Sl. No. 168)

The only special plea raised on behalf of this Company which requires decision at this stage is that this Company has ceased to exist because since 1st June 1965, it became a private limited company under the name and style of Progressive Pump & Filters Ltd. It is alleged that Progressive Engineering Works, which was a partnership concern at the time of the reference, had its factory at Birpara. The present private limited company has its factory at Howrah and only 7 workers of the Birpara factory are now employed in the new factory. It is also alleged that there was a previous agreement between Progressive Engineering Works and Progressive Workers' Union regarding wages.

After considering the relevant evidence, I am of the view that though Progressive Engineering Works, which was a partnership firm and which is a party to the present reference as per serial No. 168 of the list of companies attached to the Order of Reference, has since been converted into a private limited company since 1st June 1965, and the factory at Birpara has been shifted to Howrah, the business has remained identical and the present private limited company which must be considered to be carrying on the same business only in a different name must also be deemed to be a party to the present reference. The shifting of the factory from Birpara to Howrah was effected in terms of a Memorandum of Settlement between Messrs. Progressive Engineering Works and their workers in 1963 [vide Ext. J(4)]. This agreement was effected on 28th August 1963 during the pendency of the present adjudication proceedings and it was clearly recited in paragraph (12) of the Memorandum of Settlement that this settled all disputes fully and finally except the dispute pending before this Tribunal and both parties should make a joint petition before this Tribunal for approving the action of shifting the factory. This provision clearly indicates that both the employers and the employees accepted the position that the said settlement would operate without prejudice to the pending adjudication proceeding in the present case. After this shifting, the partnership firm was converted into a private limited company. This Company is certainly running the same factory and continuing the same business. It is well-settled that in the matter of adjudication of an industrial dispute, the Tribunal should not go strictly by technicalities and formalities of law but should look into the substance of the matter. There is no doubt that in the present case the change in name or legal conversion of the employer's concern from a partnership firm to a private limited company did not certainly terminate the relationship of employer and employees between the owners of the former partnership firm and their workers. Even if only 7 workers of the old factory are now working in the new factory, which was shifted under an agreement between the Company and its workers, as already indicated above, the present factory must be deemed to be nothing but the old factory at a new site. Accordingly, I hold that the adjudication must proceed notwithstanding that Progressive Engineering Works, by which name the employer concern is a party to the present reference, has since been converted into a private limited company and this adjudication will bind both the present employers and the employees.

It is next alleged that there was a tripartite agreement between Progressive Engineering Works and their workmen regarding wages in 1962. Ext. J(6) is said to be that agreement. This was no doubt a tripartite sattlement effected on 3rd September 1962. It is, however, to be noted that inspite of the earlier tripartite settlement concerning wages, the same parties in the subsequent agreement of 1963 [Ext. J(4)], clearly provided in paragraph (12) that inspite of that settlement, the present dispute pending for adjudication before this Tribunal was to be excluded from the scope of the settlement. In my view, this later settlement clearly excluded the dispute pending adjudication before this Tribunal from its operation and necessarily the operation of the previous settlement also and the parties agreed that inspite of the settlement, the present adjudication proceedings should go on. In this view of the matter, I also reject the plan that the settlement of 1962 regarding wages should be accepted and there should be no adjudication regarding wages of the workers of the former Progressive Engineering Works in the present case. In the above view of the special plea raised on behalf of this Company in Bar of the present adjudication proceedings, I hold that the present adjudication proceedings should continue in respect of the employers and employees of the business which was formerly run in the name of Progressive Engineering Works and is now being run in the name of Progressive Pump and Filters Ltd. The workers of this concern now claim to be represented by General Trading & Engineering Workers' Union added as a party in this case by Government Order No. 1311-I.R./IR/10L-97(A)/62, dated 26th March 1963. To this representation also, objection has been taken on behalf of the Company and it is alleged that this Union has no right to represent the workmen. I am unable to accept this objection. The workers of this Company have filed authorisation in favour of this Union. So, I reject this objection and hold that the workers are legally represented by the General Trading & Engineering Workers' Union.

(k) Ganga Tin Factory (Sl. No. 350)

The only special plea that need be considered here is that there can be no adjudication on the issues of the present reference because of three previous agreements between the Company and its workmen represented by Dhar Tin Factory Workers' Union. The three agreements are Exts. J, J(1) and J(2). I have considered the three agreements. I find that by these agreements some increments of wages were granted to some workers but these were of an interim nature on the basis of which this Union undertook not to press for interim relief in the present case but at the same time, it was clearly provided that "the reference pending before Seventh Industrial Tribunal would be decided on merits and the present increments of wages of the workmen would be adjusted accordingly and both parties are at liberty to contest the aforesaid reference." This provision is contained in paragraph (6) of the latest agreement, Ext. J(2), dated 12th September 1964. In view of this clear provision in the latest agreement, the increments in wages granted by the agreements relied on by the Company, cannot be accepted as full and final settlement regarding wages and accordingly the agreements cannot operate to extinguish the present adjudication proceedings on the ground that all disputes between the Company and the workmen were settled by the said agreements. Accordingly, I reject this preliminary plea raised on behalf of the Company.

It is in evidence that this Company is now managed by the Official Receiver of the High Court since 29th July 1960. OPW 12 Shri Bimal Kanti Das Gupta, who is now managing the factory as representative of the Official Receiver, has given evidence. This clearly indicates that the Official Receiver has submitted to the reference, though he has not been formally named as a party. It is not also seriously contended before me that the present reference in respect of this Company must fail because the Official Receiver is not formally a party. In an industrial adjudication, which is not strictly a legal proceeding subject to all the formalities and technicalities of law, the substance of the matter and not the form is to be considered and when it is clear that the Official Receiver has submitted to the present proceedings, omission of formally impleading him as a party will not make the adjudication proceedings illegal.

The preliminary objection raised on behalf of the Company is, therefore, rejected.

The other points raised and canvassed on behalf of the Company relate to the merits of the issues and these will be considered when the issues will be taken up on merits.

(l) Sur Enamel Stamping Works (Private) Ltd. (Sl. No.)

The preliminery point urged on behalf of the Company and requiring consideration at this stage is that it is not an engineering industry but a ceramic industry and so, the present reference which relates to disputes in the engineering industry cannot and should not cover the present Company which should, therefore, be excluded from the reference. In support of this contention, reliance has been placed upon a previous award of Shri M. N. Gan in a dispute between the Company and its workmen, in which he observed that

"enamel is a ceramic industry which has been classed with glass in item No. 37. This is not an engineering industry." Shri P. K. Sen Gupta, who appeared on behalf of the Company, argued that this finding should operate as res judicata in the absence of any special evidence or circumstances to take out this industry from the purview of that finding. There is, however, some special evidence in this case to show that enamel industry of the nature carried on by this Company is also included within engineering industry. Dr. H. Banerjee, Reader in Economics, Jadavpur University and Acting Head of the Department of Economics Section of the CMPO, has given evidence on behalf of the companies. He has defined "engineering industry" as the industry which is mainly concerned with fabrication of matals and included in three major groups of Codes Nos. 36, 37 and 38 of the Standard Industrial Classifications adopted by the Government of India. Code No. 37 is "Machinery (all kinds other than transport and electrical equipments"). I think Shri Gan referred to this Code when he mentioned item 37 in his award (Award published in the "Calcutta Gazette, Extraordinary", dated 29th May 1958, at page 197). As regards enamal industry, Dr. Banerjee has made the clear statement that preparation of basic materials and enamelling is engineering industry but simply enamelling is not engineering industry and this industry may come within Code 369 or 368. This Company produces its enamel manufactures from steel sheets pressed and chemically treated. This operation is certainly an engineering operation according to the definition of Dr. Banerjee, which I accept, because it involves fabrication of metals for the purpose of producing enamel products, and it is not confined to enamelling simply. Accordingly, I reject the contention that it is not an engineering industry and so there should be no adjudication in respect of this Company in the present reference. Shri P. K. Sen Gupta also referred to two tripartite agreements regarding wages of the workers of this Company after Shri Gan's award of 1958 and gave the date of the first agreement as 3rd May 1961 and the second as 18th August 1965. No evidence in support of these agreements have been produced except a copy of the West Bengal Labour Gazette of November 1961, containing the agreement, dated 3rd May 1961 (pages 534 to 538). This copy of the Gazette shows that there was a tripartite agreement regarding wages on 3rd May 1961, but this was before the present reference which was made in 1962. There is absolutely nothing to show that there was any agreement, dated 18th August 1965. I am unable to hold that the agreement of 3rd May 1961, would necessarily and at once nullify the present reference. There is absolutely no evidence on the record to show that in view of the said previous agreement, there was no dispute between the Company and its workmen at the time of the reference and that no dispute also sobsists now between the Company and its workmen. In fact, there is no evidence either on the side of the Company or on behalf of the workmen. In these circumstances, I must accept the order of reference and hold it to be valid and effective on the basis that a dispute between the Company and its workmen existed or was apprehended at the time of the reference and the same position still continues. So, I reject this plea of the Company also.

(m) Messrs. Bharat Industries and Commercial Corporation (Sl. No. 329)

The special case put forward is that a dispute on several issues including (1) scales of pay, (2) Dearness Allowance and (3) Leave and holidays between this Company and its workmen was referred for adjudication to this very Tribunal in 1960 and the reference was disposed of by a contested award, published in the "Calcutta Gazette", dated 15th February 1962 (Ext. W), and this award is still in force and binding upon the parties and so there cannot be a fresh adjudication of the same issues in the present reference which is, therefore, not maintainable in law in respect of this Company. It appears that the said award was signed on 11th January 1962, and was published in the "Calcutta Gazette", dated 15th February 1962. The present reference was made on 6th August 1962. This date was within one year from the date when the said previous award became effective and was statutarily in operation under section 19(3), Industrial Disputes Act. The present reference was, therefore, made when the previous award was statutorily in operation. The reference must be held to be not maintainable for that reason. The Government was not legally competent to make a fresh reference on the same issues when an award in respect of the issues was statutorily in operation. The special case of the Company must, therefore, succeed in view of this strictly legal position. Moreover, there is no evidence to prove that the said previous award, (Ext. W), has yet been legally terminated by notice under section 19(6), Industrial Disputes Act, or by any implied notice by reason of any fresh dispute being raised by the workmen in respect of the same issues. The special plea of the Company is, therefore, accepted and this Company is exempted from the scope of the present reference with the result that the award made in this case will not be binding and operative against this Company.

(n) Dureka Type Foundry (Sl. No. 139)

The special plea of the Company is that there has been an amicable settlement between the Company and its workmen and a joint petition has been submitted praying for a 'no dispute' award on the agreed basis that the Company will adopt the wage rates for the printing press industry as and when notified by the West Bengal Government under the Minimum Wages Act, 1948. Ext. W(8) is the joint petition, dated 7th April 1965. Since then minimum wages for the printing persons have been fixed by Government under notification No. 2456-I, dated 30th September 1965. The joint petition for a 'no dispute' award is signed by the Company's Managing Director, O.P.W. 35 Shri Paritosh Dhar for the Company, and all the workmen of the foundry only. But the office staff consisting of two clerks and two bearers are not parties to the joint petition for a 'no dispute' award. Necessarily, the office staff cannot be held to be a party to the joint petition praying for a 'no dispute' award on the basis that the workers will be satisfied with the minimum wages fixed by the Government for the printing press industry under the Minimum Wages Act. So, even if the no dispute prayer is accepted and a 'no dispute' award is made, this will not apply to the office staff, clerks and bearers who are not parties to the joint petition. I also find from Ext. W(9), the Government Notification fixing minimum wages for the employees in the printing press industry that minimum wages have been fixed for only for unskilled, semiskilled and skilled workers on a zonal basis and such workers cannot be held to include office staff consisting of clerks and bearers. Thus, office staff cannot be excluded from the scope of the present reference even if the joint 'no dispute' petition filed by the Company and the foundry workers is accepted.

This Company carries on type foundry business, which is closely allied to printing business. When the foundry workers have voluntarily chosen to accept the minimum wages fixed for the printing press workers according to the Minimum Wages Act (Ext. W. 9) and there is a joint prayer for a 'no dispute' award, there is no reason why this prayer should not be accepted only in the case of foundry workers in respect of issue of wages only. Accordingly, I accept the joint petition and make a 'no dispute' award in respect of the foundry workers only, excluding the office staff, on the issue of wages only. The result is that there shall be no adjudication on the issue of wages in respect of the foundry workers of this Company, but there shall be adjudication in respect of office staff on this issue (wages) and there shall be adjudication on the Issue No. 2 (leave and holidays) in respect of all the employees including foundry workers and the office staff because this issue is left absolutely uncovered by the joint petition and the Minimum Wages Notification has also nothing to do with this issue.

(o) Messrs. K. L. Kapoor and Co. (Sl. No.)

It has been argued on behalf of this Company that no dispute has been raised by the workmen and the present omnibus reference under section 10(5), Industrial Disputes Act, is bad in respect of this Company because this industry is not similar to other industries covered by the reference. I am unable to accept any of these arguments which are not supported by any satisfactory evidence. O.P.W. 37 Shri S. S. Roy, Assistant Manager of the Company, has only stated that at present they have no dispute with their workers regarding wages and leave and holidays. He has, however, been squarely cross-examined. I am unable to accept his uncorroborated oral statement in this respect. Prima facie the reference should be accepted as valid on the basis that Government was satisfied that a dispute existed or was apprehended between this Company and its workmen on the issues of the reference. There is also no substance in the other arguments that this Company cannot be included in the present omnibus engineering reference because it is not an industry similar to other engineering industries covered by the reference. It is an iron foundry which is certainly an engineering industry. So, I reject the special pleas put forward on behalf of this Company.

(p) Swadeshi Type Foundry (Sl. No.)

It has been argued on behalf of this Company that it has adopted occupational nomenclature and wage structure contained in the omnibus printing award of 1948, as modified by the award of 1951 and so, there is no scope for further adjudication in respect of wages and holidays by this Tribunal under the present reference. Unfortunately, however, no statement in support of this plea is to be found in the evidence of the only witness for this Company, O.P.W. 36 Shri Kanailal Chowdhury, Executor and Manager of the Foundry. The only documentary evidence is Ext. W. 10 which is a statement of the existing wage structure and also of leave and holidays enjoyed by the employees. It is admitted that this concern, Swadeshi Type Foundry, was not a party to the 1948 or 1951 award. In the result, I reject the special plea put forward on behalf of the Company and hold that there shall be adjudication in respect of this Company and its employees on both the issues.

(q) Heroes Engineerng Works (Sl. No.)

The special case put forward on behalf of the Company which requires decision at this stage is that there were several tripartite settlements between the Company and its workmen, some on the basis of charter of demands, and in view of these settlements, it is to be presumed that there is no dispute between the Company and its workmen and the case in respect of this Company should accordingly be disposed of by a 'no dispute' award. P.W. 1 Shri Kedar Nath Dutta, a workman, has given evidence for the workmen and O.P.W. 34, Makhan Lal Mukherjee has given evidence for the Company. Ext. W series comprises some charter of demands and tripartite settlements. Ext. W(1), is the charter of demands, dated 20th July 1962, Ext. W(2) is the tripartite agreement connected with this charter of demands. Ext. W(3) is another charter of demands, dated 12th July 1963, Ext. W(4), is the tripartite agreement, dated 12th October 1963, relating to this charter of demands, Ext. W(5), is another tripartite settlement, dated 15th January 1965 and Ext. W(7) is the tripartite settlement, dated 8th December 1965. This settlement was effected after a dispute between the Company and its workmen over a lock-out declared by the Company and the lock-out ended on the basis of this tripartite settlement. It is an admitted position that inspite of the previous tripartite settlements up to 15th January 1965, a severe dispute arose between the Company and its workmen, which resulted in a lock-out and this lock-out was ended by virtue of the final tripartite settlement, dated 8th December 1965. In view of this position, the tripartite settlements prior to the last settlement, dated 8th December 1965 [Ext. W(7)] cannot operate to establish the position that at present there is no dispute between the parties over the issues under adjudication in the present case. The last tripartite settlement, dated 8th December 1965 [Ext. W(7)], shows that there was no settlement on the question of wages in general or leave and holidays. The previous tripartite settlements also do not contain any clear and specific agreements on the question of wages in general. Some increments of the existing wages were agreed to. Most of the terms in the tripartite settlements related to production and some connected benefits to the workmen. In the above view of the tripartite settlements, I am unable to accept the Company's contention that at present there is no dispute between the Company and its workmen on the issues under adjudication in the present case. Accordingly, I reject the Company's claim for a 'no dispute' award.

The merits of the issues will be decided in general with other establishments in whose cases also there will be adjudication of the issues on merits.

(r) Sen's Automobiles (Sl. No. 323)

The only plea of the Company requiring consideration at this stage is that there was a settlement between the Company and its workmen on 18th October 1965 which, according to its terms, is to be binding for 5 years unless terminated according to law and in view of this settlement, the workmen are not entitled to raise any new dispute regarding the matters under adjudication in the present case, and so in the case of this Company, there should be a 'no dispute' award. Ext. K(4) is said to be that agreement. I find on a scrutiny of the document that it is not an original settlement but purports to be a copy. The original not having been produced or proved, the copy cannot be accepted and acted upon. Moreover, the argeement is said to be signed by only some of the workers and not all. It purports to contain signatures of 27 workers, whereas according to the evidence of Shri P. K. Mukherjee, the Works Manager of this Company (O.P.W. 18), there are in all 34 workers in this Company. There is no evidence to prove that the workers who are said to have signed the agreement were authorised to conclude and sign the agreement on behalf of all the workmen. In view of this position, I reject the alleged agreement, dated 18th October 1965 [Ext. K(4)] and also reject the Company's contention that there should be a 'no dispute' award in respect of this Company.

(s) Bharat Machinery (Sl. No. 136)

The special plea of the Company requiring consideration at this stage is that by virtue of a tripartite settlement between the Company and its workmen, dated 3rd April 1964, effected in connection with a charter of demands submitted by the workmen, including some demands relating to wages, all disputes between the Company and its workmen as on the date of the settlement were settled and after this, the present adjudication in respect of the issues under reference is no longer maintainable. Ext. AA(2) is the tripartite settlement, dated 3rd April 1964. The Company virtually wants a 'no dispute' award on the basis of Ext. AA(2). O.P.W. 48 Shri Ranabir Gupta, a Director of the Company, has given evidence and proved the charter of demands and the tripartite settlement. The charter of demands is Ext. AA(1). It is dated 7th June 1962. In the charter of demands, the workmen claimed increments of daily basic wages and increase of festival holidays to 20 per year. It appears from the tripartite settlement that a number of disputes including some disputes over bonus payable in 1963 were settled thereby. Paragraph (j) of the tripartite settlement stands thus:—

"This settles all disputes as on date."

The tripartite settlement has not been challenged by the evidence of any worker. The Company's witness, Shri Ranabir Gupta, was cross-examined at length by Shri Subodh Banerjee, President of West Bengal Engineering Workers' Union. He has admitted in cross-examination that the tripartite settlement did not cover any wage scale or the minimum wage. These questions are prima facie covered by the general issue of wages as referred for adjudication in this case. In my view, though the tripartite settlement, Ext. AA(2) can be accepted as a settlement of all disputes which led to the settlement and which were subsisting on that date, it cannot certainly operate to create a condition of 'no dispute' as between the Company and its workers on the general question of wage scales and minimum wages. I do not think that it would be fair and proper and in accordance with the principles of social and natural justice to exclude this Company from the present adjudication on the general issue of wages which prima facie comprises grades and scales of wages and minimum wages. Similar should also be the case in respect of the issue of leave and holidays, because this issue covers not only festival holidays but also casual leave, sick leave and privilege leave. In the tripartite settlement, I do not find any reference to any terms of settlement regarding festival holidays. It is further to be noted that in paragraph (d) of the settlement, there is a clear and specific reference to the present adjudication proceedings in connection with two applications under section 33(2)(b), Industrial Disputes Act, made by the Company against two workmen, but there is no clear statement that the adjudication proceedings in respect of general issues shall not be continued further in respect of this Company and the disputes covered by those issues shall also be treated as settled. The workmen should not be debarred from getting the benefits, if any, of the adjudication of this omnibus reference on the general issues of wages and leave and holidays covering the workmen of a big section of the engineering industry in this State, particularly when it is an omnibus reference falling under section 10(5), Industrial Disputes Act. The tripartite settlement only operated to settle some specific and particular disputes and not the outstanding disputes underlying the present omnibus reference covering this Company also. In the above view of the matter, I hold that the Company should not be excluded from the operation of the present adjudication proceedings simply because of the tripartite settlement, Ext. AA(2), dated 3rd April 1964. The special plea of the Company is, therefore, rejected.

(t) Russa Garage (Sl. No.)

The Company wants exclusion from the scope of the present adjudication by virtue of an alleged joint petition by the Company and the workers for a 'no dispute' award. While hearing the learned Advocate for the Company, I wanted to see the joint petition, but no such petition was found on the record. No witness was examined for the Company. No such petition has been found upon a scrutiny of the record. Accordingly, the Company's prayer for exemption cannot be allowed on the basis of an alleged petition which is not found and which is, therefore, non-existent. The prayer is rejected.

14. Before proceeding to take up the first issue on merits, I consider it necessary to record here the substance of the written statements filed in the case by representative Associations of the employers and representative Trade Unions of the concerned workmen. These written statements will substantially reflect the gist of cases on both sides.

15. On behalf of the employers, their four Associations specified in List II of the order of reference have filed one joint written statement. On behalf of the workmen, four representative written statements have been filed, one each by each of the Trade Unions 1 to 4 of List III of the Order of Reference, viz. (1) National Federation of Engineering Workers, (2) Federation of Metal and Engineering Workers' Union, (3) West Bengal Engineering Workers' Union and (4) Howrah District Engineering and Metal Workers' Union.

16. In the written statement filed by National Federation of Engineering Workers, there is at first a short history of the previous adjudications relating to the engineering industry and then on the question of wages, this Federation has claimed that attempts should be made for a progress towards fixation of fair wage starting forthwith with the need-based minimum per month for the lowest paid group of workmen on the basis of the agreement between the employers and employees reached in the Fifteenth Labour Conference which at the material time was Rs. 200.97 as per calculations, Annexure B to the written statement (vide paragraph 11). This Federation has also claimed that the workmen employed in the engineering industry in different capacities may be classified as unskilled, semi-skilled, skilled and highly skilled and wages should be fixed on the basis of skill. According to this Federation, minimum basic wage, grade and scale and D.A. sould be as detailed in Annexure C to the written statement, which is reproduced below:—

Wages/Grades and Scale and Dearness Allowance as claimed by the workmen Categories.	Grades and Scales.

(c) Skilled	Rs. 130—5·00—180—6·00—240.
(d) Highly skilled	Rs. 160—8·00—240—10·00—340.

Stenographers	Rs. 220—6—280—8—360.
Typists	Rs. 125—4—165—6—225.

17. In the written statement filed by Federation of Metal and Engineering Workers' Union, there is at first a reference to the progressive and prosperous condition of the engineering industry in West Bengal as compared to the low wages paid to the workmen which is followed by a reference to the previous omnibus adjudication in respect of the engineering industry and then after some general statements about the necessity of revision of rates of wages and D.A. of the engineering workers in view of the vast change in the circumstances which has occurred since the last adjudication and also in view of the necessity for an attempt to reach the declared goal of socialist pattern of siociety, it is finally claimed that under the issue of wages not only basic wages but also grades and scales of wages should be fixed so as to ensure to the workmen living wage or at least a fair wage and there should be a substantial increase in D.A. to cover as much as possible the steep rise in the price of foodstuffs and other primary necessities of life. It has specified its claims regarding basic pay with yearly increments for different categories of workers and D.A. in the following terms :—

Minimum basic pay :	Per month. Rs.
(I) Unskilled	50
Semi-skilled	60
Skilled	100
Highly skilled	150
(II) Darwan	50

Semi-skilled Rs. 5 per year.

Skilled Rs. 7 per year.

Highly skilled Rs. 10 per year.

(II)

Durwan Rs. 3 per year.

Jamadar Rs. 5 per year.

Driver Rs. 7 per year.

Driver Mecahnic Rs. 10 per year.

Comptist Rs. 8 per year.

Stenographer Rs. 10 per year.

Chemist Rs. 12 per year.

Laboratory Assistant Rs. 7 per year.

Store-keeper Rs. 10 per year.

For adjustment in the rates of wages and scales of pay special increments be granted for giving retrospective effect to the revised rates.

The employers be directed to revise piece-rates so as to ensure the wages to the rates of the same category.

Dearness Allowance.—All workmen be granted Dearness Allowance on the basis of Bengal Cha[illegible] scale.

18. In the written statement filed by the West Bengal Engineering Workers' Union, there is, as usual, initially a reference to the progressive and prosperous condition of the engineering industry in West Bengal and the low wage and D.A. rates now prevailing in the majority of engineering establishment . It has stated that at the price prevailing at present, the minimum wage comes up to Rs. 150 per mensem calculated according to the principles and norms laid down by the Fifteenth Labour Conference and even according to second Central Pay Commission, the minimum cannot be less than Rs. 120 per mensem, which is also consistent with the present standard of national income. It has then averred that in fixing minimum wage, the capacity of the industry to pay is immaterial and such wage must be based on the requirements of the worker and his family. Finally, this Union has laid its claim regarding wages and D.A in the present case in the following terms.

The workmen be paid basic salary, dearness allowance, house rent allowance, compensatory allowance, livery allowance and laundry allowance as follows :

Basic Salary :

(i) Clerks	Rs. 125—5—169—8—240—10—250 (16 years).
	Rs. 200—10—250—12—30—15—325 (11 years).
(ii) Durwans, sweepers, malis and other non-technical subordinate staff ..	Rs. 80—1—90—2—110 (20 years).
	Rs. 90—2—102—3—120 (12 years).
(iii) Unskilled, technical workmen	Rs. 80—1·50—95—2—115 (20 years).
(iv) Semi-skilled, and unskilled supervisory workmen (machineman, pressman cutterman, oilman, drillman, grinders, tradesmen, etc.)	Rs. 95—5—110—4—130 (10 years)
	Rs. 100—4—140 (10 years).
(v) Skilled and semi-skilled supervisory workmen (fitters, turners, welders, winders, mistries, painters, drillers, mechanics, electricians, blacksmiths, etc.)	Rs. 125—5—160—8—200 (12 years).
	Rs. 140—8—180—10—240.
(vi) Highly skilled and skilled supervisory workmen	Rs. 150—10—200—15—275 (10 years).
	Rs. 200—15—260—20—360 (9 years).

(vii) Daily-rated and piece-rated workmen should have the minimum guarantee of the basic salary which workmen in their respective category would draw.

Dearness Allowance :

(i) Workmen whose monthly basic salary is less than Rs. 150	Rs. 20 per mensem
(ii) Workmen having basic salary of Rs. 150 and above and less than Rs. 300 ..	Rs. 30 per mensem

There should be marginal adjustment for workmen drawing salary of Rs. 300 or above but below Rs. 330.

(iii) These rates of dearness allowance should be taken as related to consumer price index of 115 (Base : 1939=100) and should continue unless the index falls below 100.

(iv) If during a period of six months the index remains, on an average to points above 115, workmen should be paid additional D.A. at the rate of 50 nP. for every point increase in the consumer price index. But if thereafter the index falls by the same margin and for the same period (i.e., average of 10 points during a period of six months) the position will be similarly reversed.

(v) The benefit of dearness allowance should, in future upward adjustments, be extended to all workmen whose basic salary does not exceed Rs. 400 per month.

House-rent allowance :

Rent-free quarters should be provided to all workmen, failing which house-rent allowance should be paid to them in the following rates per month :—

Basic salary per month.	Cities with more than 5 lakhs population.	Cities having population between 11 lakhs and 5 lakhs.
Below Rs. 75	10	7·50
Rs. 75 and above but below Rs. 200	15	10
Rs. 100 and above but below Rs. 200.	20	15
Rs. 200 and above	.. 10 per cent. of basic salary ..	.. 7 per cent. of basic salary.

Compensatory Allowance :

Basic salary per month.	Cities with more than five lakh population.	Cities having population between 11 lakhs and 5 lakhs.
Below Rs. 150	10 per cent. of basic salary, subject to a minimum of 7·50 and maximum of Rs. 12·50.	5 per cent. of basic salary, subject to a minimum of Rs. 5.

Livery Allowance :

Durwans should be paid livery allowance at the rate of Rs. 30 per head per year and workers in the smithy uniform allowance at the rate of Rs. 40 per head per year.

Laundry Allowance :

Durwans and baloksmiths, etc., should be paid laundry allowance at the rate of Rs. 3 per head per month.

19. I now come to the written statement filed by Howrah District Engineering and Metal Workers' Union. After initially referring to the nature of the engineering industry and different kinds of engineering products manufactured by the industry, and their good market all over India, creating a very bright future and sound financial position of the industry, it contends that very few companies only pay the minimum wages to the workmen as per the awards of the previous engineering Omnibus Tribunals and most of them have declined to pay even the minimum wages inspite of the Union's demands, and the existing wages and D.A. are utterly inadequate for the workmen. It then further states that most of the workmen come from the lower middle class families but are not paid wages sufficient to cover their minimum cost of food and shelter. It reiterates the plea that the Company which cannot pay the minimum wages has no right to exist. According to this Union, the irreducible minimum wage for workmen should not fall below Rs. 300 per month and this is consistent with the principles laid down by the 15th Labour Conference. It has then pleaded that Rs. 125 per month should be the need-based minimum wages of an unskilled workman. Finally, it has laid its claim for wages and D.A. for different categories of workmen, viz. unskilled, semi-skilled, etc., according to the chart in page 6 of the written statement and reproduced below :—

Scales of Pay

	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1. Unskilled	75	5	125
2. Semi-skilled	85	7	155
3. Skilled	100	8	180
4. Highly skilled	125	10	225
5. Drivers	125	10	225
6. Mistry or Charge-hands	150	12	270
7. Supervisor	225	20	425
8. Foreman	300	25	550
9. Assistant Foreman	275	20	475
10. Durwan and Office Peon	80	5	130
II. Clerical Staff :
Grade A	100	6	160
Grade B	120	8	200
Special Grade C	225	15	375
Stenographer	175	10	275

Trade Apprentices :

	Rs.
1. For six months	50
2. For one year	60
3. For two years	70
4. For three years	75

And after completion of the apprentice period the workmen would be fitted in the scales and pay as above by giving one increment for every year of first service.

Dearness allowance for the manual workers should be given as follows :—

	Rs.
From Rs. 75 up to Rs. 100	75
Above Rs. 100 up to Rs. 150	100
Above Rs. 150 up to Rs. 200	125

After the fixation of the D.A. it will vary with the rise of the cost of living at the rate of Re. 1 for every 5 point rise or fall. The D.A. for the workmen other than the manual worker should be similar to that of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce Scale of D.A.

20. Union No. 5 in List III has not filed any written statement.

21. A number of separate written statements have also been filed by some other individual Unions claiming to represent the workers of some particular companies or added subsequently. They have raised more or less the same substantial pleas regarding wages as contained in the written statements of the aforesaid four representative Unions. It is an impossible task to summarise each and every such written statement.

22. On behalf of the Companies, the only representative written statement is the one filed by the four Associations of List II of the Order of Reference. The substance of the relevant pleas raised in the written statement is briefly as follows.

23. Before going into the demands put forward by the Unions, it would be necessary to review the present position of the small scale engineering industry in the context of their trading conditions, economic circumstances and future prospects, particularly in view of the fact that most of the small scale units in the industry are in their infancy and are struggling hard for their very existence. The difficulties faced by the industry are listed as follows :—

(a) Acute shortage of pig iron.

(b) Chronic shortage of steel and specially of flat products like tinplate and thinner gauge sheets.

(c) Inordinate delays in the delivery of raw materials resulting in the plant capacity remaining idle and consequently leading to lay off and retrenchment in the labour strength.

(d) Shortage of electrodes and other imported materials.

(e) Power shortage has hit the industrial belt of West Bengal the hardest. It has greatly upset the production in the engineering industry. The loss arises not only by power shortage but also by the time taken to re-start the factory. Power shortage is likely to continue for another four or five years resulting in mounting losses to the industry.

(f) Heavy increase in prices of iron and steel since 1956.

(g) Chronic difficulty in securing adequate and regular supply of non-ferrous metals and heavy increase in their prices.

(h) Transport difficulties and deplorable state of public roads and mounting incidence of taxation.

(i) Establishments employing 20 or more persons are now covered by the E.S.I. Act, 1962, with effect from 31st December 1960, with the result that they have to bear an additional burden of provident fund contribution at the rate of 6¼ per cent. which has been raised to 8 per cent. with effect from 1st January 1963.

The vast majority of the engineering establishments covered by this reference are small scale engineering establishments which are owned and managed by small enterpreneurs none of whom can afford to pay wages more than what they are paying at present. The engineering industry in West Bengal, particularly small scale units, are faced with grave difficulty as a result of progressive diversion of engineering industry to other parts of the country arising out of price equilisation policy in respect of iron and steel and other factors. No attempt should, therefore, be made at present to enhance the present wage structure for small engineering units. Any such enhancement would affect the provision of adequate employment opportunities which is one of the principal objectives set out in the Third Plan. At present there is no uniformity in wage rates and service conditions obtaining in small engineering establishments, inasmuch as, the prevailing wages vary from unit to unit and in the absence of standardisation of occupational nomenclature, the wage rates vary for the same job or occupation from firm to firm. In view of the anomalous position, and on account of absence of recognised trade tests, it is not possible for the Tribunal to classify the workmen according to skill, only the minimum wages for unskilled workers can be fixed by the Tribunal after taking into account the two over-riding considerations, viz., (1) the need for maintaining the existing level of employment and its possible increase and (2) the capacity of the industry to pay. It should be realised that the long-term interests of labour are bound up with the stability and expansion of the undertaking itself and the wages and emoluments of labour should not be fixed without reference to its paying capacity. The claims of some Unions for fixation of wages in conformity with the requirements of balanced diet and the increase in national income should not be accepted. Ideal level of balanced diet cannot at once be achieved and more so in the case of small scale industries whose financial resources are limited. The reference to increase in the national income is misconceived and fallacious. Most of the engineering establishments covered by the present reference are marginal units and their overall financial position is far from satisfactory. Any attempt to burden these struggling units with further increase in wages would force them to go out of existence. Higher wages can come out of higher productivity alone. Consequently, it is desirable that a system of payment by results should be adopted. The demands made by some of the Unions for fixing minimum basic wages between Rs. 50 and Rs. 75 should not be entertained. Grades and time scales for different categories of workmen should not be introduced. Introduction of grades and scales is a long-term agreement which essentially depends on the continued prosperity of the industry. Time scale would place a heavy recurring burden on the small scale engineering industry as a whole. In view of the existing system of rewarding merit and efficiency as and when financial capacity permits, many of the small engineering establishments covered by the reference pay consolidated wages inclusive of dearness allowance. It is not possible to apportion what part of the consolidated wage constitutes dearness allowance to enable the Tribunal to determine scope of further increase of dearness allowance. Where separate dearness allowance is being paid, any upward revision of it by way of linking with the cost of living index or otherwise is bound to introduce an element of uncertainty in the production cost. Dearness allowance on the scale of Bengal Chamber of Commerce Scheme is meant essentially for commercial establishments employing middle-class employees and not for factory workers. It would be beyond the financial capacity of small engineering units to bear increase in D.A. at the rate of 20 paise per each point of increase in the cost of living index. In any case, the temporary increase in the cost of living index does not call for imposition of a permanent liability on small scale engineering establishments. There is, therefore, no case for imposition of any additional burden in the form of increase of emoluments of the workmen on the small scale engineering units unless the same is linked with increase productivity and/or efficiency on the part of the workers. The demands made by some Unions for house-rent allowance, livery and laundry allowance, etc., are outside the scope of this reference and cannot be adjudicated upon.

24. After having dealt with and disposed of some special cases for exclusion from the scope of the present reference raised by some engineering concerns, I now proceed to deal with the case in general.

25. This is the Fourth Omnibus Reference regarding engineering industry since the inception of the Industrial Disputes Act. The first reference was made in 1947. It comprised 119 companies. In this order of reference, there was no reservation regarding the number of employees in the concerns covered by the reference. It was, therefore, an open general omnibus reference in respect of some specified engineering establishments. Quite a large number of issues were referred for adjudication and among them the relevant issues relating to wages and D.A. stood as follows :—

(a) Minimum basic pay and scales of pay for highly skilled, skilled, semi-skilled and unskilled workers and for clerical and supervisory staff.

(b) Dearness allowance for such workers.

This Tribunal fixed minimum wages for only unskilled and semi-skilled workers. It did not fix any minimum wages for skilled and highly skilled workers. The reason for this as given by this Tribunal is to be found in the second paragraph at page 96 of the "Award made by Major Tribunals during 1948". This award commences from page 77. I only quote here the last sentence of the paragraph :—

"In the last resort, the pay of the skilled and the highly skilled workers may be fixed by adjudication after some standardisation of occupational descriptions has been made and some progress towards the calssification of workers into different categories has been achieved".

This Tribunal did not fix any time scale of wages even for the unskilled and semi-skilled workers but it recommended that two intermediate grades between the minimum of the unskilled workers and the minimum of the semi-skilled workers should be introduced so that the unskilled workers might earn promotion to the intermediate grades by good and efficient work. I quote below the exact recommendation of the Tribunal in this respect :—

"We would recommend also that between Rs. 1—2—6, the minimum daily wage fixed for the unskilled worker, and Rs. 1—5—6. the minimum daily wage fixed for the semi-skilled worker, two grades of pay at Rs. 1—3—6 and Rs. 1—4—6 should be introduced, and these grades should go by promotion to unskilled workers who may show efficiency."

26. As regards D.A., this Tribunal introduced the following fixed rates :—

	Rs.
Up to Rs. 50	25
From Rs. 51 to Rs. 100	35
From Rs. 101 to Rs. 150	40
From Rs. 151 to Rs. 200	45
Rs. 201 and above	50

This Tribunal, however, introduced grades and time scales for clerical and subordinate staff. It appears that this award did not keep the engineering workmen concerned satisfied for a long time and as a result, there was the Second Omnibus Engineering Reference in 1950, with the issue of Revision of Dearness Allowance. In the award made in this reference, the minimum D.A. was raised from Rs. 25 to Rs. 31. This Tribunal fixed the following revised rates of D.A.:—

Basic pay range.	Dearness Allowance.
	Rs.
Up to Rs. 50	31
From Rs. 51 to 100	42
From Rs. 101 to Rs. 150	48
From Rs. 151 to Rs. 200	54
From Rs. 201 upwards	60

The D.A. was not linked to the cost of living indesx or consumer price index. Thus, as a result of the first and the second engineering awards, the minimum basic wages and D.A. were fixed at Rs. 30 and Rs. 31 respectively and the total minimum emoluments of the engineering workers stood at Rs. 61. This position did not ensure satisfaction among the engineering workers for a long time and complaints began to mount against the inadequacy of the emoluments against the rise in prices. So, there was the Third Omnibus Engineering Reference in 1956. The peculiarity of this reference was that it was not an open and general reference without reservation as to the number of employees in a particular concern but was limited expressly to engineering establishments employing 250 or more workers and the total number of engineering establishments comprised in the reference was 74. In this reference, an award was made and published in 1958. By this award, not only minimum wages and D.A. were fixed but some scales and grades were also fixed. The following scales and grades were fixed by this award.

Wages in engineering industry as per award of Third Engineering Omnibus Tribunal as further interpreted by the Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

Basic Wage.

Group A (corresponding to highly skilled category)

Rs. 110—3— Rs. 119
Rs. 119—3—128
Rs. 128—3—137
} Total period 15 years.
Rs. 137—3—146
Rs. 146—3—155.

Group B (corresponding to skilled category)

Rs. 75—2—83
Rs. 83—2—91
Rs. 91—2—99
Rs. 99—2—107
Rs. 107—2—115.
} Total period 20 years.

Group C (corresponding to semi-skilled category)

Rs. 40—1·25—45
Rs. 45—1·25—50
Rs. 50—1·25—55
Rs. 55—1·25—60
} Total period 20 years.
Rs. 60—1·25—65

Group D (corresponding to unskilled category)

(i) Rs. 35.

(ii) Rs. 35—1·25/2—37·50.

Clerical Staff :

(i) Non-matric	Rs. 60—3—Rs. 90 (10 years).
(ii) Matriculates or under-graduates	Rs. 65—3—95—E.B.—4—Rs. 135 (20 years).
(iii) Graduates	Rs. 75—4—115—E.B.—5—160.
Supervisory Staff	Rs. 70—4—110—E.B.—5—Rs. 16.0

Subordinate Staff

(i) Peons and Bearers	Rs. 30—1—Rs. 50.
(ii) Durwans	Es. 35—1—Rs. 55.
(iii) Drivers	Rs. 60—1—Rs. 90.
(iv) Lorry Drivers	Rs. 65—1—Rs. 95.

It would be seen that the minimum basic wage was fixed at Rs. 35 and the minimum wage scale was Rs. 37·50 for workmen falling under the category of unskilled. In addition to the above basic wages, dearness allowance was also awarded at the following rates :—

For the pay range up to Rs. 50	D.A. will be Rs. 36.
For the pay range from Rs. 51 to Rs. 100	D.A. will be Rs. 47.
For the pay range from Rs. 101 to Rs. 150	D.A. will be Rs. 53.
For the pay range from Rs. 151 to Rs. 200	D.A. will be Rs. 59.
For the pay range from Rs. 201 to Rs. 250	D.A. will be Rs. 65.

This dearness allowance was fixed taking 364 to be the cost of living index as compared to base 100 in 1939, and it was provided that this D.A. would be increased or decreased by Re. 1 for every 5 point increase or decrease in the cost of living index as the case may be. As I have indicated above, this award was restricted in its operation only to a limited section of engineering workers, viz., those workmen who worked in engineering establishments each employing 250 or more workers. None of the establishments covered by the present reference was a party to the previous engineering reference. So, the position was that the workers of those establishments had no awarded rates of wages or D.A. and their wages and D.A. were dependent upon their terms of employment which were not uniform. It is to be noted that in this reference, we are concerned with more than 1,200 engineering establishments employing thousands of workmen who are not covered by any previous award. It must be said, therefore, that the bulk of engineering workers constituting an overwhelming majority are not covered by the previous three engineering awards referred to above, and so, they are not covered by any adjudication regarding wages and D.A. It is also to be noted that the D.A. allowed by the First and the Second Engineering Awards was not variable and linked to variation in the cost of living index or consumer price index. So, this position naturally caused unrest and dissatisfaction among the engineering workers of West Bengal, which still continues to be practically the centre of engineering industry of India inspite of recently growing competition from other States. The situation was aggravated by steep rise in prices of articles of food and other primary necessities of life. The State Government could not shut its eyes to this position and finally it found solution of the problem by the present omnibus reference which may be said to be unique in the annals of industrial adjudication in this State, if not in the whole of India, by reason of the vast number of establishments and workmen covered by it. The complexity of adjudication in this reference is aggravated by the unchallenged and unchallengable position that the reference covers engineering establishments of various types and sizes ranging from a simple bucket-making establishment employing 10 or 12 workers to big establishments producing complicated machine parts and machine tools and employing near about 250 workmen. The adjudication of the issue of wages concerning such a vast multitude of engineering establishments of different types and sizes is certainly not an easy task and I do not think that I should be able to produce a magic formula in this respect which would satisfy all the parties concerned. I should, however, try my best to make an equitable award in this respect, keeping in view the interests of both sides, the employers and the employees and having regard to the evidence and circumstances available for consideration.

27. I now take up the Issues one by one.

Issue No. 1. : Wages

28. At the outset, I must deal with the contention raised on behalf of the Companies that this issue is restricted only to basic wages and it does not cover the question of D.A. It is consequently urged that this Tribunal is not competent to make any award regarding D.A. under this issue.

29. The reply on behalf of the Trade Unions is that the term "Wages" as understood and defined in industial law means and includes dearness allowance which is a part of wages and so the Tribunal not only should but it must deal also with the question of D.A. under this issue and the award must contain a decision about D.A. a part from and in addition to the basic wages.

30. In support of the contention raised on behalf of the Companies, it is brought to my notice that in the previous three omnibus engineering references, D.A. was made a separate issue apart from basic wages, whereas in the present case, the issue relates only to wages meaning necessarily basic wages and there is no mention of D.A. No doubt, in the three previous omnibus references, D.A. was made a separate and specific issue apart from the issue relating to basic wages. In the present case, however, this feature is absent and the issue is simply 'Wages'. I have given anxious consideration to this matter and I have come to the conclusion that though in the present case the issue is simply 'Wages', it should be taken to mean and include D.A. also and in the award not only the question of basic wages but the question of D.A. should also be considered and decided. It is to be remembered that we are dealing with wages of industrial workers under the Industrial Disputes Act. 'Wages' as defined in section 2(rr) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, means and includes dearness allowance. I quote below the definition of wages as given in section 2(rr) :

> " 'Wages' means all remuneration capable of being expressed in terms of money, which would, if the term of employment, express or implied, were fulfilled, be payable to a workman in respect of his employment or of work done in such employment, and includes—
> (i) such allowance (including dearness allowance) as the workmen is for the time being entitled to;

(ii) the value of any house accommodation, or of supply of light, water, medical attendance or other amenity or of any service or of any concessional supply of foodgrains or other articles;

(iii) any travelling concession; but it does not include—

(a) any bonus;

(b) any contribution paid or payable by the employer to any pension fund or provident fund or for the benefit of the workman under any law for the time being in force;

(c) any gratuity payable on the termination of service."

It will be seen that in this definition of 'Wages', the term has been taken to mean and include "such allowances (including dearness allowance) as the workman is for the time being entitled to." So, in this definition dearness allowance has been clearly included as a component part of wages. No doubt clauses (ii) and (iii) of the definition also include within the connotation of 'Wages' value of some other amenities such as value of house accommodation, supply of light, water, medical attendance, etc." These inclusions do not, in my opinion, weaken the case that D.A. is a component part of wages and though the issue referred for adjudication simply stands as "Wages", the question of D.A. should also be considered and decided. In the present case, excepting one Trade Union, no one else has claimed the amenities included in clauses (ii) and (iii) as part of wages. At the time of arguments, no claim was made regarding these amenities. In the circumstances, I think that upon the facts of the present case, D.A. must be taken to be included within the issue of wages but not the other amenities referred to in clauses (ii) and (iii) of section 2(rr). D.A. is certainly a vital part of wages, inasmuch as, it is meant to cover up to some extent at least increase in prices of essential articles of food, clothing and other necessary articles which evey wage-earner requires for himself and his family. In the above view of the matter, I reject the Companies' contention and hold that the issue of wages also includes dearness allowance and I shall proceed to make my award under this issue accordingly.

31. Next, it is contended on behalf of the companies that the issue as it stands, viz. "Wages" simply cannot cover grades and scales and so this Tribunal is not competent to make any award regarding grades and scales of wages of the workmen or different categories of workmen. Here also reference is made to the fact that in the previous three omnibus awards, grades and scales of wages were specifically mentioned as issues, whereas in the present reference, there is no mention of grades and scales of pay in the issue relating to wages. No doubt, in the first and the third references grades and scales of wages were specifically mentioned in the issues regarding wages and that element is absent in the present case. I should state here that the second reference only relate to D.A. and leave and holidays and there was no question of basic wages in this reference. Still, I am of the view that the issue of wages as it tands in the present case also covers grades and cales of wages. I rely in this connection upon the clear decision of the Supreme Court in Express Newspaper's Case (LLJ 1961(1) 339=AIR 1958, Sc. 578). The clear decision in this case is that wages do not merely mean the starting amount of wages but also wages paid at different stages of employment and rates of wages would mean scales of wages. I quote below the relevant observations of the Supreme Court in this respect:

> "'Rates of wages' therefore mean the manner, mode or standard of the payments of remuneration for work done whether at the start or in the subsequent stages. Rates of wages would thus include the scales of wages and there is no antithesis between the two expressions, the expression being applicable both to the initial as well as subsequent amouts of wages. It is true that in references made to industrial tribunals fixing of scales of pay has been specifically mentioned, e.g., in the industrial dispute between certain banking companies and their workers. But that is not sufficient to exclude the 'Scales of Wages' from being comprised within the larger connotation of the expression 'rates of wages' which is capable of including the scales of wages also within its ambit. Even without the specific mention of the scales of wages it would be open to fix the same in an inquiry directed towards the fixation of the rates of wages."

Though the specific expression "rates of wages" has been used in the above extract, this expression has been held to mean and include and should be taken to mean and include wages as well. So, the observations equally apply in the case where the specific issue is simply "Wages" as in the present case. Wages and rates of wages are synonymous—one cannot go without the other.

32. Before proceeding to decide the actual grades and scales of wages and the amount of D.A. to be attached to the grades and scales, I must first discuss the accepted concepts of wages and principles wages fixation and also what should be our ideal in determining the amount of wages and D.A. rates in the present case. It is now well-known that in the matter of industrial wages three concepts which have been generally accepted are (1) minimum wage, (2) fair wage, and (3) living wage. Minimum wage is the rock-bottom and generally at par with bare subsistence level. Fair wage is wage above the minimum wage which ensures to the workmen some wage which is above the bare subsistence level. It is a mean between the minimum wage and the living wage. Living wage is higher than fair wage and it ensures to the worker some minimum amount of frugal comfort including education of the children, protection against ill-health, requirements of essential social needs and a measure of insurance against the more important misfortunes including old age. In our Constitution, 'living wage' has been held up as the ultimate goal. In Article 43 of the Constitution, it is enacted that "the State shall endeavour to ensure * * * to all workers, agricultural, industrial or otherwise, a living wage." It should be noted that this is the ultimate goal and the directive principle enacted in Article 43 only enjoins that the State "shall endeavour" to secure this goal. This goal has not certainly yet been secured and in an adjudication of this nature and in the present circumstances of the case, I do not think it would be feasible to jump at once to that ultimate goal. We may here conveniently refer to the policy regarding industrial wage in the First Five-Year Plan. In this Plan, it was observed that pre-war real wage as a first step towards the living wage should be restored through rationalisation and modernisation and claims of labour should be principally dealt with in proportion to the distance which the wages of different categories of workers have to cover before attaining the living wage standard. The same was more or less the policy in the subsequent two plans. In the Fair Wage Committee's report of 1949, subsistence plus level or fair wage was recommended. From the evidence produced in this case regarding current level of wages in many companies, it would be evident that in many, if not most, cases we are still in the region of minimum wages with a subsistence minus element and we are still far off from fair and living wages. In the Express Newspaper's case, already referred to above, the three concepts of wages were discussed at some length. It is useless to reproduce the discussions here. But the fact remains that the general wage level among the workers of the engineering industry covered by the present reference in West Bengal is nearabout the minimum wage level in most cases. It would appear from the statistics published in the West Bengal Labour Gazette that the wage level of the engineering workers in 1959 was as follows:

(1) 25 per cent. of total daily-rated workmen get less than Rs. 1.50 per day.

(2) 43.2 per cent. of monthly-rated workmen get less than Rs. 45 per month as basic wage (vide West Bengal Labour Gazette, published in January, 1959, pp. 161 and 164).

33. There was a survey of small engineering units of Howrah undertaking by Jadavpur University under the auspices of Reserve Bank of India. Ext. GG is the book containing the Survey Report. It was published in 1964. The survey was conducted between July 1960 and April 1961. It covered intensively the operations of 200 units employing 20 or more persons during 1959 besides a quick survey of operations of 396 out of 943 smaller units employing less than 20 persons during 1960 [vide paragraph (4) of Foreword]. It reproduced a table showing maximum and minimum wage rates for workers (Table 3.3 at page 37). On the basis of the table, it is recorded at the top of page 37—"Table 3.3 shows that the average minimum and maximum daily wage rates for skilled workers are Rs. 3 and Rs. 5, respectively, for unskilled workers these are Rs. 1·50 and Rs. 2.40 respectively. The minimum rates are indeed very low even by Indian standard." Dr. H. Banerjee, Reader in Economics, Jadavpur University, and Acting Head of the Department of Economic Section, CMPO, who was Director of the Survey, has given evidence.

In fact, the report was drafted by him as stated in the foreward and preface written by Dr. K. Banerjee himself. He has stated in his evidence that the general level of wages of industrial workers in Bengal is lower than the Indian average, specially Bombay. It is evident from the facts discussed above that the wage structure of workmen in the engineering industry in West Bengal, particularly of the workmen covered by the present reference numbering several thousands, most of whom are not covered by any authoritative award in this respect requires revision for the ends o social justice and for smooth and peaceful running of the Industry. Some of the companies have also filed charts showing the prevailing wage structure of their respective workmen. In many of the charts, the minimum wage is hardly consistent with the notion of minimum subsistence level, though in some cases, the wage structure appears to be somewhat satisfactory.

34. It is also to be taken into account that it is a cardinal principle in the matter of fixation of wage that the capacity of the industry to pay constitutes a very important factor which must be closely and carefully examined. Of course, the question of capacity to pay has been held to be absolutely immaterial and irrelevant in case of bare subsistence minimum wage because the employer is bound to pay the same irrespective of capacity. It is at the same time held that this capacity is to be determined on an industry-cum-region basis after taking a fair cross section of the Industry. I have already referred above to three concepts of wage which have been accepted in industrial adjudication regarding wage structure—(1) minimum wage, (2) fair wage, and (3) living wage. The Fair Wage Committee accepted these three concepts and described them as follows:

(1) Minimum wage must provide not merely for the bare subsistence of life but for the preservation of the efficiency of the worker by providing some measure of education, medical requirements and amenities.

(2) While the lower limit of the fair wage must obviously be the minimum wage, the upper limit is set by the capacity of the industry to pay.

(3) The living wage represents a standard of living which provides not only for a bare physical subsistence but for the maintenance of health and decency and a measure of frugal comfort and some insurance against more important misfortunes.

The Fair Wage Committee also observed that the actual wages between the minimum wage which is the lower limit of the fair wage and the upper limit set by the capacity of the industry to pay will depend on the

(i) productivity of labour,

(ii) prevailing rates of wages,

(iii) level of the national income and its distribution, and

(iv) place of the industry in the economy of the country.

It also accepted the principles that for ascertaining the capacity of the industry to pay, a fair cross-section of the industry in the region should be taken into account. It also laid down the principle that the standard family should be taken as one consisting of three consumption units and providing one wage-earner and a fair wage should be determined on an industry-cum-region basis (vide Chapter VI of the Report) headed "Summary of Recommendations." The principles and recommendations of the Fair Wage Committee have been substantially accepted in subsequent industrial adjudications on wage structure. This clearly appears from the elaborate decision of the Supreme Court in Express Newspaper's case [LLJ 1961(I) 339]. In this case the three concepts of wage referred to in the Fair Wage Committee's Report were accepted and in regard to minimum wage, it was held that there was a distinction between a bare subsistence or minimum wage and a statutory minimum wage, the former being a wage which should be sufficient to cover the bare physical needs of the worker and his family, a rate which has got to be paid to the worker, irrespective of the capacity of the Industry to pay. In this case three broad principles of fixation of wages where laid down as follows :

(1) In the fixation of rates of wages which include within its compass the fixation of scales of wages also, the capacity of the industry to pay is one of the essential circumstances to be taken into consideration except in cases of bare subsistence or minimum wage where the employer is bound to pay the same irrespective of such capacity;

(2) The capacity of the industry to pay is to be considered on an industry-cum-region basis after taking a fair cross section of the industry; and

(3) proper measure for guaging the capacity of the industry to pay should be to take into account the elasticity of demands for the product, the possibility of tightening up the organisation so that the industry could pay higher without difficulty and the possibility of increase in the efficiency of the lowest paid workers resulting in increase in production considered in conjunction with the elasticity of the demands for the product—no doubt against the ultimate background that the burden of the increased rates should not be such as to drive the employer out of business.

35. Apart from the general principles of fixation of wage rates, it is also a recognised principle that fixation of wage rates is now a socio-economic question intimately connected with maintaining proper and balanced relationship between the employer and the workmen in a Welfare State This principle was judicially recognied in the case of Standard Vacuum Refinery Co. Ltd., FLR, 1961, Vol. II, page 224. I quote below the relevant observations of the Supreme Court :

"It is well-known that the problem of wage structure with which industrial adjudication is concerned in a modern democratic state involves on the ultimate analysis to some extent ethical and social considerations. The definition of the doctrine of Welfare State is based on notions of progressive social philosophy which have rendered the old doctrine laissez-faire obsolete. In the nineteenth century relation between employer and employees were usually governed by the economic principle of 'supply and demand' and the employers thought that they were entitled to hire labour on their terms and to dismiss the same at their choice and subject to the specific terms of contract between them, if any. The theory of "hire and fire" as well as the theory of "supply and demand" which were allowed free scope under the doctrine of laissez faire no longer holds the field. In constructing a wage structure in a given case industrial adjudication thus takes into account to some extent consideration of right and wrong, propriety or impropriety and fairness and unfairness * *  * considerations of the financial position of the employer and the state of national economy have their say, and the requirements of a workman living in a civilised and progressive society also come to be recognised. It is in that sense and no doubt to a limited extent, that the social philosophy of the age supplies the background for the decision of industrial disputes as to wage structure. * * * * * It is because of this socio-economic aspect of the wage structure that industrial adjudication postulates that no employer can engage industrial labour unless he pays it what may be regarded as the minimum basic wage. * * * * * In other words, the employment of sweated labour which would be easily available to the employer in all undeveloped and even underdeveloped countries is ruled out."

36. As a background for fixing wage scales in the engineering industry, the trend of wage rates in analogous industries in the same region has also to be taken into account. The analogous industries in the same region may be said to be jute and cotton industries. The prevailing rate of wages in these industries are on the increase materially since 1948. This background was also taken into account by the Third Engineering Tribunal and the position as it stood at that time was summarised in the following words :—

"In the jute industry the basic wage has been raised from Rs. 27 to Rs. 35, in the cotton textile industry it has been raised from Rs. 20 and odd to Rs. 28 and odd. There were three major awards in respect of jute industry, viz., in 1948, 1951 and 1955. The first award of the cotton textile industry was in 1958. That the jute industry and the cotton textile industies are industries in the same region is not disputed by any side. So, it can be safely held that the prevailing rates of wages in the analogous industries in the same region have undergone alterations. Even if the total emoluments is taken into consideration concerning these two industries, I get that in the cotton textile industry it rose from Rs. 50 and odd per month to Rs. 60.67 nP per month. In the case of jute industry, the total emoluments was Rs. 58.50 nP per month as a result of the first award of 1948. It rose to Rs. 63.60 nP as a result of the second award of 1951, but in the engineering industry it was Rs. 55 as a result of the first award of 1948 and Rs. 61 as a result of the second award of 1950."

37. Circumstances have also materially changed since then. There were Wage Boards for Jute and

Recommendations of Jute Wage Board (1963)

"viii(a) Revised wages of operatives and sundry workers in Jute Mills in West Bengal.

7.52. The Board has decided that the working class consumer price index number of 425 for Calcutta with the base year 1939 as 100 should be taken as the figure at which the total minimum wage for the jute mills in West Bengal should be fixed. The total minimum wage at this index number should be Rs. 81 per month. It should cosist of (1) Basic Wage, (2) Wage Board Increament, and (3) Variable Dearness Allowance.

(1) Basic Wage

7.53. The workers in the jute mills in West Bengal can be divided into the following eight was groups on the basis of the existing wage structure.

	Rs.
I Workers whose existing monthly basic wages are	34.67
II Workers whose existing monthly basic wages are	35.75
III Workers whose existing monthly basic wages are	36.84
IV Workers whose existing monthly basic wages are	37.92
V Workers whose existing monthly basic wages are	39.00
VI Workers whose existing monthly basic wages are	40.09
VII Workers whose existing monthly basic wages are	41.17
VIII Workers whose existing monthly basic wages are	42.25

7.54 The Board felt that at present there are too many lower wage groups and therefore decided to reduce the existing basic wage groups into the following three groups :

(a) Basic wages of all workers within the existing wage groups of I to IV, i.e., Rs. 34.67, Rs. 35.75, Rs. 36.84 and Rs. 37.92 should be equated and fixed at Rs. 40.17;

(b) Basic wages of workers within the wage groups of V to VII, i.e., of Rs. 39.00, Rs. 40.09 and Rs. 41.17 should be equated and fixed at Rs. 41.17; and

(c) Basic wages of workers in the wage group VIII, i.e., of workers who are now at Rs. 42.25 and above, will be more or less the same, i.e., Rs. 42.25 and above.

Double (Pair) Loom weavers

7.44 At present double loom weavers in West Bengal are paid 75 per cent. of the basic wages on the production of the two looms (in addition to the fixed dearness allowance). A demand was made on behalf of the workers that the weavers should get at least 87½ per cent. of the basic wages on the production of the two looms. The Board has carefully considered the cost structure and other relevant factors and has come to the conclusion that it would be equitable go award double (pair) loom weavers 80 per cent. (instead of 75 per cent)of the basic wages on the production of the two looms and has borne this in mind in evolving the new wage structure.

(2) Wage Board Increment

7.56. In addition to the basic wages mentioned above all categories of workers including launch crews and canteen staff (except the clerical staff whose case has been dealt with separately) should be paid an increase of Rs. 8.33 per month inclusive of the interim relief of Rs 3.42 per month granted by the Wage Board. The increment of Rs 8.33 per month should be shown as a separate item under thehead "Wage Board Increment" in the case of all categories of workers. The Wage Board Increment should be treated as a part of the basic wage for all purposes like bonus, provident fund, etc."

B. Result of recommendations of the Cotton Wage Board

It is not necessary to state in details the recommendations of this Wage Board because after the report of this Board, the recommendations of the Board were modified by a tripartite agreement between the concerned parties dated 1st March 1961 As a result of this tripartite agreement, the total minimum wage was fixed at Rs. 74.50 nP at 400 C/L I. The relevant provisions of the tripartite agreement are reproduced below :—

"In paragraph 108 of the Central Wage Board Report, the Board recommended that where Dearness Allowance was fixed, it should be made flexible and adequate and linked up with the cost of living index. The parties agreed that the total minimum pay-packet including the flat increase of Rs. 6 should be fixed at Rs. 74.50 nP and should be linked up with the cost of living index at 400 (base year 1939=100). On this basis, the D A comes to Rs. 40.33 nP (i.e. Rs. 74.50 nP minus Rs. 34.17 nP) at C.L I. 400.

In paragraph 109 of the Wage Board Report it was recommended that 75 per cent. of the D A. should be merged with the basic wages and 24 per cent should be kept as D A., subject to rise or fall according to the cost of living index. Thus the amount of Rs 40.33 nP should be broken up as follows :

Rs. 30.25 to be merged with basic wages.

Rs. 10.08 to be kept as D.A.

The final figures should be as follows:

Wages Rs. 28.17 nP—Minimum basic wage as per Award of the Second Omnibus Tribunal of 1958

Wages Rs. 6.00 nP—Flat increase as recommended by Wage Board

Rs 30.25 nP

Total Rs. 64.42 nP — Three-fourths of D.A. marged with wages

D.A. Rs. 10.08 nP (25 per cent. of Rs. 40.33) at C.L.I. 400

Total pay packet Rs. 74.50 nP at 400 C.L.I.

The parties agree that any rise or fall in the cost of living index number above or below 400 C.L.I. would be neutralised at the rate of 18 nP per one point. The Dearness Allowance fixed above at Rs. 10 08 nP. would be regulated accordingly. The rate of neutralisation at 18 nP. per point will continue to be in force up to the end of 1962. The rate of neutralisation from 1st January 1963, would be at 20 nP. per point up to the end of 1964."

38. On the basis of the flexible D.A. fixed by the Jute Wage Board as modified by the tripartite agreement, the present total minimum wage has risen over Rs. 100 per month.

39. I have referred in some details to the recommendations of the Jute and Cotton Textile Wage Boards because these are certainly industries in the concerned region, i.e., West Bengal, which are to some extent comparable with the engineering industry. I have already quoted an extract from the award of the Third Engineering Tribunal which shows that the Third Engineering Tribunal was also of the same view.

40. I have quoted extracts from the tripartite agreement modifying the Cotton Textile Wage Board from the agreement as published in West Bengal Labour Gazette, February 1961, page 201 at page 201-2.

41. The recommendations of the 15th Labour Conference which have been strongly relied upon by the Trade Unions require some consideration. This Tripartite Conference first referred to the minimum wage as need-based and laid down the following standards for fixing the minimum wage:

(i) The standard working-class family should be taken to consist of 3-consumption units for one wage-earner, earnings of women, children and adolescents being disregarded.

(ii) Minimum food requirements should be calculated on the basis of the next intake of 2,700 callories as recommended by Dr. Akoryd for an average Indian adult of moderate activity.

(iii) Clothing requirements should be estimated at a per capita comsumption of 18 yds. per annum, i.e., which would give for an average worker's family of 4 a total of 72 yards.

(iv) In respect of housing, the norm should be the minimum rent charged by Government in any area for houses provided under the Subsidised Industrial Housing Scheme for low income groups; and

(v) Fuel, lighting and other items of expenditure should constitute 20 per cent. of the total minimum wage.

42. The need-based minimum has been calculated by some of the Trade Unions in the present case. The calculations do not always agree. Trade Union No.1 of list III (National Federation of Engineering Workers) has calculated the need-based minimum as amounting to Rs. 210.57. This is also the calculation of Trade Union No. 2 of List III (Federation of Metal and Engineering Workers' Union). The calculation given by Trade Union No. 3 of List III (West Bengal Engineering Workers' Union) stands at more than Rs. 250 Shri P. Bhattacharyya appearing for an added Trade Union has calculated need-based minimum wage as Rs. 230. The figures are apparently too high and out of proportion with the existing scale of minimum wages. In the recent case of All India Reserve Bank Employees' Association Vs. Reserve Bank of India (LLJ 1965 (II) page 175), the Supreme Court has observed as follows:— "The plain average laid down in the resolution of the Fifteenth Indian Labour Conference in regard to wage policy may have to be weighted in different regions and in different industries and reduced in others." It is also observed that "proper weight and importance must be attached to the resolution of Fifteenth Labour Conference in regard to wage policy." In view of the prevailing rates of minimum wages in the small and medium scale engineering industries with which we are concerned in the present adjudication, I think that it would be too big a jump to fix minimum wages on the standards of the recommendations of the Fifteenth Labour Conference. The need-based minimum according to the recommendations of the Fifteenth Labour Conference may be taken to be the ultimate goal but its immediate realisation is not possible without introducing revolutionary changes in the wage rates which may not ultimately auger well for the Industry as a whole. The Industry itself must survive and thrive if the workers are also to find full and profitable employment. I shall now close my discussions on the different concepts of wage and principles and guidelines to be kept in mind for fixation of industrial wage structure by referring to the illuminating summarisation of this whole topic by the Supreme Court in the case of Hindusthan Times Vs. their workmen, (LLJ 1963 (I) page 108). The relevant discussion commences at page 112. I quote below the observations of the Supreme Court:—

"The fixation of wage-structure is among the most difficult tasks that industrial adjudication has to tackle. On the one hand not only the demands of social justice but also the claims of national economy require that attempts should be made to secure to workmen a fair share of national income which they help to produce.

On the other hand, care has to be taken that the attempt at a fair distribution does not tend to dry up the source of the national income itself. * * *

On the one hand, better living conditions for the workmen that can only be possible by giving them a ("living wage") will tend to increase the nations' wealth and income. On the other hand, unreasonable inroads on the profits of the capitalists might have a tendency to drive capital away from fruitful employment and even to effect prejudicially capital formation itself. The rise in prices that often results from the rise of the workmen's wages may in its turn affect other members of the community and may even affect prejudicially the living conditions of the workmen themselves. The affect of such a rise in price on the country's international trade cannot also be always ignored. Thus numerous complex factors, some of which are economic and some spring from social philosophy, give rise to conflicting considerations that have to borne in mind. * * In trying to keep true to the two points of social philosophy and economic necessities which vie for consideration, industrial adjudication has set for itself certain standards in the matter of wage-fixation. At the bottom of the ladder, there is the minimum basic wage which the employer of any industrial labour must pay in order to be allowed to continue an industry. Above this is the fair wage, which may roughly be said to approximate to the need-based minimum in the sense of a wage which is "adequate to cover the normal needs of the average employee regarded as a human being in a civilised society." Above the fair wage is the "living wage"—a wage "which will maintain the workmen in the highest state of industrial efficiency, which will enable him to provide his family with all the material things which are needed for their health and physical well-being, enough to enable him to qualify to discharge his duties as a citizen."

After having regard to all the concepts and principles laid down by the Supreme Court in the cases referred to above, and also to the broad facts and circumstances of the present case, I think that though the need-based minimum may be taken to be the ultimate goal, it may not be possible to at once jump to that goal without causing serious disruption of the industry itself and for the present we may have to be satisfied with the reasonable approximation to that goal which would secure to the workmen wages approximating to fair wages as defined in the recommendations of the Fair Wage Committee and interpreted in the Express Newspaper's case.

43. I shall now briefly deal with some specific features and circumstances which have been authoritatively recommended or decided to be considered in the matter of wage fixation. These are as follows :—

1. Average wage income of the engineering workmen

According to OPW 78, Dr. H. Banerjee, the average earning of factory workers in West Bengal in 1962 was calculated at Rs. 1,300 per year including D.A. This average has certainly increased in recent years and in 1965, it was Rs. 1,549 according to a Government publication appearing in the Amrita Bazar Patrika, dated 17th July 1966. On this basis, the monthly income would be fairly over Rs. 100.

2. Per capita national income

The per capita national income in 1964-65 at current prices was Rs. 421.5 (vide Eastern Economist dated April 1, 1966, page 722). According to this per capita income, the per capita monthly income of a worker's family would be nearabout Rs. 140 on the average taking a worker's family to consist of 4-consumption units (including 2 minors = 1 unit). Even taking 3 units, it would be a little over Rs. 100 (421 × 3) ÷ 12. I should add here that this per capita income is more national than real and this by itself cannot be a sure standard for wage fixation.

3. Wage on the industry-cum-region basis

I have already referred to and discussed above the prevailing wages in the engineering industry according to the three previous omnibus engineering awards. The minimum wages including D.A. for an unskilled workman calculated according to the Third Engineering Award on the basis of the average consumer price index for the last year (1965) which stood at 507 as compared to base year 1939 = 100 is as follows :—

Rs. 35 (basic)

Plus Rs. 36 (D.A. according to the Third Engineering Award with consumer price index at 364).

Plus Rs. 28 (increased D.A. calculated at Re. 1 for every 5 point increase in CPI in round figure).

Total Rs. 99

To this, is to be added a further flat increase of Rs. 10 according to the Government Order under Defence of India Rules passed in 1964. Thus, the total would come up to Rs. 109. This figure has further increased in the present year as the consumer price index has risen. It is to be noted that this applies to the bigger engineering establishments employing 250 and more workmen covered by the Third Engineering Award. It is an admitted position that engineering establishments with which we are concerned in the present adjudication are smaller establishments employing up to 249 workers. In this connection, I may mention that according to the decision of the Jute Wage Board, the minimum wage was fixed at Rs. 81 with the consumer price index at 425. The average consumer price index for the calendar year 1965 was 507. So, this minimum wage has increased by proportionate increase of D.A. According to the evidence of Shri Subodh Banerjee, President, West Bengal Engineering Workers' Union, PW 24, the minimum wage fixed by Steel Wage Board was Rs. 125. This evidence practically stands unchallenged.

4. Productivity of the Industry

It cannot be gainsaid that engineering is an expanding and progressive industry in India and its productivity is substantially on the increase. Shri Subodh Banerjee has produced a cutting of the Amrita Bazar Patrika, dated 7th December 1963 (Ext.16), which shows that the volume of output of engineering products rose from Rs. 134 crores in 1956 to Rs. 570.84 crores in 1962. This chart formed part of an article contributed by a highly placed person connected with the Engineering Association of India. It may quite naturally be presumed that the productivity has further increased since 1962.

5. Capacity of the Industry to pay

This is by far a very important matter for consideration in wage fixation. In fixing up a wage structure for a particular class of industrial workers, it must be seen how far the Industry can afford to bear the burden of an increased wage structure.

It is now well-settled that the capacity is to be determined in general taking the Industry as a whole and not in respect of some or all the particular units comprised in the Industry. There is hardly any clear means of measuring the general wage-paying capacity of the total Industry. This is the view of the Arbitration Court of Australia as quoted in the Express Newspaper's case by the Supreme Court. The whole quotation is as follows :—

> "In view of the absence of clean means of measuring the wage-paying capacity of total industry, the actual wage upon which well-situated labourers were at the time maintaining the average family unit could justifiably be taken as the criterion of what industry could probably pay to all labourers."

The Bombay Textile Labour Inquiry Committee was of the opinion that "capacity should not be measured in terms of the individual establishment and that the main criterion should be the profit-making capacity of the industry in the whole province. * * " The Fair Wage Committee expressed the following opinion in this matter :—

> "In determining the capacity of an industry to pay it would be wrong to take the capacity of a particular unit or the capacity of all industries be the capacity of a particular industry in a specified region and, as far as possible, the same wages should be prescribed for all units of the industry in that region. It will obviously not be possible for the wage-fixing board to measure the capacity of each of the units of an industry in a region and the only practicable method is to take a fair cross-section of that industry."

The above quotations are taken from the judgment of the Supreme Court in Express Newspaper's case (LLJ 1961 (I), page 339 at page 366). In this case, the Supreme Court clearly laid down the following principle for measuring the capacity of an industry to pay :—

> "It is clear therefore that the capacity of an industry to pay should be gauged on an industry-cum-region basis after taking a fair cross-section of that industry. In a given case it may be even permissible to divide the industry into appropriate classes and then deal with the capacity of the industry to pay classwise."

The Fair Wage Committee after discussing two points of view regarding the measure of the capacity of the industry to pay, finally recorded the following opinion :—

> "The objective is not merely to determine wages which are fair in the abstract, but to see that employment at existing levels is not only maintained but, if possible, increased. From this point of view, it will be clear that the level of wages should enable the industry to maintain production with efficiency. The capacity of industry to pay should, therefore, be assessed in the light of this very important consideration. The wages board should also be charged with the duty of seeing that fair wages so fixed for any particular industry are not very much out of line with that in other industries in that region. * * * * "

The Supreme Court summarised the whole thing in this case in the following terms :—

> "The main consideration which is to be borne in mind therefore is that the industry should be able to maintain production with efficiency and the fixation of rates of wages should be such that there are no movements from one industry to another owing to wide disparities and employment at existing levels is not only maintained, but if possible, increased."

The Supreme Court finally summarised its decision regardig the test for measuring the capacity of the industry to pay in the following terms :—

> "(3) that the proper measure for gauging the capacity of the industry to pay should take into account the elasticity of demand for the product, the product, the possibility of tightening up the organisation so that the industry could pay higher wages without difficulty and the possibility of increase in the efficiency of the lowest paid workers resulting increase in production considered in conjunction with the elasticity of demand for the product—no doubt against the ultimate background that the burden of the increased rate should not be such as to drive the employer out of business."

44. I now come to the facts of the present case. The most striking factor is that out of a total number of more than 1200 engineering units covered by the present reference, only a small portion has actually pressed financial incapacity and laid evidence in support of it and the number of such concerns would not exceed 100 or thereabout. This clearly indicates that a vast majority of the engineering units covered by the present reference are not really suffering from financial incapacity to pay higher wages. It may also be taken that this vast majority of the engineering units constitutes a fair cross-section of the Industry. The position comes to this, therefore, that in the present case a very fair cross-section of the Industry concerned has not pressed financial incapacity. I shall here refer to two audit reports, one covering 30 companies [Ext. FF(1)] and the other covering 19 companies [Ext. FF(3)], some of whom are also covered by Ext. FF(1), produced by the Engineering Association of India and proved by Shri Subhas Kumar Mitra, a senior assistant of Singhi & Co., a firm of Chartered Accountants, which undertook the job of analysing the balance-sheets of these companies. The two reports purport to show dwindling returns to shareholders during the period 1959-60 to 1961-62 and also dwindling transfers to reserves and percentage of reserves to capital invested during this period. It appears from the evidence of Shri Subhas Kumar Mitra, who is himself a qualified Chartered Accountant, that in analysing the balance-sheets, he took each item of expenditure as it stood without considering whether it was justified or not. Another noticeable feature of his evidence is that he did not say that no reserve was built up during the period under analysis but it is that the reserve built up was not substantial when compared to the percentage of the capital invested. In reply to a straight question in cross-examination, this witness made the categorical statement that he had nothing to say if the financial capacity and stability of these companies are said to be good. He further made the statement that it was necessary to examine the assets and liabilities of the company to assess its financial position and he considered the assets and liabilities of these companies as shown in the balance-sheets but did not consider the fixed assets. Fixed assets certainly constitute the assets of the Company as a whole and in assessing the financial condition of the Company, the value of the fixed assets should also be taken into account as against the liabilities. The evidence of this witness considered along with his report, does not suffice to establish financial incapacity of the companies concerned to pay some increased wages. Apart from this evidence of the Chartered Accountant, there is no other expert evidence on this point, though some representatives of some companies have come forward to say that they have financial incapacity to pay higher wages. Their statements cannot be accepted as sufficient proof of financial incapacity.

(6) Elasticity of the demand for the product:

As regards the elasticity of the demand for the product, it cannot be gainsaid that with the advance of standards of living and modern ideas, there is greater and greater demand for engineering goods and I have already shown in a portion of my award above that the value of engineering products is greatly on the increase.

It cannot be grainsaid that increase of wages will provide an incentive to workers for increase in efficiency and product.

(7) Tightening up the organisation :

As regards tightening up the organisation, there is no evidence on either side. So, it is not poss ble to make any positive decision on this point. From the total facts and circumstances available in the present case, it may, however, be said that on the whole the Industry is an expanding and flourishing industry. Some particular units may be in d fficulty but that is no criterion for guaging the financial capacity of the Industry as a whole.

45. Certain present difficulties in carrying on manufacture of engineering products have been stressed on behalf of the employers. Evidence has been laid in support of the position that the Industry is facing serious difficulty for want of proper and adequate supply of raw materials, e.g., steel sheets and other allied materials and also for severe import restrictions concerning certain essential ingredients required for manufacturing some products. It is also urged that there has been fall in orders for engineering goods and this has also affected the industry. No doubt these difficulties exist at present to some extent. So far as steel sheets and allied materials are concerned, however I am not convinced from the evidence that these are equally in short supply to such an extent as to affect the working of the Industry in general. So many steel plants are in operation in the country. Of-course, the supply is to some extent controlled by the Government, but that is done in pursuance of the policy of maintaining supplies to real and bona fide applicants. Evidence discloses that scraps are also purchased from the market for use as raw materials in engineering concerns, such as rolling mills. There is hardly any satisfactory evidence to show that these sources of supply is being checked up to any appreciable extent. So far as imported materials are concerned, no doubt there is strict restriction because as a matter of national policy imports have been and are being restricted. Imports are made under licences issued by Government and I am not satisfied from the evidence that bona fide applications for imports are not being sympathetically and properly considered. Import restrictions are in vogue for quite an appreciable period. Still, the engineering industry is expanding and progressing. Evidence has been laid on behalf of the companies to prove that competitors in certain sectors of the industry are growing in some other States in India, e.g., Punjab, Madras, U.P., etc. This shows that inspite of import restrictions and alleged scarcity of raw materials, new engineering establishments are being started all over the country. So far as the order position is concerned, the main emphasis has been laid on behalf of the companies on the fact that the Railway Department's orders for necessary parts and equipments, e.g., wagon parts and signalling equipments, etc., which constituted a substantial portion of the orders executed by the engineering concerns of West Bengal, particularly small and medium scale industries in Howrah, have almost completely stopped and this has caused great difficulty to such engineering establishments. No doubt, most of the small and medium scale engineering establishments in Howrah region are practically ancillary industries connected with bigger establishments and a great part of the Engineering products of the Howrah establishmnts are manufactured under contracts with bigger establishments directly under contract with the Railways and other public undertakings. It is said that the Railways have practically stopped the wagon-building industry and this has dried up the source of a large number of orders for wagon parts and accessories which are being executed by many of the engineering units of Howrah. Even accepting the oral evidence in support of the aforesaid position given on behalf of the companies in the present case as correct, I am unable to come at once to the conclusion from such evidence that the engineering industry as a whole has been so vitally affected by fall in Railway orders as to jeopardise their existence and continuance altogether. Evidence has been laid to prove that in recent years, closures, retrenchments and lay-offs in the engineering industry have increased and this shows the plight of the industry. In my opinion, the correct way of approach to this position in connection with fixation of wage structure for the engineering industry with which we are concerned in the present case should be that if the present wage structure is found to be too low and insufficient to meet even the barest needs of the workers and so a fixation of proper wage structure is considered necessary, the Tribunal must fix a proper wage structure notwithstanding the aforesaid difficulties in the industry. It is well-settled that so far as minimum wage is concerned, the industry must pay it or close down. If some particular units find it uneconomic to carry on their business and decide to close down, they can do so and go out of business, in which case, the fixation of wage structure will not affect them at all. Similarly, every industry has a legal right to resort to lay-off and retrenchment when sufficient cause exists for such step. But, that cannot stand in the way of fixation of a proper and equitable minimum scale of wages for the workers. From the background circumstances already discussed in details above, it would appear that the general wage structure is at present too low and insufficient to meet the barest needs of the workers and so, there is certainly sufficient cause for fixation of a wage structrue in the present case. I have also already shown above what most of the workers of the engineering establishments covered by the present reference have as yet no wage structure fixed by any award. Recently, the Engineering Wage Board made its interim recommendations for general increased in present wages of workmen employed in engineering establishments employing 50 or more workmen on the following lines:

Rate of increase	Pay range
Rs. 12.50 per month	Up to Rs. 105
Rs. 7.60 ,, ,,	,, Rs. 150
Rs. 6.50 ,, ,,	,, Rs. 250
Rs. 5.00 ,, ,,	,, Rs. 500

These interim increases are subject to some restrictions in some cases with which we are not concerned and so, I do not mention them. These interim increases do not, however, cover workmen employed in establishment employing less than 50 workmen and such workmen constitute quite a bulk of the total workmen covered by the present reference. I may state here that I have obtained from the Chief Inspector of Factories, West Bengal, a list showing the number of companies employing less than 50 workmen, between 50 and 100 workmen and more than 100 workers, out of the companies covered by the present reference and he has supplied the following list by his letter No. 849, dated 5th March 1966:

Number of companies employing less than 50 workmen	764
Number of companies employing workers between 50 and 100	186
Number of companies employing more than 100 workers	164

There is some explanation about the remainder of 1208 establishments named in List I of the Order of Reference. A large number of this list has been crossed off from the register, 5 names have been entered twice and 13 establishments are not registered with the Directorate. It will appear from the list supplied by the Chief Inspector of Factories that the number of companies employing less than 50 workers is 764 out of a total of 1114 and this indicates that about two-thirds of the companies covered by the present reference employ less than 50 workers. It cannot be gainsaid that there is a very strong and sufficient case for fixation of a wage structure in the present adjudication.

46. Power shortage leading to restrictions of power to industrial units and increase of idle capacity on account of paucity of work and to some extent paucity of raw materials have also been referred to as the difficulties of the industry. These are, in my view, temporary phases and cannot be regarded as permanent features so as to affect the question of fixation of suitable wages for the workmen actually employed in the engineering establishments.

47. Before taking up the actual fixation of wage scales, I would here briefly discuss the question of relating to classification of workers into different categories, e.g., unskilled, semi-skilled, skilled and highly skilled. Though as yet there is no definite decision by any award or any wage board as to which class of employees should be included in which of such categories, it is a patent and established position that the classification of the workmen into such categories has been accepted by Industry in general and wage scale vary from category to category in a large number of establishments, if not in the majority. It is difficult for this Tribunal to assess on the basis of occupational nomenclatures which class of employees doing what particular jobs or nature of jobs should be included in what category without any precise evidence from technical experts regarding the nature and description of skill required in performing the jobs classwise. The Third Engineering Tribunal made a similar approach to this question and left the categories unascertained, though it fixed wages scales for four groups, viz (D) corresponding to unskilled category, (C) corresponding to semi-skilled, (D) corresponding to skilled category and (A) corresponding to highly skilled. I would also follow the same procedure in the present case and fix different scales for the accepted categories of unskilled, semi-skilled, skilled and highly skilled without attempting classification of each category on the basis of occupational nomenclatures and/or jobs or nature of jobs required to be performed by each category.

48. In fixing wage scales and D.A., I have to take account of the patent facts that the cost of living index has enormously increased since the last award in respect of wages of engineering workers made by the Third Omnibus Engineering Tribunal in 1958 and the same is continuously on the increase even now. In 1958 the average cost of living for working class in Calcutta was 387 on the basis of the monthly figures of the whole year. At present, the cost of living index or the 'consumer price index' as it is now called, stands at almost 520, taling the base year 1939= 100.

49. It is also to be noted that at present the minimum wage for unskilled workmen according to the Third Engineering Tribunal Award and the Jute and Cotton Textile Wage Boards amounts to nearabout 100 per month on the basis of the variable D.A. linked to the cost of living index.

50. Keeping in view the principles of wage fixation and other facts and circumstances discussed above, I now proceed to the actual task of fixing grades and scales of basic wages and rates of D.A. for the concerned workmen of this case. It is to be noted that the engineering establishments covered by the present reference are undisputedly smaller units as compared to the establishments covered by the three previous tribunal awards and the majority of them are also not within the purview of the current Engineering Wage Board which has nothing to do with establishments engaging less than 50 workmen. It can quite reasonably be held that the financial capacities of the establishments covered by the present reference are generally lower than those of the bigger establishments covered by the three engineering tribunal awards and also the current Wage Board. At the same time, it has to be kept in view that the cost of living index is constantly on the rise since the last awards and the present cost of living index has touched the figure of 580 as compared to base year 1939=100. The minimum basic wage and D.A. have to be fixed keeping in view this steep rise in the cost of living index which is facing every worker from the lowest to the highest grade.

51. For the purpose of fixing the minimum wages, I consider it just and expedient to adopt the procedure followed by the Third Engineering Tribunal. That Tribunal accepted Rs. 5 to be the cost of diet of an industrial worker and thereafter multiplied it by three, this being the number of consumption units in an industrial worker's family. I may add here that the Fair Wages Committee also recommended that for the purpose of computing the cost of living index of an industrial worker's family, the family should be taken to consist of 3-consumption units. So, the total cost of food of an industrial worker's family comes to Rs. 18. To this sum, he added 40 per cent. more to cover other costs, viz., housing, clothing and other miscellaneous items. Thus, the total cost was computed to be Rs. 15+Rs. 6 = Rs. 21. It is to be noted that this computation was made on the basis of the consumer price index being 100, which is the CPI of the base year 1939, which still continues to be the base year for calculation of CPI. CPI at 100 can quite reasonably be deemed to be the lowest level. Then, being of the view that though the average CPI in the previous year (1957) was 364, the prices were expected to stabilise somewhere between 150 and 200 points, he fixed the minimum wages at Rs. 35 per month. For the purpose of computing D.A., however, he of course accepted the CPI at 364, the average for 1957, the year before he made the award, and computed the D.A. by increasing to D.A. awarded by the Second Engineering Tribunal proportionately with the increase of CPI over 340, which was the prevailing CPI on the basis of which the Second Engineering Tribunal made its award for D.A. The increase being 24 points, the minimum D.A. was increased by Rs. 5 on the basis of increase of Re.1 for every 5 points [vide paragraph (2) at page 5429 and the last paragraph at page 5437 continued at page 5438 in the Gazette copy of the award]. It seems to be that the principle of such computation of minimum wages and D.A. was that the minimum wages were fixed on the basis of a stabilisation point of the rising cost of living index over the base year 1939=100 and these wages were assumed to cover the entire cost of living of a worker's family up to the stabilisation point and D.A. was then calculated on the difference between the stabilisation point and the prevailing CPI in the preceding year. In my view this mode of computation of minimum wages and minimum D.A. may be said to be quite reasonable and scientific because the computation is based on the lowest CPI in the base year 1939 which, it is well-known, was one of the cheapest years. For the purpose of the present case, the stabilisation point may be accepted to be somewhere between 200 and 250. If it is 200, the total cost of living of a workmen's family on the basis of Rs. 21 on 100 CPI would be 21 × 2 = Rs. 42; if it is 350, the total cost would be 21 × 2.5 = Rs. 32.5. It is to be considered that the reference covers small or at least lower medium scale industries employing less than 250 workers per unit. The financial resources of such industries may be held to be generally lower than the bigger industries covered by the previous awards. Considering the overall facts and circumstances, I deem it fair to strike a reasonable mean between the aforesaid two figures for the purpose of fixing minimum basic wages. Accordingly, I fix the minimum basic wages in round figures at Rs. 45. This would be the minimum wages for the lowest category of workers corresponding to unskillled workers. On the basis of this minimum wages for unskilled workers I fix the minimum basic wages of semi-skilled, skilled and highly skilled at Rs. 55, Rs. 90 and Rs. 110, respectively. These basic wages appear to me to be based upon quite reasonable differentials between the minimum wages of these different categories of workers.

52. Shri K. P. Mookerjee, Counsel, appearing for some Engineering Associations, contended that this Tribunal should fix lower rates of wages for units employing less then 50 workmen. This was opposed on behalf of the Unions. I have considered the matter. I do not think that it will be fair or proper to fix lower rates of wages for establishments employing less than 50 workmen. I have fixed the minimum basic wage on a scientific footing taking the minimum cost of living of workers' family as Rs. 21 only with the CPI at 100. I think this is the barest minimum cost of living and below this, we would be on the starvation level. I am not prepared to fix starvation wages for some workmen simply for the reason that they are employed in establishments where the total strength of workers is below 50. Moreover, it is not necessarily or axiomatically true that the smaller an engineering unit in point of numerical strength of its workers, the lesser is its financial stability and capacity. In the present case, the establishments employing less than 50 workmen for outnumber other establishments employing larger number of workers. I am to act on principles of social justice in the matter of fixation of wages, but I do not think I shall be justified in laying down smaller rates of wages for a large number of workers simply on the ground that they are engaged in smaller units It is true that there may be hardship or difficulty in the case of some small employers but then acting on the principle of achieving "greatest good of the greatest number", which is also the cardinal principle of social justice and philosophy, we must ignore these difficulties and fix a uniform rate of wages for all establishments. Such division may also raise serious discontent among the workmen and disturb the industrial peace. In this view of the matter, I reject this contention. I should record here at the same time that in fixing the minimum wages, I have tried to be as fair both to the employer and to the workmen as far as practicable in the facts and circumstances of the present case.

53 As regards grades and scales of pay, I think that there should be suitable incremental time scales in the wages of each category of worker. For the purpose of fixing the grades and time-scales, workers are divided into four groups, viz , Group D corresponding to unskilled category, Group C corresponding to the semi-skilled category, Group B corresponding to the skilled category and Group A corresponding to them highly-skilled category. I have already indicated above that it is not possible for this Tribunal to specify by occupational nomenclatures exactly what classes or types of workers would fall under which categories But, it is an undeniable position that workers in an engineering establishment are generally divided into such categories. All that can be said in a general way is that the unskilled workers are merely manual workers having nothing or very little to do with the working of machines while the other higher categories have to work with machines with different degrees of skill Now I lay down below the grades and time scales of these different categories of workers as fixed by me

(1) Group D corresponding to the unskilled category :

(a) Grade .. .. Rs 45 to Rs. 50.
(b) Time Scale .. Rs 45-1/5 — 50.

I have fixed a short time scale for this lowest category of workers in the hope that by working for this short period, they will gain sufficient experience and will be eligible for promotion to the next higher category. They would be entitled to promotion to the next higher category if their work is found satisfactory and they are found to be qualified mentally and physically for the work of the next higher category

(2) Group C corresponding to semi-skilled category :

(a) Grade .. .. Rs 55 to Rs 80

(b) Time scale .. Rs 55-1 25/10—67 50—
E B.— 1 25/10—Rs 80

This time scale is subject to an efficiency bar at the middle stage, i e. 10th stage.

(3) Group B corresponding to the skilled category ;

(a) Grade .. .. Rs. 90 to Rs 130

(b) Time scale .. Rs 90—2/10—110—
E B.—2/10—130

Time scale with efficiency bar at the middle of the 10th stage.

(4) Group A corresponding to highly-skilled category :

(a) Grade .. .. Rs.110 to Rs 170

(b) Time scale .. Rs.110—3/10—140—
E.B.—3/10—170.

I have provided for efficiency bars for groups C, B and A categories of workers so that there may be an incentive for them to show greater production and efficiency in the hope of crossing the efficiency here.

I h ve laid down above monthly basic wages and scales with annual increments In the scale of increments the rates of increments are separate from the period of increments by oblique dash '/' e.g. 1/5—Re 1 annually for 5 years

54 Now I come to the question of D A After having fixed the minimum wages of the different categories of workers on the basis of an accepted stabilisation point I am to fix D A to cover the increased CPI over the aforesaid stabilisation point. For this purpose, I accept the average CPI of the last year (1965) standing at 507 as the basis on which minimum D A is to be fixed. The difference between this point and the highest stabilisation point which I accept for the purpose of present calculation (250) is 257 To cover this increase, I accept the principle of increasing the D A. by rupee one for every 5 point increase in CPI So, for the total quantitative difference between the accepted stabilisation point and the average CPI for the last year, the minimum D. A would be the total difference divided by 5 By this method, we reach the sum of Rs 51 in round figures This would be the minimum D. A. After having reached this point of calculation of minimum D A., I fix the rates of monthly D A. for the different pay ranges in the following manner :

Basic wage/Pay range	D. A.
	Rs.
Up to Rs 50	51
Rs 51 to Rs. 100	55
Rs 101 to Rs 150	60
Rs. 151 to 200	65

and thereafter the D A will increase by Rs.5 for every increase of Rs 50 in the basic wages The above rates of D. A are linked to the CPI at 507, being the average for the last year (1965) The rates will be variable with further increase or decrease of CPI at the rate of Re.1 for every 5 points of increase or decrease of CPI In other words, the aforesaid rates will increase or decrease by Re 1 for every 5 point increase or decrease over or from 507 I further direct that this variable increase or decrease shall be adjusted at the end of each year after 1965, the first being due on 1st January 1967.

55. Apparently, it may seem that the grades and scales of wages and rates of wages fixed by me are generally more than the same fixed by the Third Engineering Tribunal for bigger establishments, but then, it is to be considered that on the basis of variable D. A. increase of Re.1 for every 5 points of CPI, the total minimum emoluments of the workers of the bigger establishments have gone up much over Rs.100. Moreover, these workers are also entitled to a flat increase of Rs. 10 under an order passed by the State Government under the DIR and then there are also the Wage Board recommendations which may further increase their total emoluments. As I have already indicated above, about two-thirds of the establishments covered by the present reference employ less than 50 workers, and these workers will not be entitled to the increases under the DIR or under the Wage Board recommendations. Considering the overall facts and circumstances, I am clearly of the view that in the present situation and working on the basis of the average CPI for the year 1965 (507) compared to the base year 1939=100 and average for 1957 (364), which was the basis of computation by the Third Engineering Tribunal, the grades and scales of wages and different rates of D. A. fixed by me are not unreasonable or too excessive and beyond the capacity of the concerned establishments to pay. On the other hand, I think that the concerned workers are getting not much above the bare subsistence level. I have already stated above that my goal is to fix reasonable wages and D. A. approximating to fair wages and I think that this goal has been reached by the scales of wages and rates of D. A. fixed by me.

56. I am also to fix suitable grades and scalesfor clerical, supervisory and other subordinate staff, e.g., peons, bearers, durwans, drivers, sweepers, etc., who are not technically factory workmen but at the same time workmen under the Industrial Disputes Act of the concerned establishments. They are also facing the same difficulties as the factory workmen proper in consequence of the steep rise in CPI. It is to be considered that clerks and supervisory staff are mostly recruited from middle class families who are generally used to a better standard of living with wider sphere of commitments for the family, e.g., children's education, daughter's marriage etc. The clerks, supervisory staff and some subordinate staff such as durwans, drivers, etc., have to perform responsible duties and any negligence or shortcoming in their work may result in loss to the Company. Keeping in view the above facts and circumstances and also having regard to the principles of wage fixation already discussed above, I fix grades and scales of pay for the aforesaid categories of staff in the following manner :—

(a) Clerical staff :

(i) Under Graduates :

Grade .. Rs. 70 to Rs. 140

Time Scale .. Rs. 70-3/10-100-E.B.-4/10-140

(ii) Graduates :

Grade .. Rs. 80 to Rs. 170

Time Scale .. Rs. 80-4/10-120-E.B.-5/10-170

(b) Supervisory Staff:

Grade .. Rs. 75 to Rs. 165
Time Scale .. Rs. 75-4/10-115-E.B.-5/10-165

(c) Subordinate staff :

(i) Peons and Bearers :

Grade .. Rs. 45 to Rs. 65
Time Scale .. Rs. 45-1/20-65

(ii) Durwans

Grade .. Rs. 60 to Rs. 82.50
Time Scale .. Rs. 60-1/10-70-E.B.-1.25/10-82.50.

(iii) Drivers :

Grade .. Rs. 70 to Rs. 92.50
Time Scale .. Rs. 70-1/10-80-E.B.-1.25/10-92.50.

(iv) Lorry Drivers :

Grade .. Rs. 75 to Rs. 97.50
Time Scale .. Rs. 75-1/10-85-E.B.-1.25/10-97.50.

(v) Sweepers employed whole-time :

Grade .. Rs. 45 to Rs. 65
Time Scale .. Rs. 45-1/20-65.

D.A. of these categories of employees will be the same as in the case of factory workmen proper and adjustment of variable D.A. will also be made as in the case of factory workmen.

Basic monthly wages with annual incremental scales are laid down above. Annual increments are to be read in the same manner as in the case of factory workmen.

57. I have to make some provision for fitting the present workmen into the grades and scales fixed by this award. The dertermining factor will be the existing pay. Where the existing pay is less than the minimum of a grade or a particular stage in the time scale, it should be pulled up to the minimum of the new grade or the next higher stage in the scale and then the usual increment will follow.

58. In my view, any lesser grade or scale will result in serious injustice to the aforesaid categories of staff in the present circumstances.

59. I have fixed the above grades and scales of wages and different rates of D.A. for different categories of workmen in the engineering industry upon an independent consideration of the evidence produced in this case and the present prevailing circumstances. In this fixation, I have kept out of my mind the increases in the wages of engineering workmen falling within the purview of the current engineering wage board according to the recommendations of the Board.

60. A great majority of the workmen covered by the present adjudication fall outside the purview of that wage Board because, as I have already indicated above, about two-thirds of the engineering establishments covered by the present reference employ less than 50 workmen and such establishmnts are not within the purview of the Wage Board. By some affidavits filed on behalf of some Engineering Associations representing the employers in the reference before this Tribunal, the interim recommendations of the Wage Board were brought to the notice of this Tribunal and though no open and specific prayer was made in the affidavits, it was suggested that the ad hoc increments according to the interim recommendations of the Wage Board should be allowed to be adjusted against the grades and scales of pay fixed for engineering workmen by the present adjudication The matter of the affidavit was heard at length. The employers' representatives who spensored and supported the affidavits and some Union representatives placed their arguments before me in connection with the affidavits. The Union representatives stoutly opposed any such adjustment of ad hoc increments recommended by the Wage Board against the grades and scales to be fixed by this Tribunal.

61. I have given serious consideration to the matter and I think that it will not be proper for this Tribunal to make any definite commitment or order regarding any adjustment of the ad hoc increases in the wages recommended by the Wage Board by way of interim relief against the grades and scales of wages fixed by this Tribunal in respect of the workmen who are also within the purview of the Wage Board. The Wage Board is yet to make its final recommendations and it may consider at the time of making final recommendations whether it would be fair and proper to make any such adjustment of their recommended wages against the wages fixed by this award. Both this Tribunal and the Wage Board are absolutely independent authorities. This Tribunal is giving its award on the basis of the facts and circumstances placed before it. It will be open to the Wage Board to consider this award for the purpose of making its final recommendations and it will also be open to the Government to consider the awarded rates and the rates recommended by the Wage Board for the purpose of deciding whether the recommended rates would be in addition to or in adjustment of the awarded rates. So far as this adjudication is concerned, the awarded rates are final and conclusive. This Tribunal cannot and should not make any commitment as to how the awarded rates should stand in relation to the rates finally evolving out of the recommendations of the Wage Board. This Tribunal cannot go further than this position and make any direction as to how the awarded rates and the rates evolving out of the recommendations of the Wage Board should stand in relation to the other, because that would mean extending the jurisdiction of the Tribunal over the recommendations of the Wage Board which is also an independent authority and not subject to the jurisdiction of this Tribunal. I dispose of this matter in this manner.

62. There should be a saving clause for protecting the existing grades and scales of wages and rates of D.A. of the different categories of workmen for whom grades and scales of wages and different rates of D.A. have been fixed in this award where the existing grades and scales of wages and D.A. are higher than the awarded grades and scales and rates. It is equitable and consistent with the principles of natural justice that where the existing grades and scales of wages and D.A. are higher than the awarded grades and scales, the former must continue in spite of this award. Accordingly, I direct that the grades and scales of wages and different rates of D.A. fixed by this award shall not affect or supersede in any way the current grades and scales and rate where these are higher than the awarded grades and scales and rates.

Holidays and leave

Festival holidays, sick leave, casual leave and privilege leave.

(a) Festival holidays :

63. Evidence produced before the Tribunal discloses that festival holidays has become an established practice in the Industry and the number of such holidays which have been taken to include national holidays, e.g., Independence Day, Republic Day, generally varies from 8 to 12 There is, however, an exception in the case of Bill Engineering Works (Sl No.9). The number of festival holidays prevalent in this establishment is 20 full days on full pay including 2 half days on full pay. The claim for this number of holidays was made for the year 1966 in the Union's letter, Ext. Z(2). It may be remembered that this Company made an application under section 33(1) Industrial Disputes Act praying for permission to reduce the number of festival holidays current in this establishment and this application was disposed of on the terms that the matter would be taken up and decided in course of decision of the question regarding festival holidys on merits under Issue No. 2. So, apart from fixing the number of festival holidays by this award, the special case of Bill Engineering Works has now to be considered and decided.

64. I first take up the question as to how many festival holidys should be admissible to the workmen concerned in this adjudication. The first Omnibus Engineering Tribunal awarded 8 festival holidays. The Second Omnibus Engineering Tribunal awarded 10 festival holidays. Times have changed since the last Omnibus Engineering Tribunal award and there is a growing tendency for observing more national days. At the hearing before me, no serious dispute was raised about the number of festival holidays excepting that the respective parties put forward their own suggestions for such holidays, the Union claiming a higher number and the companies contending for a lower number. Considering the entire evidence available on this subject and the surrounding facts and circumstances, I consider it fair and equitable to fix the number of festival holidays at 12 days in a year including national holidays. These holidays shall be on full pay. The particular days to be observed as festival holidays shall be fixed by the companies in consulation with the authorised Union or representatives of the workmen.

65 I now take up the special claim for reduction of festival holidays put forward by Bill Engineering Works. In support of this claim, some observations of the Supreme Court in the case of Pfizer Private Ltd., Bombay Vs. their workmen (XXIV FJR, 1963-64), 283 at page 300 and Associated Cement Staff Union Vs. Associated Cement Co. Ltd., Bombay, XXV FJR (1963-64), 305 at page 310, and also some observations of the Madras High Court in the case of the Salem Erode Electricity Distribution Co. Ltd., vs., their

"It is now generally accepted that there are too many public holidays in our country and that when the need for industrial production is urgent and paramount, it may be advisable to reduce the number of such holidays in industrial concerns."

"While discussing in the other appeal the question of justification for increasing the working hours, we have mentioned the growing realisation in the country of the need for increase in the country's productivity along with the necessity of better distribution of the wealth produced. It cannot be disputed that a necessary step in this direction is the reduction in the number of holidays. That is the main reason for which we agree with the Tribunal that the large number of public holidays declared by the Government of Maharastra need not be followed by the industrial concerns."

XXVIII FJR (1965-66), page 210

"In an industrial adjudication, demands of management and labour will have to yield before the nation's immediate economic needs and objectives, and the attempt will be for a solution satisfactory from the standpoint of all the three interests; that of the nation, that of labour and that of the management."

XXVIII FJR (1965-66) at page 211

"It cannot be ignored that there is a general feeling that there are too many pubic holidays in our country and when the meed for greater industrial production is paramount and pressing it is advisable to reduce the number of holidays."

66. It cannot be gainsaid that even now the need for greater industrial production is paramount and pressing. In fact, it may be safely said without going into detailed discussion that the pressing economic circumstances of the country are such that if the country is to survive the acute economic crisis facing it, it has no alternative but to embark on increased industrial production. The present devaluation has made this paramount and indispensable. There is, therefore, clear judicial authority for the position that even in derogation from the generally accepted principle that in matters of industrial adjudication, existing privileges and amenities enjoyed by the workmen should not be ordinarily interferred with, the Tribunal can, in the paramount need of national interest and for the purpose of ensuring the maintenance and increase of national production, reduce the number of holidays, when it feels that the number of holidays in a particular concern is unusually large so as to interfere with adequate production in the interest of national economy.

67. It has also been contended on behalf of this Company that the need for reduction of festival holidays has become pressing and paramount because this establishment is suffering losses. It has produced balance-sheets, Exts. Z and Z(1), which purport to show that up to March 1964, there was a total loss of Rs. 4,54,879.21 and there was also a loss of over Rs. 2 lakhs in 1964-65 and the total loss at the end of 1964-65 was over Rs. 7 lakhs (vide Director's Reports in the two balance-sheets). No dividend was paid for the last 10 years on ordinary shares. There is no prima facie reason to discard the trading results up to 1964-65 as reflected in the two balance-sheets, Exts. Z and Z(1). The position, therefore, may clearly be taken to be that the trading position of this Company is continuing to be poor and weak. In such a position, the Company can quite legitimately claim that it should try to improve the trading position by increasing the production and for that reason, it may also legitimately claim some reduction in festival holidays which would yield some working days. I am satisfied from the special evidence produced by this Company that there is sufficient case for reducing the number of festival holidays at present prevalent in this establishment.

68. I feel that in the present circumstances, the number of paid festival holidays in force in the establishment of Bill Engineering Works, viz., 20 full days including 2 half days, is too large and this estblishment should be brought in line with other establishments covered by the present reference which are to get in all 12 festival holidays in a year. Accordingly, I award in the case of Bill Engineering Works (Sl. No. 9) that the number of fully paid festival holidays to be observed in this establishment shall be 12 days in a year from the time when this award takes effect.

(b) Sick leave :

69. It is an admitted position that the workmen governed by the E.S.I. Scheme are entitled to sufficient sick leave under the provisions of the said scheme. The First Omnibus Engineering Tribunal awarded 15 days' sick leave on half pay in a year of service cumulative up to 30 days and subject to its discontinuance on the Employees' State Insurance coming ito operation. The Second Omnibus Engineering Tribunal awarded 15 days, sick leave in a year on half pay cumulative from year to year and liable to discontinuance as soon as the E.S.I. Act comes into operation. The E.S.I. Act has now come into operation and the concerned employees in Calcutta, Howrah and 24-Parganas have come under the purview of this Act. This Act makes sufficient provision for sick leave and there is no reason or need to make any further provision for sick leave in their case. Accordingly, I direct that the concerned workmen who are covered by the E.S.I. Act shall get sick leave only according to the provisions of that Act and no other sick leave. Some provision for sick leave has tobe made for those workers who have not yet come under E.S.I. Act. I think that in their case sick leave on half pay shall be admissible for 20 days in a year on proper medical certificate acceptable to the Company, cumulative up to 40 days.

(c) Casual leave :

70. There is no common system of granting casual leave with pay to factory workmen. The First and the Second Engineering Tribunals did not award any casual leave for factory workmen. I am not in favour of awarding casual leave to factory workmen. The award of such leave may tend to encourage wanton absenteeism among the workmen. So, I reject the claim for casual leave in respect of factory workers. But this is without prejudice to any present casual leave which may be in force in any of the concerned establishments, which shall continue as before.

(d) Privilege leave :

71. Sections 79 and 80 of the Factories Act provide for annual leave with wages admissible to the workers. The computation of the leave as provided in section 79 is as follows :—

"79. Annual leave with wages—(1) Every worker who has worked for the period of 240 days or more in a factory during a calendar year shall be allowed during the subsequent calendar year, leave with wages for a number of days calculated at the rate of—

(i) if an adult, one for every twenty days of work performed by him during the previous calendar year;

(ii) if a child, one day for every fifteen days of work performed by him during the previous calendar year."

It is not necessary to go into the details of explanations and other provisions contained in this section. Section 80 provides for payment of leave wages "at a rate equal to the daily average of his total full time earnings for the days on which he worked during the month immediately preceding his leave, exclusive of any overtime and bonus but inclusive of dearness allowance and the cash equivalent of the advantage accuring through the concessional sale to the worker of foodgrains and other articles." The mode for computation of "the cash equivalent" is contained in sub-section (2) of section 80. The other portions of this section are not strictly necessary for our purposes. Sections 79 and 80, therefore, may be interpreted to lay down the rule for privilege leave to workers on average wages. I think this provision for leave fully satisfies the requirements of privilege leave as commonly understood and no further privilege leave is admissible to the workmen. I may record here that practically there was no demand for any other kind of privilege leave at the hearing before me.

72. The festival holidays and sick and privilege leave as indicated above shall be admissible to the workmen governed by the Factories Act. I have also to provide for holidays and leave to the clerical, supervisory and subordinate staff not attached to the factory and so not governed by the Factories Act. The clerical, supervisory and subordinate staff not strictly governed by the Factories Act will get the same festival holidays as the workmen, i.e., 12 festival holidays in a year on full pay. There should be no difference between the actual factory staff and clerical, supervisory and subordinate staff in the matter of festival holidys.

73. As regards privilage leave, both the First and the Second Engineering Tribunals awarded 21 days such leave on full pay to clerical and supervisory staff. I fix the same privilege leave for clerical, supervisory and subordinate staff not governed by the Factories Act, provided that if persons belonging to such staff are also governed by the Shops and Establishmnts Act and the privilege leave, if any, admissible under that Act is greater than what I have just awarded in their case, they shall be entitled to the greater leave under the Shops and Establishments Act. The net position is, therfore, that I award 21 days' privilege leave on full pay cumulative up to 63 days to clerical, supervisory and subordinate staff not governed by the Factories Act without prejudice to their right to claim alternatively such leave under the Shops and Establishment Act, if any, are governed by that Act.

74. The clerical, supervisory and subordinate staff not governed by the Factories Act should, in my view, be also entitled to some casual leave. Both the First and the Second Engineering Tribunals provided 7 days' casual leave for such staff. There has been material change in circumstances and living conditions since the last award. Stress and strain have increased in many directions. The State Government has increased casual leave for its employees to 14 days. In the case of industrial employees of the categories with which we are concerned, there should, in my view, be provision for casual leave for 10 days. Accordingly, I award that for these categories of industrial employees, there should be casual leave for 10 days in a year with full pay but for availing of this leave, the concerned employees must make out a good ground to the stisfaction of the employer.

75. As regards sick leave, I think that the clerical, supervisory and subordinate staff now under consideration shall get 20 days' sick leave in a year on half pay, cumulative up to 45 days, provided that are not also governed by the E.S.I. Act.

76. The question as to when this award shall come into force is of some importance and should be carefully considered. The Unions, have, as usual, claimed that the award should be given retrospective operation, at least from the date of the reference. This has been vehemently opposed by the Companies' representatives. No doubt, this reference is a equal to the brewing discontent amongst the engineering workers regarding their wages continuing for a pretty long time and I have already referred to the fact that even the previous three Omnibus Engineering Tribunal awards could not give full satisfication to all the engineering workers. It is further to be noted that the concerned workmen of this reference are not practically covered by any previous awards. In this connection, it is also to be considered that there has been step rise in the cost of living over the last few years. The proceedings of this adjudication have also continued for a considerable time. Ordinarily, an award becomes enforceable on the expiry of 30 days from the date of its publication under section 17, Industrial Disputes Act. This is the provision of section 17A(1). But inspite of this provision, the Tribunal has the discretion as to the date from which the award shall become effective. This discretion has to be exercised on a consideration of all the circumstances of each case. In the case of Hindusthan Times Ltd., Vs. their workmen, LLJ 1963(I), page 108, this decision was clearly made and it was also observed that no general rule applicable to all cases could be laid down in this matter. Considering all the relevant facts and circumstances of the present case, I am of the view that this award should not be given retrospective effect but it should be given effect from the beginning of the next year, i.e. 1st January 1967. In this connection, I should refer to the fact that I have already made an interim award granting some interim reliefs to the concerned workmen and these reliefs are, I think, sufficient to some extent to mitigate the hardships of the concerned workmen caused by the steep rise in the cost of living, at least since the date from which the interim reliefs became effective. That date was 1st September 1964. I have already indicated above that the interim reliefs will continue till the present final award comes into operation. Accordingly, I direct that this award shall come into force and effect on and from 1st January 1967.

77. In conclusion, I must record with a deep sense of appreciation and thankfulness the help and co-operation which I received from the representatives of both employers and the workmen in the long-drawn and complicated proceedings of the present adjudication which, as I have indicated at the outset, is unique in the annals of industrial adjudication of this State, at least in respect of the number of establishments and the number of workmen covered by the present adjudication. I think I would be justified in saying that the Tribunal was practically constituted into a miniature Wage Board. The task of this Tribunal was, in my view, more difficult and complicated than that of a Wage Board because this Tribunal had to conduct its proceedings in compliance with some strict formalities and technicalities of law which are not applicable to a Wage Board.

78. Among the parties' representatives who have been helpful and co-operative throughout the proceedings special mention must be made of Shri K. P. Mookherjee Counsel, who was ably assisted by Shri D. H. Varma of the Engineering Association of India and Shri J. R. Gupta, Labour Officer of the Federation of Small and Medium Scale Industries, and Shri Panchanan Bhattacharyya, Shri Subodh Banerjee and Shri Ram Sen on behalf of the several Trade Unions which took part in the proceedings.

MEMORANDUM OF AGREEMENT

1. Name of the parties : (i) Walford Transport Ltd., 71 Part Street, Cal-16.

(ii) Clerical Staff of the Company.

2. Representing the company :

(i) Mr. A. Maiti, Manager.

(ii) Mr. M. C. David, Commercial Manager.

(iii) Mr. A. N. Basu, Secretary.

3. Representing the clerical staff :

(i) The Automobile Sales Staff Association of West Bengal representing :

Mr. S. K. Basu, General Secretary of the Association.

Mr. H. Gupta, Joint Secretary.
Mr. M. N. Sircar, Committee Member.

4. Short recital of the case :

By letter, dated 9th April 1966, the Association demanded that the rates of dearness allowance payable to the clerical staff should be on the lines applicable to similar categories of workmen employed in French Motor Car Co. Ltd. who are paid 15 per cent less than what is admissible under the Bengal Chamber of Commerce and Industry Scheme of Dearness Allowance. After some negotiation between the parties, an agreement was reached under the following terms :—

5. Terms of settlement :

It is agreed that the clerical staff of the company shall receive dearness allowance calculated in the following manner, with effect from 1st June 1966 :

140 per cent on the first Rs. 100 basic salary.
70 per cent on the second Rs. 100 basic salary.
35 per cent on the remainder up to Rs. 60 basic salary.

The revised rates of dearness allowance as indicated above are related to the middle class cost of living index in the group 551-560, the actual figure obtaining in the month of April being 556, which offers 190 per cent of the basic pay up to Rs. 100 under the Bengal Chamber of Commerce and Industry Scheme of Dearness Allowance, and half of that on 2nd hundred and half of that on the remainder of the basic salary. The cost of middle class living index figures are published by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce and Industry from time to time. It is agreed that if the middle class cost of living index of a particular month moves into some other group of 10 points either upward or downward, the rates of dearness allowance shall be correspondingly increased or decreased as illustrated in Annexure 'A' to this Memorandum of Agreement.

Those who are drawing a basic salary exceeding Rs.260 per month as on 1st June 1966, shall, unless otherwise specified, receive a flat rate dearness allowance of Rs.210 per month. This is also tied up with the middle class cost of living index figures in the group 551-560. Whenever there will be further increase or decrease in the rates of dearness allowance of those who are drawing basic salary up to Rs. 260, the flat rate of dearness allowance will similarly be increased or decreased as illustrated in Annexure 'B'.

The present dearness allowance effective 1st June 1966 is based on middle class cost of living index figure as per actual figure for April 1966. As such the dearness allowance for July 1966 will be based on middle class cost of living index as per actual for May 1966 and so on.

(B) The new rates of dearness allowance will be admissible to clerical staff attached to—

(a) the Company's office at 71 Park Street, Calcutta-16.

(b) the Company's stores department at 117 Park Street, Calcutta-16.

(c) the Company's workshop at 117 Park Street, Calcutta-16.

(d) the Company's workshop at 21/1 Darga Road, Calcutta-17.

(e) the Company's operations at 5-D, Hide Road, Calcutta-23.

The new dearness allowance scheme will not be applicable to subordinate staff or other daily rated employees.

(C) It is agreed between the parties that in view of the revision in the dearness allowance scheme the clerical staff of the Company will not receive any other benefit interim or final or ad hoc, if granted by the Central Wage Board for the Engineering Industries, except to the extent of salary (basic salary and dearness allowance put together) awarded is more favourable when compared to the terms of this settlement.

(D) If, during the period of operation of this agreement, any additional benefits by way of basic salary or dearness allowance is bestowed by any authority under the law or by any order of the Government having the force of law, unless they are more favourable, the clerical staff shall still continue to get the basic salary and dearness allowance in terms of this settlement. Where the total benefits awarded (i.e. basic salary and dearness allowance put together) are more favourable, the entitlement would be to the extent of the shortfall.

(E) It is agreed that the basis of calculation of overtime wages to clerical staff shall be one and a half times the basic pay and dearness allowance. This is in supersession of the previous practice obtaining immediately before this agreement was concluded. Clerical staff, when called upon to do overtime work, shall do so, unless prevented on grounds of health or other exceptional circumstances.

(F) There is no pending dispute between the parties at the time of signing this agreement.

(G) The Union agrees to extend its fullest co-operation to the Management in enforcing discipline and efficiency in administration.

(H) The terms of this agreement shall be enforced for five years with effect from 1st June 1966.

(I) A no-dispute petition will be submitted before the Seventh Industrial Tribunal relating to Government reference No. 3537-I.R./IR/10L-97/62 dated 6th August 1962, in so far as it relates to basic wages and dearness allowance as applicable to clerical staff only.

Short recital of the case

The workmen, represented by Blackwoods Labours' Association, had entered into a settlement with the Company in April, 1960 for 4 years. In this settlement the pay scales and Dearness Allowance and some other issues were settled. The workmen terminated the agreement on the expiry of 4 years in April, 1964 and thereafter demanded increase in Dearness Allowance according to the 3rd Major Engineering Industries Tribunal Award.

In the meantime, Government of West Bengal vide its order No. 3537-I. R./IR/10L-97/62, had referred the issue of wages, leave and holidays to the Seventh Industrial Tribunal on 6th August 1962. An interim award was granted by the Tribunal, and the Company implemented the interim award by increasing the Dearness Allowance according to that award with effect from 1st September, 1964.

The Management pointed out to the workmen's representatives that the Company was not a party to the Third Major Engineering Tribunal award and as such that award was not applicable to the workmen. It also pointed out that when the settlement was arrived at in 1960, the workmen had agreed to lower scale of Dearness Allowance as compared to the Third Major Industries Tribunal Award in view of the higher pay scales introduced by the Company as compared to those awarded by the Third Engineering Tribunal. It is further pointed out by the Management that the question of wages and Dearness Allowance was pending before the Seventh Industrial Tribunal.

The Management pointed out to the workmen that the Company is suffering huge losses year after year and further pointed out that with the existing low quantum of production it would be impossible for the Company to run the factory any longer unless the minimum guaranteed production of 600 complete saleable typewriters was given by the workmen.

The question of the Canteen was also discussed.

Several bipartite meetings was held and finally a tripartite meeting was held before Shri S. K. Bhattacharjee, Conciliation Officer, on 8th December, 1965 and the following agreement was arrived at :

Terms of the Settlement

(1) Production Incentive Scheme

(a) The production incentive scheme in respect of production of Jaykay Portable Typewriters has been revised after mutual discussions, and it is agreed that the Company will pay production incentive to the workmen engaged on production of typewriters according to the scheme stated in Annexure "A" which forms a part of this agreement. The amount of production incentive arrived at after calculation on the basis of productiin of complete saleable typewriters as shown in Annexure "A" will not be affected by the increase or decrease in the number of workmen and will be distributed amonst the categories of workmen listed in Annexure "A" and the method of distribution shall be as shown in Annexue "A".

(b) The Company further agrees to pay production incentive for products other than Jaykay Portable Typewriters to the categories of workmen connected with the production of items other than Jaykay Portable Typewriters as per Annexure "B" which forms a part of this agreement, according to the production incentive and distribution scheme described in Annexure "B".

(2) (a) Annexure "C", which forms a part of this agreement, details out the existing and agreed sanctioned strength of the workmen in different categories at different stages of production. The workmen agree that the existing strength is sufficient for production up to 600 portable typewriters per month as shown in Annexure "C". Since the production is expected to go up by stages from 500 to 800 portable typewriters per month, which the workmen agree to achieve, it is agreed that the surplus hands at any stage of production up to 600 portable typewriters, as shown in Annexure "C", shall be utilised against absentism, for absorption in temporary or permanent vacancies, and for giving extra production. It is agreed between the parties that shortage of hands, if any, in any category will be filled in by fresh recruitment only if the same cannot be filled out of the surplus hands.

Different categories of hands and vacancies :

Group A—(i) Drilling Department; Straightening Department; Revetting Department; Grinding Department; Barrelling Department; Stamping Department (Press Shop) ; Shearing Department.

(ii) Turning Department ; Milling Department.

Group B—Plating and Polishing Department Aciding and Painting Department.

Group C—Inspection and Assembly Department.

Group D—Welding Department.

Group E—Die Setting Department.

Group F—Majdoor.

Besides the above, the Management reserves the right to make inter-group and inter-departmental transfers wherever necessary and any workman acting in a higher category post shall be paid acting allowance if entitled o according to the award of the 2ndIndustrial Tribnnal published in "Calcutta Gazette", dated 12th December 1963.

(b) It is agreed that the Company shall not retrench and/or lay off any workman due to increased production except for reasons beyond the control of the Management.

(c) The sanctioned strength for production beyond 600 portable typewriters per month as shown in Annexure "C" is agreed by both parties subject to a variation of plus and minus 3 per cent in the sanctioned strength stated for the production of 700 and 800 portable typewriters per month.

(d) The parties feel that this incentive scheme is a long term scheme and will continue even after the expiry of this agreement unless the same is revised and or modified after such expiry by mutual discussions. It is further understood that if in any stage the Company desires to withdraw the scheme of incentive production, then the several commitments given by the workmen in connection with the incentive scheme will not bind them save and except for the guranteed minimum production of 500 portable typewriters per month as stated above.

(e) The workmen also assure that there will not be any slow-down or withholding of production, and they would exert to make this scheme a success.

3) (a) It is agreed that the workmen accept the revised incentive scheme stated hereinbefore.

Subject to the provisions of sub-clause 3(b) of this agreement, the workmen not only guarantee a minimum production of 550 complete saleable portable typewriters per month before February 1966, but also undertake to increase individual efforts and guarantee to increase the minimum production as per the following phased programme :

(ii) 650 complete saleable portable typewriters by July 1966.

(iii) 700 complete saleable portable typewriters by October 1966.

(iv) 750 complete saleable portable typewriters by February 1967.

The workmen further guarantee production of component parts required at all stages of production of portable typewriters not only to meet the phased programme of production but also for sale of components required in connection with service after sales and repairs of portable typewriters as required in accordance with the plan.

(b) The Management assures that it will maintain the normal flow of raw materials and purchased or imported components.

(c) The parties agree that if any practical difficulty of technical nature is found in adhering to the phased programme beyond production of 650 portable typewriters per month, the phased production programme may be revised and, if necessary, modified by mutual agreement.

(4) In view of the assurance given by the workmen and the Union about increasing the production stated hereinfbefore in clause Nos. 2 and 3, the Company agrees to continue to follow the pay scales which were in force before the agreement of 1960 was terminated by workmen as per Annexure "D", which forms a part of this agreement, and sanction increment with effect from 1st April 1965.

(5) In view of the assurance given by the workmen and the Union and their agreeing to icreasing the production stated hereinbefore in clause Nos. 2 and 3, the Company further agrees to pay dearness allowance as stated hereinafter in clause No. 6.

(6) The Company and the workmen agree that the dearness allowance will be revised with effect from 1st December 1965 as shown below :

not apply, however, to those employees who are entitled to dearness allowance according to J. K. Dearness Allowance Scheme.

It is further agreed that if in any month the production goes down below 500 complete saleable typewriters, the difference between the actual production and the minimum level, i.e. 500, will be compensated by the workmen from the better production in the following month or months, as the case may be, and the production incentive bonus beyond 500 for the better month or months will be calculated only after such compensation has been provided for. It is further agreed that the workmen shall have no claim for payment of any incentive whatsoever for the lower production month or months so compensated for. The workmen will, however, not compensate for lower production during the Puja holidays month though they ensure that there will not be any slow-down or withholding of production. Subject to relevant provisions of this agreement, it is further agreed that in the event of low production below above-mentioned minimum for four months in a year the Management will have the right to stop grant of annual increments as well as review and modify the fixation of dearness allowance and the incentive bonus scheme. This will apply from the date of the agreement.

APPENDIX I

Order No. 128, dated 30th March 1965

The following orders are made in respect of the exemption petitions filed by the concerned companies and unions for exemption of their respective establishments from the scope of the present reference :—

(1) All India Spring Mfg. Co. (No. 6) :

By a petition, dated 15th December 1962, the Company claimed exemption from the reference on the ground that there is previous award of 1957, whereby wages for the workmen were determined. A copy of the award was published in the "Calcutta Gazette," dated 27th June 1957 (page 2339). It shows that there was some adjudication on the issues of (1) minimum wages and scale of pay of different categories of workmen and (2) D.A. along with some other issues. There is no written objection to the Company's application. There is also nothing to show that any copy of the application was served upon any of the Trade Unions made parties to this reference (vide list III of the order of reference). The previous award shows that in that case, the workers were represented by the Bengal Spring Workers' Panchayat. No particular authority has been filed in this case on behalf of the workers of this particular Company. Shri Bireswar Gunguly appering for the Trade Union No. 2 in List III of the order of reference in this case. has raised objection against the Company's claim for exemption. He has stated that the Union of the employees of this Company is affiliated to this Trade Union (Federation of Metal and Engineering Workers' Union). At an early stage of the proceedings under the present reference, I asked the general Trade Unions named in List III to file a list of the establishments whose employees they respectively claimed to represent. Trade Union No. 2 in List III (Federation of Metal and Engineering Workers' Union), filed a list showing a number of establishments whose employees were covered by it and the establishment of All-India Spring Manufacturing Co. was shown in the list as No. 66. Now it has been contended on behalf of the Company that this Trade Union has no right to represent the workmen of this Company because it has not produced any written authority in its favour, either from the workers or their particular Union. This general Trade Union is, in my view, competent to act on behalf of the workers of this Company because it has been made a party to the reference and at the earliest opportunity, it indicated that it was going to represent the workmen of a number of establishments, including the present establishment without any objection. In any case, the question of exemption as now raised rests practically on a point of law relating to the scope and effect of the previous award of 1957, and the Tribunal is quite competent to give a hearing on this point to any Trade Union which is a party to the reference itself and which claims to be interested in the question.

It is contended by Shri P. K. Sanyal on behalf of the Company that the present reference is wholly invalid and without jurisdiction in so far as it relates to this Company at least in regard to the issue of 'Wages', because of the subsistence of the previous award of 1957, which has not been legally terminated under section 19(6). No doubt there is no proof at present that the said award has been legally terminated under section 19(6). But still, I am unable to strike down the whole reference as illegal and without jurisdiction simply on that ground It is an omnibus reference and the legal authority for such a reference is contained in section 10(1) read with section 10(5) Industrial Disputes Act under section 10(1) the appropriate Government is required to be 'of opinion that any industrial dispute exists or is apprehended' and under section 10(5), Government is competent to make an omnibus reference of the present nature where it is of opinion, 'whether on an application made to it in this behalf or otherwise, that the dispute is of such a nature that any other establishment, group or class of establishments of a similar nature is likely to be interested in, or affected by, such dispute'. In the present case, Government has made the reference stating that industrial disputes exist or are apprehended in the engineering industry in West Bengal between the engineering establishments mentioned in the list attached to the order of reference and their workmen. This establishment is certainly likely to be interested in or affected by the dispute under reference in respect of other engineering establishments of a similar nature and upon this position, the Government is wholly competent to include this establishment within the present omnibus reference. In this view, it can quite legitimately be said that the order of reference in respect of the present company is quite legal and valid under section 10(5) Industrial Disputes Act. The existence of the previous award of 1957 in respect of this Company will not therefore necessarily make this reference in so far as it relates to this Company, bad in law and without jurisdiction. Apart from this position, it cannot be said as a general proposition of law that the Government was incompetent to make the present reference in view of the subsistence of the previous award of 1957. Dispute about wages could quite legitimately arise or be apprehended inspite of the award of 1957, after lapse of a considerable period and the workmen could quite legally contend that due to changed circumstances since the award of 1957 was made, they were entitled to higher wages. The existence of the award of 1957 could not certainly prevent the raising of any dispute about wages by the workmen after a considerable period had elapsed from the date of the award. It is to be noted that the present reference was made in August 1962, more than 5 years after the award of 1957. In the above view of the prima facie position, I hold that the Company is not entitled to exemption from the present reference simply because of the award of 1957. It is to be noted here that the award of 1957, did not cover any issue as to leave and holidays and so that issue, as referred in the present case, would in no way be affected by the subsistence of a previous award. At the same time, I should make it clear here that the rejection of the Company's prayer for exemption from the reference in respect of the issue of wages does not necessarily connote that the Company will not be entitled to raise the plea that the workmen are still bound by the award of 1957 in respect of wages, because it has not been legally terminated, at the final hearing of that issue on merits. The position would be that adjudication would proceed on both issues, but in respect of the issue of wages, the implication and effect of the award of 1957 would have to be decided according to law.

In the above view, I reject the Company's claim for exclusion from the scope of the present reference, subject to the conditions indicated above.

(2) Messrs. Banerjee, Chakrabarty Co. (Sl. No.5).

None appears for the Company to press its petition for exemption from the reference. Trade Union No. 3 in list III of the Order of Reference appears on behalf of the workmen. The copy of the Memorandum of Settlement filed by the Company purports to show that there was some settlement regarding wages of a part of the daily-rated workers only and not other workmen. Original Memorandum of Settlement not produced. No case for exemption of this Company from the scope of the present omnibus reference made out. The Company's application for exemption is rejected.

(3) Messrs. Walford Transport Ltd. (Sl. No. 382) two establishments :

(i) at 117 Park Street, Calcutta-17, and

(ii) at 71 Park Street, Calcutta-16 (added by subsequent Order No. 2045-I.R., dated 21st May 1963).

Exemption is claimed by Automobile Sales Staff Association of West Bengal only in respect of the clerical and sales staff of those two establishments on the ground that there is a subsisting award in respect of scales of pay, dearness allowance, leave and holidays which is still binding upon the parties and the view of this award, the present reference is not maintainable and incompetent. It is the award of the Fifth Industrial Tribunal, published in the "Calcutta Gazette, Extraordinary", dated 24th February 1960 [paragraph (3) of the workmen's application, dated 24th May 1963, and paragraph (3) of the Company's objection, dated 2nd September 1963.] The award was terminated by the Association's letter, dated 7th February 1963—termination effective from 7th April 1963. The Association relies on L.J.J.. 1958 (II), page 109.

The Company opposes this application. The arguments advanced on behalf of the Company are as follows :—

Three different establishments of the Company, viz. :—

(1) Sl. No. 338 (40/1 Hide Road),

(2) Sl. No. 382 (170 Park Street),

(3) Sl. No. 1186 (Sevak Road, Siliguri), included in the original order of reference, and the establishment at 71 Park Street, subsequently added, constitute all the establishments of the Company covered by the reference. The previous reference was only in respect of the Company's establishment at 71 Park Street, and no other establishment was concerned with this reference. So, the other establishments covered by the present reference are not covered or affected by that award. The establishment at 71 Park Street was included in this reference by the Government Order No. 2045-I.R., dated 21st May 1963, long after the award ceased to be operative after its termination by notice, dated 7th February 1963 In view of the above-noted facts, the Association's claim for exemption is not tenable and so it is rejected.

(4) Messrs. W. T. Avery (Sl. Nos. 261 to 271) :

The claim for exemption is made by the Union on the basis of some previous reference. No objection is raised on behalf of the Company. Shri J. N. Chatterjee, appearing for the Company, contends that there has already been a recent award in respect of the wages of the two establishments by the Second Industrial Tribunal. In view of this position, there will be exemption only in respect of Issue No. 1, but adjudication will proceed in respect of Issue No. 2. The Union's claim is allowed in part accordingly.

5. Messrs. Bharat Weighing Scales and Engineering Syndicates (Sl. No. 720.) :

The Company made an application for exemption. Shri Mookherjee, Counsel, appearing for the Company submits that the application is not pressed and is withdrawn. As the application is withdrawn, it is not necessary to keep the matter pending further. This establishment shall remain within the scope of the reference.

6. Messrs. Coal Granes (Sl. No.) :

The company prayed for exemption. Union opposed. At the hearing, Shri Chatterjee appearing for the Company, does not press the Company's petition for exemption. The petition is rejected.

7. Messrs. Dewar's Garage (Sl. No.) :

Exemption is claimed by a petition purporting to be signed by the workers of the Company on the ground that the Company was a party to the Major Engineering Award and is bound by that award regarding wages. The Company filed objection denying that it was a party to the Major Engineering Award and is bound thereby. None appears either for the workmen or for the Company.

No document produced to prove that this Company was a party to and is bound by the Third Engineering Tribunal Award. The petition is rejected.

8. Messrs. Hind Wire Products Industries Ltd. (Sl. No. 28) :

The workers of the Company through their Union prayed for exemption on the ground that a dispute regarding grades and scales of pay was referred to the Third Industrial Tribunal for adjudication by G.O. No. 2985-I.R., dated the 14th June 1960, and that Tribunal made an award regarding the dispute which was published in the "Calcutta Gazette," dated the 12th October 1961. Seen the award as published in the "Calcutta Gazette". It covers the two issues, viz., (1) Grades and scales of pay and (2) Dearness allowance. On behalf of the Company, the award is not disputed and it is contended that in view of the award, the first issue of the present reference relating to wage, should be excluded from the scope of the present reference but the second issue regarding the leave and holidays should remain within the scope of the present adjudication. The Union representative also agrees to this proposal. Accordingly, it is ordered by consent of parties that this establishment should go out of the scope of the present reference only in respect of issue No. 1, but it shall remain within the scope of the reference in respect of issue No. 2. Application disposed of accordingly.

9. Messrs. Metal Products and Engineering Co. Ltd. (Sl. Nos. 536 and 621) :

The Company has claimed exemption alleging that there is a legally valid and binding agreement between the Company and its workmen relating to the issues and the said agreement is still in force and has not been terminated. The Union has filed a written objection against the Company's application. None appears for the Company to press its application. No particulars of the alleged agreement given and no copy of the agreement supplied. The application is rejected.

10. Messrs. Metalo Products Pvt. Ltd. (Sl. No.) :

The Company has prayed for exemption by an application, dated 2nd September 1963, on the ground that there was a tripartite settlement regarding the matters covered by the issues of this case before the Conciliation Officer in 1962. The application is opposed by the Union. None appears for the Company to press the application Peruse a copy of the Memorandum of Settlement filed with the application. Prima facie it is not comprehensive enough to cover both the issues of the present case and the agreement itself was operative for one year only, and that period has expired. The Company's application is rejected.

11. Messrs. Nandy & Co. (Sl. No. 644 and 157) :

The Company has prayed for exemption in the written statement filed on 2nd September 1963 on the ground that there is a previous award relating to the issues of the present case and that award is still in force. It is opposed by the concerned Union. None appears for the Company to press the application. No particulars of the award given and no copy of the award produced. Application rejected.

12. Messrs. N. Das & Sons (Sl. No. 182) :

The Company has prayed for exemption by a petition, dated 2nd September 1963 on the ground that there was a bipartite settlement between the Company and its workers' Union regarding the issues covered by the present reference. The Company's application is opposed by the concerned Union. A copy of the Memorandum of Settlement has been filed by the Company. It shows that on the question of wages, there was only a settlement regarding increments and not the general scale of wages and there was some agreement regarding sick leave. Prima facie the general issues of the present case relating to (1) wages and (2) leave and holidays, are not fully covered by the terms of the settlement. So, there is no prima facie case for total exemption of the Company from the present adjudication Both the issues will be adjudicated as between the Company and its workmen, but the Company will be at liberty to plead that in adjudicating the issue of wages, the agreement regarding increment shall be taken into account and the Union will also be at liberty to raise its objection regarding the legality and validity of the agreement. The Company's prayer is rejected on the above terms.

13. Messrs. Polar Electric Fan Marketing Co. (Sl. No.) :

The Company has prayed for exemption in the written statement on the ground that there is a legally valid and binding agreement between the Company and its workmen relating to the issues of this case and the agreement is still in force. The Union has opposed the Company's prayer. No particulars of the agreement have been stated and no copy of the agreement has been filed. None appears for the Company to press the claim for exemption. Prima facie there is no ground for excluding the Company from the scope of the present reference. The Company's prayer is rejected.

14. Messrs, Progressive Engineering Works (Sl. No. 168) :

The Company has prayed for exemption by an application, dated 9th September 1963, on the basis of an alleged Memorandum of Settlement, a copy hereof has been filed. The application is opposed by the concerned Union. None appears for the Company to press the application. Perused copy of the Memorandum of Settlement. It appears prima facie that the settlement has nothing to do with the issues of (1) wages, and (2) leave and holidays, but it relates mostly to some retrenched workmen and benefits granted to them. The Company's prayer cannot stand and it is rejected.

15. Messrs. Sudgon Private Ltd. (Addendum No. 12) :

The Company has prayed for exemption on the ground that it is not an engineering concern and that it has in its employ only 3 workmen. The Company's application is opposed by the concerned Union. None appears for the Company to press the application At present no exemption can be allowed on the ground that it is not an engineering undertaking and it is irrelevant how many workmen are employed in the undertaking for the purpose of the present reference The Company's application is rejected

16. Messrs. Sur Enamel and Stamping Works No. 145).

Messrs. Sur Iron and Steel Co. Ltd. (No. 39.) :

The concerned Unions have made petitions for withdrawing from the disputes, subject to certain conditions and reservations on the ground that two other references on the issues of revision of wages and leave and holidays are now pending adjudication before another Tribunal here. Sur Enamel and Stamping Works has filed objection against the concerned Union's prayer. No written objection has been filed by Messrs. Sur Iron & Steel Co. None appears either for any of the Unions or the Company to press their respective cases. The alleged pendency of adjudication proceedings regarding the allied matters in another Tribunal cannot be a ground for exempting these two establishments from the scope of the adjudication proceedings, particularly when it is not alleged that there has been any award by any other Tribunal on the same issues. Both the application are rejected.

17. Messrs. Steel Casting (Sl. No.) :

The Company has filed a comprehensive written statement on the merits of the issues and has at the same time pleaded that there is a legally valid and binding agreement between the Company and its workmen relating to the self-same issues. The Union has filed a written objection denying the aforesaid allegations No particulars of the alleged agreement have been furnished and copy of the agreement has also not been furnished. None appears for the Company to press the claim for exemption No sufficient legal ground for exemption of this Company from the scope of the present reference has been made out. The application is rejected.

18) Messrs. Vijoy Bolts Mfg. Co. (Sl. No. 599):

The Company has prayed for exemption from the scope of the present reference in respect of both the issues on the basis of an amicable settlement, dated 2nd April 1962, between the Company and its workmen after the workers submitted a charter of demands.

The Company's claim is opposed by Shri S. Banerjee of the West Bengal Engg. Workers' Union (No. 3 in List III). A copy of the agreement has been attached to the Company's application. Shri Banerjee appearing for the workmen contends that the terms of the agreement do not at all cover the specific issues referred for adjudication in the present case. So, the present reference is good and valid in law inspite of the said agreement.

The original charter of demands, dated 13th January 1962, and a copy of the subsequent Memoradum of Settlement have been produced before me. In the charter of demands, certain grievances of the workmen including non-existence of any grade and scale of pay and insufficiency of paid leave/holidays were raised. In the amicable settlement, however, there were only some provisions for increments to permanent workers with some special provisions for apprentices and some additional holidays in lieu of those lost during the period of strike preceding settlement were agreed to. The relevant terms of the agreement are not, in my view, sufficient to cover the entire scope and range of the general issue of 'wages' and 'leave and holidays', as referred for adjudication in the present case and further more the inclusion of this establishment in the present omnibus reference may also be said to be justified by the provisions of section 10(5) Industrial Disputes Act on the ground that it is an establishment belonging to the general group or class of establishments covered by the present reference and as such, interested in or affected by the general dispute raised by the engineering workers upon which the present reference has been made, as held in the case of Dutson Engineering Co.

Accordingly, I reject the Company's prayer for exemption from the scope of the present reference, but at the same time, direct that the amicable settlement pleaded by the Company shall be given due consideration in disposing of the issues with particular reference to this establishment.

(19) Messrs. Dutson Engineering Corpon. (P) Ltd. (No. 220):

The Company has claimed exemption from the reference only in respect of Issue No. 1 (Wages) on the basis of a compromise award covering the issues of pay scale and dearness allowance passed by the First Industrial Tribunal on 12th October 1961, and published in the "Calcutta Gazette", dated 8th November 1961. A copy of the award, together with a copy of the Memorandum of Settlement upon which the award is based, has been produced by the Company along with the application. It is contended on behalf of the Company that the settlement on the issues of pay scales and dearness allowance as embodied in the award was in force and operation on the date of the present reference (6th August 1962) and as such, the present reference is illegal and invalid and the Government has no jurisdiction to make the reference in view of the subsisting compromise award.

The Company's prayer is opposed by the workmen through their Union. The Union's contention is that there are some terms in the settlement regarding pay scale and dearness allowance which indicate that the award in respect of these issues is no longer operative and binding upon the workmen. The Union representative has particularly referred to paragraph (3) of the Memorandum of Settlement which stands as follows:

> "There will be no further increase either in pay or dearness allowance of the workers before January 1965, unless circumstances materially change."

It is contended on behalf of the workers that the real position according to the agreement between the parties was that pay scale and dearness allowance fixed by the settlement was to remain in force till January 1965, subject to the condition that this settlement would cease to be binding and operative if the circumstances materially changed. He further contends that since then, it is a patent fact, that there has been material change in the circumstances which justifies a revision of the pay scales and D.A. It is further pointed out that inspite of the settlement award there was no bar against the workers' raising demands for higher wages and D.A. and in fact they were entitled to raise new demands upon the very terms of paragraph (3) of the settlement.

I have carefully considered the respective contentions of the parties. No doubt there was a compromise award dated 12th October 1961 on several issues, including the issue of (1) pay scale, and (2) dearness allowance, which are relevant for our present purpose. It appears that the award was based upon amicable settlement as per terms contained in a Memorandum of Settlement and paragraphs (1) and (2) of the terms of settlement related to increment in wages and dearness allowance.

It further appears that according to the amicable settlement, the workers were given increment in the wages at the rate of 18 nP. per day and increment in the D.A. at the rate of 12 nP. per day generally and 20 nP. per day in the case of 6 workers only. It was further stipulated in paragraph (3) of the Memorandum of Settlement that there would be no further increase either in pay or D.A. of the workers before January 1965, unless circumstances materially changed. The award rates were in force and bindig upon the workers up to January 1965. The present position is that the workmen are entitled to claim revision of wages and D.A. on the ground of material change in circumstances. The issue of wages as referred for adjudication in the present case is very wide and comprehensive and the terms of settlement in regard to wages and D.A. cannot be said to cover the entire range and scope of the issue. The question of grades and scales of pay may also have to be considered under the present issue. The compromise award was in force when the present reference was made. But, that could not prevent the raising of a fresh dispute regarding wages or the apprehension of a fresh dispute regarding wages and it being an omnibus reference under section 10(1) read with section 10(5) Industrial Disputes Act, the Government, could certainly make the present reference in respect of the present establishment on the basis that it belonged to a group of class of engineering establishments covered by the present reference and was likely to be interested in or affected by the general dispute upon which the reference was made in terms of section 10(5).

In the above view of the relevant facts and circumstances of the case, I hold that the reference in respect of this engineering establishment cannot be at once struck down as invalid and without jurisdiction in respect of Issue No. 1 (wages), because of the compromise award, dated 12th October 1961. Accordingly, I reject the Company's prayer and hold that this establishment shall remain within the scope of the reference and at the same time, I direct that the increments in wages and D.A. fixed by the compromise award shall be given due consideration in disposing of the issue of wages with particular reference to this establishment.

(20) Messrs. Indian Pin Manufacturing Co. (Sl. No. 165):

The Company has prayed for exemption on the ground of some settlement awards—(1) award by the Second Industrial Tribual under reference Order No. 2416-I.R., dated 4th June 1956, published in the "Calcutta Gazette, Extraordinary", dated 17th July 1957, and (2) award by the Sixth Industrial Tribunal, dated 20th July 1960, dated 13th July 1961. Terms of Settlement on both issues in the present case, viz., (1) Wages and (2) Leave and holidays are set out in the application in detail. No objection raised on behalf of any Union Exemption granted.

(21) Messrs. Spinwel (P) Ltd. (Sl. No. 251):

The Company has prayed for exemption from the scope of the present reference on the basis of two amicable settlements, a bipartite settlement and a tripartite settlement. Copies of the settlements have been filed. The application is opposed by Trade Union No. 3 of the Order of Reference, but no written statement has been filed. Heard Shri Varma appearing for the Company and Shri S. Banerjee for the said Trade Union. Perused copies of the settlement. Prime facia it appears that the bipartite settlement which contains some terms as to increment expired on 31st December 1961, and in the tripartite settlement dated 11th June 1962, there are some terms as to minimum wages and increments introduced for a period of 3 years. In my view, the terms as to minimum wages and increments are not sufficient to cover the entire scope and range of the issue in the present reference and so total exemption can be allowed on the ground of the tripartite settlement. At the same time, I think that while the Company should remain within the scope of the present reference, it shall have the liberty to plead at the final hearing that the agreements as to minimum wages and increments should be taken into consideration in adjudicating on the issue of wages and also to claim that the said settlement should not be disturbed by any award that may be made in the present case. I reject the Company's prayer for exemption, subject to the above conditions.

(22) Messrs. Victory Industries (P) Ltd., (Sl. No. 457):

The Company has filed a written statement adopting the written statement jointly submitted by four Employees' Associations and has, at the same time, pleaded that negotiations for settlement were going on regarding the issue under reference in the present case and ultimately the matter has been amicably settled. The concerned Union has filed a written objection. No copy of the alleged amicable settlement has been produced. Shri S. K. Bhanja Chowdhury appearing for the Company states that he has no instruction from the Company. There are no materials upon which the Company can be granted exemption on the ground that no disputes exist between them and their workmen on the issues under adjudication. The Company's prayer is rejected.

(23) Messrs. Vijoy Engineering Co. Ltd. (Sl. No.):

The Company has applied for exemption, but the Company's representative, Shri Verma, states that the application is not pressed. The application is rejected.

(24) Messrs. Varat Machinery (No. 136):

The Company has claimed exemption from the reference on the basis of a tripartite settlement, dated 3rd April 1964. The Company's application is opposed by Trade Union No. 2 of List II. According to the Company, settlement of all disputes was affected by the tripartite settlement, dated 3rd April 1964. The Union opposed the Company' application. It contends that the settlement related only to the question of some increment and had nothing to do with the general wage structure and as such, it cannot be taken to cover the whole scope and range of the present issue of wages. It is also contended that in the charter of demands on the basis of which the settlement was made, did not contain any general claim regarding wage structure. The charter of demands has not been produced by either party. Prima facie it appears that the tripartite settlement only related to some increments and the general wage structure was not covered by it. The issue of wages in the present reference has a very wide connotation and prima facie, it cannot be said that the settlement regarding increments covers the whole issue. No exemption can be allowed just at this stage on the basis of the tripartite settlement. Accordingly, for the present, I reject the Company's prayer, subject to the Company's right to plead at the time of final hearing that the tripartite settlement is legally sufficient to cover the entire issue of wages in the present case. The Company's application is rejected subject to the above condition.

(25) Messrs. F. Hossain & Bros. (Sl. No.):

The Company has prayed for exemption on the basis of a tripartite settlement, dated 11th June 1962. The concerned Union, Howrah District Engineering and Metal Workers' Union, filed an objection against the Company's application, but none appears for the Union to press the objection. The tripartite settlement is produced. It appears that there was a tripartite settlement before the Conciliation Officer after a strike in the factory over the workmen's charter of demands and some settlement was made regarding the wages of the workers of the factory numbering 16 named therein. It is submitted on behalf of the Company that the Company has only 16 workers in its employ. In the absence of any objection, I accept the Company's contention and hold that there was a tripartite settlement regarding wages of all the workers of the Company and that settlement still holds good. In view of this position, the Company is entitled to exemption in respect of the issue of wages (Issue No. 1).

There is, however, nothing to show that there was settlement regarding leave and holidays which form the subject matter of issue No 2. So, there can be no exemption of this company from the presentreference in respect of the issue of leave and holidays (Issue No.2).

In the result, I allow in part the company's prayer for exemption from the scope of the present reference only in respect of Issue No. 1 but the company will remain within the scope of the reference in respect of Issue No. 2.

(26) Ramnagar Cane and Sugar (Sl. No. 411):

The Company has claimed exemption on the basis of tripartite settlement, dated 13th September 1962. No written objection has been filed by any Union. A copy of the tripartite settlement is produced. I find on perusal of the copy that there was some settlement regarding wages, whereby the company agreed to grant some increment to the workmen, but there was no specific settlement regarding leave and holidays. That agreement was expressly stipulated to remain in operation for a period of two years from the date of signing (13th September 1963). There being no allegation of termination of the settlement by a proper notice under section 19(2) Industrial Disputes Act, the agreement is to be deemed to be still in operation [11J 1958(1), page 472]. It is expressly stated in paragraph (7) of the agreement that this settlement disposes of all outstanding claims and demands made by the Union, excluding the claim of bonus for the farm labourers for 1960-61, which is kept open. There is practically no opposition to the Company's claim for exemption from the reference on the basis of the settlement. After considering the settlement as a whole, I find that all dispute as to wages ceased to exist by virtue of the settlement which is to be deemed to be still in operation and so the Company should be exempted from the scope of the reference in respect of the issue of wages only. There is, however, nothing in the settlement to indicate that there was any settlement regarding the question of leave and holidays. There is also nothing to show that any question of leave and holidays was raised in the charter of demands which was settled by this agreement. So, there is no case for exemption of issue No. 2 regarding leave and holidays and the Company would remain within the scope of the reference in respect of that issue.

In the result, the Company's application is allowed in part. It is exempted from the scope of the reference in respect of Issue No. 1 (Wages) only, but it shall remain within the scope of the reference in respect of Issue No. 2 (leave and holidays).

(27) Dhar Tin Factory (Sl. No. 75):

The Company has applied for exemption on ground of existence of a previous award on the same issues, as are under adjudication in the present case. When the matter was taken up for hearing, Shri T. P. Chatterjee, Advocate, appearing for the Company, submitted that he did not press the matter for hearing at that stage and the matter of the application might be heard at the final stage along with merits of the issues. Shri P. Bhattacharjee, appearing for the workmen, who opposed the Company's application, did not oppose the Company's contention that the matter might be left over for hearing at the final stage. So, the present application of the company will be considered at the time of final hearing.

28. Coventry Spring & Engineering Co. (P) Ltd. (Nos. 608 and 811):

It is admitted on both sides that this establishment has been named twice in the two serial numbers, 608 and 811, and really there is only one establishment. The address given in the two serial numbers is the same. So, serial Nos. 608 and 811 will be considered and treated as constituting one establishment.

The Company has claimed a 'no dispute' award on the basis of a joint petition and a Memorandum of Settlement signed by the Company's representative and 5 workmen, said to be representatives of the entire body of workmen. It is contended on behalf of the Company that the entire body of workmen appointed 5 representatives and these representatives negotiated and concluded the Settlement with the Company. In paragraph (4) of the Memorandum of Settlement, it is specifically stated that a copy of the Memorandum of Settlement will be filed before this Tribunal in connection with this reference with the prayer for a 'no disputes' award on the basis that the dispute has been settled out of court. The application and the Memorandum of Settlement is challenged by the Howrah Small Factories Workers' Union, which claims to represent the workers of this Company. Shri Anadi Das appears for the Union and supports the petition of objection filed by this workmen and contends that there was no real and bona fide settlement with the Company and that the Company obtained signatures of some workmen by coersion and threat and misrepresentation. So, the alleged settlement must be proved to be genuine. and bona fide. The parties are given the liberty to produce evidence in support of their respective cases.

Two witnesses have been examined, one for the Company and one for the objecting Union, and relevant documents have been proved and exhibited. The only witness for the Company is Shri Satya Narayan, the Works Manager, and the only witness on the other side is Shri Sambhu Nath Chatterjee, a worker of the Company.

Ext. 1 is the Memorandum of Settlement signed by 5 persons as representatives of the workmen and two persons as representatives of the employer. This signatures were made in presence of the Labour Officer, Howrah. Paragraph (4) of the Memorandum of Settlement is to the effect that a copy of the Memorandum of Settlement will be filed before this Tribunal in connection with the adjudication proceedings arising out of the vernment order No. 3537-I.R., dated 5th August 2, with the prayer that the dispute having been tled out of court, a 'no dispute' award may be made

Ext. 3 purports to be the document whereby the workers authorised the five persons who signed the Memorandum of Settlement to act as their representative for effecting an all-out settlemint with the employer A copy of this Memorandum of Settlement was also forwarded to the Secretary to the Labour Department and some other authorities under tht Department. The relevant terms of the settlement regarding wages appear to be that some increments in the daily wages were given to the workers as per chart annexed thereto. Ext. 3, the documents whereby the five persons were appointed as Panchayats to effect the settlement with the Company, purports to contain the signature of quite a large number of workmen, but not all the workmen, as shown in the increment chart annexed to the Memorandum of Settlement. The signatories in Ext. 3 number about 195 whereas the increment chart covers 273 workers. It cannot be said, therefore that all the workers of this establishment authorised the five representatives to negotiate a settlement with the Company. Moreover, the grant of some increments to the daily wages as per the terms of settlement cannot be said to be a complete settler of the entire dispute regarding the wide and general issue of 'Wages' as referred for adjudication in the present case. Even assuming that quite a large number of workmen are to be regarded as bound by the terms of the settlement affected through the 5 representatives, there are quite a number of workers who are not so bound. Such workers may be in the minority, but they constitute quite a substantial minority involving an appreciable number of workmen and so they have certainly the legal right to raise and continue an industrial dispute. In this connection, it is significant to note that not a single worker has come forward to support the Company's case and the Union of the workers has been completely ignored and by passed in the matter of the alleged settlement on the basis of which the Company claims exemption. It appears that just about a month before the Memorandum of Settlement, dated 18th July 1963, the Management, together with the Union, set up a Co-ordination Committee for certain purposes. Ext A is the undisputed document whereby the Management and the Union jointly set up the Co-ordination Committee. At least one worker Shambhu Nath Chatterjee, has deposed against the Company's claim that there was an overall settlement regarding the issue of wages. No doubt, he has admitted that the worker were given some increments in wages in July 1963, but he has at the same time stated that the increments were their due annual increments. The Company has not produced a single worker to testify in support of the settlement where-upon it claims exemption from the scope of the present reference. In the above view of the relevant facts and circumstaces, I hold that no comprehensive settlement covering the entire range of the issue of 'wages' as referred for adjudication to this Tribunal and binding upon and accepted by all the workmen of this establishment has been established and so no sufficient ground for excluding this establishment from the scope of the present reference by a 'no dispute' award on the basis of the said settlement has been made out.

In the result, the Company's claim for an immediate exemption of the establishment from the scope of the present reference by a 'no dispute' award on the basis of Memorandum of Settlement dated 18th July 1963, is rejected and it is directed that the Company shall remain within the scope of the present adjudication in respect of both the issues. At the same time, I place on record that the fact of the settlement put forward by the Company and the terms thereof will be given due consideration in deciding the issue of wages in respect of this establishment.

There is nothing in the Memorandum of Settlement relied on by the Company relating to the issue of Leave and holidays (issue No. 2). So that issue will also remain open for adjudication as between the Company and its workmen.

29. Bharat Battery (Addendum) :

The Union of the employees of this establishment has prayed for exemption from the scope of the present reference by a petition filed before the Tribunal on 12th February 1965. The main ground upon which exemption is claimed is that this establishment was a party to the Third Omnibus Engineering Tribunal Reference and is bound by the award made therein and the workmen are getting wages as fixed by that award and also the additional dearness allowance recently fixed by the Government by an order under D.I.R. It is contended on behalf of the Union that they apprehend that the scale of wages to be fixed in the present reference case relating to minor engineering establishments employing less than 250 workmen will be less than what they are now getting and so, they will be prejudiced.

The application is opposed on behalf of the Company. It is contended on behalf of the Company that the Company terminated the award of the Third Omnibus Engineering Reference under sec. 19(6) Industrial Disputs, Act by a notices, dated 5th December 1959. It is further contended on behalf of the Company that the Company is not paying the award scale of pay since the termination of the award. It is not disputed at the hearing that the Company really terminated the award by notice, dated 5th December 1959, but it is contended on behalf of the Union by Shri A. Das Chowdhury that in spite of the termination of the award, the benefits of the award continue to be admissible to the workmen. In my view, it is not the proper time to direct an immediate exemption of the Company from the scope of the present reference on the basis of an award which undisputedly has been legally terminated. The proper course in my view, will be to continue with the adjudication proceedings in respect of this establishment, subject to the condition that the contentions now raised on behalf of the Union will be considered at the time of the final hearing. The Union's application is rejected on these terms.

30. Bill Engineering Works (Sl. No. 9) :

In this case the Union has prayed for excluding this establishment from the scope of the present reference on three grounds stated in the application and these are :—

1. that the workmen and the company are a party to the bipartite agreement, dated 22nd April 1960, which has not been terminated.

2. that after the present order of reference, the Government made another reference of a dispute between this Company and its workmen to the Second Industrial Tribunal, which passed its award on 20th November 1963, (published in the "Calcutta Gazette", dated 12th December 1963) and

3. that there is no company as Bill Engineering Works, it being only a department of Blackwood (India) Ltd., which has now changed its name to J. K. Business Machines Ltd.

The Company opposes the application on the Union. It has filed a written objection. The objection pressed on behalf of the Company at the hearing are as follows :—

1. The Union (Blackwood Labour Association), which has made the present application for exclusion is not competent to represent the concerned workmen in the present proceedings and it has no locus standi to put forward any such claim for exclusion.

2. the alleged bipartite agreement has been legally terminated by a notice under section 19(2) Industrial Disputes Act and as such, the agreemnt has now no force and effect, and

3. in the subsequent reference to the Second Industrial Tribunal, one of the issues was revision of wages (issue No. 3), but in the award passed by that Tribunal, no definite and final adjudication was made on this issue and the Tribunal after referring to the pendency of the present omnibus reference and the effect of its award, rejected the Union's claim for revision of wages on the ground that the present financial position did not admit of any revision of scales of pay. So, the award of the Second Industrial Tribunal in the subsequent reference cannot operate as a bar to the present adjudication proceedings regarding the issue of wages.

Heard representatives of the parties, Shri K. K. Moitra for the Company and Shri P. Pathak for the concerned Union and the workmen. Certain documents are put in by both the parties for the purpose of consideration and they include a copy of the 'Calcutta Gazette', containing the published award of the Second Industrial Tribunal and a letter from the Union, dated 16th March 1964, terminating the bipartite agreement, dated 22nd April 1960, on the side of the company and the balance-sheet of J. K. Business Machines Ltd. and one letter purporting to show that the workmen accepted the increased wages according to the interim award in this case under protest on the side of the Union.

I first take up the question of competence of the applicant Union (Blackwood Labours' Association) to represent the workmen of the concerned establishment (Bill Engineering Works) and make the present application for exemption from the scope of the present reference. After considering the materials placed before me, I have no hesitation to hold that there is no substance in the Comapny's objection in this respect. From the arguments advanced before me on both sides, it is an undisputed position that the establishment is an engineering undertaking at first it was an establishment of Balckwood (India) Ltd. which has now changed its name to J. K. Machines Ltd. It appears that the Union of the workers of this establishment is going by the name of Blackwood Labours' Association ever since the time when the name of Company was Blackwood (India) Ltd. and this Union is still operating, though the name of the Company has been changed to J. K. Business Machines Ltd. This will appear from the matter of termination of the bipartite agreement, dated 16th March 1964, produced by the Company. I hold, therefore, that Blackwood Labours' Association is fully competent to represent the workmen of the concerned establishment (Bill Engineering Works) in the present adjudication proceedings and necessarily to make the present application for exemption. The Company's objection is, therefore, rejected.

I next take up the connected legal objection against the maintainability of the present order of reference on the ground that there is no Company named and styled Bill Engineering Works and as such, the reference in that name is illegal and incompetent. In my view, there is also no substance in this objection of the Union. Undisputedly, Bill Engineering Works is an industrial establishment is a company which has a different name. The present reference is only in respect of disputes existing or apprehended in this industrial establishment. There is no legal bar to such a dispute being referred for adjudication in the name of the establishment itself and such a reference necessarily indicates that the Company is connected with the reference in so far as this establishment is concerned. The employer's side may be taken as fully represented by making the reference in the name of establishment itself which forms a part of the Company's undertakings. It is to be noted in this connection that the Company itself has not raised any objection that it is not bound by the reference made in respect of one of its establishments. The Company has accepted the position that it is bound by the reference and necessarily will be bound by any award that may be made in the case. In the above view of the whole matter, I reject this legal objection raised on behalf of the Union.

I now come to the other ground pleaded by the Union against the maintainability of the present reference in support of its claim for exemption.

It is alleged that the adjudication proceedings cannot continue in prespect of this establishment, in view of a bipartite settlement between the Company and the workmen of this establishment, dated 22nd April 1960, which contains some terms regarding wages also. A copy of the Memorandum of Settlement has been produced along with the Union's application. No doubt there are some terms as to revision of wages and dearness allowance in the Memorandum of Settlement. The Company's reply is that this bipartite settlement was terminated by the workmen themselves through their Union by a notice, dated 16th March 1964. A copy of the notice has been produced. The notice is in the printed letter head of the Union itself, and purports to be signed by the Secretary. The notice has not been seriously challenged or disputed. The Union has also produced a notice in similar form wherein it objected against the payment of increased wages to the workmen of this company under the interim award made in this case. This notice is dated 4th November 1964. Both the notices appear to be signed by the same Secretary. The prima facie present position is that the bipartite agreement was terminated by the workmen themselves through their Union by a notice, dated 16th March 1964, and in view of this position, there is no legal bar to the continuance of the adjudication proceedings in respect of this establishment in the present case. It is contended on behalf of the Union that in spite of the termination of bipartite agreement by notice under section 19(2) Industrial Dispute Act, the terms of the bipartite agreement should be deemed to be still in force. I think that this contention cannot be urged on behalf of the Union which itself terminated the agreement. When the agreement has been legally terminated by the Union, it is to be deemed that the Union and necessarily the workmen do not consider themselves bound by the terms of the agreement and they consider themselves free to raise fresh disputes and claims regarding wages. When the issue of "wages" is under adjudaction in the present proceedings in which this establishment is included, there is no legal ground for exempting this establishment from the scope of the present reference simply because of the bipartite settlement which stands prima facie terminated. So, this ground of the Union is rejected.

The next ground urged by the Union relates to a subsequent reference of a dispute between the Company and its workmen to the Second Industrial Tribunal on a number of issues, including the issue of wages, and the award made therein on 22nd November 1963 and published in the "Calcutta Gazette", dated 12th December 1963. The copy of the Calcutta Gazette containing the published award has been filed by the Company. I find on a perusal of the award that issue No. 3 of that reference was 'Revision of pay scales of mechanics, supervisory staff, clerks, telepohne operators and subordinate staff' and in disposing of this issue, the Second Industrial Tribunal referred to the present omnibus reference and then disposed of the issue in the following terms :—

> 'Be that as it may, the matter is pending before the Omnibus Tribunal and the award which may be pleased by the Tribunal in this respect would be accepted by all similar concerns. The Company's present financial position does not admit of any revision of scale of pay. In that perspective, I answer the issue by saying that revision of scales of pay cannot be imposed on the Company."

The issue itself related to only some particular class of workmen and not all the workmen in general and no relief was granted by the Tribunal on the ground that the Company's present financial position did not admit of any revision of scale of pay. The result, therefore, is that the status quo was maintained. In view of this result of the award of a reference made after the present reference, it cannot be said logically that the earlier reference has become incompetent or illegal by reason of the said subsequent award. It would not be unreasonable to take the view that pendency of the present adjudication proceedings weighed with the Second Industrial Tribunal to some extent in terminating status quo in respect of wages. In view of the above facts and circumstances, the award of the Second Industrial Tribunal, cannot in my judgment, operate as a bar to the continuance of the adjudication proceedings regarding wages of the workmen of the concerned establishment in the present reference. Accordingly I reject this ground of the Union too.

As I have rejected all the grounds upon which the Union has claimed exemption of this establishment from the scope of the present reference, the Union's claim must fail. Accordingly, I reject the Union's claim for exemption of the concerned establishment (Bill Engineering Works) from the scope of the present reference.

31. K. P. Das and Co. Ltd. (Sl. No. 476).

The Company has claimed exemption on the ground of a previous award on the issue of wages, D. A. etc. The concerned Union, which is a union of the workers of this Company, has filed a petition of objection against the Company's application stating that in the previous reference, there was no adjudication on the general question of wages, but some ad hoc increase was given.

When this matter was first taken up for hearing on the appointed day, none appeared for the Company to press the application, though the Union representative, Shri Anadi Das was present and in these circumstances, the application was rejected. Subsequently the Company filed an application for re-hearing of the matter after offering some explanation about the absence of its representative on the first date of hearing. Both parties are re-heard regarding the Company's application for re-hearing and the company's prayer is allowed. Thereafter, the company's original application for exemption is heard on merits at once with the consent of the Union representative. The company produces a copy of the award. Heard representatives of both sides regarding the award.

It is contended on behalf of the company that the present reference is barred by the award made by the Fifth Industrial Tribunal on 9th May 1962, and published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated 12th July 1962. The relevant issue of the award with which we are concerned for our present purposes is issue No. 1 "Wages/Increment". It appears that the learned Tribunal disposed of this issue by awarding that the minimum basic wages for unskilled workers should not be below Re. 1 and the D. A. should be allowed at the flat rate of Re. 1 per diem, and these rates of minimum wages and D. A. were fixed in view of the financial capacity of the Company obtaining at that time. A pretty long time has passed since then and the workmen are fully entitled to plead that there has been a material change in the circumstances since then justifying further rise in their wages and D. A. This Tribunal cannot atonce strike down the present reference and adjudication in respect of this establishment simply because of the aforesaid award which do not prima facie cover the wide and comprehensive scope and range of the issue of wages as referred for adjudication in this omnibus reference. Accordingly, I do not allow the company's prayer for exemption from the present reference in respect of the issue of wages.

In the result, I reject the company's prayer for exemption, but at the same time, direct that the rates of minimum wages and D. A. as fixed by the previous award shall be given due consideration in disposing of the issue of wages in respect of this establishment.

INTERIM AWARD

This is an omnibus reference of industrial disputes covering more than twelve hundred engineering companies and their workmen. The first issue in dispute and under reference is "Wages". The engineering companies concerned are represented either by the Organisations named in List II in the original order of reference or by themselves ; and the workmen are represented by the Trade Unions mentioned in List III in the order of reference and also by some other individual Unions. The final adjudication of the industrial disputes of such magnitude would certainly take a pretty long time. On behalf of the engineering companies some preliminary objections questioning the legality and maintainability of the reference itself have been made on various grounds. In view of the claims made and the objections, legal and factual, raised on behalf of the concerned parties, the whole case has become very complex and complicated apart from the vast scope of the reference arising out of the number of companies and the workmen concerned in it. Parties to the reference have been added under section 10(5) till recently. In view of all the aforesaid facts and circumstances, and particularly in view of the fact that the final disposal of the case would yet take some time, some of the concerned Trade Unions have made applications for iterim relief in respect of wages. They have pleaded that in view of the steep rise in the cost of living since the date of the reference, it has become essentially necessary that the workmen should get some relief by way of increased wages pending the final disposal of the issue regarding wages. These applications have been opposed by almost all the engineering companies, either through their Associations or by themselves. The applications for interim relief pressed for quick disposal of the matter before the impending Durga Puja in order that there might not be unrest among the workmen with resultant complications. In these circumstances, the matter of interim relief was set down for hearing on 8th and 9th September 1964. The matter was heard partly on 8th and then on 10th September 1964. There was no hearing on 9th September, 1964, as the work of the Tribunal was suspended on account of the tragic murder of Shri H. N. Sanyal, the late Solicitor-General.

At the hearing, the applicants for interim relief were asked to open their case. No witness was examined on their behalf. They produced only some documents, which included some tribunal awards and the recent Government Order under the D. I. R. (Order Nos 3803-I.R./IR/1A-20/C4 and 3801-I.R./IR/1A-20/64, both dated 26th August 1964, granting a flat increase of Rs.10 in the D. A. of some major engineering companies, covered by the Third Engineering Award from September 1964. After this the concerned companies opened their case. It was contended on their behalf that the matter of interim relief could not be heard unless the preliminary objections raised against the legality and maintainability of the reference itself were disposed of and they further contended that on merits, they would produce evidence to show their wage scales and present financial positions. It was realised that if all the concerned companies were to produce such evidence, the hearing would take quite a long time and in that case, there would hardly be any chance of the matter being disposed of before the Durga Puja. At this stage, I suggested that the contending parties should try to evolve a common ground for a minimum interim increase in the wages of the workmen, having regard to the patent and undeniable rise in the cost of living in recent years. It was then submitted on behalf of the engineering companies that they would consider the matter at a meeting of their four Associations concerned in the present dispute and then report to the Tribunal their views in the matter. This procedure was agreed to on behalf of the concerned workmen and the Unions. Accordingly, the hearing of the matter of interim relief was adjourned to 12th September 1964, on the understanding that the Engineering Associations would hold their meeting on 11th September 1964. On 12th September 1964, it was reported that the Engineering Associations concerned had held a meeting on 11th September 1964 and had adopted certain definite recommendations in the matter of interim relief for the consideration of the Tribunal. Shri Asthana, appearng on behalf of the Associations, produced before the Tribunal a copy of the recommendations decided upon by the concerned Engineering Associations. Annexure A is a copy of those recommendations. These recommendations were accepted on behalf of all other companies who were not directly represented by the said Engineering Associations. The concerned Unions, on the other hand, produced a common agreement between them as to the interim relief and the matter in which the applications for interim relief should be disposed of. Annexure B is a copy of that agreement. No further evidence was adduced on behalf of any party and the matter was left to the consideration and decision of the Tribunal after a careful scrutiny of the recommendations of the Engineering Associations and the matters covered by the agreement arrived at between the concerned Unions. I heard representatives of both sides. The representatives of the concerned Unions agreed to the conditions laid down in recommendations (3), (4) and (5) of the Engineering Associations (Annexure A). But they did not agree with the recommendations (1) and (2) relating to the amounts of increment to be given for the purpose of interim relief. The Companies' recommendations in this respect are as follows :

(1) Engineering firms who are paying minimum consolidated wages up to Rs.55 per month should grant a flat increase of Rs.5 per month to all categories of workmen.

(2) Engineering firms who are paying minimum consolidated wages above Rs.55 but below Rs.87 per month should grant a flat increase of Rs.4 per month to all categories of workmen.

It was submitted before me on behalf of the representatives of the Associations and the companies that they had not made any recommendation for increased wages in respect of workmen getting the monthly wages of Rs.87 or more, because this was fixed as the minimum wages by the Third Engineering Award and the Government has by its recent Orders under the D. I. R., increased the wages of the workmen of the companies governed by the Third Engineering Award by granting them a flat increase of Rs 10 in D. A. and such of those companies as are parties to this reference will be bound by the said orders and the result is that their workmen will get an increment of Rs.10 each in the D. A. On behalf of the Unions, this position was admitted as substantially correct. It was specifically stated that out of the comapanies covered by the Third Engineering Tribunal, all except a very small number, 4 or 5, are specifically covered by the Government Orders under the D. I. R. and the 4 or 5 companies whose names do not appear in the Government Orders, have ceased to function. On behalf of the concerned Unions, the following terms for increased wages by way of interim relief were suggested :

(1) Companies paying a total minimum wage of less than Rs.61 should grant an increment of Rs. 12·50 per month.

(2) Companies paying a total minimum wage ranging from Rs. 61 to Rs.70 should pay an increment of Rs.10 per month.

(3) Companies paying a minimum wage of Rs. 71 and above should pay an increment of Rs. 7·50 per month.

I have carefully considered both the views put forward or on behalf of the companies and the concerned workmen regarding the amounts of increment by way of interim relief. I have also considered the materials available to me for the purpose of deciding the amounts of interim relief. It has been submitted on behalf of the companies that the recommendations regarding ad interim increase in wages as contained in Annexure A represent the common agreement between the parties as to the limit of the increase. In the matter of interim relief, the best course would be to adopt a basic minimum applicable to all concerned companies, irrespective of their size and status, for the purpose of granting such relief in respect of wages. I greatly appreciate the gesture made by the Engineering Associations in offering some interim increases on the basis of common agreement among the concerned companies. In my view, the amounts offered by way of interim increase in respect of the two different wage groups (up to Rs.55 and Rs.56 to Rs.86) should be accepted with a slight modification and the modification should be that the amount offered for each wage group should be increased by Re.1 only. By this, the increase for the first wage group up to Rs. 55 would be Rs.6 and the increase for the second wage group, Rs.56 to Rs.86, would be Rs.5. The above modifications would keep the ad-interim increase of the aforesaid wage groups very near the Companies' recommendations, but this would still be far less than the increases claimed by the Unions on the basis of common agreement among them. In this connection, I would refer to the recent Government Orders under the D. I. R. granting immediately a flat increase of Rs.10 per month in D. A to workers of most of the engineering establishments covered by the Third Major Enginering Award made by Shri G. Palit and published in the "Calcutta Gazette, Extraordinary", dated 5th November 1958. It may be said that the Government has accepted Rs.10 as the basic minimum for the purpose of increase of D.A. According to the Government orders, this increase was decided upon by linking the D. A. to the cost of living index figures which had risen to 465 in relation to the bas year 1939. But then, it is to be noted that this order relates to major engineering establishments employing 250 or more workmen, whereas the engineering establishments covered by the present omnibus reference are admittedly much smaller. It is an undisputed position that the present reference covers engineering establishments employing workmen numbering up to 249. So, in the present reference, there are some very small establishments employing only quite a few workmen. It is said that there are some establishments which employ only 10 or even a lesser number of workmen. The standard of basic minimum adopted in the case of bigger establishments covered by the orders under the D. I. R. cannot certainly be accepted in the present case and having regard to the nature and size of the establishments covered by the present reference, there should be substantial reduction of that basic minimum for the purpose of application here. Moreover, that basic minimum was adopted by applying the principle of calculation of D. A. according to the cost of living index figures. After considering all the aforesaid facts and circumstances I hold that the rates of ad interim increase of wages for the two different wage groups, referred to in the Companies' recommendations, should be Rs.6 and Rs.5 respectively per month. This means that all workmen included in the consolidated wage group up to Rs.55 shall get an interim increase of Rs.6 and all workmen included in the consolidated wage group of Rs.56 to Rs.86 will get an interim increase of Rs.5 per month each.

The Engineering Associations have not recommended any increase for the wage group of Rs.87 upwards, evidently on the basis that they will be covered by the Government Orders under the D. I. R. and will get interim increase of D. A. at the flat rate of Rs.10. There may, however, be some workmen who are getting wages from Rs.87 upwards though they are not covered by the Third Engineering Award and so, they are not also covered by the Govrnment orders under the D. I. R. Such workmen will not get any relief under the Government orders. If this reference covers any such workmen, some provision for interim relief should also be made for them and I think that in the interests of social justice and fairplay, such workers should also get an interim increase of Rs 4 up to Rs.96 and workers on wages above this sum shall get increase representing the difference between their wages and Rs.100.

The other terms and conditions of the recommendations of the Companies, viz. recommendations (3), (4) and (5), have been accepted on behalf of the Union. So, these terms and conditions should also be accepted. There is another class of cases and this class covers the cases where the companies and their workmen, either through their Unions or acting by themselves, have already reached settlements and have filed joint 'no dispute' or compromise petitions. I have already disposed of most of these cases by two interim awards. I am told that after the said interim awards were passed, some such joint petitions have been filed. All these cases of joint 'no dispute' or compromise petitions should also be excluded from the operation of the present interim award in the matter of wages.

A question has also been raised as to since when the grant of interim relief should be made operative. After considering the overall facts and circumstances, I think that it would be reasonable and equitable to make it operative from 1st September 1964.

On all the above considerations, I make an interim award in respect of wages of the workmen covered by this omnibus reference on the following terms and conditions.

(1) Workmen getting consolidated wages up to Rs. 55 per month shall get a flat increase of Rs. 6 per month.

(2) Workmen getting consolidated wages from Rs. 56 to Rs. 86 per month shall get a flat increase of Rs. 5 per month.

(3) Workmen on consolidated wages from Rs. 86 upwards and who are covered by the recent Government orders under the D.I.R. granting interim increase of D A. by Rs.10, shall not get any interim relief, but workmen on such consolidated wages who are not governed by the recent Government orders under the D.I.R. regarding interim increase of D.A. shall get an interim increase of Rs. 4 in wages up to the wage scale of Rs. 96 and workers getting wages above that sum but below Rs. 100 shall get the difference between their wages and Rs. 100 as interim relief.

(1),(2) and (3) will apply to all categories of workmen, including piece-rated workers.

(4) Engineering concerns who have challenged the legality of the present reference and the jurisdiction of this Tribunal to adjudicate upon such reference on the ground of their still being bound by certain existing awards or settlement shall be excluded from the operation of this interim award.

(5) The engineering concerns covered by the two interim awards already made by this Tribunal and other engineering concerns who together with their workmen, either acting by themselves or through their Unions, have filed joint 'no dispute' or settlement petitions, shall also be excluded from the operation of this interim award.

(b) Ad hoc or special increments granted to the workmen by way of relief against increasing prices at any time during the year 1964, if any, should be adjusted against the amount of interim relief indicated in (1), (2) and (3).

(7) The interim increase in wages as in (1), (2) and (3) shall be operative from 1st September 1964.

This industrial dispute between Messrs. The General Industrial Society Ltd., Foundry Section, Chandernagore, Hooghly and their workmen represented by G.I.S. Ltd., Gondalpara Foundry Workers' Union, has been referred to this Tribunal under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 2630-I.R./IR/10L-134/65, dated 2nd July 1966, for adjudication on the following issue :

Issue

Whether the closure of the Foundry Section and consequent retrenchment of all the workmen and staff is real and bona fide and in the circumstances justified ? To what relief, if any, are the workmen entitled ?

Usual notices were served on the Company and the Union, and both sides appeared and filed their statements. The case was fixed for hearing on 19th December 1966, and on that date the parties expressed that they would file a memorandum of settlement within a week's time. Accordingly time was allowed till 23rd December 1966. Then both sides filed a joint petition on 23rd December 1966 along with two memorandums of settlement and prayed for a 'no dispute' award incorporating therein the aforesaid memorandums of settlement.

I have considered the terms of the two memorandums of settlement and these appear to be fair, reasonable and lawful. I accept them and pass this 'no dispute' award incorporating therein the two memorandums of settlement along with the joint petition of compromise as Annexure A.

Dictated and corrected by me.

AWARD

The Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, by order No. 2813-I.R./IR/11L-270/65, dated the 18th July 1966, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act this industrial dispute between Messrs. Issue

Whether the termination of service of Shri Parameswar Majhi is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

Usual notices were served on both the parties and they appeared on 11th August 1966. The Union filed written statement on 27th August 1966 and the Company, after taking several adjournments, filed its written statement on 1st December 1966. The case was ultimately fixed on 5th January 1967 for hearing but on that date neither the company nor the Union appeared and no steps was taken by either party.

Under the circumstances, it seems that at present there is no longer any dispute between the parties and accordingly I pass this 'No-dispute' award.

Issue

Is the termination of service of Shri Teja Singh justified ? .What relief, if any, is he entitled to ?

After service of notice both parties filed their repective written statements. During the hearing of the case the Union examined only the employee concerned Shri Teja Singh, and the Company examined 4 witnesses, including the present Joint Managing Director and the Service Manager. Several documents were exhibited on both sides.

The case of the Union inter alia is that Shri Teja Singh was appointed by the Company as a Workshop Assistant Foreman with effect from 15th February 1960. Shri Singh discharged his duties to the satisfaction of the authorities, and on the expiry of the probationary period he was retained in service, and was appointed to the staff, as expressly stated in the appointment letter. He also, as required, joined the Company's Provident Fund Scheme. Thus Shri Teja Singh continued to work as a permanent workman in the capacity of an Assistant Foreman. Next, by the agreement, dated 17th August 1960, between the Union and the Company, graded scales of pay for different categories of workmen, including Assistant Foreman, were introduced. Shri Singh was given annual increments in terms of the agreement since 1961 till April 1964. But in April 1965 he was denied annual increment by the management without assigning any reason for it. Thereafter Mr. Duarte, the Managing Director of the Company, by a letter, dated 30th April 1965, wrongfully served a notice on him intimating that his services would not be required by the Company from 31st May 1965. It is alleged that this notice was the outcome of a personal grudge borne by Mr. Duarte against Shri Teja Singh.

The Company has pleaded in its written statement that in January 1960 it opened a new big workshop, mainly, for the purpose of servicing and repairing Tata Mercedes Benz trucks and buses Because of the fact that a large number of such vehicles are owned and run by Punjabis, the management thought it advisable to engage a Punjabi gentleman with some knowledge of motor mechanism, to secure orders requiring servicing and repairing in the new workshop. Consequently, as an experimental measure, a new post was created in the grade of Assistant Foreman, and Shri Teja Singh was appointed therefor the said purpose, with a special pay of Rs. 220 per month and usual dearness allowance. His main duties or functions were to secure contracts for servicing and repairing of vehicles, as an when necessary, from the Punjabi owners and drivers of vehicles, and to see that the work is properly executed. The Company alleges that in course of time it was found that the performance of Shri Teja Singh was not at all satisfactory, and he was also negligent in his work as also irregular in his attendance, and that he did not put his mind in work. The Company, therefore, decided to abolish the new post in which Shri Teja Singh had been appointed. But without immediately terminating the service of Shri Teja Singh, the Company decided to see whether he could be utilised in some other capacity. Accordingly Shri Singh was appointed in charge of servicing works in the second shift from 2 p.m. to 10 p.m. in April 1963. But in course of time it was found that he was neither suitable for this post, nor was able to pick up work of Assistant Foreman. Besides, it was felt that there was no justification for maintaining two posts of Assistant Foremen for the purpose of supervision of work of the employees engaged in servicing and repairing. At the relevant time there were two Assistant Foremen—one was Shri S. K. Mondal and the other Shri Teja Singh. Shri Mondal was appointed as a supervisor in June 1946. He was competent and capable of independently undertaking work and guiding his team of workers. So the Company decided that the services of Shri Mondal should be retained and that of Shri Teja Singh be terminated. It is further alleged by the Company that the order of reference is bad in law as Shri Teja Singh is not a workman, and as such, this dispute in question cannot be referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

Regarding the maintainability of the case the Company alleges that the total wages of Shri Teja Singh, including D.A., is more than Rs. 500 per month, and he was employed in supervisory capacity. As such, this case would come within the mischief of sub-clause (iv) of clause (s) of section 2 of the Industrial Disputes Act. It is, however, the admitted case of the Company that Shri Teja Singh was appointed as an Assistant Foreman, and the admitted letter Ext. 4, would prove this fact. From the admitted memorandum Ext. 5, it appears that the category of supervisor is quite different from that of the Assisant Foreman, and the scale of pay is also different,—the Assistant Foreman drawing much higher salary than the supervisor O.P W.1 Mr. A. C. Duarte, the present Joint Managing Director and previously Manager of this Company, admits that Shri Teja Singh was appointed as a Workshop Assistant Foreman. O P.W.2 Mr. M. M. Slide, the Service Manager, also testifies that Shri Singh was Assistant Foreman and in charge of the second shift. Of course, he says that the Assistant Foreman has supervisory capacity, and a few notices, Ext. 3, series, have been produced to show that in the late shift (2 p.m. to 10 p m) in several weeks Shri Teja Singh was in charge of supervision. But his designation of 'Assistant Foreman' was incorporated in all these notices. Mr. Slide could not deny the suggestion that before 1963 Shri Teja Singh was always working in the day shift. He admits that Shri Teja Singh had to do work with his own hands when a worker was unable to do any particular job. O.P W.3, Shri Debaprosad Das, at present a supervisor, and previously a mechanic, says that Shri Teja Singh was Supervisor when he(witness)was working as a mechanic, but in cross-examination he admits that he does not know what was the designation of Shri Teja Singh He says that as Shri Singh used to supervise jobs, so he called him a Supervisor. O.P.W.4 Shri S. K. Mondal, the present Foreman of the Company, categorically states that the Assistant Foreman is a technician and also a mechanic. He further says that from the Service Manager the Supervisors get work for distribution among the workers. O.P.W 3, Shri Debaprosad Das, also corroborates him by saying that it is the Supervsor, and not Assistant Foreman, who allots work to the workers. It has been amply established by oral and documentary evidence that Shri Teja Singh was employed as Assistant Foreman whose primary function was that of a technician and mechanic, and even if he had temporarily acted in supervisory capacity, that would not bring the case within the mischief of sub-clause (iv), clause (s) of section 2 of the Industrial Disputes Act. Hence the reference is maintainable.

Now, coming to the merits of the case, the company contends that Shri Teja Singh was appointed primarily to solicit business from Punjabi customers and clients, and as he failed to discharge his duty satisfactorily, he was retrenched. But there is nothing in the letter of appointment Ext. 4, to support this contention. It is unequivocally stated in this letter that Shri Teja Singh was appointed as Workshop Assistant Foreman. Of course, Shri Singh had actually secured some service contracts on behalf of the Company. But he says that he did this being requested by the then Managing Director, Mr. Shoobridge, and that he used to do this job in his spare time before or after his working hours. Had the case of the Company that Shri Teja Singh was appointed mainly to secure service contracts been true, then surely his appointment letter would have contained the said term Mr Duarte categorically states that the Company has no papers to show that Shri Teja Singh was appointed only for the purpose of securing service contracts. I, therefore, cannot accept the case of the Company as true.

It appears from the evidence that the factory of the Company consists of 2 workshops, one for servicing and repairing of Tata Mercedes Benz trucks and buses (known as T M B Section) and the other for servicing private cars, etc (known as the Standard Section). Shri Teja Singh says that when he first joined the Company, the T M B. section was a small one, and it was expanded in June 1960 Mr Duarte also admits that Shri Teja Singh was designated in the T M.B Section as Assisant Foreman He was appointed with effect from 15th February 1960, as it would appear from the letter, Ext 4, dated 3rd February 1960 As Shri Singh was placed in the expnaded T M.B Section, it may be presumed that the Company had considered his services satisfactory. The retrenchment notice, Ext 6, was issued on 30th April 1965. Mr. Duarte says that in January 1965 there were 3 Foremen and 2 Supervisors, but no Assistant Foreman in the Standard Section. He further says that at that time there were 3 Foremen in the entire factory, and all were employed in the Standard Section, and that in the T.M.B. Section there was only one Assistant Foreman, namely, Shri Teja Singh Mr Slide, O.P W.2, has said that the services of Teja Singh were terminated because the management decided that there was no scope for provision of two Foremen in the T.M.B. Section where only 6 workmen worked. He further says that there were 2 Assistant Foremen in the section when Shri Teja Singh was discharged But this goes against the evidence of Mr. Duarte, O.P W.1, that in the first part of 1965 there was only one Assistant Foreman in the T.M B Section. It appears that the Company has made Shri S K Mondal a Foreman after terminating the services of Shri Teja Singh. Shri Mondal admits that he joined the Company in 1946 as a helper mechanic, and he joined the T M B. Section in May/June 1960, as a Supervisor when Shri Teja Singh was the Assistant Foreman there. From the gradations of different ranks, as given by Shri Mondal himself, it appears that the post of Assistant Foreman was superior to that of supervisor. I have also shown that in the name of agreement, Ext. 5, the pay of Assistant Foreman appears to be much higher than that of Supervisor.

It is clear that the Company has failed to prove that Shri Teja Singh was appointed mainly for the purpose of securing service contracts and that as the number of such contracts dwindled, the services of Shri Teja Singh were dispensed with. On the other hand, it has been clearly proved that Shri Teja Singh was appointed as Assistant Foreman,andhe was actually working in this capacity in the T M.B. Section. The Company has also failed to establish that the services of Shri Teja Singh was found surplus due to fall in the amount of work in the T.M.B. Section because it has already placed another personnel, i.e., Shri S K Mondal, as Foreman in the T.M B. Section after giving him an upgrading Next, there is an allegation by the Company that Shri Teja Singh failed to discharge his duties satisfactorily and also that he used to attend the workshop late. The Company has hopelessly failed to prove these allegations No charge-sheet was served on Shri Teja Singh for any offence. The Company appreciated his services by letter Ext 1, dated 19th March 1963 The Service Manager says that he never complained in writing about the working of Shri Singh. Shri Teja Singh has produced several certificates, Ext. 2 series, in support of his efficiency He has made a specific case that he approached the then Managing Director Mr Shoobridge in the matter of a promotion in service without first approaching Mr Duarte,and this offended Mr Duarte, and for this he was victimised. Of course, Shri Singh has not been able to establish the allegation by examining witnesses But from the facts and circumstances as discussed above, it will be clear that there was no justification on the part of the Company to retrench Shri Teja Singh against whom there was no record of inefficiency and negligence of duty.

Accordingly, I find that the termination of services of Shri Teja Singh is not justified. He should be reinstated with full back wages.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Francis Klein & Co. Private Ltd., 1 India Exchange Place, Calcutta-1, and their workmen represented by Francis Klein & Co. Employees' Union, 12A Netaji Subhas Road (1st Floor), Calcutta-1. (Case No. 106 of 1966.)

Present for the Union: Shri Ranen Banerji, Advocate.

This industrial dispute between Messrs. Francis Klein & Co. Private Limited and their workmen represented by Francis Klein & Co. Employees' Union has been referred to this Tribunal under section 10 of the industrial Disputes Act, by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 2235-I.R.-IR/10L-20/66, dated 2nd June 1966, for adjudication on the follwing issue:

Issue

Whether the retrenchment of Shri Abdul Rahaman is justified? What relief, if any, is he entitled to?

After service of notices both sides appeared and filed their respective written statements. At the time of hearing of the case only Abdul Rahaman deposed on behalf of the Union, and the Company examined only their Secretary Shri K. A. Menon. Both sides got some documents exhibited in this case.

According to the case of the Union, Abdul Rahaman was appointed by the Company as mechanic on 11th December 1963 on probation, and he was thereafter confirmed on 1st April 1964. On 16th September 1965 he was served with an order purporting to terminate his services with effect from 1st October 1965. It is alleged by the Union that the services of Shri Rahaman was dispensed with without any justification and the retrenchment was effected in violation of the provisions of section 25F of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The Company, on the other hand, pleads inter alia that it is purely an Agency House importing machine-tools on behalf of customers who provide it with Actual User's licenses. The business of the Company rests entirely on the import policy of the Government of India which fluctuates from time to time depending upon foreign exchange conditions and other economic factors. It is further stated that different forms of services and assistance are involved in different contracts, and with the change-over from F.O.R. contracts to F.O.B. contracts the Company has considerably got itself away from such assistance and services which it rendered in F.O.R. contracts. Consequently the Company cannot carry on with the same number of personnel as engaged by it previously. The Company further contends that Abdul Rahaman was appointed as a mechanic on the recommendation of his previous employers Messrs. Sen & Pandit Industries who introduced him as having 4 years' experience in pneumatic hammer, drop hammer and timming press. Sometimes after his appoinment it was found that the Government of India banned import of pneumatic hammer, and the services of Shri Rahaman was thereafter utilised by the Company in miscellaneous jobs under the supervision and guidance of senior engineers. Because of the changes in the nature of contract entered into by the Company and the customers, the Company found that the services of Shri Rahaman could not be gainfully utilised, and he was found to be surplus to the requirement of the Company. Accordingly his services were terminated, and there has not been any fresh recruirtment in the category of workers in which he was employed.

On behalf of the Union a chart, Ext. 4, has been filed and this shows that Shri Rahaman attended some jobs once a month in different places since December 1953 till September 1965. It will appear from this chart that he attended to hammers in several cases, and to other mechines also. The letters, Ext. A, which was produced by Shri Rahaman while approaching the Company for a job and on the basis of which he was appointed as a mechanic, shows that he had experience in the running of pneumatic hammers, drop hammers and trimming presses. This is also his own statement in cross-examination. So the Company's case that Shri Rahaman was appointed particularly for the running of these special types of hammers appears to be true from the letter, Ext. A, and the evidence of Shri Rahaman himself. Shri Ramahan also admits that the import of hammers has been stopped, though he says that it was the position before his appointment. The case of the Company that it has to attend to maintenance of machines supplied to customers has not been denied in evidence by the Union. Obviously the Company had to render assistance to the customers for the running and maintenance of pneumatic hammers which had been imported previous to the ban imposed by the Central Government. The services of Shri Rahaman was no doubt necessary at the time of his appointment.

It is, however, the positive case of the Company that there has been a change-over from F.O.R. contracts to F.O.B. contracts. This fact has not been denied. The Secretary of the Company Shri Menon in his evidence says that in case of F.O.R. contracts the Company is bound to give after-sale services for indefinite period, the minimum being 3 years; whereas in case of F.O.B. contracts it has to give only one year's service, and some customers would require no services at all. This statement was not challenged in cross-examination of the witness. Evidently, it appears that there has been a general decrease in the quantity of service jobs due to this change-over.

It is also the contention of the Company that not only Shri Rahaman, but also some other employees of the Company had to be retrenched for the reorganising scheme adopted by it for reasons of economy and convenience. Shri Menon says that the services of the Service Engineer Shri S. K. Roy had to be dispensed with for the same reason and none also has been appointed in his place, and also one Fitter was reverted to the post of bearer on the same ground. The notice, Ext. F, together with the Annexure H, which was issued by the Company under section 9A of the Industrial Disputes Act, also proves the intention of the Company to effect the change in the service conditon as some of the employees were found to be surplus on account of the change-over. Of course, the Union has produced a letter, Ext. 8, dated 8th December 1966, from the Company, which shows that the Company had decided to withdraw the notice as a gesture of good will. But that does not prove that the Company issued the notice without any reason, and simply for victimising the workers considered to be surplus due to the change in the mode of transaction of business of the Company.

Considering these facts, circumstances, and the evidence adduced, I do not think that the Company had any mala fide motive to terminate the services of Shri Abdul Rahaman. The Union has pleaded that the retrenchment of Shri Rahaman was effected in violation of section 25F of the Industrial Disputes Act. But the letter, Ext.B, dated 16th September 1965, will show that Shri Rahaman was asked to take one month's salary in lieu of notice and also compensation as required under the Act. He was requested to contact the Accountant of the Company for collecting the dues in full and final settlement. But the workman did not collect the amount offered to him. So it cannot be said that the Company violated the conditions required under section 25F of the Act.

It may also be noted that the works which Shri Rahaman used to do are now being done by another mechanic named De Monte, as elucidated in cross-examination of the Secretary of the Company, Shri K. A. Menon. Shri Abdul Rahaman admits that De Monte was senior to him in period of service. So the Company, in retrenching Shri Rahaman, followed the principles of 'last come, first go'. Therefore the action of the Company seems to be bona fide.

I hold that the retrenchment of Shri Abdul Rahaman is justified and he is entitled to no relief.

This is my award.

The concession granted will be equal to the exact period of detention, imprisonment, internment or externment suffered up to a maximum of four years.

(b) For Scheduled Caste/Tribe candidates: The upper age limit is relaxable by five years for candidates belonging to Scheduled Castes/Scheduled Tribes.

Subject.—Grant of special allowance to the Drivers and Cleaners of motor vehicles employed in different offices under Government.

No. 3F.I./FIS/5R-101/62.—10th January 1967.—Government had for some time past under their consideration the question of revising the rate of overtime allowance for the drivers employed in different departments and offices under them. After careful consideration of the matter and in supersession of this department memo No. 4161(175)-F, dated the 16th November 1957, the Governor has been pleased to decide that subject to the exception hereinafter stated all whole-time Drivers employed under Government shall with effect from the 1st January 1967 and until further orders, draw special allowance at the rate specified below:—

(i) When a driver has to remain on duty with the vehicle either at headquarters or within a radius of five miles from headquarters continuously for a period exceeding nine hours (including the period of drivnig) he shall draw, for each hour of duty in excess of nine hours a special allowance at the following rate:—

	Pay range	Rate of special allowance
(a)	From Rs. 100 to Rs 140	44 paise per hour subject to a maximum of Rs. 1.75 paise.
(b)	From Rs. 141 to Rs. 170	52 paise per hour subject to a maximum of Rs. 2.10 paise.
(c)	From Rs. 171 to Rs. 210	65 paise per hour subject to a maximum of Rs. 2.60 paise.

(ii) When a driver proceeds on duty outside a radius of five miles and returns to headquarters on the same day without involving an absence from headquarters for one night or a part thereof, he shall, provided he has to remain continuously on duty with the vehicle for a period exceeding nine hours (including the period of driving), draw, for each hour of duty in excess of nine hours, a special allowance at the rate specified in sub-paragraph (i) above subject to the maximum laid down in the said sub-paragraph;

(iii) When a driver proceeds on duty beyond five miles and is absent from headquarters for at least one night, he shall draw the daily allowance normally admissible to him under the rules; but if on any day of such absence, the period of his continuous duty with the vehicle (including the period of driving) exceeds nine hours, he shall draw for that day of absence either—

(a) the daily allowance normally admissible to him under the rules;

(b) the special allowance at the rate shown in sub-paragraph (i) above subject to the maximum laid down therein;

whichever is more favourable to him.

2. For the purpose of calculation, periods up to 30 minutes should be ignored and those over 30 minutes in the aggregates should each count for a full hour.

3. This order will also apply for duties on Sundays and other holidays. No claim for additional remuneration will be entertained, if the period of continuous duty on Sundays or other holidays is nine hours or below.

4. It is not considered necessary to send a cleaner whenever a vehicle goes out and therefore the practice of taking a cleaner should be stopped. (c) Sm. Kamala Mukherjee and
(d) Sm. Minu Dey.

Subsequently, however, the case has been transferred to this Tribunal by the Government of West Bengal under its Labour Department, order No. 3018-I.R./IR/10L-105/66, dated 1st August 1966.

In short, the case of the workmen is that Mahitosh Sen Gupta was falsely charge-sheeted and that proper enquiry was not held according to the principles of natural justice. He was dismissed by the company illegally. It was a case of victimisation and unfair labour practice. Kamala Mukherjee, Anima Gupta and Minu Dey were also charge-sheeted on false allegations and they were also malaciously dismissed. The enquiries held against them were perfunctory violating the principles of natural justice. These four workmen acted against Sunil Kar, the then Secretary of the Union and, therefore, for a time they did not get any support of the union so long as Sunil Kar was the Secretary. Subsequently, however, the union took up the cause of the workmen.

The company, on the other hand, has stated that this is not an industrial dispute as K. G. Zipper Factory Workers' Union, (hereinafter referred to as the Workers' Union) has membership of more than 90 per cent. of the workmen. The present Labours Union is not competent to represent the workmen. It has been also alleged that the allegations contained in the charge-sheet were correct, that the enquiries were properly held according to the principles of natural justice and that Mahitosh SenGupta was properly dismissed. In the original written statement the company did not say anything about the other three female workers but subsequently the company has stated that on compassionate grounds the company withdrew the letters of dismissal and that the said female workers resumed their duties on 1st February 1966. The company wants to say that these three workers were not, however, entitled to any compensation for the period of non-employment.

At first the company wanted that there should be a preliminary hearing on the question of jurisdiction but at the time of hearing it was agreed by both the sides that the preliminary points and the merit might be heard at the same time, and the parties therefore adduced evidence on that basis.

I shall first of all deal with the jurisdictional point raised by the company. The company wants to say that the Labour Union mentioned in the order of reference is not competent to represent the workmen of the company because they do not represent the substantial portion of the workmen. The company wants to say that the Workers Union of the company is the party representing the majority of the workmen. Admittedly, the reference was made in September 1965 before the last amendment of the Industrial Disputes Act. The point therefore arises whether the Labours Union is the competent body to represent the workmen of the company and whether the Government had jurisdiction to refer this matter to the Tribunal for adjudication. On this question on the side of the union P.W.1, the Vice-President of the Union and P.W.2 Mahitosh Sen Gupta, the dismissed workman, have been examined. Mahitosh Sen Gupta was dismissed in June 1965. Anima Gupta and two other female workers were also dismissed in June 1965. The order of reference made by the Government of West Bengal is dated 28th September 1965. That was the original order of reference. P.W.1 has stated that on 11th July 1965 there was a meeting of Labours Union for espousing the cause of Mahitosh Sen Gupta and three others. The witness produced and proved the Minutes Book of the Union and particularly the resolution passed on 11th July 1965 which has been marked Ext 1(a). He has also proved a copy of the letter written to the Labour Commissioner which has been marked Ext.2 In this letter, the union supported the case of Mahitosh Sen Gupta and three others involved in this case P.W.1 has further stated that the Membership Register Ext. 3, has been prepared on the basis of the Subscription Register which has not been produced. The company wants to take the advantage of the non-production of the Subscription Register. But in the facts and the circumstances of this case, I do not like to make any adverse presumption against the non-production of the document in view of the positive evidence on the side of the union and in the absence of any assertive evidence on the side of the company According to P.W.1 the union was formed in August 1965 and he has stated that 80per cent. of the workmen of the company were members of the union. We also get from him that in all there would be about 307 workmen in the company and at the time when the union decided to take up the cause of the workmen, about 230 workmen of the company were members of the Labours Union though at present, however, the members of the Labours Union would be about 130 or 140. P.W.1 has further stated that in or about September 1965 when the reference was made, about 217 workmen of the company were members of the Labours Union. The Membership Register marked Ext. 3 shows that in 1965 there were 148 members of the Labours Union. This number certainly embraces a substantial portion of the workmen of the company. P.W.2, Mahitosh Sen Gupta, has stated that after his dismissal he saw Subodh Banerjee of West Bengal Engineering Workers Union and authorised him to conduct his case. Shri Banerjee even represented Mahitosh Sen Gupta and three others in a joint conference. P.W.1 has stated that without knowledge of others he became a member of the West Bengal Engineering WorkersUnion and he requested the union to take up his cause. His explantion is that as he was not happy with the activities of the Labours Union he did not approach this union to take up his cause. P.W.1 has clearly stated that he approached the West Bengal Engineering Workers Union because he thought that his cause might not be taken up by the Labours Union as the Secretary of the union himself was the complainant against him. However, the fact remains that whatever happened in the meantime, the Labours Union at last espoused the cause of Mohitosh Sen Gupta and three others and represented the workmen of the company at the late stage of the conciliation proceedings to support the cause of the dismissed workmen. The Government therefore accepted the Labours Union as the representing body of the workmen of the company and treating the present dispute as industrial dispute sent the reference to the Industrial Tribunal for adjudication. It may be that at first the case of the dismissed workmen was taken up by a third party and not by the workmen of the company but whatever might be the reason, the Labours Union ultimately espoused the cause of the dismissed workmen and as a result thereof, the present reference was made. I have no doubt that the Labours Union is a representative body of the workmen of the company and when such representative body took up the cause of the dismissed workmen, the individual dispute became industrial dispute. The Government was therefore justified in treating the present dispute as an industrial dispute and making he present reference. I therefore hold that the instant dispute is an industrial dispute and the Government was justified in making the present reference. It is to be noted that the company has not adduced any evidence on its side to prove that the Labours Union is not a representative body of the workmen of the company. No witness has come forward on the side of the company to say that the Labours Union does not represent the substantial portion of the workmen of the company. It may be that the proceedings of the union meeting might not have been recorded or conducted according to strict law but even if any proceedings of the meeting of the union is illegal, that does not mean that the action taken by the union as representative body of the workmen of the company becomes illegal as against the company. However, I am satisfied that the instant dispute is an industrial dispute and that this Tribunal has got jurisdiction to adjudicate upon the issue.

Now, I shall deal with the issue mentioned in the order of reference. I shall first of all take up the case of Mahitosh Sen Gupta. It is to be noted that on the question of merit the company has not adduced any evidence in support of the allegations made against the dismissed workman in the charge-sheet. At the time of hearing Dr. Bose on behalf of the company gave out that he would rely solely upon the enquiry and that if the enquiry was found ineffective, the company's case would go. Mahitosh Sen Gupta has been examined as P.W.2. He has denied the truth about the allegations made in the charge-sheet. He has stated that at the relevant period he did not leave his post and that he did not assault Sunil Kar as alleged. Regarding enquiry he has stated that he attended the enquiry, that he gave his signature on the records, the enquiry without reading them and that those records were not read over to him. He has further stated that he cross-examined the company's witnesses but he was not given any opportunity to make his own statement. His further evidence is that he wanted to examine witnesses on his behalf. He has been thoroughly cross-examined. He has admitted that he gave his signature on each page of the enquiry proceedings. He has proved the records of the enquiry proceedings. He has showed a particular portion of the proceeding and stated that the said portion of the writing was not there when he gave his signature. That portion has been marked Ext. E(1). Ext. E(1) includes the question to Mahitosh Sen Gupta by the enquiring officer as to whether he had any other statement to make and the answer thereto by Shri Sen Gupta was in the negative. This portion is clearly written in a different pencil and it has been written under the signature of the last witness of the company, Gan Bahadur. Apparently it appears that this portion was susequently added after the signatures were given on that page. The person who wrote out the enquiry proceeding has been examined by the company and he has stated that the portion marked Ext. E(1) was not written after the enquiry was over or after the signatures were given. He has said hat it was written before the parties gave their signatures.

I have no doubt to hold that Mahitosh Sen Gupta gave his signature on each page of the records of the proceedings after going through the writings. But the main grievance of the union is that at the enquiry Mahitosh Sen Gupta was not given opportunity for making his own statement in support of his case or to adduce evidence on his side through other witnesses. It is to be mentioned that in the records of the proceedings never has it been stated that the charge-sheeted person was asked to make his statement in support of his case, if any, or to examine any witness on his side. Dr. Bose has aruged that Ext. E(1) shows that the delinquent was given opportunity to give his evidence or to examine his witnesses and that he declined to take that opportunity. According to Ext. E(1) the question was whether the delinquent had any further statement to make. Now, this question was put to the delinquent after the last of the company's witnesses gave his answers to a question in cross-examination put by Mahitosh Sen Gupta. In continuation of the cross-examination if such a question is put to the delinquent, it certainly suggests whether the chargesheeted person has any other question to put to the witness in cross-examination. The question does not at all mean cleary to suggest that the charge-sheeted person was asked to give his own evidence and to examine his own witnesses. Moreover, in the facts and circumstances of this case I believe that the portion, Ext. E/1, has been subsequently added. In this connection we should consider the evidence of the enquiring officer himself. He is O.P.W.1. O.P.W.1 has stated during cross-examination that he asked Mahitosh Sen Gupta to adduce evidence on his side before the examination of the company's witnesses, and that after the examination of the company's witnesses he did not ask Mahitosh Sen Gupta to adduce evidence on his side. By adducing evidence, however, the witness meant producing witnesses. This statement of the enquring officer makes it clear that Mahitosh Sen Gupta was not given proper opportunity to adduce evidence on his side after the examination of the company's witnesses. Ext. E shows that at the beginning of the enquiry the enquiring officer assured Mahitosh Sen Gupta that he would be given all opportunity for his self-defence but, in fact, after the closing of the company's evidence the delinquent was not given any chance or opportunity to give his own evidence or to examine his own witness. O.P.W.1 at a subsequent stage of cross-examination wanted to better his position by saying that after the examination of the company's witnesses he asked Mahitosh Sen Gupta to make statement if he had any. The witness was intelligent and he could follow the implication of Ext. E(1) and that was why he tried to correct himself by saying that he asked Mahitosh to make his statement if he had any. I have considered the tangible evidence in his case as well as the circumstances and I hold that Mahitosh Sen Gupta was not given proper opportunity at the enquiry after the closing of the company's evidence to give his own evidence and to examine defence witness. This is an utter failure of justice. In this view of the matter I find that the domestic enquiry held against Mahitosh Sen Gupta was not proper and that the principles of natural justice were not followed. In the result, the finding of the enquiring officer becomes prejudicial and unacceptable.

When the enquiry has become improper, the question arises whether this Tribunal will find Mahitosh SenGupta guilty of the charge according to the evidence adduced here. The company has solely relied upon the enquiry proceeding and no evidence has been adduced regarding the merits of the company's allegations. Mahitosh Sen Gupta has denied before me the charges levelled against him. On the side of the company there is no evidence to support the allegations. The inevitable result would be that I must find Mahitosh Sen Gupta not guilty of the charge.

When the charge against Mahitosh Sen Gupta has failed before me, I would find the order of dismissal invalid and unjustified. The relief which Mahitosh Sen Gupta shall get must come in ordinary and due course. When the dismissal goes, naturally Mahitosh Sen Gupta shall be deemed in service and he shall be entitled to get all wages during the period of his non-employment. I, however, direct that Mahitosh Sen Gupta to report for duty within 15 days from the date of publication of this award in the "Calcutta Gazette".

Now I shall discuss about the orders of dismissal passed against Sm. Anima Gupta, Sm. Kamala Mukherjee and Sm. Minu Dey. Admittedly, the company has withdrawn the letters of dismissal and these three workers had joined their duties on and from 1st February 1966. The case of Minu Dey is a bit different and therefore I will take up her case last of all. With regard to Anima Gupta and Kamala Mukherjee it has been contended from the side of the company that in this reference when there is no mention about compensation, the Tribunal cannot pass any award for compensation because the company has already withdrawn the letters of dismissal. There is no doubt that this Tribunal has jurisdiction to decide whether or not the dismissal orders passed by the company against Anima Gupta and Kamala Mukherjee were justified. There is no doubt, of course, that the company has after the submission of the written statement by the workmen withdrawn the letters of dismissal. But still the Tribunal is to see whether the dismissal in question was justified and if not, whether the dismissed workers should get any relief. The company wants to say that on compassionate ground the letters of dismissal have been withdrawn. But the company has not produced any evidence to show how the order of dismissal was passed. No evidence regarding enquiry against the workers has been adduced. No evidence on merits regarding the charges has been produced and practically speaking no basis of charge sheet against the female workers has been proved. In these circumstances, I am only to hold that the charges were not justified and that the dismissal orders were not proper, when the dismissal orders are not found justified, and when, in fact, those orders have been withdrawn by the company, and the workers were allowed to join their duties on and from 1st February 1966, the only relief that can be granted to the workers in question is to allow compensation on the basis of their wages during the period of non-employment. I therfore direct that the company must pay compensation on the basis of monthly wages to Anima Gupta and Kamala Mukherjee during the period of non-employment. I do not pass any award on the question of dismissal because the dismissal orders have been withdrawn.

Lastly, the case of Minu Dey comes in. After the conclusion of the argument when the case was pending for award, Minu Dey appeared before this Tribunal and filed a petition on 21st November 1966. In this petition it has been stated by Minu Dey that she has no dispute with the company after her case has been considered by the company by giving her employment from 1st of February 1966. She wants to say in that application that she has no dispute with the company and that she intends to withdraw her case from the Tribunal. I have heard both the company and the Labours Union on this application.

The contention of the Labours Union is that the Tribunal has no jurisdiction to consider the application filed by Minu Dey and that the Tribunal is bound to give an award allowing compensation in favour of Minu Dey when the Union taking up her cause insists on it. There is no doubt that the Tribunal will not hear any individual dispute. No doubt there is that the union has espoused the cause of Minu Dey and others. Had the union not taken up the individual dispute of Minu Dey, there would have been no industrial dispute before this Tribunal but there is one difficulty. An individual dispute becomes industrial dispute when a substantial portion of the workmen take up that individual dispute. But in the present case Minu Dey personally comes and says that she has no dispute with the company at present after her case has been reconsidered by the company in her favour. She also does not like that her case should be considered by this Tribunal. When the dispute no-longer exists, how can there be any industrial dispute over the same issue? The industrial dispute depends upon the existence of the dispute itself. When the individual dispute regarding Minu Dey no longer remains, I fail to understand how the union or the workmen can still say that there is a dispute. The individual for whose grievance the union mustered strong in order to help her now comes and says that she has no grievance and that her grievance has been properly redressed. If this position is accepted, can other workmen who wanted to give relief to the aggrieved can still struggle without any grievance to fight for. The industrial laws have been promulgated in order to keep harmony and industrial peace in the field of business and industry. In order to achieve this purpose too much technicalities should be avoided. In the present case Minu Dey has now happy relation with the company and she does not like that her dispute should be further agitated. She has clearly stated that she has no grievance at present. In these circumstances, I fail to find any justification to allow the workmen to pursue the past dispute between Minu Dey and the company and to embarrass the position of the parties and also to ambit her the feeling between the employer and the employee. After hearing Minu Dey personally and also the parties, I am satisfied that there is at present no dispute over the dismissal of Minu Dey and that this Tribunal should simply a no dispute award on the question of Minu Dey's dismissal.

This is my award.

The Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, by its order No. 1084-I.R./IR/11L-31/66, dated 18th March 1966, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, this industrial dispute between Messrs. Bangabasi Cinema and their workmen to this Tribunal for adjudication. The issue involved is as follows :

Issue

Whether Shri Gopal Banerji should be regarded as the Chief Operator and, if so, what should be his wages and increments ?

After service of notices the Company and the Union appeared and filed their respective statements. During the hearing of the case the Union examined its Secretary Shri Sibnath Chatterji and Shri Gopal Banerji, the concerned workman. The Company exemined only its Manager Shri Nityagopal Ganguly. Both sides produced documents in support of their cases.

The Union contends that Shri Gopal Banerji was given employment in Bangabasi Cinema as Chief Operator, and he has been shouldering the responsibility of a Chief Operator all through. The Company described him as Chief Operator in several letters, and he was also made to depose on behalf of the Company as Chief Operator in a case before the First Labour Court. But since the publication of the Minimum Wages Notification on 16th May 1960, the Company has refused to pay Shri Banerji the basic pay and dearness allowance as prescribed for the Chief Operator in the aforesaid notification. The Union, therefore, claims that Shri Gopal Banerji should be given the wages as prescribed in the Minimum Wages Notification.

The Company pleads inter alia that Shri Gopal Banerji was never employed by it as Chief Operator. Though he was addressed as 'Chief Operator' in some correspondence by the Company, that does not bear any specific significance or value, and that it was rather 'a courtesy designation' because of his being more elderly in age, and not because of his efficiency or superior qualifications. P.W. 1 Shri Sibnath Chatterji, the Secretary of the Bengal Motion Picture Employees' Union, asserts that Shri Gopal Banerji has been working as the Chief Operator in the Bangabasi Cinema and he still carries on the duties of the Chief Operator with all responsibility. It appears from the cross-examination of Shri Gopal Banerji (P.W. 2) that he joined this Bangabasi Cinema as early as in 1936 and he was dismissed in 1953 from service. There was a case in a Tribunal over this dismissal and he lost that case. Thereafter he served under other cinema concerns as Chief Operator. In 1957 he was again employed in Bangabasi Cinema as Chief Operator. The admitted letters, Exts. 3 to 3(d) would show that even during the first part of service under this Cinema, Shri Gopal Banerji was addressed by the Company as Chief Operator in several letters, in the years 1951 and 1952. A certificate, Ext. 3 (c) has been filed by the Union to show that in Sisir Talkies Shri Banerji worked as Chief Operator. Next, we find that in the admitted letters, dated 3rd September 1957, 22nd September 1957 and 8th August 1959, Ext. 1 to 1(b), the Bangabasi Cinema addressed Shri Gopal Banerji as Chief Operator even after his employment for the second time. It also appears from the award of the First Labour Court, published in the "Calcutta Gazette", dated 30th July 1959, that Shri Gopal Banerji deposed there as a witness of Bangabasi Cinema in his capacity as Chief Operator. It also appears from this award that Shri Banerji held preliminary enquiry into an incident as Chief Operator. The Manager of the Company, O.P.W. 1 Shri Nityagopal Ganguly, says that as Gopal Banerji was older in age than the other operators who were in service in 1957, and as the Company had a mind to get a report regarding the responsibility of operators from one of them, that is why he was described as Chief Operator. So it becomes an admitted fact that Shri Gopal Banerji was not only an operator, but he was also given a special duty of looking-after the workings of the other operators, and the responsibility of smooth working in the operating department rested on him. By the letter, Ext. 1, dated 3rd September 1957, the Company directed Shri Gopal Banerji to report about the alleged damage done to a film by some of the operating staff, and in this letter the Company has used the words 'your operating staff'. The letter, Ext. 1(a), dated 22nd September 1957, shows that in this letter the Company wrote "As Chief Operator you are directed to enquire into the matter....." The Manager further says that Shri Gopal Banerji gave evidence on behalf of the Company in a previous case before the First Labour Court as the Company had got a report from him regarding an incident relating to dismissal of an employee which gave rise to that case. He says in cross-examination that Gopal Babu was given the designation of Chief Operator as he was entrusted with the supervision of work of other operators, and for making report about their work. From all these admitted letters and the evidence of the Manager, it has been established beyond doubt that Shri Gopal Banerji was working as Chief Operator in the Bangabasi Cinema.

It is also significant to note that Shri Gopal Banerji was being given a higher salary than the other operators. Admittedly, the other operators were getting Rs. 70 per month and Shri Gopal Banerji was getting Rs. 90 per month. His salary was being paid by 2 vouchers, one for Rs. 70 and the other for Rs. 20, as stated by Shri Banerji, and as stated by Shri Nityagopal Ganguly, the Manager of Bangabasi Cinema. The Manager says that because Shri Gopal Banerji is related to the Managing Director and also because of his having many children, he was given Rs. 20 as extra pay. It has been taken from Shri Gopal Banerji in cross-examination that he married the daughter of an agnate of Shri Sisir Mukherji of Janai, a Director of this Company. This relationship with the Managing Director is a remote one, and it is difficult to believe that because of this matrimonial connection Shri Gopal Banerji was given a higher salary. The Manager says that in the voucher this extra sum of Rs. 20 was shown as an allowance. It seems, therefore, that as Shri Banerji was working as the Chief Operator he was being given higher wages.

The trouble started when Government promulgated the Minimum Wages for the motion pictures' employees' as per the notification, dated 16th May 1960, which provided for higher pay for the Chief Operator. It was at that time that the Company first sent a letter, Ext. A(1) (same as Ext. D), dated 2nd December 1961, expressing that he was not the Chief Operator. It may be noted that the Company in the above letter alleges that Shri Gopal Banerji had been recently repeatedly describing himself as 'Chief Operator', but obviously this statement is not true inasmuch as the admitted letters, Ext. 3 series, would show that it was the Company which itself described him as 'Chief Operator'. It is also said in this letter that all the operators were being equally paid. But this is also an incorrect statement inasmuch as Shri Gopal Banerji had been getting Rs. 20 more than the other operators. Obviously the Company wrote this letter to Shri Gopal Banerji with a view to deprive him of the legitimate dues as Chief Operator after the publication of the Government Notification in respect of minimum wages for the motion pictures' employees. This attempt on the part of the Company to deprive Shri Banerji of his legitimate pay as Chief Opeartor of the Cinema concerned, though his services were being utilised in that capacity, cannot be justified.

The Company has produced the letter, Ext. 4, dated 3rd May 1965, written by the operators including Shri Gopal Banerji, to the Manager, wherein it is recited that since there was no Chief or Head Operator in the concerned their application might be sent to the Service Engineer for his opinion. The learned Advocate for the Company contends that by this letter Shri Gopal Banerji admitted that there was no Chief Operator in the concern. But the thing is that because the Company had been refusing to designate him as Chief Operator, that is why this statement was made in this letter long after the trouble had started between the Company and Shri Gopal Banerji. Hence this letter does not go against the case of the Union that Shri Gopal Banerji was actually working as the Chief Operator of the Bangabasi Cinema.

Considering the entire evidence on record, I find that Shri Gopal Banerji should be regarded as the Chief Operator of the Bangabasi Cinema. He is no doubt entitled to the wages according to Government Notification regarding minimum wages for the cinema employees. It was argued by the learned Advocate appearing for the Cinema Company that the Hon'ble High Court of Calcutta has passed an injunction restraining the operation of the Minimum Wages Notification. A certified copy of the order, dated 5th October 1961 passed by the Honb'le Court in the matter No. 246 of 1961. Constitutional Writ has been filed by the Company. But from this order it cannot be clearly ascertained that the interim injunction prohibits the implementation of the Minimum Wages Notification. It was contended by the learned Advocate for the Union that this injunction passed by the Hon'ble High Court relates to Overtime Wages only, and not the other portion of the Minimum Wages Notification. As there is no material before me to show that Hon'ble Court has restrained the operation of the Minimum Wages Notification, I find that Shri Gopal Banerji should be given the pay of 'Chief Operator' under the Minimum Wages Notification, provided there is no injunction order passed by the Hon'ble High Court in this respect. He will be entitled to draw the pay of the Chief Operator, if not barred by injunction order.

The Secretary of the Union states that the Union had an agreement with the Eastern India Motion Pictures Association of which the Bangabasi Cinema is a member, in respect of implementation of the minimum basic salary and dearness allowance of the employees, and a printed copy of this agreement together with the memorandum of settlement has been filed by the Union. The learned Advocate for the Company submits that if Shri Gopal Banerji be found to be the Chief Operator, in that case only the Bangabasi Cinema would be bound to give him pay in terms of the aforesaid agreement. If there be no injunction order by the Hon'ble High Court restraining the operation of the memorandum of settlement, embodying the provisions of the Minimum Wages Notification, then Shri Gopal Banerji should be given the pay and scale of the Chief Operator as provided by the terms of this agreement.

What should be the designation, scales of pay and dearness allowance of the following workmen ?

Sarbasree (i) Gopal Bhattacharjee, (ii) Mrinal Kanti Bose, (iii) Niranjan Paul and (iv) Anil Das.

After the service of usual notices, the Union on behalf of the workmen had submitted its written statement on 19th July 1966 and the Company had also submitted their written statement on 20th August 1966.

In the written statement submitted by the Union on behalf of the workmen, it has been alleged that Shri Mrinal Kanti Bose was appointed as a sirkar in the year 1959 and he was posted to work as a filing clerk and that Shri Bose was appointed as a sirkar when he was directed to work as a clerk in the cash department, which duty he had all along been discharging satisfactorily. It has been further stated by the Union that Shri Niranjan Paul was appointed in 1949 as a subordinate staff and was put to section known as Adroma Section of the Company, and he had to perform very specialised and very responsible duties which are the duties of a clerk of Grade B and that Shri Paul was entitled to get the wages of a clerk of Grade B and D.A. under the Bengal Chamber of Commerce Schemes for middle-class cost of living index. It has also been stated that Shri Anil Das joined the Company as a member of the subordinate staff in 1955 and soon after he was entrusted with various responsible and technical jobs of storing and maintenance of old records of the company in the central record room, and as such Shri Das was entitled to the wages belonging to the clerks in Grade B, though the company is giving him the wages of a peon. It has been stated in the same written statement that the four workmen concerned should be given the status of clerk of Grade B with D.A. under Bengal Chamber of Commerce Scheme for middle-class cost of living index.

In the written statement submitted by the company it has been stated that the company put Shri Gopal Bhattacharjee and Shri Mrinal Kanti Bose in Grade B of the clerical grade from 1st April 1966, to maintain good relations with the employees of the company, and that Mrinal was appointed in 1949 as a subordinate staff and was subsequently transferred to Adrema Section. It has been stated by the company that in 1960 Shri Paul (Niranjan), P.W.1 was transferred as a peon to assist the clerk operating the Addressograph machine in the share department, and he assists a clerk in the preparation of address plates which are embossed in a machine and which are run in another machine to print addresses on various correspondences and that he had not been assigned to do any type of clerical work. It is stated that Shri Paul had been given considerable recognition by way of extra annual increments and special allowance year after transfer to this section in 1960 and that he does not possess the requisite qualification as clerk. It has also been stated that Shri Anil Das joined this company as a member of the subordinate staff in 1955 in the company's record room and he for some time worked in the record section as an office peon assisting a clerk who retired in 1959 and that the work of Shri Das was merely to receive all old records for storage and put them in designated places in the record room and he had not to do any duty of clerical nature, because he is not properly qualified to work as a clerk. Shri Das was asked to undergo a test for suitability as a clerk when recruitments in the clerical grade were being made recently, but declined to undergo test. It has been stated by the company that the nature of the work as performed by Shri Pal and Shri Das is that of a subordinate staff, and as such, the claim of the union to put them in the B Grade of clerical staff is unjustified.

I have heard elaborate arguments advanced by the learned legal representatives on both sides. It is admitted before me that out of the four workmen mentioned in the order of reference, Gopal Bhattacharjee and Mrinal Kanti Bose have already been put in the clerical grade of Grade B; hence, therefore, there is no dispute so far as they are concerned. It is also admitted in the written statement, because in the prayer portion, there is no prayer regarding the fixing of grade and scale of pay of Gopal and Mrinal. The legal representative appearing on behalf of the union also does not press their case before me.

We are therefore concerned with the fixing of the designation, scale of pay and D.A. of Niranjan Paul and Anil Das.

At the outset, the learned lawyer for the Company has raised preliminary objection that the reference is illegal as the reference was made on 2nd June 1966, though on 31st March 1965, Messrs. Duncan Brothers Co. Ltd. and their workmen represented by Duncan Brothers Co. Ltd. Employees' Union filed a joint petition of compromise before the 6th Industrial Tribunal and the learned Tribunal passed an award, dated 1st April 1965, on the basis of the settlement. It will appear from the "Calcutta Gazette" of June 3, 1965 that the issues mentioned in the order of reference in that case, were (1) grades and scales of pay for the subordinate staff, (2) retirement age for the subordinate staff and (3) gratuity for the subordinate staff In the petition of settlement, parties bound themselves with the agreement that the agreement should be valid and binding on the parties until 31st August 1968. The learned lawyer appearing for the Company has argued that as that agreement is binding on the parties up to 31st August 1968, the present reference, dated 2nd June 1966, made at the instance of the same parties is illegal. I am unable to agree to this argument of the learned lawyer for the company. The issues in the order of reference appearing in "Calcutta Gazette" of 3rd June 1965 are not the same as the issue in the present reference. In the present reference, we are concerned with the issue as to what should be the designation, scales of pay and D.A. of the workmen Shri Paul and Shri Das. Whether they are clerks or peons we are not concerned in the present order of reference with the fixing of grades and scales of pay, retirement age and gratuity for the subordinate staff. The issue under reference is quite distinct from the issues in the award published in the "Calcutta Gazette" dated 3rd June 1965. I therefore hold that the present reference is not illegal, because a notice of two months of an intention to terminate the settlement had not been given under section 19(2) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947.

Let us first consider the question as to what should be the designation, scales of pay and D.A. of the workman Shri Paul. It is not disputed that Shri Paul entered into the service of the company as a peon (tea boy). It is admitted that the company—Duncan Brothers is under Messrs. Jardine and Handerson Co. Ltd. P.W. 3 Shri Maniklal Daw, the head clerk of the Duncan Brothers & Co. examined by the Union on behalf of the workman Shri Paul has stated that Shri Paul was in the share department and operates Adrema Machine now and that he was first employed as a tea boy for supplying water to the clerical staff in the tiffin room. P.W.3 admitted that Shri Paul works as Dilip's assistant and helps him, and also independently works in operation of the machine. According to P.W.3 Shri Paul does the machine operation in Dilip's absence. Dilip is admittedly a B Grade clerk. He admits that Shri Paul was given Rs. 5 as increment in place of Rs.2 by Mr. Menon and that Shri Paul gets D.A. of Rs. 115 according to Bengal Chamber of Commerce rate of working class. He further admits that since 1949, the appointment of clerk is being made after test and minimum qualification is generally insisted upon as School Final, and clerks who have not passed School Final have also been taken in. He has given his evidence that some other persons who are non-Matric also had been promoted as a clerk. In this connection, P.W. 3 has mentioned the name of Gopal Bhattacharjee, Dilip, Dhirendra Nath Mukherjee, Jibandhan Mukherjee, Sachin Chatterjee and Sailen Chatterjee and Phanindra Bhusan Roy. This fact had not been disputed by the Company. P.W.3 says that Niranjan told him that he read up to class VII or VIII and that Niranjan will not be able to write letters in English. Of course, in the same breath, he says that all clerks have not to write letters in English. Niranjan (P.W.4) has stated that he is working in the machine department of Duncan Bros. since 1950, though he entered into the service under this company as a tea boy. He has stated that he operates the Bradma machine which is also called Addressograph and that he received training from the Company for this work. He says that he works independently in the machine and that he is to write ledgers, registers and maintain the signatures of the Board of Management. In his cross-examination, P.W.4 has stated that he was sent to Bradma office for training by the Company for 3 months. Of course, there is no evidence to show besides his words of mouth that he was sent to Bradma office for training for 3 months. He admits that he got increment of Rs. 5 in place of Re. 1 in 1961 and an increment of Rs. 4 in place of Re. 1 in 1963 and 1964 and was given an allowance of Rs. 10 in 1962 which is given to everybody who works in the machine. He is working in the machine admittedly from 1965 before which year, there was no machine. He has put in a certificate (Ext. 4) and it was given by one M. L. Bhatia. This is a document of the company and has not been challenged. His evidence is that Bhatia has left the office. P.W.6 Santosh who is a clerk of the Estate Account Section of the Duncan Brothers Ltd. has also corroborated the statement of Niranjan that there are many old clerks who are non-Matric in the Company. P.W.6 is the Assistant Secretary of the Duncan Brothers Workers' Union. He signed the written statement on behalf of the workmen. Then one witness examined by the Company is O.P.W.1 Shri T.A.Ganesan who is the Office and Personnel Administrator of Duncan Brothers Ltd. He admits that he does not know the working of Niranjan Pal. He has not stated a word as to the competency of Niranjan to be promoted as a clerk. In fact, he does not know his working. He admits that a clerk had been promoted to the rank of officer who is a non-Matric. He does not challenge the letter (Ext.4) alleged to have been written by Shri Bhatia. It will appear from Ext. 4 that Bhatia wrote that Bhatia was asked to give certain reports regarding Niranjan. Ext. 4 will show that Bhatia had stated that Niranjan, peon, was promoted to the post of the machine operator last summer and that at that time there was oppositon from certain section of clerk that he should not be given to the status of a clerk. Ext.4 will show that the Company agreed that Niranjan should be given special grade. It is admitted in Ext.4 that Niranjan had been sent for training to Bradma for a few days to learn the working of a new machine. Ext. 4 will show that Bhatia considered that the opposition of certain clerks was absolutely unreasonable. Bhatia recommended that Niranjan should be given a special grade equivalent to the clerical grade in his capacity of the machine operator, though he need not be called as a clerk. It is therefore evident that some responsible officer of the Company also thought that Niranjan worked as the machine operator efficiently and should be given a special grade equivalent to that of a clerk. It was therefore unjust for the Company to force Niranjan to continue to work as a peon, after he was given training to work on a Bradma machine and after he was allowed to operate Bradma machine independently.

It is therefore proved beyond reasonable doubt that Niranjan has acquired competency as a machine operator and should be given a special grade and should not be allowed to rot as a peon. Niranjan was sent for training to work on the Bradma machine and he is working on that, though as an assistant to a clerk Dilip. It is also be to remembered that Niranjan's own witness stated that Niranjan is not able to write letters in English and that he could not pass the School Final Examination. Ext. 1 is a Memorandum of Settlement between Messrs. Jardine and Handerson and their employees represented by Jardine Handerson Staff Association, when the question of revision of the existing grades and scales of pay and other conditions of service on behalf of the staff comprising the clerical and subordinate staff, was raised. It was mutually agreed that the revised grades and scales of pay would be effective from 1st January 1965. Ext. 1 will show that besides the clerical grades, there is the grade of Bengali Sircar under Messrs. Jardine and Handerson Company. They are getting pay and D.A. at rates higher than the subordinate staff which includes peons. The revised grade and scale of pay of Bengali Sircar was agreed to be Rs. 65--4--105--5--165 (vide Ext.1). It is nobody's case, in order to be made a Sircar, an employee has to pass the School Final Examination. Niranjan is a peon and is drawing pay on the following scale—Rs. 35--1--40--1.1/2--46--2--70. In my opinion, Niranjan is entitled to claim the grade and scale of pay of Bengali Sircar, if not those of a clerk of Grade B. There is, of course, some difficulty in promoting Niranjan as a clerk of Grade B. He cannot write letters in English and he is not a Matriculate, but he has acquired efficiency and experience in the operation of Bradma machine. He is therefore entitled to get the grades and scales of pay of Bengali Sircar, viz., Rs.65-4-105-5-165 and also D.A. at the Beng l Chamber rate. It will be unjust and inequitable to force Niranjan to work as a machine operator and to rot as a peon. In fact, the officers of the company are also of opinion that he should given the status of a junior assistant or a special grade equivalent to the clerical staff in his capacity of a machine operator. As there is no special grade as shown in Ext. 1 equivalent to the clerical staff for a machine operator, I hold that Niranjan should be given the grades and scales of pay and D.A. of a Bengali Sircar, as shown in Ext. 1. The reference date is 2nd June 1966 and the awad in respect of Niranjan shall be made effective from June 1966.

Then, let us consider the case of the workman Anil Das. Shri Das is admittedly working as a peon in the record room. Shri Das—P.W.5 has stated that he notes the ledger numbers in the registers and places the same in the stock and informs salvation army for taking away the waste papers. He also stated that after Narayandas Chatterjee who worked in the record room as a clerk, he was doing the work of the records since 1959. He has said that he has been given a telephone on his desk and records are called for from him and he keeps them ready and sends the same to the departments. Shri Das says that he read up to Class IX. He could not pass the School Final Examination. As a peon, he thus reaches the records called for from different departments, enters the ledger numbers in the registers and places the ledgers in the stock. He informs the salvation army for disposing of waste papers. These are the duties which can be done by peon and do not call for the services of a clerk. He was asked to sit for a test for a promotion to clerkship, but he did not sit. This fact, we have got from T. A. Ganasan—O.P.W.1. O.P.W.1 is thoroughly a disinterested witness. I find no reason to disbelieve him. O.P.W.1has stated that Shri Das asked for promotion and he (O.P.W.1) asked Shri Das to sit for the test, but Shri Das declined to take up the test on the pretext that he had got working experience. He has further stated that 2 other persons appeared in the test and they are Dilip and Sudhansu Banerjee. Anil was thus asked to sit for a test for promotion to clerkship, but he declined. Shri Das himself has admitted this fact. He has stated that he was to sit for a test for promotion to clerkship. He does not say that he sat for the test. He has further admitted that Sudhansu and Dilip are also peons and that they appeared in the test for promotion to clerkship. He has further stated that Beni Sarkar is a peon of the file department and that Beni works as a peon and brings files and records and carries them in his absence. It is now apparent that the work which is generally done by Shri Das can be done by a peon. For this work, Shri Das cannot claim to be promoted to clerkship. Furthermore, he has not passed the School Final Examination. He even declined to sit for the test for promotion to clerkship, though he was asked to do so. He admits that other two peons passed the clerkship test, and were promoted as clerks.

The witness examined on behalf of the Union, P.W.3 Shri M.L.Daw who is the head clerk of the establishment section of Duncan Brothers & Co., has stated that since 1949 when their union was found the appointment of clerks was being made after test and minimum qualification is generally insisted upon as School Final. He has further stated that there was no clerk in the record room and clerks from the file section used to maintain and supervise the records. He has also stated that Shri Das used to work as a peon under Narayan Chatterjee who retired in 1959 and that after that when he wanted a clerk for the record room, the authorities informed him that this work could be managed by the peon. He has also stated that one peon of the file department—Beni Sarkar is deputed to work in place of Anil Das when the latter is on leave. He has said that the revised scales of pay were made effective from June 1964 and that Anil Das took advantage of the revised scales under the settlement award which is binding up to August 1968. If Anil Das is to be promoted as a clerk because he works in the record department and carries records and makes entries in ledgers then Beni Sarkar who also works in his absence should also be promoted as a clerk. If things go on in this way, no company would be able to manage the work. In my opinion, no specific case has been made up by Anil Das for promotion to clerkship. He is a peon working in the record room, and looks after the files and carries the records.

I therefore hold that the workman Shri Anil Das shall continue to work as a peon and he is not entitled to get the grades and scales of pay and D.A. of a clerk in B Grade as prayed for by the union on his behalf.

This Tribunal therefore directs that Shri Niranjan Pal,peon, shall be designated as Bengali Sircar and shall be promoted to the grades and scales of pay of a Bengali Sircar and will draw D.A. at the relevant Bengal Chember rate with effect from June 1966. This Tribunal further holds that Shri Anil Das, a peon, is not entitled to the grades and scales of pay and D.A. of a clerk in Grade B, but he will continue to work in his present capacity as a peon.

PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION, WEST BENGAL

General information relating to age concession, fixation of initial pay, etc., in respect of posts advertised by the Commission and instructions to candidates applying in response thereto.

General concession in age

(1) (a) For political sufferers: A candidate who before 15th August 1947 was detained, imprisoned, interned or externed on account of his/her activities in connection with the country's struggle for independence, not being convicted of an offence indicating moral turpitude, shall be entitled to a concession in respect of the upper age limit. The concession granted will be equal to the exact period of detention, imprisonment, internment or externment suffered up to a maximum of four years.

(b) For Scheduled Caste/Tribe candidates: The upper age limit is relaxable by five years for candidates belonging to Scheduled Castes/Scheduled Tribes.

(c) For Displaced Persons: The upper age limit is relaxable up to 45 years for displaced persons who have migrated to India from East Pakistan on or after January 1, 1964 This concession in age shall remain in force up to December 31, 1967.

The bona fide of the displaced persons will have to be certified by the Camp Commandant of the Transit Centre of the Dandakaranya Project or the Camp Commandant of the Relief Camp in various States or the District Magistrate of the area where the candidate may for the time being be resident

Fixation of Pay

(2) (a) For persons already in permanent Government service: If a permanent Government servant is permitted to apply and is selected for a post in open competition with outsiders, the initial pay will be fixed under rule 42 or 55 of the West Bengal Service Rules, Part I, as the case may be. If, however, such a recruit is prepared to resign his appointment under Government, before applying, he will be eligible to the grant of higher initial pay on the same basis as an outsider.

(b) For a temporary Government servant having no lien on any post under the West Bengal Government when appointed to a post carrying higher scale of pay: Such an officer shall be eligible to draw as initial pay at the stage of the time-scale in the higher post which is equal to his pay in the lower post, or if there is no such stage, the stage next below that pay plus personal pay equal to the difference, to be absorbed in future increments in the higher scale provided that he has already rendered at least three years' continuous and satisfactory service in the lower post. The aforesaid benefit of fixation of pay will not, however, be available in the following cases

(i) when the Commission has made a specific recommendation regarding the pay to be allowed to the Officer;

(ii) when under any specific rule such an officer is allowed a higher initial pay.

(c) For outsiders: Unless otherwise specified in a particular advertisement, higher initial pay on the basis of age, qualifications and experience (including experience outside Government service) may be allowed to a person not already in Government service, if the relevant advertisement contains a provision to that effect.

Instructions regarding submission of application

(3) Applications are to be made on the prescribed form which will be available from the office of the Public Service Commission, West Bengal, Anderson House (ground floor), Alipore, Calcutta-27, personally or on sending a large self-addressed envelope with stamps sufficient to cover the postage affixed to it. Candidates who are unable to obtain copies of the prescribed form may apply on any similar typed (not handwritten) form showing exactly the wording and spacing of the sample form published in the "Calcutta Gazette" of the 1st September 1955, provided the blanks are filled up in the candidates' own handwriting.

Particulars and certificates required

(4) Candidates should furnish evidence of their age, qualifications and previous experience together with certificates written not more than one year prior to the date of their applications, from responsible persons, testifying to their private character.

The Commission accepts only the age of a candidate as recorded in the Matriculation or the Secondary School Final/Leaving Certificate. In the case of a female candidate whose age is not recorded in the Matriculation or School Final Certificate, any of the following evidence of age is accepted by the Commission:

(1) A certificate from the Headmistress of the School, which she last attended, showing her exact age as recorded in the school register.

(2) An affidavit regarding her age sworn by her father or mother or some other person in a position to know by having been present or heard of her birth at the time of occurrence.

(3) A certificate regarding her age, from a Member of the Legislature or a gazetted officer, who must have known the candidate and her family, indicating clearly the evidence on the basis of which he/she satisfied himself/herself on the point.

Fee

(5) Candidates must enclose with their applications a fee of Rs 5 in the form of a receipted chalan from a Government Treasury or the Reserve Bank of India under the head "XXI—Miscellaneous—Receipts of the Public Service Commission, West Bengal". Money orders, cheques, etc., in lieu of treasury chalans are not accepted. Postal Order, however, may be accepted from candidates. They should be crossed and made payable to "The Deputy Secretary, Public Service Commission, West Bengal". No application will be considered unless accompanied with the requisite application fee, except as provided below.

Candidates abroad may deposit their application fees with the High Commission of India or the Embassy, as the case may be, and obtain receipts for the same, which will have to be attached to their applications to be submitted to the Commission.

Candidates in Government service should make sure before depositing fee that their applications will be forwarded by their superior officers.

In no case will the fee paid with the application be refunded, except as provided below.

The Commission may remit application fee in respect of genuinely indigent displaced persons from East Pakistan who have migrated to India on or after January 1, 1964. This concession in fee shall remain in force up to December 31, 1967

A candidate claiming such exemption must furnish besides evidence required under para.(1)(c) above, a certificate (in original) from a District Magistrate or a Gazetted Officer or a Member of Parliament or State Legislature to show that he is not in a position to pay the prescribed fee.

For a gazetted post, an indigent displaced person shall, in the first instance, pay the prescribed application fee, but if he/she is selected for and appears at the interview, the fee paid by him/her will be refunded afterwards. For a non-gazetted post, such candidates will not be required to pay the application fee.

Note: A member of the Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe claiming age concession must furnish with his application a certificate in original from a Gazetted Officer or a Member of Parliament or State Legislature belonging to the Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe, specifying the particular caste or tribe to which he claims to belong.

Address

(6) Candidates should give their present address and should communicate at once any subsequent change of address.

Canvassing

(7) Any attempt on the part of candidates to enlist support of their applications through persons of influence or officials of Government will disqualify them for appointment. Spontaneous recommendations from person interested in the candidates or otherwise known to them will be disregarded.

Forwarding of applications and submission of advance copies

(8) Applications from candidates who are in permanent or temporary employment under any Government, a Local or Statutory Body (e.g., Damodar Valley Corporation), in India will be rejected unless they are hubmitted through the appointing authority of their posts or service.

Candidates serving under Government or a Local or Statutory Body should submit an advance copy in the prescribed form. The application fee should in such cases be attached to the advance copy and not to the original. The candidature of such applicants may not however be considered if the original applications do not reach the Commission's office within a fortnight from the closing date. Unless applications in original or advance copies with application fees are received within the closing date, late applications may be rejected.

AWARD

By Labour Department, order No. 2751-I.R./IR/11L-348/64, dated the 15th July 1966, the Government of West Bengal, has referred the industrial dispute between Messrs. Lakshmi Flour Mills Ltd., 243 Upper Chitpur Road, Calcutta-3 and their workman, Shri Satish Chandra Saha, 22/3U Srinath Mukherjee Lane, Calcutta-30, under section 10, read with section 2A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, to this Tribunal, for adjudication.

The Company in its written statement filed on 23rd August 1966 alleges that the Order of Reference is bad in law, and is not maintainable and that the dispute under the Order of Reference is not an industrial dispute,inasmuch as the case of Shri Satish Chandra Saha hereinafter referred to as Shri Saha) was never (espoused by any workman of the Company, or any Union, and because section 2A of the said Act was not on the Statute Book at that time. It is further stated that Shri Saha is not a workman within the meaning under the provisions of the Industrial Disputes Act inasmuch as Shri Saha was an officer of the Company with effect from 1st July 1957, and was working in charge of time. Shri Saha is estopped from raising the dispute, because he accepted on 19th November 1965 a sum of Rs. 6,012.90 which was sent to him by cheque along with Company's letter No. 1277/65, dated 17th/18th November 1965 It has been further stated that Shri Saha was employed as a clerk under this Company from 19th July 1953 and was promoted to the category of officers with effect from 1st July 1959 and was designated as officer-in-charge of time office. His status, functions, duties and responsibilities were all along been that of an officer as distinct from those who were not so on and from 1st July 1959. It is stated that due to short supply of wheat, the Company had to reduce its working gradually from 3 shifts to 1 shift, and as such, it became impossible to retain a high salaried officer for the time office, and as a measure of economy, the Company was obliged to terminate the services of Shri Saha with effect from 1st October 1965 by a letter, dated 29th September 1965. Shri Saha in his letter dated 31st October 1965, raised several issues saying that he continued and still continued his service. The Company replied to all his letters and sent a cheque for Rs.6,012·90 to him on account of his services and other things. Shri Saha received the cheque and the letters of the Company on 19th November 1965 and cashed the cheque on 13th December 1965. The cheque for Rs.6,012.90 was sent by the Company in full and final settlement of all his claims and dues. It is further stated that after encashing the cheque, Shri Saha sent a letter to the Company on 25th January 1966 stating that he received the cheque under protest and requested the Company to reinstate him, or to pay him a further sum equivalent to 8 years service, and the Company in reply made it clear that he had received his payment in full and final settlement of all his claims and dues and that his so-called protest after two months of the Company's letter and cheque was of no meaning. It is stated by the Company that the termination of employment of Shri Saha is bona fide and as such he is not entitled to any relief whatsoever.

In the written statement filed by the workman Shri Saha on 8th September 1966, the workman has stated that the Company was previously known as Shri Lakshmi Flour Mills Company and in 1953 the name was changed into Shree Lakshmi Flour Mills Ltd., by virtue of a mutual settlement amongst the partners for their convenience. The services of the then employees remained uninterrupted and Narsing Das Agarwalla was the proprieter of the Company which was named as Narsing and Company. The workman Shri Saha was an employee in the Victoria Cotton Mills Company, Ghoosury, in 1939 as a time keeper and his service was appreciated by the authorities concerned. He was then transferred to Shree Hanuman Cotton Mill, another concern of Narsing and Company, and thereafter, his services were requisitioned by Shree Lakshmi Flour Mills Co., which was a newly purchased unit of Narsing and Company in October 1943 by way of transfer as time keeper. It is further stated that his work was highly appreciated by the management, but he was suddently served with a notice of termination on the alleged plea of surplus by Company's letter, dated 29th September 1965. Though the alleged plea of surplusage was false and mala fide, he was not surplus, as there are several junior hands whose services were not terminated. The provisions of the Industrial Disputes Act were not followed by the management in terminating his services. It has been stated that he protested against the illegal and malafide termination during his illness and when he went to resume duties on 31st October 1965 after recovery of his illness, he was not allowed to do so, and thereafter, he protested and made representation to the Company requesting the Company to allow him to resume his duties. On 17th November 1965 the Company sent a letter enclosing a cheque of Rs. 6,012.90 alleging the same to be his only dues. It has been stated further that the workman concerned was not an officer of the Company, and had to do all routine clerical work and had no administrative or managerial power as alleged, though he was merely the seniormost clerk of the Company in the time office. He had to do routine clerical work under the instructions of his superiors and had to maintain attendance register, prepare wage-sheet, make wage calculation, keep all records of Provident Fund Account, maintain E. S. I records and to prepare various returns for submission to various authorities amongst others. It is stated that the Company with a view to depriving him bonus at the rate paid to the clerks and to avoid annual increment, gave him the designation of an officer. He had not been paid any retrenchment compensation and whatever money he received, he received it under protest. It has been stated that there was no bona fide reason for retrenchment and he was retrenched illegally. In the written statement, the workman, has prayed for reinstatement with full back wages and continuity of service, and bonus and other amenities.

The issue under reference is as follows :—

> Whether the termination of employment of Shri Satish Chandra Saha is justified ? What relief, if any, is he entitled to ?

The first question to be decided is whether the present reference is bad in law and whether the dispute falls within the purview of the Industrial Disputes Act. The learned lawyer appearing for the Company has argued that section 2A of the Industrial Disputes Act was not on the Statute Book on the date of discharge of Shri Saha The learned lawyer for the Company admits that on the date of reference i.e. on 15th July 1966, section 2A was on the Statute book. Section 2A came on the Statute Book by the Industrial Disputes Amendment Act, 1965 (Act No. 35 of 1965). Section 2A lays down that where any employer discharges, dismissed, retrenches or otherwise terminates the services of an individual workman, any dispute or difference between that workman and his employer connected with or arising outof such discharge, dismissal, retrenchment or termination, shall be deemed to be an industrial dispute, notwithstanding that no other workman nor any union of workmen is a party to the dispute. This amendment Act came into force on 1st December 1965. The date of discharge, according to the Company, was 1st October 1965. It is of course true that in the Amending Act section 2A had not been given any retrospective effect It is, therefore, clear that on the date of discharge, i.e. on 1st October 1965, section 2A was not on the Statute Book, but on the date of reference i.e. on 15th July 1965, section 2A was operative. Section 5 of the General Clauses Act lays down that when a Central Act is not expressed to come into operation on a particular day, then it shall come into operation on the day on which it receives the assent. This Industrial Disputes Amendment Act, 1965, received assent on 1st December 1965. It is true that new section 2A cannot be given any retrospective effect, but the date of the Order of Reference is the relevant date in the present case. On the date of reference, section 2A was on the Statute Book, and hence I hold that the Order of Reference is maintainable and not illegal, and section 2A of the Industrial Disputes Act applies to the present case.

The next argument advanced by the learned lawyer for the Company is that the provisions of the Industrial Disputes Act, are not applicable to the present case because Shri Saha is an officer and not a workman within the meaning of the Industrial Disputes Act. The terms "workman" has been defined in section 2(s) of the Act. "Workman" means any person (including an apprentice) employed in any industry to do any skilled or unskilled, manual, supervisory, technical or clerical work for hire or reward, whether the terms of employment be expressed or implied, and for the purposes of any proceeding under this Act, in relation to an industrial dispute, includes any such person who has been dismissed, discharged or retrenched in connection with, or as a consequence of, that dispute, or whose dismissal, discharge or retrenchment has led to that dispute, but does not include any such person. .....(iii) who is employed mainly in a managerial or administrative capacity ; or (iv) who, being employed in a supervisory capacity, draws wages exceeding five hundred rupees per mensem or exercises, either by the nature of the duties attached to the office or by reason of the powers vested in him, functions mainly of a managerial nature. It has been urged on behalf of the Company that Shri Saha was an officer in charge of the time office and not a clerk. It will appear from the admitted staff file—Ext. L that Shri Saha used to draw D. A. of Rs.100 and a basic salary of Rs.250 in 1964-65. Shri Saha, P. W. 1, admits that from 1st April 1965, his D. A. was enhanced to Rs.150 from Rs.100. He further admits that by force he was made an officer of the Company in the year 1960. Though he used the words "by force", there is no evidence to show that any force was perpetuated on him to compel him to be designated as an officer Ext. E which is the register of attendance of officers, will show that from August 1960, Shri Saha regularly signed the officers' attendance register as an officer, viz., as officer-in-charge of time office, provident fund and E. S. I. From August 1960, he continuously signed the attendance register as an officer. His name appears in the list of officers which includes the Mill Manager, Assistant Miller, the Secretary, the Procurement and Production Officer, Sales-in-charge, Cashier, Accountant and delivery in charge. P. W. 1 Shri Saha admits that he signed this register maintained for officers, but he uses the words "by force". There is no evidence to show that P. W. 1 Shri Saha was compelled to sign this register by force. P. W. 1 Shri Saha is a literate gentleman, aged 50, and is not a child. It cannot be believed that he was made an officer by force and was forced to sign the attendance register of officers. The officers' pay register, Ext. N, also shows that Shri Saha used to draw the pay of an officer at the rate of Rs. 250 per month. His name is included in the list of officers like the Mill Manager, Miller Secretary, etc. Exts. S, S-1, S-2 are Bonus and ex-gratia payment files. Ext. S will show that Shri Saha drawing the pay of Rs.250 per month was given 3 month's bonus in 1960-61, and he seems to have accepted the same. Ext. S will further show that the clerks and other officers were given 5 months' bonus for the same period. Ext. S-1 will show that Shri Saha drawing a pay of Rs. 250 per month received 2 months' bonus in 1963 amounting to Rs.500. Along with him, other officers were also given 2 months' bonus in 1963. The same file, Ext. 1 shows that some of the clerks and other employees of the Mill received 4 months' bonus and 2 months' bonus. The name of Shri Saha does not appear in these lists of clerks and other employees, but his name appears in the list of officers. Ext. S-2 which is the bonus file of 1964 shows that Shri Saha received 2 1/4 months' bonus in 1964, amounting to Rs.562.50. His name appears in the list of other officers including the Miller the Mill Manager, etc. All these officers were given 2 1/2 months' bonus in 1964. This file has been signed by Shri Saha. Ext. S-2 will further show that other workers of the Mill received 4 1/2 months' bonus in 1964. Every page of this file has been signed by Shri Saha. This fact, therefore, excludes the possibility that Shri Saha was forced to draw bonus at the rate allowable to the officers of the Mill. In fact, he voluntarily drew bonus allowed to the officers of the Mill as an administrative officer. The staff salary register, Ext. 4 is admittedly written by Shri Saha. It does not contain the name of Shri Saha. Every page of Exts. S, S-1 and S-2 is signed by Shri Saha. Shri Saha could not cite any instance where a clerk was allowed D. A. of Rs.100 or Rs.150.

As I have already said, Shri Saha was the officer-in-charge of the time office, provident fund and E. S. I. That he was an officer is admitted. It is also admitted that he made recommendations in many cases as officer-in-charge. Exts. P, P-1, P-2, P-3, and P-4 are the admitted signatures of Shri Saha as officer-in-charge. These documents will show that recommendations as officer-in-charge were made by Shri Saha, in the case of provident fund, E. S. I. and time office clerks, N. Bhattacherjee. A clerk of Provident fund, E. S. I. and time office is certainly not entitled to sanction leave to another clerk. These documents clearly show that the entries in the staff salary register that Shri Saha was officer-in-charge of the provident fund, E.S. I., and time office, are correct. Exts. Q, Q-1 and Q-2 are the admitted signatures and recommendations of Shri Saha. Ext. Q shows that Shri Saha recommended change of duty hours of the clerk—Shri N. Bhattacherjee. It will appear from Ext. Q that Shri N. Bhattacharjee, a clerk of time office and provident fund prayed for permission to leave office at 5 p.m. instead of at 6 p.m., as he lived in a distance place. Ext. Q-1 shows that Shri Saha recommended the case of this clerk for favourable consideration to the Secretary of the Mill. One Ramendra Kishore Chakraborty, another clerk, applied for making him permanent, and Ext. Q-2 shows that Shri Saha recommended his case to the Secretary for favourable consideration. A clerk is certainly not entitled to recommend the case of other clerks for change of duty hours, or for permanency to the Secretary. Ext. Q-3 will show that Shri Saha recommended the case of one Abani Mohon Saha, a clerk for a loan of Rs.500 for house repairing and other purposes. Evidently, Shri Saha did it as the officer-in-charge. Ext. Q-4 shows that Shri Saha recommended the case of one Lakshmi Narayan Saha, a clerk of the Mill to the Secretary for his confirmation stating that he was sincere, honest and able. This recommendation was made by Shri Saha as the officer-in-charge, and not as aclerk. Ext. Q-5 is the admitted endorsement of Shri Saha. It shows that Shri Saha recommended the case of Lakshminarayan Saha for confirmation. Ext. Q-6 will show that one Shri K. Saha, a senior chemist, applied on behalf of his brother Shri Lakshminarayan Saha to the Managing Director of the Mill informing him that is brother is held up in Pakistan due to war and prayed for an extension of leave on behalf of Shri Lakshminarayan Saha, and Shri Saha recommended the case of Shri Lakshminarayan Saha. All these admitted documents will show that Shri Saha was working as an officer-in-charge of time office, provident fund and E. S. I., and not as a clerk. The statement of Shri Saha that he was forced to do all these things by the Company under threat of dismissal, cannot be believed, as there is no evidence in support of the same. Shri Saha has come with the case that he is working under this Company from 1939. He says that he first worked as Assistant Time Keeper in Victoria Cotton Mills under the same proprietorship of Narshingh Das Agarwalla and that Victoria Cotton Mills was taken up by Hanuman Cotton Mills under the same proprietor Narsing Das Agarwalla and that he used to work in that Mill and got a certificate of satisfactory work which is Ext. 1. Shri Saha has further stated that from there, he was transferred to the present Company in October 1943 as a time keeper and that when the Mill went under the Receiver, Narsingh Das Agarwalla himself purchased the Mill. P. W. 1 has further stated that in 1953, he came to the present Companyas a time keeper and that his service is continuous since when he served under Victoria Cotton Mills. This theory of Shri Saha is not supported by his own admitted evidence. It will appear from the admitted letter—Ext. A that Shri Saha was appointed under the present Company as establishment clerk and his services were confirmed with effect from 19th July 1953. In his letter, dated 21st October, 1965 written to the Company, Shri Saha admits that in July 1953, the Mill was taken over by the present Company and he was working there. Ext. J which is a letter written by the Company to the Accounts Officer of the Regional, Provident Fund Commissioner's office, West Bengal, shows that the Company has reported that Shri Saha joined on 19th July 1953 and was discharged on 30th September 1965. In that letter, the Company described Shri Saha as an officer. Shri Saha has admitted that by force he was made an officer of the company in the year 1960. I have already observed that there is no evidence that any force was perpetrated in him. He also admits that clerks are members of the Workers' Union of the Company and that he was not a member of the Union. Ext. L will show that in the staff file of Shri Saha, Shri Saha himself wrote that he joined the Company on 20th July 1953. Shri Saha admits that, though he says that he was made to write it under threat of losing his service. There is, of course, no evidence to show that any threat was given to Shri Saha for writing that he joined on 20th July 1953. In the privilege leave sheet Ext. L—Shri Saha accepted the position that he joined this Company on 20th July 1953. I must, therefore, hold that it is proved beyond reasonable doubt that Shri Saha joined the Company on 20th July 1953 as a clerk and from August 1960 he has been serving there as an officer-in-charge of time office, E. S. I. and provident fund. He was an officer of the Company and was working there in an administrative capacity. Though his wages do not exceed Rs. 500 per mensem, he exercises functions mainly of a managerial nature, though he was employed in a supervisory capacity. I, therefore, hold that Shri Saha does not come within the purview of the term "workman" and hence the provisions of the Industrial Disputes Act do not apply to this case.

The learned lawyer for the Company has argued that Shri Saha was estopped from making any prayer before this Tribunal, as he accepted all the benefits offered to him after his discharge by the Company in full and final satisfaction of his dues. He wrote the letter of protest, admittedly, on 31st October 1965 and this letter is Ext. D. He admits that he received a letter of discharge dispensing with his service with effect from 1st October 1965. This letter is Ext. C, dated 29th September 1965. Ext. H will show that Shri Saha filed the form for withdrawal of provident fund money under the Employees' Provident Fund Scheme on 13th January 1966 when he made the last provident fund contributions for September 1965, but before withdrawing the amount he has certainly protested against the order of the company dispensing with his services by this letter, dated 31st October 1965. Admittedly, Shri Saha encashed the cheque on 13th December 1965 for the amount paid by the Company on full satisfaction of his dues. On 25th January 1966, Shri Saha gave a letter to the Director of the firm complaining against his alleged unlawful termination of service and stating that a cheque for Rs. 6,012.90 had been received by him under protest. This letter is Annexure C to the petition to the written statement of Shri Saha. It will appear from Annexure C that Shri Saha asked the Company to pay his salary for 8 years at the rate of 400 per month on the ground that he had still 8 years service to attain the age of superannuation. I am unable to hold that Shri Saha waived any right to protest against his dismissal. There has been no estoppel as alleged by the learned lawyer by the Company.

The learned lawyer for the Company has argued that the action of the Company in dispensing with the service of Shri Saha was bona fide and the reason of discharge as shown in Annexure A was duly communicated to Shri Saha. The learned lawyer for the Company has futher argued that some other officers, viz., the Secretary and the Cashier of the Mill had also to be discharged due to stoppage of shift for non-supply of wheat by the Government. Annexure A will show that the Company dispersed with the service of Shri Saha on the ground that due to short supply of raw materials by the Government, the Mills had been compelled to run for one shift and the management has been constrained to dispense with the services of the surplus staff with immediate effect. The Standing Orders is appendix to the award passed in an industrial dispute between 13 Flour Mills of Howrah and Calcutta and their workmen, represented by the General Secretary, West Bengal Flour Mills Mazdoor Congress, and the Secretary of All Bengal Flour Mills Workers' Union published in "Calcutta Gazette", Volume II, 1949, at page 23, and shows that the Companies and the workmen were made subject to the condition by workmen, only persons employed by the Company (including apprentices) to do any skilled or unskilled, manual or clerical work, for hire or reward, would be included but officers and covenanted hands are not included. The reason of discharge as given in Annexure A was bona fide and Shri Saha's case was not a case of mala fide discharge. Ext. R will show that a notice on 19th June 1965 was given to the workers to the effect that the Mill would be working only one shift due to non-availability of wheat from the Government. Ext. R-1 is another letter, dated 12th July 1965, showing that the Mill resumed two shifts with effect from 13th July 1965. Ext. R-2 which is a notice, dated 31st July 1965, shows that the Company gave a notice that the Mill would be working only one shift from 2nd August 1965 due to drastic cut in monthly wheat quota by the Government In this notice, temporary hands were also discharged. P. W. 1 Shri Saha was asked as to whether the Secretary and Cashier were also retrenched after him, and P. W 1 could not deny this fact. I, therefore, hold that the Company had to dispense with the services of some of the staff due to stoppage of shifts and it cannot be said that the discharge of P. W. 1 was malafide, but this question does not arise, as I have already said that P. W. 1 was an officer of the Company and provisions of the Industrial Disputes Act do not apply to his case, as he is not a workman within the meaning of the said Act.

In the result, this Tribunal holds that as Shri Saha is not a workman within the meaning of the Industrial Disputes Act, is not entitled to any relief.

Dooars Transport, 134/1 Mahatma Gandhi Road, Calcutta-7 and their workmen represented by Carrier Transport Employees' Union of West Bengal, 249 Bepin Behari Ganguly Street, Calcutta-12, regarding the matters specified in the Schedule, to the Third Industrial Tribunal constituted under section 7A of the Industrial Disputes Act, by Notification No. 88-I.R./IR/3A-2/57, dated the 11th March 1957, for adjudication.

Issue

Whether the termination of service of Shri Ram Naresh Singh is justified ? To what relief, if any, is he entitled ?

On receipt of the Order of Reference, usual notices were issued on the parties and they appeared and filed their written statements.

In its written statement filed, the union stated that the concerned worker Shri Ram Naresh Singh, a Jamadar of Messrs. Dooars Transport at 134/1 Mahatma Gandhi Road, Calcutta-7, was summarily dismissed from service with effect from 28th April 1965 by the company by its letter of that date. Over the dismissal the union made representations to the Labour Commissioner and joint conferences for conciliation of the dispute over the dismissal were called by the Conciliation Officer, West Bengal. No conciliation, however, could be effected as the company did not attend the conferences. The dispute over the dismissal of Shri Ram Naresh Singh was accordingly sent to this Tribunal for adjudication. Union contends that the dismissal was illegal and unjustified as the company had no reason to dismiss him from service and the workman was not given any opportunity to defend himself and prays for his reinstatement with all wages and other benefits during the period of forced unemployment.

In reply to the Union's written statement Company filed its own written statement on 30th March 1966 and therein it has inter alia pleaded that as it has dispensed with the services of Shri Ram Naresh Singh for his utter lack of sense of responsbility and commission of various actions of breach of discipline, he is not entitled to any relief whatsoever in this case.

It is not disputed that Shri Ram Naresh Singh was a Jamadar of the Company and that by its letter, dated 28th April 1965, marked Ext. 1 in the case the company has dispensed with his services. In this letter, company also mentioned its reasons for dispensing with the services of Shri Ram Naresh Singh. I have carefully gone through this letter and I am satisfied that though in the letter the term "dismissal" was not specifically mentioned, it was a case of dismissal simpliciter, and it is admitted that this dismissal was effected not after a managerial enquiry but summarily. It is also not disputed that the company has not given Ram Naresh Singh any hearing before issuing the letter of dismissal. Stated in other words, Ram Naresh Singh was dismissed without any departmental enquiry or any chance to defend himself. In this view of the matter if the evidence as led by the company before this Tribunal fails to justify the dismissal, award directing reinstatement of Shri Ram Naresh Singh, must be passed.

The charges for which Ram Naresh Singh was dismissed was contained in the letter Ext. 1 which inter alia reads as follows :

"You have been observing your scheduled duty timing of leaving office at 19.00 hours, but yesterday you left office at 18.00 hours without intimating the office.

In a previous occasion you were warned for gross negligence of your duty, and therefore, the management is hereby dispensing with your services."

It will appear from this letter that Shri Ram Naresh Singh was dismissed (i) as according to the company he had, on 27th April 1965, left the office at 18.00 hours without intimating the office, (ii) as he was warned on previous occasion for negligence of his duty. To substantiate the second charge, company produced a letter of Air Link, dated 16th March 1965, marked Ext. A. This letter relied on very much by the company in support of its charge of negligence as contained in Ext. A was as follows :

"Dear Sirs,

Re : Objectionable behaviour of Shri Ram Naresh Singh.

We have already reported the unhealthy objectionable and unbecoming behaviour of Shri Ram Naresh Singh of your firm, who usually call at our office for collection of bills. His behaviour having crossed the limit of toleration we were compelled to bring the fact to the notice of Mr. Mithal, who personally came down to our office and witnessed the whole affair.

When we pointed out to him, that if we are to bear insult from one of your lowermost subordinate how could we continue business with your firm. Whereupon, Mr. Mithal assured us that he will take action in the matter as is deemed fit."

In this evidence before this Tribunal D.W.1 Shri K. Mithal, a Partner of Dooars Transport, made a pointed reference to this letter and said at page 1 of his evidence "Once Air Link Company made a complaint to me against Shri Ram Naresh. I went to Air Link Company with the Durwan. Air Link Company complained that the durwan was misbehaving with them and that they were going to sever connection with us. There Ram Naresh Singh admitted the charge of misbehaviour and expressed regret After that Air Link Company sent this letter Ext. A".

If this evidence of Mr. Mithal was true, certainly the company had received the letter Ext. A at a time when there was no reason for Air Link to write any such letter to the company. The words in italics above sufficiently indicate that this letter was written after the close of the incident referred to by Shri Mithal in the above lines of his evidence before this Tribunal and in these circumstances excepting for helping the company to fight against Ram Naresh Singh, Air Link could have no reason to give such a letter to the Company. Of course, the letter itself indicates it was given before the alleged expression of regret by Ram Naresh Singh, but Mr. Mithal was positive that it was given after the expression of regret. Then again, in the letter Mr. Mithal himself was mentioned as a witness to the objectionable and unbecoming behaviour of Ram Naresh in the office of Air Link but this fact again was not borne out by the evidence of Shri Mithal who has has in his evidence stated that he had been to the Air Link Office on receipt of the complaint. For all these and other glaring inconsistencies in between the evidence of Shri Mithal and the contents of the letter, and Shri Mithal's own admission before this Tribunal that after the expression of regret by Shri Ram Naresh, Air Link had sent this letter to them, I cannot believe the bona fides of this letter and I have not the slightest doubt to conclude that this letter has been fabricated by the company in collusion with Air Link to create evidence in support of its charge that on a previous occasion Ram Naresh had been warned for gross negligence of his duties. Shri Ram Naresh Singh has categorically denied the charge of misbehaviour in Air Link office and none from the office of the Air Link was called to prove the contents of the letter Ext. A. This is another reason for which I cannot believe the bona fides of Ext. A or Shri Mithal's statement regarding the complaint by Air Link and Ram Naresh's expressing regret for misbehaviour in the office of the Air Link.

The inconsistencies in between the letter Ext. A and the letter Ext. A/1 given by the company to Ram Naresh Singh on the basis of the letter Ext. A, also prove the malafides of both these documents as also of Shri Mithal's statement of taking Ram Naresh to Air Link Office and his expressing regret there. In the first paragraph of the letter Ext. A/1, company has alleged that they were repeatedly receiving complaints from their customers about Ram Naresh's misbahaviour when he had approached them for official work. But excepting the letter from Air Link nothing in support of this allegation could be produced by the company. In paragraph 2 of this letter which was by Mr. Mithal himself it was said that that morning (meaning 16th March 1965) Mr. Mithal had himself taken Ram Naresh to the office of the Air Link on receiving the complaint that that very morning that he had very badly behaved in the office of the Air Link and that there Ram Naresh had confessed that he had misbehaved very badly but these statements were very inconsistent with the facts stated in Ext A. For these gross inconsistencies bona fides of any of these two letters cannot be believed by me. In the letter Ext. A/1 there is a typed note to the following effect :

"I have received the original of this letter and I sincerely apologise for my behaviour. I now accept this warning notice and in future if such complaints are received, you may terminate my services."

In this evidence in cross-examination before this Tribunal Shri Mithal stated that he had not given Ram Naresh Singh any warning in writing and the letter also had not signed the note of apology in the letter Ext. A/1. On this evidence of Shri Mithal, it can be said that he himself was responsible for this note of apology in the letter and that this note was made with the idea of creating evidence to substantiate the allegation that Ram Naresh had been warned on previous occasion for misbehaviour.

It will appear from discussions made above that to justify the charge that on a previous occasion Ram Naresh had been warned for gross negligence of duty, company has fabricated not only the letter Ext. A but also the note of apology in the letter Ext. A/1, and as these were the only evidence besides the evidence of Shri Mithal in support of the second charge viz., Ram Naresh had been warned on previous occasion for gross negligence of duty and the evidence of Shri Mithal cannot be believed for the gross discrepancies between Exts. A and A/1 and between Ext. A and his evidence before this Tribunal, as had already been pointed out by me above, it must be held that in support of this charge, company has no reliable evidence. It had, therefore, no justification to take any disciplinary action against Ram Naresh for the second charge. Even if for arguments it be assumed that Air Link's allegation against Ram Naresh was true, still it must be held that there is no evidence to substantiate the second charge. "Misbehaviour" is not a kin to negligence of duty and accordingly even if Ram Naresh had misbehaved in the Air Link Office, as stated in Ext. A that did not amount to negligence of duty. But it had already been indicated that there is not only no reliable documentary evidence in support of the allegation of misbehaviour by Ram Naresh but also no oral evidence other than the testimony of Mr. Mithal, and the said oral testimony cannot be belived for reasons already discussed. It must, therefore, be held that the company had no justification to take disciplinary action against Ram Naresh for the second charge as mentioned in Ext. A/1.

Then comes the question of the first charge viz, Ram Naresh's leaving office on 27th April 1965 at 18.00 hours without intimating the office. One this charge also Shri Mithal was the solitary witness for the company. At page 1 of his evidence-in-chief Mr. Mithal stated that "One day in April 1965 I found Ram Naresh leaving the office at 6 p m. though the office hour is from 10 p.m. to 7 p.m. The other clerks and officers were then working. I asked Ram Naresh why he was leaving at 6 p.m., when office hour is 7 p m. he said that office hour is 8 hours' duty from 10 a.m. to 6 p m. and that he is leaving the office as duty hour is over and that you can do what you could do. Saying this he left."

Shri Ram Naresh Singh has in his evidence before this Tribunal categorically denied the allegations as made against him by Shri Mithal in these lines of his evidence-in-chief and stated further that his duty hours was from 10 a.m. to 6 p m. He also submitted that he has been victimised by the company on false charge as he was an active member of the union. Even if for argument's sake it be conceded that what Mr. Mithal had said in the above quoted lines of his evidence-in-chief were all correct, still there cannot be any hesitation to conclude that the dismissal of Ram Naresh was a clear instance of victimisation. It has already been held above that the company had no justification to take disciplinary action against him on the second charge as mentioed in Ext. 1 and paragraph 1 of this letter indicates that excepting 27th April 1966 Ram Naresh was not only regular in his attendance in the office but also observed the scheduled duty time of leaving office. It follows from these recitals of paragraph 1 and the findings already made regarding the charge No. 2, that only for the misconduct mentioned in paragraph 1, the company could have taken disciplinary action against Ram Naresh. For this misconduct company no doubt took action but the punishment given for the misconduct was not only unnecessarily severe but was seeking to the conscience as well. Leaving the office one hour before the scheduled time of duty is a minor misconduct which under no stretch of imagination can call for dismissal. Dismissal of Ram Naresh was, therefore, highly disproportionate to the offence as mentioned in paragraph 1 even if committed by him and I am of opinion that this very severity of the nature of punishment is sufficient for drawing the inference that Ram Naresh's dismissal was a case of victimisation. Same conclusion will follow even if it be conceded for argument's sake that Ram Naresh has committed both the misconducts as mentioned in Ext. 1 as neither warning on a previous occasion for negligence of duty nor his leaving the office one hour before the scheduled time of departure, nor the two together were sufficient justification for his dismissal. In support of all these observations I may refer to the case of Tata Oil Mills Co. Ltd. vs. Its workmen reported in 1963 II L.L.J. at page 78 wherein it was held, that "where dismissal or discharge is an unreasonably severe punishment for the misconduct, the very severity of the nature of punishment may be sufficient for an inference that it is a case of victimisation. A similar view was also expressed in the case of Bengal Bhatdee Coal Co. vs. Ram Prabesh Singh reported in 1963 (1) L.L.J. 291.

It was suggested on behalf of Ram Naresh that the management has victimised him for his union activities and in course of his evidence before this Tribunal Ram Naresh said "Towards the end of 1964 I joined the union. Since then I am realising subscriptions for the union and also arranging for the union. On 2 or 3 occasions Mr. K. B. Mithal, one of the Partner of the company intimated and also told me that my services will be terminated if I do not severe connection with the union." Though there is no evidence corroborating this evidence of Ram Naresh or union's suggestion of victimisation, still I cannot disbelieve the suggestion of victimisation as Management's fabrication of Exts. A and A/1 to make out a case of dismissal against Ram Naresh, and the extreme punishment of dismissal given to him for the misconducts mentioned in Ext. 1 which misconducts were certainly minor misconducts, lends strong support to these suggestions and prove that the company has victimised Ram Naresh by way of dismissal for his taking interest in the union activities. I have, however, already observed that the misconduct as alleged in paragraph 2 of Ext. 1 has not been established. Similar opinion must also be expressed regarding the first charge in Ext. 1, as there is no sufficient evidence for this Tribunal to hold that on 27th April 1965 Ram Naresh had left the office before the scheduled time.

In this evidence before this Tribunal Ram Naresh stated that the office hour was from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. with one hour's recess for tiffin. D.W.1 Shri Karmabir Mittal, however, stated that the office hour was from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. with one hour's recess for tiffin. It will appear from the evidence of both these witnesses that on the material date Shri Ram Naresh had left office at 6 p. m. If the duty hours were as stated by Ram Naresh certainly he had not committed any offence by leaving the office at 6 p.m. If, on the other hand, the duty hours were from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. as stated by D.W.1., certainly Ram Naresh has by leaving the office an hour before the scheduled time, committed the misconduct mentioned in paragraph 1 of Ext. 1. As the company has dismissed Ram Naresh for early leaving the office on 27th April 1965, without any charge-sheet and without giving him any hearing it was highly incumbent on it to satisfy the Tribunal beyond all doubts that the duty hours were from 10 a m. to 7 p.m. and not 10 a.m. to 6 p m The evidence adduced by the company, however, was too meagre and insufficient for this Tribunal to hold that duty hours were from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. No employee of the company, nor the attendance register of the employees maintained by it, was produced to substantiate the evidence of D.W.1 regarding the duty hours in the office. Only a notice of hours of work said to have been exhibited on 7th December 1964, was produced by the company to corroborate D.W.1's statement regarding the duty hours but this notice was not an original notice but was only a carbon copy of a notice said to have been exhibited on that date but there is no evidence indicating that the original of this notice was ever exhibited on the notice board or otherwise circulated amongst the employees of the company. In this view of the matter merely on the copy of the notice exhibited in the case, it cannot be concluded that the duty hours were from 10 a.m. to 7 p m. When the onus was heavily on the company to establish that the duty hours were from 10 a m. to 7 p.m., it should have examined some of its employees or adduced far more better and reliable documentary evidence than the copy of the notice instead of relying on the notice alone and should have also led evidence proving that the notice had been duly circulated amongst the workers or exhibited in the notice board, as in my opinion, the copy of the notice and the oral testimony of D.W.1 was too meagre and insufficient to make out the case that the duty hours were from 10 a.m.to 7 p.m. Moreover, the credibility of the evidence given by D.W.1 before this Tribunal has been greatly shaken by the in consistencies in between his evidence and the documents marked Exts. A and A/1 as also by the proved and established fact that both these documents have been fabricated by him to make out a case for dismissal of Ram Naresh. It must accordingly be held that the company has failed to justify the dismissal of Ram Naresh on the charge of misdconduct as stated in paragraph 1 of Ext. 1. No doubt under section 13 of the Motor Transport Vehicles Act, 1961, company has the right to fix the duty hours as stated by D.W.1, but in the absence of satisfactory evidence conclusively proving that the duty hours were as specified by D.W.1, this section can be of no help to the company. Even if it be assumed for argument's sake that the duty hours were from 10 a m. to 7 p.m. and that Ram Naresh had left the office on 27th April 1965 at 6 p.m. and his dismissal for leaving the office one hour before the scheduled time, cannot be justified as the severity of the punishment proves that the company had summarily dismissed him not for the misconduct but by way of victimisation.

In view of the discussions and findings made above regarding company's allegations against Ram Naresh Singh as stated in paragraphs 1 and 2 of Ext. 1, it must be held that Ram Naresh's dismissal was illegal and unjustified. The company is accordingly directed to reinstate him in service with all wages and other benefits for the period of forced unemployment.

This is my award, which is to be implemented within a month of its publication in the "Calcutta Gazette".

Issue

Whether the non-employment of Shri Bejoy Krishna Guha is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

On receipt of the Order of Reference, parties appeared and filed their written statements.

The union's case in short is that the concerned worker Shri Bejoy Krishna Guha was in the employment of Messrs. National Iron & Steel Co. Ltd., Belur, Howrah, hereinafter referred to in this award as the company, for about 20 years. On 10th June 1961 company issued to Shri Guha a charge-sheet of misconduct and called on him to show cause why disciplinary action should not be taken against him. By his letter, dated 13th June 1961, Shri Bejoy Guha denied the charge. Thereafter he was asked by the management to resign and go away which, however, was denied by him. Then Shri Guha became ill and went on medical leave from 17th June 1961 till the 1st of August 1961. On the expiry of the medical leave he was allowed privilege leave till 9th August 1961. After the expiry of his privilege leave Shri Bejoy Guha went to the factory on 10th August 1961 to report for duty but was prevented entry inside the factory premises by the Time Office and its staff and was told that he had been dismissed from service. On 11th August 1961 he again reported for duty at the usual hour, i.e., at 8 a.m. in the morning, but he was again prevented from entering into the factory premises. Thereafter he met the Labour Officer of the company and protested against in a way that he has been victimised. But he was told to leave the factory and to note that he had been dismissed from service and would not be allowed to enter the factory.

Since then he had no opportunity to be present in the factory at all. On 18th August 1961 he received by post a charge-sheet pretended to have been drawn on the 11th August 1961 but in fact posted on 15th August 1961. The same charge-sheet was also contained an order of his suspension. The matter was immediately brought to the notice of the Assistant Labour Commissioner by the union by its letter, dated 22nd August 1961. The Assistant Labour Commissioner asked the company to comment on this letter which the company did by its letter, dated 20th / 21st November 1961. In the said comments, company stated that it had made a departmental enquiry into the charge-sheet issued to Shri Bejoy Guha. No notice of the enquiry was given to Shri Guha and what had happened in the enquiry was not also known to him and the company has illegally kept him out of employment since 10th August 1961 for his union activities. The union contends that non-employment of Shri Guha since 10th August 1961 was unjustified, illegal and mala fide and prays for a direction on the company to reinstate him in his post and service with all back wages and other benefits since 10th August 1961.

In reply to the union's written statement, company filed its own written statement on 2nd May 1964 and therein it has pleaded inter alia that as Bejoy Guha has been found guilty of gross misconducts as contained in the charge-sheet, dated 11th August 1961, after a managerial enquiry held after service of proper notice to Shri Bejoy Guha and on the findings of the managerial enquiry he is liable to be dismissed from the service of the company, he is not entitled to any relief whatsoever in the case. The Company has stated further that in view of certain conciliation proceedings relating to Shri Bejoy Guha, it has not as yet passed its final orders of findings of the enquiry, but it has kept him under suspension without pay in pursuance of the order of suspension given to him in the charge-sheet, dated 11th August 1961. Company has denied Shri Guha's allegation that on 10th and 11th August 1961 he had reported for duty but was not allowed entrance in the factory and was told that he had been dismissed and submitted that Shri Guha had worked in the factory on both the dates but was suspended on 11th August 1961 in view of the seriousness of the charges brought against him in the charge-sheet of that date. On these and other grounds, company opposed Shri Guha's prayers for reinstatement.

It is not disputed that Shri Guha was an old employee of the company and was, on 10th February 1961, served with the charge-sheet marked Ext. 1 in the case. By this charge-sheet Shri Guha was asked to show cause why disciplinary action should not be taken against him for his disobedience to his superior's orders as outlined in it. On 13th June 1961 Shri Bejoy Guha submitted his explanation which is Ext. 2. After submitted this explanation Shri Guha went on medical leave from 17th June 1961 till 1st of August 1961 and it is not disputed that he was further allowed privilege leave up to and including 9th August 1961. In paragraph 7 of its written statement filed, the company has hinted that there was no justification for Shri Guha's going on medical leave from 17th June 1961 to 1st August 1961 and that his going on leave for the period on medical ground was motivated by his desire to delay of the enquiry on the charge-sheet Ext. 1. Comapny has also stated in this paragraph that his absence on privilege leave till 9th August 1961 was also unwarranted but no evidence to justify these suggestions was led on behalf of the company. Company's allegation that the privilege leave was unwarranted or that Shri Guha had gone on medical leave on false ground to delay the enquiry into the charge Ext. 1(a) must, therefore, be overruled. Shri Bejoy Guha replied to the charge on 13th June 1961, and it is nobody's case that on receipt of Shri Guha's explanation and before his going on medical leave, company has issued any order directing enquiry into the charge-sheet marked Ext. 1 in the case or suspending him from service with effect from the date of issue of the charge-sheet Ext. 1. On the expiry of his privilege leave, Shri Guha was therefore competent to join the factory and as a matter of fact he did actually go there on 10th August 1961. In the written statement filed on behalf of the union it has been stated that on 10th August 1961 as also on 11th August. 1961, Shri Guha had gone to the factory to resume his office but was not permitted to enter the factory by the Time Office. It was also said by Shri Guha that on 10th August 1961 his friend Burdhan Babu told him that he had been dismissed from service. His further statement before the Tribunal was that one Mitra Babu of the Time Office had on 11th August 1961, told him about his dismissal in presence of Shri Ganesh Bhattacharji and Shri Ram Krishna Ghosh and that that very day Shri Jha, Labour Officer of the company, had also told him about his dismissal. In view of the company's specific case that Shri Bejoy Guha had worked in the factory both on the 10th and 11th August 1961 and that on the 11th August 1961 a charge-sheet of misconduct containing order of his suspension with immediate effect was handed over to him in the factory, the question whether Shri Bejoy Guha had or had not done his works in the factory on those days is of very much importance in his case. In this context it may be mentioned that company is fighting the issue under reference on the plea that Shri Guha had been suspended from service with effect from 11th August 1961.

Burdhan Babu referred to by Shri Guha in his evidence as one of his informants about his dismissal, and Shri Ganesh Bhattacharji and Shri Ram Krishna Ghosh said to be present when Shri Guha was told about his dismissal by Shri Mitra, as also Shri Jha, the Labour Officer of the company, have deposed in this case as witnesses for the company respectively as D.W.4, D.W.2, D.W 3 and D.W.10. D.W.2 and D.W.3 categorically denied having told Shri Guha anything about his dismissal either on the 10th or 11th August 1961. These D. W.2 and 3 also stated that on 10th August 1961 Shri Bejoy Guha had worked in the factory. Similar statement was also made by Shri Bireswar Banerji, in-charge of the Time Office at the material time. Notwithstanding the evidence of all these three persons regarding Shri Bejoy Guha's attendance in the factory on 10th and 11th August 1961, I cannot disbelieve Shri Guha's evidence that on none of those days he was allowed to join his duties even though he had reported for duty, as I will presently show that all these three witnesses for the company have no regard for truth and have intentionally given incorrect statements to support the company's case.

On 13th December 1965 the union filed a petition for production of certain documents including the daily punching cards of the workers and their attendance registers, by the company. An objection to the petition was filed by the company but the objection was overruled and by Order No. 34, dated 16th February 1966, the company was directed to produce the documents before this Tribunal by 14th March 1966. No document was, however, filed on that date by company and by order of that day, time for filing of the document was extended till 13th April 1966. On 13th April 1966 company filed two of the four items of documents mentioned in the union's petition, dated 16th February 1966, together with a petition setting forth the grounds for their non-production of the other two items of documents, viz., the attendance registers and the punching cards. In this petition the company stated that there being about 2,000 workers, and the attendance registers and the punching cards being separate for each month, the attendance registers and punching cards for 1961 cannot be traced out and so it is unable to produce the same. In its affidavit in support of its objection to the union's petition for production of the documents, the company also stated that the records referred to in the union's petition for production of documents, relate to the year 1961 and excepting the wages register for 1961 and 1962 it is difficult to trace out the old records of 1961 relating to individual worker in view of the huge records maintained by the company relating to the workers whose present strength is about 2,000. This affidavit was sworn by Shri Tarini Prasad Jha, Labour Officer of the company and a witness for the company in the instant case. In view of this explanation given by the company for its inability to produce the attendance registers and the punching cards of the workers, union's petition,dated 30th April 1966, for striking out the defence of the company rejected but it was made explicit in order No. 41, dated 29th May 1966, that in case the company fails to substantiate the explanation for non-production of the documents at the time of the trial, this Tribunal will be at liberty to draw an inference adverse to the company from the non-production of the documents. To substantiate the explanation given for the non-production, the company examined during trial three withnesses viz., D.W.1 Shri Birewswar Banerji, D.W.2 Shri Ram Krishna Ghosh and D.W.3 Shri Ganesh Bhattacharji. At page 1 of his evidence-in-chief before this Tribunal on 12th October 1966, Shri Bireswar Banerji stated :

"4 or 5 months before this date Shri Jha received an order from the Labour Office to find out the attendance record and registers of 1961. That order was sent to me for communication and I directed my assistants to find out the same. Due to disturbances in 1962 attendance registers and records are kept in our record room and I directed my assistants to go to the record room and search for the attendance record of 1961. They accordingly went there but could get only some records and not the entire of 1961. Shri Ram Krishna Ghosh and Shri Ganesh Bhattacharji were my assistants who were directed to sarch the attendance record and registers of 1961."

Similar statements were also made by D.Ws.2 and 3 in their evidence-in-chief. As these three witnesses have deposed about the attendance registers and punching cards called for from the company, it can be said that the positive case of the company regarding these documents during trial was that these documents could not be produced as they had been destroyed or misled during disturbances in the factory in October 1962. That there was a serious disturbance in the factory in the first part of October 1962, was an admitted fact and in course of his evidence in cross-examination Shri Bireswar Banerji stated "Since disturbance in 1962 only attendance registers of 2 months' old are kept in the factory but the rest are sent to record room for preservation. Prior to the disturbance on 3rd October 1962, in the factory, the attendance registers were kept in the factory but since disturbance only two months' old attendance registers and other records are kept inthe factory. I cannot say if at the time of dehspatch of records after the disturbance, attendance registers of August 1961 or of early periods were also sent. No list of records or attendance registers sent to the record room after the disturbance as per order of despatch of more than 2 months'old records and attendance registers to the records room, was prepared at the time they were sent to the record room. I cannot remember what particular records were sent to the record room on the first occasion after the disturbance. From the record room we did not get any receipt indicating the nature of records received there from our Time Office. Most probably, in the early part of November 1962 the first remittance of records and attendance reisters to the record room, was made."

It will appear from the above lines of the cross-examination of D.W.1 that Shri Bireswar Banerji in-charge of the Time Office, was notv ery sure whether the attendance registers and punching cards of 1961 had been sent to the record room after the October disturbance, but still D.Ws.2 and 3 were deputed by him to search the record room for the attendance register and punching cards of August 1961. There is also not an iota of evidence on record indicating destruction of anyattendance registers or punching cards during the August disturbances. These registers as also the punching cards were in the Time Office and though D.W.1's own evidence indicates that he was in the time office all throughout the disturbance, he has not said any word indicating the destruction of attendance records or registers or punching cards kept in the time office during the disturbance.

In this view of the matter the evidence of D.Ws. 2 and 3 to the effect that they had searched the time office but could not get any of them is of no value to the company. Moreover, there is no document indicating their despatch of attendence registers or punching cards maintained in the time office to the record room or of any order for such despatch or for search of the record room for the attendance registers and the punching cards. There is also no document showing the result of the search in the record room for these documents, if any, made by these witnesses D.Ws. 2 and 3. In this view of the matter the evidence of D.Ws.2 and 3 to the effect that under direction of the Labour Officer of the company, D.W.4 had directed D.Ws.2 and 3 to search the record room to trace out the attendance registers and punching cards for August 1961 relating to Shri Guha and that D.Ws. 2 and 3 could not in search get any of these documents, cannot be believed. As a witness for the company Shri Jha, Labour Officer of the company, has not also said that he had ever directed D.W.1, in-charge of the time office, to search the record room for tracing out the attendance registers and the punching cards of August 1961. The explanation, the company has given for the non-production of these documents, viz., attendance registers and the punching cards of Shri Bejoy Guha in August 1961, very material documents for adjudication of the issue under consideration, cannot for all these reasons be accepted and I hold that the company has intentionally withheld them as it knew that if produced these documents would support Shri Guha's contention that he had not been allowed to work in the factory on the 10th and 11th August 1961.

It will appear from the pleadings of the parties that immediately after the charge-sheet, dated 11th August 1961, to Shri Guha, the later had approached the Labour Commissiner of the Government of West Bengal, for relief. Company was thus well aware from long before the October disturbance in 1962 that Shri Bejoy Guha will not easily swallow the suspension but will fight tooth and nail to disprove the charges as contained in the charge-sheet, dated 11th August 1961. On 14th August 1961 the General Secretary of the Union sent a letter to the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Ext. 2(a) in the case complaining inter alia that on 11th August 1961 at 8 a.m., Shri Bejoy Krishna Guha had again offered himself for resumption of duty but was opposed by the time office and was advised to see Shri Tarini Prasad Jha, Labour Officer. It was further stated in this letter that on the above advice from the time office Shri Bejoy Guha had met Shri Jha in his office at 10 a.m. and requested him to allow him to resume his duty, but the latter had not listen to his case. This letter Ext. 2(a) was preceded by the letter Ext. 2 wherein the union had claimed that on 10th August 1961 Shri Bejoy Guha had reported himself at the factory for resumption of his duty, but was not allowed to do so. It is not disputed that copies of these two letters were sent to the company by the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Government of West Bengal, under a covering memo [vide Ext. 1(d)]. On the basis of these three letters it can be said that as early as on 20th November 1961, the date of the letter Ext. 1(d), company was aware that Shri Bejoy Guha has seriously challenging its assertion that on 10th and 11th August 1961 he had worked in the factory and was trying to make out a case that on both these days he had offered himself for duty but was not allowed entrance inside the factory. It is impossible to believe that with this knowledge of Shri Guha's contention regarding his attendance in the factory, company would not take steps to preserve records of attendance on 10th and 11th August 1961, more so, when it was its specific case that on 11th August 1961 it had served on Shri Bejoy Guha the charge-sheet containing the order of suspension with immediate effect. For these reasons also I cannot accept the explanation given by the company for non-production of the attendance registers and punching cards of Shri Bejoy Guha for August 1961 and I hold that these documents have been intentionally withheld by the company as it definitely knew well that its case that Shri Bejoy Krishna Guha has done his duties on these days, will be belied by these very documents. The attendance register and the punching card were the best material in company's possession to substantiate its assertion that on both the days, Shri Bejoy Guha had worked in the factory, and when this very best evidenced has been intentionally withheld by the company, I cannot believe that oral testimony of D.Ws.1, 2 and 3 regarding Shri Bejoy Guha's working in the factory on those days. That Shri Bejoy Guha has not worked in the factory on any of those days, will also be evident from the Leave Register marked Ext. 1 in the case. This exhibit contains entry indicating discharge/dismissal of Shri Guha on 17th June 1961. This entry was proved by D.W.9 Shri Bireswar Banerji who worked in the leave section of the establishment department of the company in 1961. In his evidence-in-chief D.W.9 said, "the date 17th June 1961 in red as also the name of Bejoy Guha in this leave register was written by Dinesh Majumdar, my assistant in the establishment. The entries in red under the heading date and amount of payment, etc., in this register were in my own hand. Subsequently these entries as also the date 17th June 1961 were penned through by me as they were found incorrect and initialled."

At page 4 of his evidence in cross-examination D.W.1 Shri Bireswar Banerji stated that whenever a worker is discharged, a discharge slip relating to him comes to his office and this slip is written as "D/S" or "D/Slip" for abbreviation, and in the attendance register against the worker concerned entry "D/Slip" is made. This witness also stated in cross-examination that discharge slip with the office records of workers' attendance made from the attendance registers is returned to the establishment from his office but not under any Peon Book. In Ext. E/1, D/S was written in red but subsequently it was penned through and D.W.9 has in his evidence said that this entry D/S had also been penned through by him as a mistake. But as Shri Majumdar, the maker of all these entries in Ext. E/1 subsequently penned through by D.W.9, was not called to explain under what circumstances he had made all these entries. D.W.9's statement that all these entries had to be penned through as they were incorrect cannot be accepted by me. It is impossible to believe that Shri Majumdar had made these entries indicating discharge/dismissal of Shri Bejoy Guha with effect from 17th June 1961 without any basis for the entries and the fact that the company has not taken any steps against him for the entries, said to be erroneous by D.W.9, also indicates the mala fide of D.W.9's statement that these entries indicating discharge/dismissal of Shri Bejoy Guha were all incorrect and in my opinion these entries indicating dismissal of Shri Bejoy Guha with effect from 17th June 1961 corroborate his statement that on 10th or 11th August 1961 he had not been allowed access to the factory for his duties and also supplies the motive for the company's refusing him work on both the days. Company has no doubt produced its wage registers, Provident Fund Register, Return of Contribution Card (Ext. K) and Shri Bejoy Guha's wages slip (Ext. F) for August 1961 to indicate that on two days in August, viz., on 10th or 11th August 1961 he had worked in the factory but as the wages register and Provident Fund Registers and the Wage Slip (Ext. F) were company's own documents and admittedly Shri Bejoy Guha had not received any payment for two days in August 1961 and the return of contribution card cannot in any way indicate Shri Guha's work in the factory on two days, it must be said that in support of his contention Shri Guha worked in the factory on 10th or 11th August 1961, Company has no reliable document. Moreover, the entries in the wages register, Provident Fund Register and the wage slip relating to Shri Bejoy Guha cannot also stand the test of scrutiny. It is not disputed that up to the 9th August 1961 Shri Bejoy Guha was on privilege leave. As privilege leave cannot be leave without wages if Bejoy Guha had really worked on 10th and 11th August 1961, he had earned his wages for 11 days of August and not two days as shown in the wage register marked Ext. H entries in the wage register and wage slip indicating that Shri Bejoy Guha had earned wages for two days only in August 1961, were, therefore, palpably wrong entries. His Provident Fund Account in the Provident Fund Register also indicates that contributions to his provident fund accounts for 1961 were also worked out on the basis that he had only earned two days' wages for August 1961. For this palpable incorrectness in the entries in the Provident Fund Register, wage register and the wage slip of Shri Bejoy Guha no reliance on any of these entries can be placed by me and I hold that these entries have been fraudulently made by the company obviously to defeat Shri Bejoy Guha's claim in the case and they cannot, in my opinion, in any way counteract the original entries in the Leave Register showing dismissal/discharge of Shri Bejoy Guha with effect from 17th June 1961. These original entries in the leave register Ext. E/1 have no doubt been subsequently penned through by D.W.9 and he has also in his own hand made certain entries against July onwards in this Ext. E/1 but as the clerk responsible for making the entries subsequently penned through by D.W.9 was intentionally withheld by the company and no explanation even was called from him for his making these alleged gross mistakes, no reliance I can place on the entries inthe leave registers subsequent to June 1961 or on D.W.9's uncorroborated sworn testimony that he had penned through these entries and had also made the entries against July onwards because the entries indicating discharge or dismissal was wrong.

It follows from discussions made above that to defeat Shri Bejoy Guha's claim for reinstatement company has not only withheld his attendance registers and punching cards for the relevant period but has also temperd with the entries in the leave register, made fictitious entries in the wages register and Provident Fund Register and has also fabricated wage slip. Company's case that Shri Bejoy Guha has worked in the factory on 10th and 11th August 1961, cannot, in these circumstances be believed, and I hold that on both the dates Shri Bejoy Guha had gone to the factory but was not allowed to join.

In the written statement filed on behalf of the company, it has been stated that Shri Bejoy Guha had joined the office both on the 10th and 11th August 1961 but was compelled to leave the factory premises in the afternoon of the day, i.e., 11th as he had been suspended with effect from that day pending enquiry into the misconducts mentioned in the charge-sheet marked Ext. 4 in the case. As evidence has come, it can be said that the charge-sheet was served on Bejoy Guha a few days after 11th August 1961. No satisfactory explanation for this undue delay to serve the charge-sheet on Shri Bejoy Guha has given on behalf of the company, and I am of opinion that this delay in serving the charge-sheet indicates the mala fides of the charge-sheet as also the order of suspension contained in it. It is true no doubt that Shri Bireswar Banerji (D.W.1) for the company has said that before tiffin hours of 11th August 1961, he had received from the management the suspension order of Bejoy Guha and had himself informed him that he had been suspended and charge-sheet had been received against him and asked him to receive the charge-sheet but he had refused to take the same. But as no corroboration to this evidence of this witness is forthcoming and it is now established that Shri Bejoy Guha was not even allowed access into the factory on 11th August 1961, this evidence of D.W.1 Shri Bireswar Banerji, I cannot believe, and I am of opinion that to contract Bejoy Guha's claim for reinstatement company has manipulated the charge-sheet Ext. 4 containing the order of suspension of Bejoy Guha with effect from 11th August 1961. This charge-sheet Ext. 4 was practically the charge-sheet Ext. 1 issued to Bejoy Guha on 10th June 1961, with an additional charge of misconduct that he was habituated to attend the factory in late hours which is gross violation of the factory rules. As it is in evidence that Shri Bejoy Guha had gone on leave shortly after the charge-sheet Ext. 1 and was on leave up to 9th August 1961, there cannot be the slightest hesitation to conclude that this added charge of habitual late attendance in office, in Ext. 4 was without any basis whatsoever and was introduced in Ext. 4 as the management did not consider the other charges in this Ext. 4 sufficient for suspending him from service pending enquiry. Ext. 1 contained the other two charges mentioned in Ext. 4 but on that occasion the mangement did not consider the charges of misconduct as mentioned in Ext. 1 sufficient for suspending Bejoy Guha form service and hence I say that the additional charge of habitual late attendance in office was included in Ext. 4 to make out a ground for suspending Bejoy Guha from service pending enquiry. I say that this additional charge had no basis because Ext. 1 did not contain this charge and in between this charge-sheet Ext. 1 and Ext. 4 Bejoy Guha had attended the office only for 9 days even if it be assumed that he had done his works on 10th and 11th August 1961. But no material indicating his late attendance on any day during this period of 9 days was produced on behalf of the company. Even if it be assumed though there is no material for such assumption that Bejoy Guha was late on some days during the short period, the late attendance could not constitute habitual late attendance and absence of any charge for ate attendance in Ext. 1 indicates that up to the date of this charge-sheet Ext. 1, company had no material to proceed against Bejoy Guha for habitual late attendance. For all these reasons I say that the allegation of additional misconduct, viz. habitual late attendance in Ext. 4 had no basis and was still brought on Ext. 4 as otherwise the management could not pass any order on 11th August 1961 suspending him from service with immediate effect pending enquiry into the charge. The order of supension as contained in Ext. 4 was thus a mala fide order and I am convinced that this mala fide order was passed by the company as otherwise it could not have stopped Bejoy Guha from resuming his duties in the factory. There was also no scope for the company to issue such order of suspension on 11th August 1961 as the leave register of Bejoy Guha already referred to in this award conclusively establishes that shortly after the first charge-sheet Ext. 1 company had dismissed him from service.

This dismissal order was passed in the absence of Bejoy Guha and could not be justified on any ground whatsoever. Company was also of the same opinion and so, when after expiry of the leave medical and privilege, Bejoy Guha had pressed for resuming his duties, it passed the mala fide order of suspension as otherwise it could not prevent him from resuming his duties. This Bejoy Guha is an active worker of the union which had already secured for the workers some benefits from the company after hard fight with the company. Leaders of the union were, therefore, eye-sore to the company and it wrongfully terminated the service of one of its leaders, viz., Shri Bejoy Guha, taking advantage of his absence from office on long leave from 17th June 1961. When, on the expiry of his leave Shri Bejoy Guha went to the factory to resume his duties, the company, however, found no valid reason for refusing him work and so fraudulently issued the second charge-sheet containing the order of his suspension pending enquiry into the charge-sheet. The order of suspension as contained in Ext. 4 was in other words, only a subterfuge of the company to refuse work to Shri Bejoy Guha and I hold that company had no valid reason to refuse work to Bejoy Guha either on the 10th or 11th August 1961 or on any date subsequent thereto. I farther hold that on both 10th and 11th August 1961 Bejoy Guha had prevented himself for duty but was not even allowed access into the factory by the management obviously because he was leader of the union.

In view of the findings and discussions made above Shri Bejoy Guha's claim for reinstatement to his service with all wages and benefits during the period of forced unemployment since 10th August 1961, must be allowed. Company is accordingly directed to reinstate him in service and to give him his arrear wages and other benefits since 10th August 1961.

This is my award.

3. After section 127 of the said Act, the following section shall be inserted, namely:—

"Power to State Government to set aside Budget Estimates.

127A. (1) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained elsewhere in this Act, where, in the opinion of the State Government, the Budget Estimates of the income and expenditure for any year adopted by the Corporation under clause (a) of sub-section (3) of section 127—

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Budget Estimates for the year 1966-67 as adopted by the Corporation of Calcutta having, in some respects, deviated from the provisions of the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1951, it has become necessary to provide in the Act that in such a case the State Government may by an order give requisite directions to regularise the Budget Estimates so that the municipal administration of Calcutta may not suffer and further that so long as the consolidated rates and taxes determined in the Budget Estimates cannot be given effect to, they may be levied at the rates in force during the previous year. OFFICE OF THE ACCOUNTANT-GENERAL, WEST BENGAL Subject: Instructions regarding bills payable by the Accountant-General, West Bengal, within the current financial year.

NOTIFICATION

No. TM/1-51/889.—2nd February 1967.—In order to ensure payment before the close of the financial year, all travelling allowance, contingent, grant-in-aid and other bills payable within the year should be presented at the counter of this office by the 16th March 1967. The words "to be paid on or before the 31st March 1967" should be written prominently in red ink on the top of each bill. In respect of charges actually incurred or claims accruing on or after the 16th March, the bills should be presented with the utmost expedition without losing even a single day. It may be mentioned that during the last week of March this office is preoccupied with the passing of monthly bills, payable on the first working day of April.

2. Three clear working days are required by this office to complete all processes connected with the pre-audit of a bill. As such, bills marked payable within the 31st March 1967 may in special circumstances, be received by this office up to the 25th March 1967. Only in exceptional cases at the express request of the sanctioning authorities, contingent bills involving large amounts and grand-in-aid bills will be received up to 29th March 1967 with the special permission of the Senior Deputy Accountant-General (T.A.D.) in respect of bills payable from the counter of Treasury Buildings and of the Senior Deputy Accountant-General in respect of bills payable from the counter of the other wing of this office, namely, at 4 Brabourne Road, Calcutta-1. In no case will any bill be received on the 30th and 31st March 1967.

3. On the fourth working day from the date of presentation of a bill, the payee or his messenger should call at the delivery counter to demand payment. If for any reason payment cannot be obtained on that day, he should call on the next day, or on the second or third following day, should it become necessary. Any complaint regarding undue delay in payment should be lodged with the gazetted officer in charge of the Section. No attempt should be made to get into direct touch with the sectional staff.

4. It should be particularly borne in mind that unpassed bills are not returned by post; they are required to be received back at the counter on surrender of tokens.

5. All possible care should be taken to see that the bills presented are free from defects and irregularities as there may not be time left for resubmitting the bills when once returned unpassed with audit objection.

6. It will facilitate the payment of bills if the following instructions are borne in mind:—

(a) If the appropriation for the current year is likely to be or has already been exceeded, an additional appropriation should be obtained in time to meet the excess and the order sanctioning the additional appropriation attached to the bills.

(b) If any charge requiring sanction of a higher authority is claimed in a bill, a true copy of the sanction should be attached to it. As no payment can be made on the authority of copies of orders, the sanctioning authority should be requested to communicate the orders to this office in time.

(c) If no distribution of any appropriation has yet been made, formal orders of the competent authority sanctioning the distribution should be attached to the bill.

(d) A bill extract giving particulars of the major, minor and detailed heads of account to which the amount of the bill is chargeable and the designation of the Officer controlling the expenditure should invariably be attached to the bills.

7. Between the 16th and 31st March 1967, care should be taken to check the Bill Registrar every day with a view to receive all payments in good time.

8. As a special concession to payees, the Cash Payment and Cheque Delivery counters of this office will be kept open till 4-30 p.m. on the 31st March 1967. No payment will be made after that hour.

9. Establishment Bill for March 1967 will be paid by this office by the 1st April 1967 instead of on the 31st March 1967.

3. The demands made on behalf of the workmen in other branches are similar, in some cases, with some variations, and there are some additional demands which will be dealt with in this Award at the appropriate place.

4. In support of the demands the Bombay General Employees' Association has made the following general submissions in its statement of claim :—The Company has been in existence for nearly 30 years. It deals in radios, electrical goods, home appliances, canteen equipments, air conditioners, etc., It is a sole distributor of National Ekco and Pye radios throughout India. It is a well established and prosperous concern. It employs about 190 employees in Bombay and about 275 in other branches in India. The terms and conditions of service of the workmen were settled by negotiation in 1954. There was a second settlement in September 1956 and a third settlement on 11th April 1963 regarding pay scales and other conditions of service. There was a further settlement regarding dearness allowance in March 1965. The Union terminated the settlements and made fresh demands by a letter, dated 29th March 1966. Since 1963 the circumstances have materially changed. The Company has expanded its activities and its financial position has substantially improved. It has made large profits and paid good dividends. Profits for 1965 are substantially higher than in previous years.

The business has increased from Rs. 3.18 crores in 1964 to Rs. 14.56 crores in 1965. The scales of pay, dearness allowance and conditions of service in other well established commercial concerns have been revised substantially during the last 3 years. The cost of living has gone up. The service conditions should therefore be revised. The existing scales of pay are not adequate and should be revised as asked for. In the past no adjustments were given. Adjustments are usually given by Tribunals. The existing wage scales are as follows :—

Grade I— Sweepers and Cleaners—
Rs. 30-2-50-3-65-EB-5-100.

Grade II— Watchmen, Peons, Hamals or Packer—
Rs. 30-3-60-5-90-EB-5-120.

Grade III— Drivers—
Rs. 60-5-120-EB-5-150.

Grade IV— Junior Clerks, Stenos, etc.—
Rs. 75-7-110-10-210-EB-10-300.

Grade V— Senior Clerks, Stenos, etc.—
Rs. 125-10-225-EB-12 1/2-350-EB-15-395.

Grade VI— Junior Officers—
Rs. 145-10-195-EB-15-345-EB-20-485.

Grade VII— Semiskilled Workers and Wiremen—
Rs. 60-5-120-EB-5-150.

Grade VIII— Mechanics, Grade A—
Rs. 75-7-110-EB-10-190-EB-10-250.

Grade IX— Mechanics, Grade B—
Rs. 108-8-180-EB-10-230-EB-12 1/2-305.

Grade X— Engineering A—
Rs. 130-10-230-EB-12 1/2-305-EB-15-380.

Grade XI— Engineering B—
Rs. 175-12 1/2-250-EB-15-400-EB-20-500.

The dearness allowance was fixed from 1st January 1963 as follows :—

On first Rs. 100 basic salary Rs. 80 or 70 per cent. of the new textile scale whichever is higher.

On second Rs 100 basic salary — 20 per cent.

On third Rs. 100 basic salary — 10 per cent.

On fourth Rs. 100 basic salary and above — 5 per cent.

The dearness allowance was revised by an agreement, dated 30th March 1965, by which the minimum dearness allowance was fixed at 80 per cent. of the textile dearness allowance on the first Rs. 100 with a minimum of Rs.100 per month. The Union goes on to say that the cost of living index for Bombay has gone up from 440 in 1963 to 600 in 1966. The dearness allowance is not adequate. Dearness allowance in other concerns is much higher. The increase in dearness allowance should be given from 1st January 1966.

5. The unions for the workmen in other branches have made similar submissions. The Delhi Union refers to the increase in population of Delhi and the high rents and transport charges there. The existence of a large diplomatic corps and international business houses is referred to. The Union has asked for higher scale of basic wages for the Delhi employees than the Bombay Union, but at the hearing Shri Sharma who appeared for the Delhi workmen said that the workmen would be satisfied if the scales asked for by the Bombay Union, which were moderate are sanctioned The Calcutta Union says that the workmen are victims of the two pronged attack of low income and ever rising cost of living. In its supplementary statement of claim the Union has referred to various decided cases on wage structure and to the resolution of the 15th Labour Conference on the need based wage. The Madras Union has also cited a number of decisions and has referred. among the change of circumstances justifying a revision of wages to the devaluation of the Rupee. The Patna Union has referred to the increase in the cost of living index from 604 in 1964 to 836 in 1965. It has further stated that at Patna there is no proper conveyance facility and workmen have to spend considerable amount of money for coming to office and going back to their residence. In the statement of claim for the workmen in Bangalore it is stated that the cost of living index in Bangalore is the highest in India, that the Company is in a position to bear the burden of the demands. that the Company has a bright future as the demand for radios, etc., is on the increase

6. The Company has in its written statements replied, inter alia as follows :— The Company would be unable to bear the financial burden of the demands which would cost of the Company to the tune of Rs. 7,85,000 approximately per year. The existing emoluments are fair. In spite of the higher turnover of the Company the margin of profit has been steadily going down and the net profit after tax has not shown improvement The number of the staff has gone up and the emoluments of the workmen have gone up from Rs. 9 lacs to Rs.18 lacs in the last 6 years. The Company has to meet its obligations to the shareholders. It has not been able to maintain dividend on increased capital. It has to meet increasingly keen competition. The Company is a marketing, distributing and retailing organisation and should not be compared with manufacturers like G.E.C. and Phillips (India) Ltd., having international collaboration. It is necessary for the Company to build up adequate reserves. On a capital of Rs. 38 lacs the reserves are only Rs. 11.75 lacs. The Company revised wages, etc., in 1963. The dearness allowance was again revised in 1965. No material change has taken place in the Company's position which would justify drastic change in the service conditions of employees. The dearness allowance is already linked to the cost of living index. The scales of pay are not less than those offered by others in the radio and electrical trade. By the settlement of 1963 certain adjustments were given. As regards the claim for dearness allowance even one year was not completed after the settlements of 1965 and the Union made demand for increase. No change is called for after such short interval. As regards the increase in cost of living the Company has no control over it and should not be called upon to bear the entire burden of increase in the cost of living especially when its financial resources are not in a position to bear the burden. The demands of the Calcutta Union are even more exorbitant than the demands of the Bombay Union. As regards the Madras Unions reliance on devaluation, the Company says that the impact of devaluation is much more on the profitability of the Company. It is denied that the cost of living in Bangalore is the highest in India as alleged by the Bangalore workmen.

7. The Calcutta Union has filed a lengthy additional written statement. In it reference is made, inter alia, to the norms of the need based wage laid down by the Fifteenth Labour Conference, decisions of Courts, Report of the Fair Wages Committee, etc. The Company has filed a reply to this additional written statement.

8. Among the Exhibits produced by the Unions are the following :—

Bombay Union : Ex.BU1 giving the financial position of the Company from 1960-65; Ex.BU2 giving the wage and salary scales and number of workmen in each category; Ex. BU3 giving names and other particulars of the staff, salary on joining, present salary, etc; Ex. BU4 giving figures of wage and salary scales and minimum and maximum total emoluments in certain other Companies; Ex. BU5 which is Annual Report and Balance Sheet of Bradma of India Ltd., for 1964; Ex. BU6 which tabulates the burden of the demanded scales and adjustments; Ex.BU7 which is the settlement in John Fleming and Co. Ltd. The Delhi Union has produced Ex. DU1 giving the settlement of the Company with the Union, dated 14th May 1963; Ex. DU3 being the settlement in Phillips India Ltd.; Ex. DU4 being the settlement in Broke Bond India Private Ltd. The Madras Union has produced Ex. MU4(1) containing settlements in various companies with the General Electric Co., Ltd., Ex. MU1 giving calculations of the need based wage according to the Resolution of the 15th Labour Conference; Ex. MU2 giving particulars of workmen, years of service and existing wage scales ; Ex. MU3 to Ex. MU9 giving wage scales, dearness allowance and service conditions in settlements in certain Companies. The Calcutta and Patna Unions and the Bangalore workmen have relied on Exhibits giving settlements in certain Companies viz., General Electric Co. Ltd., Hoare Miller and Co. Ltd., and Bird and Co. Ltd., Ex.CU5 giving fringe benefits in Scindia Steam Navigations Co., Ltd., Tata Iron and Steel Co. Ltd., etc. Ex.CU6 giving figures of the All India and Bombay Consumer Price Index; Ex. CU7 alalysing the financial position of the General Radio Co., Ex. Cu 10 calculating the burden of the demand regarding salary and dearness allowance; Ex. CU11giving the Consumer Price Index for Bangalore Ex.CU12 A and 12 B giving wage scales and dearness allowance in Bangolore and in certain other Companies Ex. CU13 giving comparative statements of dearness allowance paid in Madras and Bangalore, and the Consumer Price Index for Patna and Bangalore.

9. The Company has produced the following, among other, Exhibits :—Ex.C1 giving the balance sheets and profit and loss accounts of the Company from 1961 to 1965; Ex. CA showing the distribution of staff in the Head Office and Branches; Ex. CB giving the figures of sales, earnings, etc., of the Head office and branches Ex. CC giving the figures of capital turnover, profits, etc., of the companies relied on by the Unions as comparative concerns, to show that they are not comparable with the General Radio Co.; Ex. CD giving the salaries of clerks, peons, etc., in certain concerns considered by the company to be comparable; Ex. CG which is a settlement in Spencer and Co. Ltd., in regard to the Madras workmen of that Company; Ex.CI giving the Consumer Price Index for various centres; Ex. CJ to Ex.CJ9 in which estimate is given of the burden involved by the demands; Ex.CO giving the dearness allowance paid at different offices of the Company during 1964-66.

10. It will be convenient first to deal with the demands relating to wage scales, dearness allowance and adjustments. The balance sheets and profit and loss accounts for some years which have been produced, as well as the abstracts produced by the Unions of the financial position and progress of the Company, in particular Ex. BU1, show that the financial position is good. The Company has been making satisfactory profits. On a capiatal of Rs.38 lacs the reserves amount to Rs.11 lacs and odd. The turnover has increased from Rs.2.09 crores in 1960 to Rs.3.97 crores in 1965. The wage scales in the Company at its Head Office and branches are uniform. The dearness allowance is as stated in paragraph four above,which means that workmen drawing basic pay upto Rs.100 per month get the 80 per cent of the revised scale of dearness allowance applicable to the textile workers in Bombay. For slabs above Rs.100 the addition is at a certain percentage, so that the dearness allowance for slabs above Rs.100 does not vary according to the movement in the Consumer Price Index. This is the position in the Head Office and branches, except that in the branches at Patna and Bangalore there is a fixed dearness allowance of Rs.100.

11. The Unions have relied on wages and dearness allowance prevailing in concerns such as General Electric Co., Ltd., Phllips India Ltd., Greaves Cotton and Co., Ltd., Indian Oxygen Ltd., Voltas Ltd., Imperial Tobacco Co. of India Ltd., British Paints Ltd., Gillanders Arbuthnot and Co., Ltd., Simpson and Co., Ltd., Shaw Wallace and Co., Ltd., Bird and Co., Ltd., etc. The Company's case is that these are not comparable concerns. At Ex. CC the Company has given the comparative figures of capital, reserves profits, etc., of such of the Companies cited by the Unions as were available to the Company. This Exhibit shows that most of these concerns with the possible exception of Marshall Sons Ltd., are not comparable. Besides these concerns are in different industries not carrying on the same or similar business as General Radio Co. On the other hand the Companies relied on by the Company for comparison viz., Dobsons Private Ltd., Mohomed Ebrahim and Co., Ltd., C. C. Saha Ltd. and Modern Tading Co., are much smaller in size and turn over than this Company and are also not comparable. In the case of Williamsons (India) Private Ltd., (1962 L. L. J. Vol. I. P. 303). Their Lordships of the Supreme Court observed—

> "This Court has repeatedly observed that in considering the question about comparable concerns, Tribunals should bear in mind all the relevant facts in relation to the problem. The extent of the business carried by the concerns, the capital invested by them, the profits made by them, the nature of the business carried on by them, their standing, the strength of their labour force, the presence or absence and the extent of reserves, the dividends declared by them and the prospects about the future of their business—these and all other relevant facts have to be borne in mind."

12. The Unions have not produced evidence to show that the concerns relied on by them are comparable concerns. There is also another aspect of the matter. This is a trading concern, not a manufacturing concern. It makes profits from the commissions earned on sales of radio and other products made by other Companies. In the case of manufacturing concerns the manufacturer may be able to pass on the burden of wage increases to the consumer in the shape of higher prices. But a trading Company cannot ask its principals to increase the rate of commission because its wage structure has been increased. This is a factor that should be borne in mind.

13. Exhibits have been filed to show what would be the need based wage. Tribunals have generally refused to award the need based wage. In the case of the 100 year old Cotton Textile Industry the first Textile Wage Board considered it out of question to recommend the need based wage for the employees in the cotton textile industry. In the case of the Reserve Bank the Supreme Court confirmed the decision of the National Tribunal refusing to award the need based wage. (1965 L.L.J. Vol. II., p. 175). In that case the Supreme Court observed--

> "Further the amount of minimum wage calculated on the need based formula was said by the Pay Commission to be extraordinarily high. This was also the view of the Labour Appellate Tribunal in East Asiatic Company vs. their workmen (1956 L.L.J., Vol. I., p. 686). Both these documents contain valuable calculations and show that the enormous increase per saltum which would cause enormous unrest among workmen in general in the country. It is also to be noticed that the Reserve Bank, which Shri Chari claims to be the best employer, is not really the right place for the experiment. If the experiment has to be performed, it must have a beginning in a commercial concern after thorough examination and a very careful appraisal of the effect on the resources of the employer and on production."

If he need based wage is not feasible in well etablished industries and in a concern like the Reserve Bank which theUnion concerned claimed was the best employer it is l less feasible to award a need based wage in the trading Company. This is apart from the question that there are several ambiguities in the Resolution of the Fifteenth Labour Conference on the need based wage, uch as the type of diet to be included, etc.

14. The concerns relied on by the Unions are very large concerns, in other industries in which the dearness allowances were fixed long ago, when it was not expected that by linking every slab of basic wage up to Rs. 100 and above the dearness allowance would shoot up to the extent it has. To give dearness allowance along the lines such as is prevalent in concerns like Indian Oxygen Ltd., Shaw Wallace & Co., Ltd., Voltas Ltd., Imperial Tobacco, etc., would not only mean an extremely high jump in the dearness allowance but it would be also beyond the capacity of a trading Company such as the General Radio Co., Ltd. In the course of the arguments Shri L. C. Joshi for the Company referred to the observations in the Draft of the Fourth Five Year Plan which are as follows:

"The main emphasis on price policy should be to ensure that a spiralling of costs, prices and money incomes through mutual inter-action is avoided . . . efforts should be made for reducing the scope of automatic linkages between the cost and price increases, or between price and wage increases, that exist in the economy."

How is the wage price spiral to be avoided except by restricting indiscriminate linking of wages or dearness allowance with the Consumer Price Index? Wages fluctuating with the cost of Living Index are not unknown in other industrialised countries, but there steps have been taken to prohibit or restrict such linkages. It is stated in Bloom and Northrup's Economics of Labour Relations, at page 540, in the 1965 Edition,

"The inflationary potential of escalator clauses has been recognised by many foreign countries since the end of World War II, and many Governments, among them Chile, France, Australia, Austria, Belgium, Norway, Denmark, Sweden and Findland—have taken steps either to prohibit this type of wage adjustment or to restrict it in order to lessen its tendency to feed inflationary forces. In Austria and Belgium, for example, the cost of living index must rise by some minimum amount before wages are increased. In the Scandinavian countries, provision is made for a less than proportionate increase in wages, so that workers share part of the burden of inflation. In Chile changes in wages can be made only annually and in Brazil every two years."

The authors go on to observe—

"Wage increases resulting from escalator clauses generally take place in manufacturing industries and therefore affect the prices of manufactured goods. When such prices rise, the cost of goods purchased by the farmer tend to rise, which in turn produces an increase in the price of farm products. To the extent that farm prices rise as a result, there will be a tendency for the consumer price index to rise, since food accounts for about one-third of the index. And once the consumer price index rises, the stage has been set for another increase in wages under escalator provisions in industry."

In Prof. Backman's book on Wage determination a similar view is expressed (at page 148). The author has stated—

"It seems obvious that wage escalation clauses adopted as a protection against increases in the cost of living help to bring about the price increases they are supposed to neutratlise."

The author goes on to quote the well known British economist J. M. Keynes who observed in one of his books—

"A demand on the part of the Trade Unions for an increase in money rates of wages to compensate for every increase in the cost of living is futile, and greatly to the disadvantage of the working class. Like the dog in the fable they lose the substance in gaping at the shadow. It is true that the better organised sections might benefit at the expense of other consumers. But except as an effort at group selfishness, as a means of hustling someone else out of the queue, it is a mug's game to play."

In the case of the Calcutta Tramways (1956 L.L.J. Vol. II., p. 450).

Their Lordships of the Supreme Court observed.—

"We can now take it as settled that in matters of grant of dearness allowance, except to the lowest class of manual labourers whose income is sufficient to keep body and soul together, it is impolitic and unwise to neutralise the entire rise in cost of living by dearness allowance. More so in the case of middle classes."

While it is undeniable that where workers are drawing subsistence wages the dearness allowance may be linked so as to secure full neutralisation of the rise in the cost of living, in the case of wage earners who are drawing much above the subsistence wage (as in the case of this Company) it is necessary that even the minimum wage earner should bear some portion of the burden of inflation like other sections of the community, in particular rise in prices due to policy induced causes such as increased taxation, etc. More so in the case of the middle classes and dearness allowances in their cases should not be so fixed as to secure a high degree of neutralisation and must taper off, if the wage price spiral is to be avoided. It has to be borne in mind that quite considerable sections of the community have to make sacrifices by going without adjustment of income to rises in the cost of living. Many years ago the Royal Commission on Labour had pointed out that it is obviously possible to raise the standards of living of sections of industrial workers by methods which would involve the diminution of the national income and the Fair Wages Committee had also observed that in adopting measures for the betterment of industrial workers the interests of the community as a whole should not be overlooked.

15. Since 1963 when the wage scales were fixed in this concern there has been a great risie in the cost of living. The Company has urged that the dearness allowance was increased from 70 per cent. of the textile scale to 80 per cent as recently as 1965 and that further increase is not necessary In my opinion, having regard to the capacity of the Company, the present dearness allowance is inadequate. There is also some scope for revision in the wage scales. In fixing the wage scales I have not considered it necessary or desirable to interfere with the existing classification in the Companies, except that I consider it necessary to have a separate grade for stenographers. I may add that in the course of the arguments the Unions which have demanded wages scales according to altered categories did not press that the existing classification should be altered. So also it is not feasilbe to fix any salary scale asked for the higher category of officers who are obviously not workmen and whose salaries and dearness allowance were not governed by any previous settlements.

16 It might be mentioned here that while the Bombay Union has asked for dearness allowance as stated in paragraph 2(3) above, the other Unions have, in the demands referred to me for arbitration asked for dearness allowance on the following scale :—

Basic salary	Dearness allowance
Up to Rs. 100	D.A. for all days of the month at the revised textile scale on readjusted index numbers applicable to clerks.
On 2nd Rs. 100	40 per cent.
On 3rd Rs. 100	30 per cent.
On 4th Rs. 100	20 per cent.
On 5th Rs. 100 and above	10 per cent.

Also in the statement of claim by the Unions other than Bombay it is this demand which is supported. At the hearig however the other Unions pressed for dearness allowance at the rate asked for by the Bombay Union. I do not think it permissible for the Unions to ask for more than the demands referred to me for arbitration and which they have supported in their statements of claim nor would I have jurisdiction to grant such demand. It may also be noted that the Bombay Union had made a demand in the same terms as the other Unions in the demands, dated 29th January 1966. Subsequently however the Bombay Union increased the demand relating to dearness allowance to what is set out in paragraph 2(3) above.

17. I am unable to grant the demand that the minimum dearness allowance should be the Textile scale for all the days of the month. The Bombay textile scale is fixed on a daily basis and multiplied by the number of working days in the month. In the Award in the case of Associated Cement Companies (1961 I.C.R. 476) where a similar demand was made I observed—

> "It may be noted that the workmen have demanded a minimum of the new textile scale for all days in the month. It is true that in a few Awards it has been directed that the minimum should be the textile scale for all days in the month, but no reason is given for this. The scale in the textile industry is applicable to textile workers, the large majority of whom are daily paid workers. It is calculated on the basis of the number of working days in the month and the same is paid to the monthly rated workmen. Awarding textile scale for all days in the month means that dearness allowance for the weekly off is given twice over. If a higher dearness allowance than the textile scale is called for in an industry where the workers are paid by the month, it must be on some different basis on principle for the application of the textile scale of all days in the month is, for the reasons given above, anomalous."

The same view was taken in the case of the Bombay Gas Co., Ltd. (1965 I.C.R. 694 at Rs. 727). I reject the demand for the same reasons as well as the reason that the increase that I am giving in the dearness allowance is quite adequate.

18. Having taken into consideration the pleadings, exhibits filed and the arguements I revise the wage scales as under with effect from 1st June 1966.

Sweepers and cleaners—Rs. 30—2½—50—3—65—E.B.—5—100.

Watchmen, peons, hamals and packers—Rs. 33—3—60—5—90—E.B.—5—120.

Car and Truck drivers—Existing grade of Rs. 60—5—120—E.B.—5—150 is adequate. No change.

Senior Clerks—Rs. 140—12½—215—15—350—E.B.—15—410.

Senior Stenographers—Senior Clerical scale.

Semi-skilled workers and wiremen—Existing grade of Rs. 60—5—120—E.B.—5—150 is adequate. No change.

Mechanics Junior—Rs 85—7½—100—10—200—E.B.—12½—250.

Mechanics Senior—Rs. 120—10—180—12½—230—E.B.—15—320.

Engineering A—Rs. 190—15—340—20—400—E.B.—25—525.

(Note : There are none in the last two categories in Bombay. The grades for these categories have been asked for by the other Unions.).

The staff will be entitled to their next increment from the date on which they would get it under the exiting arrangement. As regards adjustments it has been urged by the Unions that as no adjustment were given under earlier settlements adequate adjustment as demanded should be given On behalf of the Company it is stated that as it is not that the wage scales are being fixed for the first time no adjustment increments should be given I direct that the existing staff should be fitted in those grades which have been revised, in the following manner. Those who have been drawing less than the minimum of the revised scales should be given the minimum. Those who have been drawing basic pay equal to or more than the minimum of the revised sdale should be given the same basic pay in the revised scale, or if their basic pay is not a step in the revised scale, be stepped up to the nearest point in the revised scale, with the addition of one increment if they have completed 4 years' service in their present grade on 1st June 1966.

Basic wage salary	Dearness allowance
On 1st Rs 100	Revised Bombay Cotton Textile scale for working days in the month, for workmen in Bombay, Calcutta, Delhi and Madras and at 90 per cent. of this scale for workmen in Bangalore and Patna
On 2nd Rs. 100	40 per cent.
On 3rd Rs. 100	30 per cent.
On 4th Rs 100	20 per cent.
On 5th Rs 100	10 per cent.

Minimum dearness allowance 93 per cent-of the revised Bombay Cotton Textile scale for working days in the month, for workmen in Bombay, Calcutta, Delhi and Madras, and at83 per cent. of this scale for workmen in Bangalore and Patna. The arrears of pay and dearness allowance payable under this Award should be paid within two months of the publication of this Award The dearness allowance for a month should be rounded off to the nearest Rupee, half a Rupee or fraction of a Rupee to be omitted, fraction over half a Rupee to be counted as one Rupee

Demand No. IV :

20. In support of the demand relating to Provident Fund, the Bombay and Delhi Unions have stated that having regard to the sound financial position of the Company and higher Provident Fund in a number of concerns the rate of contribution should be increased to 8⅓ per cent. The present rate of Provident Fund does not give adequate retirement benefit The Madras Union has stated that the present rate of Provident Fund does not give adequate relief at the time of retirement and that increase in Provident Fund will mean indirect savings to the workmen in the period of emergency. The Calcutta Union has stated that the Provident Fund has been increased to 8⅓ per cent. in a number of industries, The Bangalore Union has stated that the concept of social justice demands that the rate of Provident Fund should be increased. The Patna Union has made an additional point that it is not possible for workmen to save anything from the scanty wages.

21. The Company has replied as follows :—The present rate of contribution is 6¼ per cent. of the basic salary and dearness allowance or 8⅓ per cent. of the basic salary, whichever is higher. No change should be made in the statutory rate of contribution It is the Government's policy to raise the Provident Fund on a phased basis, but commercial establishments are not required to raise the contribution to 8 per cent. In the French Motor Car case the Supreme Court set aside the decision of the Arbitrator Shri P.D. Sawarkar increasing the contribution to 8 per cent.

22. The rate of Provident Fund contribution of the employer under the Employees' Provident Funds Act is 6¼ per cent. Government has power by issuing a Notification for particular industries to direct that the contribution should be raised to 8 per cent. In the case of the French Motor Car Co., Ltd. (1962 L.L.J. Vol II, page 744) the Supreme Court set aside an Award in that Company raising the contribution from 6¼ per cent. to 8⅓ per cent. of the emoluments. The rate of contribution for this industry under the Act is 6¼ per cent. Government has not raised the contribution for this industry and it seems to me that if the contribution for this industry is raised it would have to be on an industry-wise basis and I would not be justified is singling out for the purpose this particular concern in the industry which has already the double benefit of a gratuity and Provident Fund Scheme. The demand is rejected.

23. Demand No. V is in respect of leave rules. A similar demand has been made by the Unions of all the other branches. In support of the demand the Calcutta Union has made the following submissions :—Enactments on the subject of leave prescribe minimum leave. The importance of leave and holidays for workmen in industries and holidays for the purpose of improving efficiency of the workmen was recognised by the Labour Investigation Committee of the Government of India in 1946. The Delhi Union says that the existing leave facilities are not adequate. The Patna Union has given no particular reasons in support of the demand. The Madras Union says that it is the usual practice in commercial establishments to give 30 days' privilege leave and 15 days' casual leave. The Bangalore workmen have stated that workmen can put their best efforts in work if they are given sufficient rest, that the demand is reasonable that if granted it would help the Company in carrying out its work without much interruption and with less costs.

24. The Company has replied as follows :—The existing leave rules are as follows :

Annual leave 21 days.
Sick leave 12 days.
Casual leave 12 days.

Privilege leave is allowed to be accumulated to 42 days and sick leave to 24 days. The Company goes on to say that the leave provisions are adequate and more favourable than those in other similar establishments. The existing provision for accumulation of leave is as provided by the Local Shops and Establishments Act,

25. I am of the view that the existing facilities rules are quite adequate and no increase is called for. It is not shown that the totality of leave privileges is less than in comparative concerns. In an article on Annual Vacations with Pay in the International Labour Review of August 1962 it is stated—

"About 60 per cent of all the countries covered in this study (47 out of a total of 77) fall in the group where an annual vacation of two weeks is the standard. In 30 countries, legislation at the national level prescribes for workers in general, or at least for all workers in industry and in commerce, a basic minimum annual vacation of at least two weeks in respect of their first year of service. In the eight others, although there is no legislation at the national level providing for a minimum of two weeks of annual vacation for all workers, the bulk of those employed in industry and commerce do enjoy such a minimum annual vacation. . . In 16 of the 47 countries in the two week vacation group there are also provisions which require the length of the annual vacation to be increased after years of service . . . the most common increase in the length of vacation for adult workers is to three weeks after five, eight or ten years' work, and then to four weeks after further years of service"

The number of paid holidays in the Western countries range to about 6 (as against 13 to 16 in this Company). The totality of existing leave privileges in this concern does not only come to very many more non-working days than in the other industrialised countries but to compare favourably with the total leave privileges in concerns of this size in India The demand is rejected. The demand that unused casual leave should be allowed to be encashed is also rejected.

Demand No. VI.

26. In support of the demand the Bombay Union has stated that the Company gives about 17 holidays including 4 or 5 sectional holidays. As in other commercial establishments all Bank holidays should be given. The other Unions have made similar submissions. The Madras Union has made a particular point that South Indians have a number of festivals and being very relgious minded have to observe the festivals.

27. The Company has replied as follows:—The Company gives about 16 paid holidays including sectional holidays. The Company is not a commercial establishment but a trading house and has to maintain a showroom. If more holidays are given it will seriously impair efficiency and affect the Company's business

28. It might be mentioned here that the Company also gives 21 days privilege leave in a year, 12 days' sick leave and 12 days' casual leave The total number of non-working days in this concern is therefore already large In the book by a foreign observer V.C Kennedy on Unions, Employers and Government the writer has commented, at pages 119 and 120 on the generous provisions for paid holidys, privilege leave, casual leave and sick leave in Indian concerns which have the total effect of reducing the number of mandays from work each year and has gone on to say that if India can afford to show so little concern about those more serious causes of loss, she can afford to be more tolerant of the smaller costs of strikes. In the case of Lever Bros. (I.C.R. 1952 p. 901) the Industrial Tribunal Bombay observed—

"The number of holidays observed in this country is far too many. In the case of industrial workers, various leave provisions are now made for annual, sick and casual leave which compare favourably with similar provisions in Western countries. A stop must therefore be made to any extension of holidays. . . . In the present economic conditions of our country, in our opinion, if an industry is in a position to bear some additional burden, it is better to give the workers some additional wages or improve their conditions of service, rather than increase the number of holidays. In the case of Cipla Ltd. (1964 I.C.R. 711) a pharmaceutical concern. the Industrial Tribunal reduced the paid holidays from 21 to 10. In the case of Pfiser (Private) Ltd., Bombay and its workmen (1963 I.C.R. 281) the Supreme Court observed on the need for reducing holidays." In the case of the Associated Cement Companies (1964 L.L.J., Vol. I page 12) which related to the commercial establishment of the Head Office of the Company in Bombay the Industrial Tribunal reduced the holidays from 26 to 21. On an Appeal the Supreme Court reduced the number further to 16. In another recent case (1966 I.C.R. p. 291) relating to the clerical staff in the Burma Shell Refineries the Industrial Tribunal reduced the holidays from 17 to 12. In this connection it is also relevant to refer to the Report of the Second Pay Commission, which observed, "All those who have expressed any opinion on the subject have, with the exception of employees themselves (but not ex-employees) suggested curtailment of public holidays. There is, in fact, a widespread feeling among those who take intelligent interest in these matters that there are far too many holidays in this country, that these are not all necessary for religious or traditional social observances, and in short many for the public holidays are only a pretext for idleness which the country can ill afford."

29. At the hearing the Company gave the list of existing holidys and gave a list (Exts K2, K4, K6, K8 and K12) of the 16 holidays which it has offered to give at the various offices and branches In my opinion this offer is altogether satisfactory and I direct that these 16 holidays should be given in a year. If any holiday fixed falls on a Sunday no other holiday need be given

Demand No. VII.

30. The Bombay Union has stated as follow:—Under the existing gratuity scheme the benefit is as under:—

For service up to 10 years—half a month's basic salary for each completed year of service.

For service of 10 years and over—three-fourths of a month's salary for each completed year of service.

In case of resignation the minimum qualifying period is 15 years. The only change demanded is that a workman dismissed for misconduct shall also be paid gratuity except to the extent of the financial loss caused by him. The other Unions have made a similar demand. At the hearing the Company's representative did not object to a suitable provision being made, in view of decisions of the Supreme Court on the subject. I direct that a workman dismissed or discharged for misconduct should not be disentitled to gratuity, but in the case of a workmen discharged or dismissed for misconduct causing financial loss to the Company the loss shall be deducted from the gratuity otherwise payable and only the balance, if any, will be payable.

31. The Calcutta, Madras and Patna Unions have made a demand to increase the benefit of the existing gratuity scheme as follows :—

"In the case of death, disability or termination of employment by the Management all employees shall be paid gratuity.

(i) For service up to 10 years, 3/4 of a months's salary for each year of completed service.

(ii) For service up to 15 years and more, one month's salary for each year of completed service.

Salary for purposes of gratuity shall be the last salary drawn by the employee concerned.

(iii) In case of resignation by an employee, the minimum qualifying period of service shall be five years of continuous service."

The Delhi Union has asked for a minimum qualifying period of 5 years in gratuity case of resignation.

In support of the demand the Unions which have asked for increased benefits have submitted that the existing gratuity scheme does not give adequate benefit. The Company opposes any increase in the benefits of the gratuity scheme.

32. In my opinion the existing gratuity scheme is adequate. Gratuity schemes are usually in terms of basic wages and not gross salary. Besides it is not shown that comparable concerns give more gratuity benefits. The demand for increasing the benefits of the gratuity scheme is rejected. The only change that I would direct is that in the case of termination of service by retrenchment, the gratuity will be payable in addition to retrenchment compensation payable under the Industrial Disputes Act. A demand for this change is implied in the demands by all the Unions for gratuity. I direct accordingly. The demand that the qualifying period of gratuity in case of resignation should be reduced to 5 years' service is rejected.

Demand No. VIII.

33. In support of the demand the Bombay Union has stated as follows :—At present the Company gives no medical facilities. Earnings of workmen are not adequate to meet medical expenses. In a number of concerns, such expenses are allowed. The other Unions have made silmilar submissions.

34. The Company has replied as follows :—In fixing wages and dearness allowance medical expenses are included. Such a practice as is demanded does not exist in any comparable firm. It is ordinarily the responsibility of the State and Municipal authorities to provide medical benefits.

35. The issue has been discussed by me in my Award as Industrial Tribunal in the case of Macmillan & Co., Ltd. (1965 I. C. R. 1034).

Therein I observed—

"The provision of hospitals and medical facilities is the primary responsibility of the State. A proper wage structure provides for expenditure for medical treatment and the cost of living indices include a figure of expenditure in respect of medical treatment, but it cannot be said that even in industries in which dearness allowance is linked to the idex the emoluments would enable a workman to meet unforseen expenditure on account of prolonged or serious illness While the provision of hospitals and medical facilities is the primary responsibility of the State, it would not be unreasonable to take the view that the employer is also interested in maintaining healthy work force and a number of employers have voluntarily introduced some system of medical facilities. It would be a good thing if this type of welfare measure are introduced voluntarily, but if a dispute does come up for adjudication each case would have to be considered on its own merits. Such dispute would only come up in industries to which the Employees' State Insurance Scheme does not apply and when such a dispute does come up all relevant factors including the capacity of the concern may be taken into consideration. If provision for medical benefit is granted it should be usually on a contributory basis as in the E. S. I. Scheme. That would also prevent abuses and extravagence at the cost of the employer."

36. The Company has capacity to give some medical benefits. At Ex. CY the Company made certain proposals for a contributory medical benefit scheme which were not acceptable to the Unions. I direct as follows :—

In the case of the subordinate staff two-thirds of the expenditure on medicines (including patent medicines or injections) prescribed for them by a registered medical practitioner should be borne by the Company (the remaining by the workmen concerned) subject to a maximum of Rs.40 to be borne by the Company in a calendar year. Bills should be accompanied by a certificate of a registeed medical practitioner for the treatment. In the case of staff other than subordinate staff, the same directions would apply except that the abovementioned figure should be Rs.65 instead of Rs.40. These directions shall have effect from the calendar year 1967 and will cease to have effect from any date on which the Employee's State Insurance Scheme comes into force in respect of the workmen concerned in these references. The demand for medical benefits for the families of workmen is rejected.

Demand No. IX.

37. In support of the demand the Bombay Union has stated as follows :—Peons, packers, watchmen and drivers are given two sets of uniforms a year and the Company gets them washed once a week. Two sets are not adequate. Four sets should be supplied and the Company shuld get them washed twice a week. The Delhi Union has stated as follows—The Company supplies two sets of summer uniforms and one set of winter uniform (woollen) every alternate year. Uniforms should be supplied not later than 15th March and the winter uniform not later than 15th October. The Calcutta Union has demanded that four sets of summer uniforms should be given in a year and one set of winter uniform shuld be given every alternate year. The Madras and Patna Unions have asked for four sets of uniforms and for washing twice a week.

38. The Company has replied as follows :—Certain categories of employees are given two pairs of Khaki trousers and two pairs of khaki tunics. The Company has made arrangements to get them washed every week. This is the normal practice in commercial establishments and there is no need to give 4 uniforms or to get them washed twice a week In reply to the Calcutta Union the Company has filed an additional written statement at EX. CS in which it is stated that one winter uniform is given once in 3 years and 2 summer uniforms every alternate year. If any peon represents that his uniform has gone bad before the end of the term, new uniform is sanctioned. Last year 6 peons were given extra uniform

39. Having taken into consideration the submissions I am of opinion that in branches where a winter uniform is supplied once in three years and 2 summer uniforms are given every alternate year, 2 summer uniforms should be given every year. I direct accordingly. In the head office and branches where certain categories are supplied with two uniforms a year and no winter uniform, the number should be increased to three. The existing arrangement according to which the Company arranges to get them washed should continue. As regards the demand of the Delhi Union that summer and winter uniforms should be supplied before a particular date, the Company's representative gave an assurance at the hearing that uniforms which are due would be supplied in time. On this the Union did not press for the demand.

Demand No. X.

40. In support of the demand the Bombay Union has stated as follows :—The Company gives umbrellas to parcel delivery peons and drivers who go on outdoor duty, and raincoats to bill collectors. The Union demands that all employees who go on outdoor duty should be given an umbrella and raincoat once in two years. The Patna Union has made a similar demand.

41 The Company has replied as follows :— Certain categories of employees who are regularly on outdoor duty are supplied with umbrellas or raincoats at the Company's expense. This is in accord with the prevailing practice in similar establishments in Bombay. It is therefore not necessary to supply both umbrellas and raincoats.

42. The practice of the Company is reasonable and I see no sufficient reason to grant this demand. It is rejected.

Demand No. XI.

43. Washing allowance to Salesmen.—In support of the demand the Bombay Union has stated that there are about 6 salesmen in Bombay. They are required to be clean and tidy. Washing allowance of Rs 10 per month should be given to them. The other Unions have made similar submissions.

44. The Company has replied as follows—Salesmen are paid adequately taking into consideration the duties they have to perform in showrooms. Their clothes do not get soiled. It is not necessary to provide them with uniforms at the Company's expense. Such a practice as is demanded does not prevail in similar establishments.

45. Having considered the submisions of both sides I see no sufficient reason to grant this demand. Uniforms and washing allowances are usually given by Awards where the nature of the work is such that the clothes get particularly soiled. No case has been cited before me in which uniforms or washing allowance have been awarded for salesmen, and I see no reason to introduce a new practice. The demand is rejected.

Demand No. XII.

46. Travelling charges.—In support of the demand the Bombay Union has stated as follows :— A workman should be encouraged to go on privilege leave for health and recuperation. Some Companies give travelling allowance to employees going on leave to their native place or other place for recuperation. Therefore all workmen and their families should be paid Second Class train travelling charges once in two years for going to outstation and coming back from the native place or other place up to a distance of 1,000 kilometres. The other Unions have made similar submissions. The Patna Union states that employees come from different States and they have to take loans to enable them to go to their native place, that the Company should encourage workmen to go on leave for recuperation.

47. The Company has replied as follows :— It is true that in certain highly prosperous concerns such an allowance is paid but this is done on voluntary basis and has not been the subject-matter of an industrial dispute. When such a demand has gone to Tribunals, it has been rejected. The demand if granted would put a heavy burden on the Company.

48. The demand for such a facility was rejected by the Sastry Banks Tribunal. It observed that the employees are generally recruited from and work in their home towns or at places not very far off and that the demand had not found favour in any adjudication known to the Sastry Tribunal. The Desai Tribunal directed that A Class Banks should give the facility of leave fare concession once in 3 years. Except this Award I have not come across any case in which such a demand was granted and I am in agreement with the Sastry Tribunal's view referred to above. There is one old case of Rallis India Ltd. (1952 L. L. J. Vol. II page 441) where such a demand was granted for the employees to visit Madras State on the ground that such allowance was given by the Company in Bombay and Calcutta and the Company expressed its willingness to extend the concession to the workmen. So it is seen that the demand was granted for very special reasons. The Reserve Bank gives such a concession to employees up to the place of domicile up to 750 miles. But it has to be borne in mind that in the case of the Reserve Bank and A Class Banks the employees are transferable from one place to another. In a Company like this the employees are mainly recruited locally and transfers are very rare. In any case I do not think that on principle such a demand should be granted. The wage structure of Companies in India is overlaid already with too many fringe benefits which increase the cost of production of goods and services, and the wage structure should not be further inflated by this additional type of fringe benefit. If a concern can afford to bear the burden it should be imposed by increase in salaries and dearness allowance and not by this type of benefit. The demand is rejected.

Demand No. XIII.

49. Lunch allowance:—In support of the demand the Bombay Union has stated as follows:—The Company gives lunch allowance at the rate of Re.1 to peons and drivers and Rs.1.50 to clerks when they are sent out on the Company's work at lunch time. The amount is inadequate. All employees working in lunch time should be given lunch allowance of Rs.1.50 per day. The Delhi Union has stated that the lunch allowance given to peons is 75 paise. The amount should be increased to Rs.1.50. The other Unions have made similar demands.

50. The Company has replied as follows:—The Company pays Re.1 to peons and drivers and Rs.1.50 to clerks as lunch allowance when they are sent out on the Company's work during lunch hour at short notice. This matter should be left to the Company and no directions are called for.

51. Having considered the submissions of both sides I am of the view that the lunch allowance is adequate. The demand is rejected.

Demand No. XIV.

52. Retirement age.—In support of the demand the Bombay Union has stated as follows:—The existing retirement age is 58 with two years' extension at the discretion of the management. Having regard to the decisions of the Supreme Court in the Dunlop, I. C I. and Shaw Wallace case the retirement age should be 60. The Calcutta Union has stated that the trend nowadays is to have 60 as retirement age; that the Supreme Court fixed 60 as retirement age in the British Paints case (1966 L. L. J. Vol. I p. 407). The Madras, Patna and Bangalore Unions have made similar submissions. The Bangalore workmen have in their written statement stated that the span of life has increased on account of improved standard of living and preventive health measures.

53. The Company has replied as follows:—The existing rule is of retirement at the age of 58 with discretion to the Company to give extension up to 2 years. In a few commercial organisations the retirement age is 60, but this is a trading establishment. In trading establishments the retirement age varies from 55 to 60. The present rule is reasonable and should not be changed.

Having considered the submissions of both sides I direct that the age of retirement should be raised to 60.

Demand No. XV.

54. Working hours.—In support of the demand the Bombay Union has stated as follows:—The existing hours are from 9-30 a m to 6 p.m. with one hour recess on weekdays and 9-30 a.m. to 1-30 p.m. on Saturdays. The weekly working hours are therefore 41½. Normally the weekly working hours in commercial establishments are 36. There is no such demand by the Delhi and Calcutta Unions. In Delhi the working hours are 39. The Madras Union has made a similar demand and has stated that workmen find it difficult on account of these working hours to attend to their domestic needs. The working hours should be 9-30 a.m. to 5 p.m. with an hour's recess and 9-30 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturdays. The Patna Union says that efficiency of workmen would increase if the working hours are reduced. The Bangalore workmen have stated that the normal weekly working hours in commercial establishments are 36.

55. The Company has replied as follows:—This is a trading organisation and should not be put on par with commercial establishments. It is necessary to keep the business premises open as per custom prevailing in the electrical and radio trade in Bombay. In view of this no change should be made in the working hours. It would jeopardise the competitive position of the Company if the demand is granted.

56. In the case of May and Baker Ltd. (1961 L. L. J. Vol. II page 94) where the working hours were well below those fixed by the Delhi Shops and Establishments Act the Supreme Court set aside the order of the Tribunal reducing the working hours by half an-hour every day The Shops and Establishments Acts of the various States prescribes amaximum of 48 working hours in the week. The hours in this concern being are well below these. There is a crying need in this country for increase in production of goods and services, particuarly when the number of non-working days in the shape of holidays, casual and privilege leave, etc. is already large. The demand is rejected.

Overtime Wages.

57. This demand is made by the Delhi Union in the following terms:—

> "Overtime wages should be paid at double the basic salary plus D. A. I. to all employees entitled for the same."

The Union says that the demand is in accordance with section 8 of the Delhi Shops and Establishments Act and the Supreme Court judgment in the case of the

B. O. A. C. (The citation of the Law Reporter of this judgment is not given). The Calcutta Union has demanded that overtime should be paid at double the basic wage plus D A. instead of 1 1/2 times as at present. It says that the provisions of the Shops and Establishments Act are no bar to granting this demand since that Act prescribes minimum. Many commercial establishments pay overtime at the rate demanded. The Bangalore Union has stated that there is no practice to pay overtime to the staff and it should be given as demanded.

58. The Company has replied as follows:—The granting of overtime wages is governed by the provisions of the Shops and Establishments Act and need not form an item of staff demands.

59. The Shops and Establishments Acts of the different States prescribe rules regarding overtime. The Company has at Ex. CH given particulars of the rate of overtime paid. It is stated that the Company pays overtime for work done after the Company's normal working hours at the statutory rate although the Acts prescribe overtime rates for the period over the statutory working hours. The demand for overtime at rates higher than those prescribed by the local Acts is rejected.

Allowance to Cashier.

60. The Calcutta Union has demanded an allowance of Rs.30 per month to the Cashier on the ground that he has to undertake heavy responsibility and risk of handling cash. At present the cashier does not get special pay or grade. A similar demand has been made by the Patna and Bangalore Unions.

61. The Company has replied as follows:—The grade in which the cashier is placed takes into consideration the nature of his duties and responsibilities. The demand is therefore opposed.

62. Where the Cashier is put in the Senior grade I do not think it necessary that he should be given any special pay, for the pay of the grade takes into consideration the duties and responsibilities. I direct that where the Cashier is in the Junior grade he should be given a special monthly allowance of Rs.20 with effect from 1st June 1966.

Festivals Advances.

63. The Calcutta Union has demaded that an advance equal to one month's total wages should be paid to all employees for any festival during the year and recovered by 6 instalments. The present system is to give one month's basic pay only and recover in 4 instalments. The Madras, Bangalore and Patna Unions have made a similar demand.

64. The Company has replied as follows:—Advance to staff is generally decided on merits in the case of individual establishment. The demand is bad in principle. If the demand is granted it means paying advances at different times to employees belonging to different religions and also employees of the same religion on different festivals.

65. Having considered the viewpoints of both sides I see no good reason to concede the demand. This is a matter that should be governed by the discretion of the Company which would have to be exercised according to the circumstances of each case. The demand is rejected.

Travelling allowances.

66. The Calcutta and Madras Unions have asked for an increase in the rate of travelling allowances. In the statement of claim by the Calcutta Union it is stated that conveyance and cooly charges have gone up, that employees have to spend substantial amounts on travelling. The Madras Union has stated that the existing travelling scheme is inadequate in view of the increase in the cost of travelling and cost of living.

67. According to the Company the existing rates of daily allowance and travelling allowance are adequate. They are given in Ex. CQ. The existing rates are as follows:—

Travelling allowances for employees other than area representatives

Basic salary up to Rs.150— 3rd Class Railway fare and Rs.5 per day.

Basic salary up to Rs.151 to 225—2nd Class Railway fare and Rs.10 per day.

Basic salary above Rs.225— 1st Class Railway fare and Rs.12 per day.

The charge demanded is that the daily allowance should be increased to Rs.10, 15 and 18 respectively. The rates were fixed in 1963. Since then the cost of living has gone up a great deal. I direct that the allowances of Rs.5,10 and 12 should be increased to Rs. 6/50, 11 and 13 respectively with effect from the date of publication of this Award.

Promotions and Upgradings.

68. The Calcutta, Delhi and Bangalore Unions have demanded that 50 per cent. of clerks should be promoted to the next higher grade on seniority basis. The Patna Union has demanded that promotion for the higher grades shall be made on seniority basis and 80 per cent. of the vacancies for the higher grades should be filled by promotions of the existing employees.

69. In support of the demand the Calcutta Union has stated that if higher posts are filled on seniority basis it would be beneficial both to the Company and the management. Workmen of lower grade would try to develop qualities for higher responsibility. Outside recruitment would impair general efficiency. Recruitment from outside disturbs peace and harmony in the industry. The Delhi Union has submitted that promotions and upgrading are not properly made at present. Sufficient promotional opportunities are necessary to encourage hard work. Therefore upgrading of 50 per cent. of clerks, mechanics and stenographers on seniority basis would be reasonable. The Patna Union has made similar submissions.

70. The Company has replied as follows:—There is no justification for demanding promotion of 50 per cent. of the staff. It is true that as far as possible promotions are to be made on the basis of seniority-cum-efficiency from the existing staff. but it is absurd to suggest that 50 per cent. of the staff of the junior grade should be promoted to the senior grade. Besides promotion is a management function. Apart from this the Company would not be able to bear the burden of the demand and it would create misunderstanding among the staff and hamper the smooth working of the Company.

71. In the case of Brooke Bond India Private Ltd., (1966 L L J. Vol I page 402) the Supreme Court held that generally speaking promotion is a management function; but there may be occasions when a Tribunal may have to interfere with promotions made by the management where it is felt that persons superseded have been so superseded on account of mala fides or victimisation. The Company recognises that it is desirable to appoint to higher posts from the existing staff There may however be cases when it may be necessary to have recruitment from outside and the Tribunal would not be justified in laying down any iron rule banning recruitment from outside. As regards the demand that 50 or more per cent. of the staff should be promoted to the higher grade it is not reasonable. Promotions to the higher grade would depend on the vacancies in the higher grade, the merits of the employees, etc. The demand is rejected

72. At the hearing the representative of the Delhi Union pointed out that in Bombay some mechanics and clerks are in the senior scale, while in Delhi not a single clerk or mechanic is in the senior scale, that the mechanics in other branches do the same type of jobs while in Delhi, the seniormost mechanic of 9 years' standing is in the junior grade.

73. It is desirable that there should be some balance between posts in the higher grade and posts in the lower grade, and where there are two categories of posts one in the higher grade and one in the lower, the higher posts should not be on paper only. There may be very special cases where the Tribunal may be justified in fixing a proportion of higher posts but in the present case I do not feel justified in giving such a direction.

74 At the hearing it was pointed out by the Delhi Union representative that in the Delhi branch, out of a staff of 43 there are no categories of workmen in the senior grade. At the hearing it was stated on behalf of the Company that it recognises that employees of proved merit and experience should have avenues for promotion and that the higher grades are not meant to be on paper only. The Company's representative agreed at the hearing to look into the grievances of the Delhi Union on the point raised and take appropriate action. Thereupon the Union representative did not press for the demand. No direction is therefore necessary. I direct that if there is any such legitimate grievance from the other branches which have raised this issue the Company should similarly look into the grievance and take appropriate action.

MEMORANDUM OF SETTLEMENT

ANNEXURE 'A'

Name of Parties : The Alkali and Chemical Corporation of India Limited, 34 Chowringhee Road, Calcutta-16 (hereinafter referred to as "the Company"),

And

Their workmen represented by I.C.I. and Associated Companies Employees, Union, 34 Chowringhee Road, Calcutta-16 (hereinafter referred to as "the Union")

Representing the Company : Dr. J. C. Hornel, Managing Director, The Alkali and Chemical Corporation of India Limited.

Representing the workmen : (1) Mr. C. K. Pattanaik, President, I.C.I. and Associated Companies Employees, Union.

(2) Mr. S.B. Bhattacharjee, General Secretary, I.C.I. and Associated Companies Employees, Union.

Short Recital of the Case :

Differences having arisen between the Company and its workmen aforesaid in connection with the transfer of the Company's employees from its establishments in Calcutta to its Rishra Works and the parties hereto having agreed to settle these differences, it is hereby agreed and declared that the terms of settlement set out below shall be in full and final settlement of all matters arising out of, in relation to or in connection with the past or future transfer of all or any of the Company's employees from the Company's establishment at Calcutta to its Rishra Works.

Terms of settlement :

1. The workmen aforesaid accept that it is in the mutual interests of the Company and themselves that there should be a free and unfettered transfer of employees by the Company between the Company's establishment at Calcutta and its Rishra Works.

2. The Union undertakes not to raise or entertain any industrial dispute (a) in connection with matters covering transfer of staff from Calcutta to Rishra and (b) in respect of service conditions of any employee of the Company borne on the rolls of its Rishra Works; it being understood that the workmen may raise through any union operating in the Company's Rishra Works any matters concerning non-implementation of this agreement.

3. Any transfer of an employee of the Company from any of its Calcutta establishments to its Rishra Works taking place after the date of this settlement shall be subject to the following conditions :

(a) On transfer, the employee concerned will receive one increment in the scale applicable to him in Calcutta, plus a disturbance allowance at the rate of Rs. 30 per month for a period of two years from the date of transfer.

(b) The scale of pay applicable to such transferred employee will be the Calcutta scale applicable to him adjusted by one increment as aforesaid, though the rate of dearness allowance applicable to him will be the rate laid down for employees at the Company's Rishra Works. The said Calcutta scale of pay will continue to apply to such employee until he is promoted to a higher Rishra grade and scale or until he voluntarily elects, prior to such promotion to be absorbed in any Rishra grade and scale of pay provided in the event of any subsequent Agreement revising terms and conditions of service of the workmen in Rishra Works, the workmen governed by this Agreement other than those who have in the meantime been absorbed in Rishra grade and scale of pay will be given the option either to retain their current grade and scale of pay or to opt for the grade and scale of pay introduced by the said subsequent agreement.

(c) If as a result of the exercise of the election referred to in paragraph (b) above, it transpires that an employee who elects to be absorbed in any Rishra grade or scale of pay, will be subject to a reduction in the rate of annual increment at any stage, one extra increment in the Rishra scale will be given to such employee at the time of absorption in the Rishra grade.

(d) The transferred employee will have to intimate to the Company in writing whether he wishes to accept the adjustment benefit specified in the 5-year agreement between the Company and its workmen in the Company's rolls at Rishra signed on 3rd August 1966 or the adjustment benefit specified in the 5-year agreement between the Company and Calcutta employees signed on 13th April 1966;

(e) All employees transferred to the Company's Rishra Works prior to the date of this settlement will also be paid the disturbance allowance referred to in paragraph (a) above for the period specified, less any disturbance allowance already paid under any previous agreements or arrangements.

4. Out of 7 'D' grade employees already transferred to Rishra, two have voluntarily accepted Rishra Plant 'D' grade. The remaining five will (on a purely personal basis) be treated as being in Rishra 'C' grade although holding Rishra 'D' grade posts. It is clearly understood that when any of them leaves the post he is holding at present, future incumbents in the same pos will have no right to claim 'C' grade but will be in Rishra 'D' grade.

With regard to the two staff who have accepted Rishra Plant 'D' grade, they will be given the option either to remain as at present or to elect Rishra 'C' grade for office staff. provided, however, if either or both of them choose to accept Rishra 'C' grade for office staff he/they will be treated on identical basis as the other five concerned staff.

5. An employee transferred under the provisions of the Agreement, dated 27th October 1960 or to be transferred under the provisions of the present Agreement shall not be transferred to Plant without his consent.

6. In consideration of the above, the industrial dispute now pending before the Fifth Industrial Tribunal, Calcutta, pursuant to Order of Reference No. 2125-I.R./IR/3111/199/1965, dated 28th May 1966, is hereby settled fully and finally on the terms and conditions set out above and the Tribunal will be asked to pass an award in terms of these Terms of Settlement.

7. This settlement shall come into operation on its being signed by the parties to it and shall continue to be in force for a period of five years thereafter.

Issue

Whether termination of employment of Shri Abani Mohan Majumdar is justified ? What relief, if any, is entitled to ?

On receipt of the order of reference, notices were issued on the parties fixing 18th October 1966 for the appearance as also for filing of written statement by the union. In pursuance of the said notices, parties appeared and filed their written statements. Subsequently, however, on 20th January 1967, they filed a joint petition stating that the concerned worker does not want to press for his reinstatement or any other claim whatsoever as he had been paid Rs. 200 by Messrs Bandhab Bastralaya (P) Ltd., and praying for disposal of the present reference in terms of the petition. The joint petition was signed by the concerned worker Shri Abani Mohan Majumdar as also by Shri Sadhan Prosad Datta, General Secretary of Shop Assistants' Association of Bengal and Shri Chhagan Lal Kothari, Director of the Company. I have perused the terms of the petition and I am satisfied that the industrial dispute under reference has been settled on terms mentioned in the petition and that there is no subsisting dispute between the parties. Accordingly a "no dispute" award is passed. The joint petition do form part of the award.

This is my award.

No. 438-I.R./IR/10L-118(A)/64.—4th February 1967.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 482-I.R./IR/10L-118(A)/64, dated the 3rd February 1965, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Barakar Electric Supply Co., P.O. Barakar, district Burdwan, and their workmen represented by the Barakar Electric Supply Company Employees' Union, P.O. Barakar, district Burdwan, regarding the issue mentioned in the said order being a matter specified in the second schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred for adjudication to the Second Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said Second Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Barakar Electric Supply Co., P.O. Barakar, district Burdwan, and their workmen represented by the Barakar Electric Supply Company Employees' Union, P.O. Barakar, district Burdwan. (Case No. VIII-26 of 1965).

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL WEST BENGAL, Present :

Shri S. K. BHATTACHARYYA, Judge, Second Industrial Tribunal.

By order No. 482-I.R./IR/10L-118(A)/64, dated Calcutta, the 3rd February 1965, Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred an industrial dispute between Messrs. Barakar Electric Supply Company, and their workmen represented by the Barakar Electric Supply Company Employees' Union, which was referred to this Tribunal for adjudication regarding the only issue contained in the order of reference.

Issue

Whether the termination of service of Shri P. Uday Verma is justified ? What relief, if any, is he entitled to ?

After the receipt of the reference both parties were served with notice and written statements were filed by the Union as well as by the company. The Union is its written statement challenged the termination as an instance of victimisation and unfair labour practice and set up a plea that as per the terms of the modified contract, workman's service could not be terminated by paying him one month's wages.

The company, on the other hand, asserted that the worker concerned was appointed under terms and conditions which were set out in the appointment letter, dated 10th December 1962 (Annexure A to the written statement of the company) and the workman concerned accepted the said terms and conditions in his letter, dated 12th December 1962 (Annexure A1). The said terms and conditions of service were never altered or modified at any time and the discharge in the instant case was termination simpliciter as per the terms of appointment and as such the company was not required either to issue a charge-sheet or a show cause notice.

For the company : Shri Hariram Chawdhury, Labour Welfare Officer.

For the Union : None.

Decision

At the time of hearing however neither the Union nor the workman concerned turned up nor did they show any sufficient cause for their failure to be present before the Tribunal. The matter was therefore heard ex-parte and the company examined one witness, namely, Chandra Prokash Agarwala who was partner and Secretary of Barakar Electric Supply Company He proved the appointment letter as also the letter of acceptance of the appointment by the concerned workman and denied that the said terms and conditions of service were ever modified. He also proved the payment of one month's wages to the concerned workman under voucher Ext. C which bears the signature of the concerned workman on the reverse. One of the terms and conditions of the appointment letter was that the service of the concerned workman may be terminated by one month's notice from either side and the worker in his letter Ext B accepted the said terms of appointment. He joined the appointment on 24th December 1962. There is no evidence or material on record to show that this appointment letter was modified by any subsequent letter and as the terms are not repugnant to any of the provisions of the law, the service of the concerned workman may be terminated by one month's notice from either side or in lieu thereof payment of a month's wage. Such a termination is a discharge simpliciter, for which the company is not bound to assign any reason nor can the workman ask for a departmental enquiry. No misconduct has been alleged in this case and the question of enquiry does not arise in view of the contract of employment. Having regard to the materials on record, the termination of service of Shri Uday Varma in the instant case must be regarded as discharge simpliciter and in the circumstances of the case appears to be justified. It follows therefore that the concerned workman Shri Uday Varma is not entitled to any relief and the Tribunal makes an award accordingly

NOTIFICATION

No. 411L.—23rd February, 1967.—The Governor having been pleased to order, under rule 66 of the Rules of Procedure and Conduct of Business in the West Bengal Legislative Assembly, the publication of the following Bill, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons and the Financial Memorandum which accompany it, in the Calcutta Gazette, the Bill, the Statement of Objects and Reasons and the Financial Memorandum are accordingly hereby published for general information:—

THE WEST BENGAL LAND (REQUISITION AND ACQUISITION) (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1967.

to amend the West Bengal Land (Requisition and Acquisition) Act, 1948

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the West Bengal Land (Requisition and Acquisition) Act, 1948 for the purpose and in the manner hereinafter appearing; West Ben. Act II of 1948.

It is hereby enacted in the Eighteenth Year of the Republic of India, by the Legislature of West Bengal, as follows:—

Short title. 1. This Act may be called the West Bengal Land (Requisition and Acquisition) (Amendment) Act, 1967.

Amendment of section 1 of West Ben. Act II of 1948. 2. In sub-section (4) of section 1 of the West Bengal Land (Requisition and Acquisition) Act, 1948, for the words and figures "the 31st day of March, 1967", the words and figures "the 31st day of March, 1972" shall be substituted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The West Bengal Land (Requisition and Acquisition) Act, 1948 (West Ben. Act II of 1948) will cease to be in force after the 31st March, 1967. The Act provides for an expeditious procedure for requisitioning and acquisition of land for certain specified essential public purposes. For getting quick possession of land required for various urgent development projects already undertaken and to be undertaken under the Fourth Five Year Plan, it is necessary to retain the Act.

2. It is accordingly proposed to amend the Act for extending its life for a further period of five years up to the 31st March, 1972.

3. The Bill has been framed with the above object in view.

S. BHATTACHARYYA,
Member-in-charge.

CALCUTTA,
The 11th February, 1967.

FINANCIAL MEMORANDUM.

Under clause 2 of the Bill, the life of the West Bengal Land (Requisition and Acquisition) Act, 1948 (West Ben. Act II of 1948) is sought to be extended for a further period of five years up to the 31st March, 1972. The Bill by itself does not involve any additional liability although compensation will have to be paid for requisitioning and for acquisition of land under the provisions of the Act.

2. It is not possible to say at this stage how much land will be requisitioned and/or acquired under the Act during the period of five years for which the life of the Act is sought to be extended. The expenditure that the State Government may have to incur on account of payment of compensation for requisitioning and acquisition of land under the Act during this period cannot, therefore, be estimated now.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT

NOTIFICATION

No. 436L. — 27th February, 1967. — The Governor having been pleased to order, under rule 66 of the Rules of Procedure and Conduct of Business in the West Bengal Legislative Assembly, the publication of the following Bill, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons which accompanies it, in the Calcutta Gazette, the Bill and the Statement of Objects and Reasons are accordingly hereby published for general information:—

THE BENGAL PUBLIC DEMANDS RECOVERY (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1967.

to amend the Bengal Public Demands Recovery Act, 1913.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Bengal Public Demands Recovery Act, 1913 for the purposes and in the manner hereinafter appearing; Ben. Act III of 1913.

It is hereby enacted in the Eighteenth Year of the Republic of India, by the Legislature of West Bengal, as follows:—

Short title. 1. This Act may be called the Bengal Public Demands Recovery (Amendment) Act, 1967.

The Bengal Public Demands Recovery (Amendment) Bill, 1967.

(Clauses 2—4.)

Amendment of section 39 of Ben. Act III of 1913.

2. In sub-section (2) of section 39 of the Bengal Public Demands Recovery Act, 1913 (hereinafter referred to as the said Act), clause (f) shall be omitted.

Amendment of section 50.

3. Section 50 of the said Act shall be renumbered as sub-section (1) of that section and after sub-section (1) as so renumbered, the following sub-sections shall be, and shall be deemed always to have been, added, namely:—

"(2) The Collector may, for reasons to be recorded in writing, transfer certificates, proceedings in execution of certificates and petitions under section 9 denying liability, from one Certificate-officer to another for disposal.

(3) For the removal of doubts it is hereby declared that—

(a) notwithstanding any order to the contrary passed in connection with any certificate, proceeding in execution of certificate or petition under section 9 denying liability, all certificates, proceedings in execution of certificates and petitions under section 9 denying liability which, by orders passed by the Collector before the commencement of this Act, were transferred from one Certificate-officer to another for disposal shall be deemed to have been validly transferred and no such order of transfer shall be called in question merely on the ground that this Act was not in force on the date when the said order was passed;

(b) in computing the period of limitation provided in sub-section (2) of section 51 of the said Act the period beginning from the date when the Collector passed an order transferring a certificate or a proceeding in execution of a certificate or a petition under section 9 denying liability and ending with the date of coming into force of this Act, shall be excluded.".

Amendment of Schedule 1.

4. In Schedule 1 to the said Act, after article 16, the following article shall be added, namely:—

"17. Any money payable to Government by a person on account of use or occupation by such person of any house, tenement or room belonging to Government.".

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

A rule was made by the Board of Revenue, West Bengal under the provisions of section 39(2)(f) of the Bengal Public Demands Recovery Act, 1913 (Ben. Act III of 1913) empowering the Collector to transfer certificates, proceedings in execution of certificates and petitions under section 9 of the Act denying liability, from one Certificate-officer to another for disposal. The rule came into force on and from the 4th February, 1965. But prior to that date, orders had been passed by the Collector, 24-Parganas transferring a large number of cases from one Certificate-officer to another for disposal. These orders of transfer had thus been made without jurisdiction. It is necessary to validate these orders.

2. Under various housing schemes tenements belonging to Government are allotted to occupants under unregistered instruments. The registration of such instruments has not been found feasible. The arrears of licence fees and rents payable for such tenements cannot, therefore, be recovered under the Bengal Public Demands Recovery Act, 1913. Regular civil suits for realisation of such dues entail delay and heavy cost. It is, therefore, necessary to provide for realisation of such dues under the Bengal Public Demands Recovery Act, 1913.

3. The Bill has been framed with the above objects in view.

After receipt of the reference, notices were issued upon the parties and the Union appeared and filed written statement on 4th April 1966. The Union in its written statement asserted that Jay Engineering Works Ltd., is the biggest organisation of its kind engaging about 7000 workmen who were organised as a trade Union under the name and style of Jay Engineering Workers' Union. This Union was recognised by the company as the only representative of the workers, but this recognition was arbitrarily withdrawn by the management sometime before the strike. In the year 1962 the company filed a Writ petition over an order for deduction of provident fund on production bonus earnings which was fought up to Supreme Court. As a result of the decision of the Supreme Court, the company had to pay a considerable amount towards provident fund contribution of the workers. This irritated the management and company became inimical towards the Union and started taking steps to crush it. It refused to listen to the most pressing demands of the Union and adopted unfair labour practice in various ways and the Union being forced, served a notice of strike on the management on 24th November 1963 and pursuant to said notices resorted to strike with effect from 17th December 1963. On the basis of a tripartite agreement. dated 27th May 1964, the strike was called off and the workers resumed their duties. As per the terms of the settlement certain workmen whose names appear in an appendix attached to the memorandum of settlement were to remain suspended pending domestic enquiry against them and final adjudication of their cases by an Industrial Tribunal. It was however agreed that in the event of management deciding to take disciplinary action against any or all of them. the management will apply under section 33(1) of the Industrial Disputes Act for permission before the Tribunal and to avoid unnecessary delay, Union agreed not to contest the said proceedings and if the punishment finally awarded by the management was not accepted by the Union the parties will then take a joint request to the Government for a regular reference under the Industrial Disputes Act. Hence the present reference on mutual consent under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act as per terms of the aforesaid agreement, dated 27th May 1964. All the workmen named above were charge-sheeted on different counts and they replied to the charges denying the allegations contained therein. Thereafter there were domestic enquiries against each workmen which were attended by all the workers. The Union contend that the said enquiries were neither fair not proper and the workmen were not given the opportunity of being defended by a co-worker of their choice, which is the custom prevailing in the company and thus constituted a condition of service. Moreover copies of the complaints on the basis of which charge-sheets were drawn up, were not made over to the delinquent workers and there were various other infirmities which vitiated the domestic enquiries and the Union reserved the right to place those matters before the Tribunal at the time of hearing. After conclusion of each domestic enquiry, the company prayed for approval of the action proposed to be taken by them before the First Industrial Tribunal under section 33(1) of the Industrial Disputes Act as an industrial dispute was then awaiting adjudication before that Tribunal. The company obtained the approval in each case and dismissed 23 workers on various charges of misconduct. The Union alleged that the workmen were not guilty of any misconduct and the charges brought against them are all false, misconceived and baseless. The enquiries were neither fair nor proper and the workmen concerned were not given fair opportunity to defend themselves and the findings of the Enquiring Officer was perverse and baseless. The Union accordingly contends that the action of the company in dismissing the 23 workmen is void, illegal, mala fide and against the principles of natural justice and were carried on with the ulterior motive to victimise the workmen for their trade union activities. The order of dismissal was moreover void and the company was estopped in view of its own letter, dated 31st March 1964. The Union accordingly prayed for setting aside of the order of dismissal and prayed for reinstatement of the 23 workmen with full compensation for the period of forced unemployment.

In regard to issue No. 2, Union contended that demotion of Balai Ghosh was void, illegal, mala fide and was carried out with the ultimate object of victimising the workman for his trade union activities. The Union accordingly prayed for setting aside of the order of demotion and prayed for reinstatement in his former post with full back wages.

The Company in its written statement filed on 24th May 1966 inter-alia contended that the allegations contained in the written statement of the Union were incorrect, baseless and irrelevant. The company contended that as a result of the indisciplined activities of the Union, they were forced to withdraw recognition of the Union which incited the workers to resort to an illegal strike with effect from 17th December 1963 which was eventually terminated on the basis of a settlement arrived at on 27th May 1964. The strike was sponsored and supported by the Jay Engineering Workers' Union, and was not a case in isolation, but a planned effort on the part of the Union completely dominated by a political party to paralise the industries as well as the law and order in the country. The Union served a charter of demands on the company and a notice of strike with effect from 17th December 1963. The management requested the Union for a discussion across the table, but the Union in their reply pointed out that no useful purpose would be served by such a discussion unless the management agreed to meet the Union's demand. The matter was thereafter taken up by the Labour Directorate, who invited the representatives of the parties for discussion but the Union representatives failed to meet the officer of the Labour Directorate. The Union representatives adopted an uncompromising and non-co-operative attitude at the conciliation meeting. As Messrs. Jay Engineering Works Ltd., was declared a Public Utility Service and as it earned considerable amount of foreign exchange every year six items out of the charter of demands of the Union were referred to the First Industrial Tribunal for adjudication. While attempts at amicable settlement was still being made, Union forced the workers to go on an illegal strike with effect from 17th December 1963 inspite of the reference to an Industrial Tribunal for adjudication.

After the dispute was referred to the Tribunal, the Labour Commissioner addressed a letter to the Union on 20th December 1963 urging them to call off this strike. No attention was paid to this advice and finally on 10th April 1964 by an order issued under Defence of India Rules, Government of West Bengal banned the continuance of the strike, which continued despite the order and in utter defiance of it. The strike according to the company was illegal and unjustified from its very inception. The position of the management was appreciated both by the Government and the Public. Emoluments paid by the company to its workmen was one of the highest in this Country; even an unskilled worker drew a minimum of Rs. 300 to Rs. 350 per month which is considered to be the highest wage in the industries in this region. Besides the wages, workers of Jay Engineering Works also enjoyed a number of concessions such as profit sharing, incentive scheme, provident fund benefits, subsidised canteen and workers housing scheme. The Union, it was further contended, after losing all sympathy of the Government and the Public, was left with no other alternative, but to call off the strike and enter into a settlement with the management, which became effective on 27th May 1964. The Union accepted management's right to take disciplinary action against 25 workmen, were involved in subversive and violent activities apart from participating in the illegal strike. Management thereafter conducted separate domestic enquiry against all the delinquent workmen and applied before the First Industrial Tribunal, West Bengal, for approval under section 33(1) of the Industrial Disputes Act. Those applications were not opposed as per terms of the Settlement and formal orders were obtained from the Tribunal to take specific action against each workman.

Management asserted that the domestic enquiry conducted by it was fair and proper in all cases and the workmen concerned were given fullest opportunity to defend themselves and they also participated at the enquiry and signed in the enquiry proceeding at various stages. The management denied that the workers concerned were not alllowed to have the assistance of a co-worker of their choice or the principles of natural justice were violated in any or all the enquiries. As a result of the domestic enquiry conducted against each of these workmen, they were adjudged guilty on various charges and 23 of the workmen enumerated in the list as per issue No. 1 were dismissed and one as per Issue No. 2 was demoted. Upon this and other contentions raised in their written statement, the company prayed that the claim of the Union for reinstatement of the workers be rejected and the Tribunal may be pleased to justify the punishment awarded in the instant cases.

For the Union: Shri Patit Paban Pathak.

Findings

Before taking up the cases of individual workman it is necessary to refer to the background of the dispute in the instant cases. Many of the workmen enumerated in the list are office bearers and members of the executive committee of the Jay Engineering Workers' Union. Its recognition was withdrawn shortly before the strike. There is no dispute that the workers of this company went on strike with effect from 17th December 1963 and it was only on 27th May 1964 the strike was called off on the basis of an agreement signed on that day. The strike however was declared illegal by the Government as early as 10th April 1964; despite this declaration the strike continued for a pretty long time and various subversive activities were alleged to have been resorted to by the workers for successful continuance of the strike. Several criminal cases were started against some of the workers, whose cases are under reference and although none of the criminal cases ended in conviction, some were fought out. A number of officers of Jay Engineering Works were alleged to have received injuries, both as a result of isolated and sporadic vandalism and also on account of large scale obstructions, against their entry in the factory during the period of strike. The management drew up charge-sheets against all the aforesaid workers and as many as 23 separate enquiries were conducted. Of these O.P.W.1. Shri Nirmal Chandra Moitra conducted 21 enquiries and O.P.W.2 Shri Kalipada Das Gupta conducted the remaining two enquiries against worker Shri Soumen Bhattacharjee and Jagat Jyoti Guha.

Enquiring Officer Shri Maitra was appointed as Labour Adviser, Jay Engineering Works Ltd., with effect from 20th March 1964 presumably to hold these enquiries. He was Assistant Secretary as also Deputy Secretary, Labour Department, Government of West Bengal, from 1949 to 1957 and retired from Government service shortly after that. Shri Das Gupta was formerly a Deputy Magistrate and worked as a First Class Magistrate at various places. He retired from Government service, when he was holding the appointment of Assistant Secretary, Commerce and Industries Department, Government of West Bengal. He was also drafted for conducting the domestic enquiry against some of the workers. All these enquiries were challenged by the Union as unfair and improper and all the workmen excepting Bharat Giri and Deepak Chakraborty, in their evidence made out a grievance that they were not allowed to have the assistance of a co-worker of their choice, and the documents or allegations on the basis of which charge-sheets were drawn up were not, made available to them before the commencement of the enquiry. Some of the workmen further contended that they were not afforded any opportunity of producing their own witnesses in support of their cases and the procedure adopted by the enquiring officer was also objected to by some of the workmen. The workmen concerned further made out a grievance that the company resorted to unfair labour practice and they were penalised or victimised for their Union activities.

Since the enquiries were separate, case of each workman will be taken up and discussed separately on the basis of the evidence recorded by the enquiring officer. Before doing so, it is necessary to examine some of the general contentions raised in this proceeding, which are common to all the enquiries.

(i) right of representation;
(ii) requirements of a charge-sheet;
(iii) requirements of a domestic enquiry,
(iv) plea of estoppel.
(v) victimisation or unfair labour practice.
(vi) leading questions;
(vii) Identification;
(viii) consideration of extreneous matters and parallel cases by Enquiring Officer;
(ix) contradictory evidence in parallel cases on the same incident;
(x) standing orders and its application;
(xi) punishment.

Since all the dismissed workers raised these objections, these points are taken up at the beginning in order to avoid unnecessary repetition

(I) Right of Representation

As per paragraph 14 of the Written Statement of the Union the workmen concerned were not given the opportunity of being defended by a co-worker of their choice which has become the custom in the said company and was thus a condition of service for them. All the 24 workers excepting P.W. 12, Dipak Chakraborty and P.W.25, Bharat Giri, raised this plea and contended that they were not allowed to have the assistance of a co-worker of their choice at the enquiry. Dipak Chakraborty (P.W. 12) and Bharat Giri (P.W. 25) were assisted by their co-worker Satya Singh in the domestic enquiry and this plea was not taken by them. From the notice of enquiry served on the delinquent workers it would appear that they were given the opportunity of having the assistance of a co-worker of their choice, who was not on suspension. O.P.W. 4, Jagadish Goswami, in his evidence stated that the workers were not entitled to have the assistance of a co-worker in a domestic enquiry under any of the provision of the Certified Standing Orders but such facilities were extended to them in individual cases at the discretion of the management. According to the witness the workers were never allowed to have the assistance of a suspended worker on any previous occasion. P.W. 15 Bimal Chatterjee, one of the dismissed worker, however, admitted in cross-examination that no suspended worker ever represented a charge-sheeted worker at the domestic enquiry on any previous occasion. All these workers, excepting Dipak Chakraborty and Bharat Giri, asked for the assistance of a suspended co-worker, which however was disallowed by the enquiring officer but he appears to have given them opportunity of having a co-worker, who was not on suspension (vide evidence of Nirmal Chandra Moitra, O.P.W. 1) taken on different dates. Undoubtedly the workers had no such right under any of the provisions of the Standing Orders of the company. Shri Pathak, appearing for the Union contended that the Company not having controverted the assertion of the Union made in paragraph 14 of the written statement that the right of representation was a condition of service based on custom could not now be heard to say that the workers had no such right of representation. It was further contended that the offer made by the company in the notice of enquiry that the delinquent worker could have the assistance of a co-worker, who was not on suspension was not a valid offer for the simple reason that the suspended worker was as much a worker as anyone else and the offer could not be a conditional one. I regret, I am unable to accept this contention. For, the Union has not produced any papers to show that the right of representation was a condition of service based on custom or that any delinquent worker was ever allowed to be represented in any enquiry by a suspended worker. Suspension means "temporary termination of the employment" or provisional putting in abeyance of the position of the suspended worker as employees (1958, (I) L.L.J., page 567 at 571). If suspension temporarily terminates the employment of a worker, he cannot for any purpose be regarded as a co-worker, so long as the suspension continued. Ordinarily a workman has no right of representation in a domestic enquiry unless such a right is recognised in the certified standing orders. He cannot claim the right to be represented by a lawyer or an outsider of his choice but the Supreme Court in the case of N. Kalindi versus Tata Locomotive Engineering Co., Ltd., reported in A. I. R. 1960 Supreme Court page 914 and in Brooke Bond India Ltd., versus Subharaman reported in 1961, (II) L.L.J., page 470 held that although the workman against whom enquiry was being held by the management has no right to be represented at such enquiry by a representative of the Union, in the interest of fair play, it was proper that the employer may and should allow the demand of the workman to avail himself of such assistance. In the case of Brooke Bond India Ltd., the employer proceeded to hold enquiry against 2 of its workmen, one of whom demanded to be represented at the enquiry by his counsel and the other by an outsider of his choice. The enquiring officer refused them permission to do so, but offered them representation by a member of their Union. Both workmen refused the offer and withdrew from the enquiry. The enquiry thereafter proceeded ex-parte and the management decided to dismiss the workmen. On appeal to the Supreme Court, it was held that the enquiring officer had done everything which under the law, he was required to do and the enquiry held by the management was regular and proper and there was no reason to interfere with the decision of the employer. Supreme Court further observed that the matter was concluded by the decision of that Court in N. Kalindi's case cited above. In the case of Dunlop Rubber Co. (India) Ltd., reported in 1965 (I) L.L.J., page 427, Supreme Court went further and observed that refusal to allow representation by any Union unless standing orders confer such a right did not vitiate the proceeding. In the instant case, the enquiring officer, while denying the workers right to be represented by a suspended worker, offered them to bring a co-worker who was not on suspension but this was not availed of by any of the workmen.

There is no satisfactory evidence on the record to show that in the instant cases right of representation was a condition of service based on custom. No such contention appears to have been canvassed or pressed in any previous enquiry. A condition of service based on custom must have for its acceptance some precedents to follow. No such precedent has been cited in the instant case. In the circumstances it must be held that the workers did not have any right of representation in any enquiry. Consequently failure to be represented by a co-worker of his own choice in the instant cases cannot be said to have vitiated the enquiries.

(ii) Requirements of a charge-sheet

The workers were served with charge-sheets on various dates relating to incidents that took place on and from 17th December 1963. First of these charge-sheets were issued on 29th December 1963 and last one on 11th June 1964. In many cases the charge-sheet did not disclose the names of the persons who were said to have been threatened, terrorised and intimidated or who were mobbed or stopped or assaulted or threatened to be assualted. There was, according to Shri Pathak unreasonable delay in issuing the charge-sheets in most cases and in many cases charge-sheets were issued after the signing of the agreement on 27th May 1964 whereby the charges were condoned. Moreover charges in some cases were not preferred or drawn up in chronological order, thereby indicating that the earlier incidents were not under the consideration of the management at the dates when the latter charges were drawn up. This according to Shri Pathak give rise to an inference of afterthought.

I regret, I am unable to accept this contention. In the first place it is to be pointed out that the purpose of a charge-sheet is to give timely notice to the delinquent worker about the case of the management he has to meet and if the charge relates to the incident and mentions the time and place of the occurrence, the mere fact that the persons involved were not mentioned or they were not set out in chronological order, would not render it infructuous unless the workmen concerned was prejudiced thereby. A charge-sheet could not be expected to be a record of evidence and if it gives necessary particulars of the misconduct alleged, it cannot be characterised as imprecise. It was held by the Allahabad High Court in the case reported in 1964 (I) L.L.J., page 110 that a fair hearing includes giving of a charge-sheet to the concerned employee containing necessary particulars of the charges. It does not include giving of the statements recorded in the preliminary enquiry. The employer may give those statements to the delinquent workman, if he so decides but if he does not give those statements to the charged employee along with the charge-sheet, it cannot be said that the principles of natural justice has been violated. Consequently, the charge-sheet in the instant cases cannot be said to be imperfect or imprecise merely because the names of the willing workers or officers who were assaulted, threatened or intimated does not appear there. The incidents were otherwise pin-pointed by giving necessary particulars and the workers concerned not having taken any exception at the time of enquiry cannot now be permitted to raise this objection at this stage. Moreover there is nothing on the record to show that the failure on the part of the management to disclose further details in the charge-sheet prejudiced the workers in a serious manner so as to amount to miscarriage of justice in any of these cases. For the same reasons delay in issuing charge-sheets, cannot be regarded as fatal, even though these are normally issued within a week. We should not in this connection lose sight of the fact that a most abnormal situation was then prevailing and the whole administration practically went out of gear at the time of strike. Consequently, it would be unreasonable to expect the management to be extra prompt in these matters. These objections cannot therefore be entertained.

(iii) Requirements of a Domestic Enquiry

A domestic enquiry must be conducted fairly and properly and in consonance with the principles of natural justice. In the case of Sur Enamel and Stamping Works Ltd., (1963 (II) L.L.J. page 367) Supreme Court laid down the requirements of a valid and proper domestic enquiry. An enquiry cannot be said to have been properly held unless :

(a) The employee proceeded against has been clearly informed of the charges;

(b) the witnesses are examined—ordinarily in presence of the employee in respect of the charges;

(c) the employee is given a fair opportunity to cross-examine the witnesses;

(d) he is given a fair opportunity to examine witnesses including himself in his defence; if he so wishes;

(e) the enquiring officer records his findings with the reasons for the same in his report.

In the Associated Cement Company's case reported in 1963 (II) L.L.J. page 396, Supreme Court laid down certain conditions which would ordinarily render a domestic enquiry improper. These infirmities are :—

(a) the enquiring officers themselves were witnesses to the occurrence;

(b) the enquiring officers relied on their own knowledge;

(c) a specific date of enquiry was not communicated to the workman concerned;

(d) the proceedings commenced with the cross-examination of the workman even before he was given an opportunity to adduce evidence.

A domestic enquiry must therefore be presided over by a person, who was not disqualified from holding the enquiry for any reason, such as bias. or prior knowledge but a domestic enquiry cannot be said to be unfair or improper merely because a particular witness has been disbelieved by the enquiring officer or the report of a witness has not been furnished, unless such an omission caused prejudice to the workman or the enquiring officer does not take steps to compel the witnesses whom the workman charged, wishes to examine or refuses an adjournment which was not reasonable. If the enquiring officer has used his discretion reasonably in allowing or disallowing a question to a witness or refuses to examine a witness, the enquiry is not open to attach unless it was shown that the discretion was exercised malafide or for depriving the workman from proving his innocence. In the Kesoram Cotton Mills' case reported in 1963 (II) L.L.J page 371, at page 380, Supreme Court laid down the guide-lines for a departmental enquiry in the following words :

> "It seems to us therefore that when one is dealing with domestic enquiries in industrial matters, the proper course for the management is to examine the witnesses from the beginning to the end in the presence of the workman at the enquiry itself. Oral examination always take much longer than a mere reading of a prepared statement of the same length and brings home the evidence more clearly to the person against whom the enquiry is being held. Generally speaking, therefore, we should expect a domestic enquiry by the management to be of this kind".

Such Tribunals, Supreme Court has observed in 1958 (II), L.L.J., 259 at page 263, are only required to observe rules of natural justice in the conduct of the enquiry. If they do so, their decision is not liable to be impeached on the ground that the procedure followed was not in accordance with that obtained in a Court of Law.

In the background of the principles formulated by the Supreme Court, it is necessary to scrutinise how the enquiries in the instant cases were conducted. The enquiring officers as I have already pointed out were drafted from outside and had no personal or prior knowledge of the matter relating to the incident under enquiry. There is no personal allegation of any enemity or ill-will against any of the officers. The procedure adopted by the enquiring officer may briefly be noted The enquiring officer in his evidence given on 26th July 1966 (O.P.W. 1.) stated that the procedure followed by him in all these enquiries were recorded in an uniform manner. The workers appeared before him in all the enquiries, cross-examined the prosecution witnesses in many cases and also examined defence witnesses in most cases and themselves made statements. They attested the enquiring proceeding in each page and copy of each day's proceeding was handed over to the workman concerned at the end of the day. The enquiring officer further stated that the enquiry proceeding faithfully represents what transpired at the enquiry. The only allegations against the enquiring officers was that the answers given by the witnesses were not correctly or properly recorded and the enquiring officers denied all these allegations. From the records of the enquiry proceedings in most cases, it would appear that the enquiring officers noted all the objections that could have been taken, and gave their decisions then and there.

(iv) Plea of Estoppel

The Union in paragraph 13 of their written statement pleaded that the Company is estopped from taking any action against the charge-sheeted workmen in view of the letter addressed by them to all the workers on 31st March 1964. In the said letter addressed to all the workers it was stated that pending enquiries and final decision of the Company, services of the charge-sheeted worker was to remain suspended without salary from the date the present illegal strike was over and the day the worker reported for duty. In paragraph 20 it was further contended that the order of dismissal was void inasmuch as in the said letter it was contemplated that the workers were to remain on suspension without any pay for a certain period of time and that was to be regarded as the maximum punishment to be meted out to them. The Company in paragraph 13 of their written statement characterised this statement as ambiguous, baseless and having no legal bearing. I regret I am unable to accept this contention of the Union. In the first place it is to be pointed out that no question of estoppel arises as this letter merely precluded the charge-sheeted worker from resuming his duty and directed them to be on suspension with effect from the day the strike was over By this the Company cannot be said to have committed themselves to a particular course of action; far less they can be said to be estopped from proceeding against any particular worker. Interpretation put forwore on behalf of the Union must therefore be rejected and the Company, I hold, is not estopped from inflicting the punishment.

(v) Victimisation or unfair Labour Practice

The union in their written statement asserted that the company in dismissing the 23 workmen and in demoting another acted against all the principles of natural justice and victimised the aforesaid workers for their trade union activities. Since this plea was taken in almost all the cases and the workers concerned in their evidence before the Tribunal have asserted that they have been victimised for their trade union activities, this matter is to be considered in its proper perspective.

Victimisation has been held to be one of the two things. Firstly, when the workman concerned is innocent and yet he is punished because he has in some way displeased the employer, either by being an active member of an union of workmen, who were acting prejudicially to the employer's interest or in any other way. Secondly, the employee has committed an offence but he is given punishment, out of proportion to the gravity of the offence simply because he has incurred the displeasure of the employer in a similar manner. But where the worker is guilty of gross misconduct, question of victimisation does not arise. It necessarily follows that in order that there may be a finding of victimisation, the action of the management must be held to be malafide or want of good faith may be attributed to them. Such an inference can only be drawn where evidence has been laid to justify it. Such a finding, it has been held by the Supreme Court in the case of Ananda Bazar Patrika, [1963 (II), L.L.J., (S.C.) at page 429] should not be made either in an casual manner or light heartedly.

It is true that the Union in their written statement contended that the enquiry was merely a pretence of an enquiry and was held in utter disregard of the rules of natural justice and the workers concerned had been victimised but besides making this allegation there is nothing else in the written statement to show in what manner the enquiry was unfair or improper or in what way the charge-sheeted worker was victimised. In the State Bank of Bikaner's case reported in 1963 (II) L.L.J., page 657, above view was endrosed by the Supreme Court. Consequently, it follows that in order to make out a case of victimisation, the Union or the worker must establish that the worker concerned has either been made a scape goat or he is being punished for something done by him in another context, which has no relation to or bearing with the charge, that has been framed against him and the enquiry was merely a pretence to punish him for a fault which was either of a trifling nature or the punishment is shockingly disproportionate or unconscionable to the nature of the offence, so that the Tribunal may be able to draw an adverse inference of victimisation from the punishment inflicted. As this aspect of the case has got to be scrutinised in every enquiry, this will be further dealt with when individual cases are taken up.

(vi) Leading Question

Shri Pathak on behalf of the Union took exception to leading questions being put to witnesses at the time of enquiry either by the enquiring officer or by the management's representative and has asserted that this has resulted in failure of justice. It is true that leading questions, were put to some of the witnesses of the management at the domestic enquiry but such questions in my view cannot vitiate the enquiry. The matter is one of procedural law by which evidence is to be obtained. Leading question has been defined in section 141 of the Indian Evidence Act and the ban on leading questions as laid down in section 142 is not absolute. In so far as domestic enquiries are concerned the position even appears to be easier where the provisions of the Indian Evidence Act has no application. Supreme Court in 1958 (II) L.L.J. 259 at page 263-64 observed that Indian Evidence Act has no application to enquiries conducted by Tribunals, even though they may be judicial in character. Banerjee J. in Statesman (P) Ltd's., case reported in 1962 (IV) F.L.R. 422 at page 425 pointed out that it was well known that the Evidence Act did not apply to a departmental enquiry. Disapproving the view taken by the Labour Court, his Lordship proceeded to observe that the Labour Court was wrong in importing the technicalities of the rules of evidence and in condoming some of the questions as leading questions. In the Howrah Trading Co. (P) Ltd's case reported in 1966 (II) L.L.J. page 282, Calcutta High Court observed that the enquiring officer was entitled to collect evidence not hedged in any way by limitations prescribed under the Indian Evidence Act. Consideration of procedural objections under the Evidence Act could not be imported in judging the domestic enquiry and leading questions may be permitted to be asked at such an enquiry or evidence may be collected by suggestive form of questioning. Contrary view taken by a Single Judge of the Madras High Court in the case of Price Leslie & Co. Ltd., reported in 1963 (I) L.L.J. page 797 in my view cannot be accepted. All that this decision seeks to lay down was that a Tribunal vested with quasi-judicial function, of which the domestic tribunal is one is expected to approach question for decision in an objective manner. Having gone through the proceedings in all the cases, there can be little room for doubt that Enquiry Officer Shri Maitra and Shri Das Gupta approached the point for determination in an objective manner and the leading questions put by them could not be construed as an attmept to help the management to prove the charge. On the contrary their efforts were directed in eliciting the truth. It therefore follows that the objection regarding leading questions must be overruled.

Shri Pathak further contended that the enquiring officer was further guilty of serious lapses and principles of natural justice were violated, when he allowed one prosecution witness to be examined in presence of others; thereby rendering the examination of witnesses meaningless. There is no note in any enquiry proceeding that any of the witnesses were examined out of sight or hearing of other witnesses. Enquiring officer has stated in his evidence taken on different dates that those present at the time of enquiry or assisted the management or the charge-sheeted workmen have been mentioned in the proceeding and if anyone left at the time of enquiry this fact was also noted. In view of this answer given, Shri Pathak contended that the enquiry must be taken to have been conducted in presence of all the witnesses inside the room with the result that one witness could refresh his memory from what was stated by the other witnesses. In the first place, it is to be observed that there is nothing in the enquiry proceeding to show that all the witnesses were present inside the room while other witnesses were being examined, on all dates and even, if they were so examined, the Evidence Act nowhere states that a witnesses cannot be examined in the Court in presence of other witnesses. Section 135 of the Indian Evidence Act provides for the order of production and examination of witnesses. Neither the Evidence Act nor the Code of Civil or Criminal Procedure contain any Rule for ordering the witness out of Court but as a matter of practice this is followed in almost all the Courts on the footing that the Court had inherent power to regulate its own business. If other witnesses are present inside the Court, when one of them is examined, then the question may arise not as to the admissibility of the evidence but as to its credibility. Unless some collusion is alleged or proved amongst the witnesses, the Court should not ordinarily and without sufficient reason disbelieve or throw out the evidence of a witness, merely on the ground that he was present inside the Court when other witnesses were being examined. No such allegation appears to have been made in any of those enquiries and it was only before this Tribunal that such an objection has been taken. Enquiring officer has considered the evidence in each case on merits and in the absence of any collusion or undue influence, I do not see any sufficient reasons to reject or discard any of the testimony taken before the enquiring officer, on this score.

(vii) Identification

Shri Pathak has also raised the question of identification of the charge-sheeted worker and has taken exception to the manner in which he has been identified by witnesses before the enquiring officer. It is true that no attempt was made to hold a Test Identification Parade before the witnesses were examined. Identification at the time of enquiry is necessary where the charge-sheeted worker was not named by the witnesses. But the name of the charge-sheeted worker in most cases appears in documents written or drawn up immediately after the occurrence or on the very day, on the basis of which F. I. R.'s were drawn up by the Police. These documents have served to corroborate the witnesses when they identified the charge-sheeted worker before the enquiring officer. This objection has little substance and must therefore fail.

It is true that the enquiring officer has considered some extraneous matters and also materials in parallel cases at the time of consideration of evidence against a particular worker. For example, he has taken into consideration the pamphlet entitled "Aitihasik Jaya Dharmaghat Parjalochana", into consideration which came into existence long after the strike came to be withdrawn. He has also stated in his evidence that the evidence tendered in one enquiry was considered in another enquiry. This matter should not have been considered by him but the failure on the part of the enquiring officer cannot be said to have occasioned failure of justice. The enquiring officer cannot be accused of having adopted a double standard inappreciating evidence. On the contrary, analysis of evidence by the enquiring officer in almost all the cases leaves little to be desired. He has been more than fair to the delinquent worker and the charges which were pursued were scrutinised by him in the light of evidence tendered in each enquiry. It is true that different enquiries were conducted against different workers over one and the same incident resulting in some discrepancies in the evidence tendered on different dates. That however is bound to happen in the nature of such enquiries conducted on different dates against different workers over and arising out of the same incident. Such discrepancies in my view instead of disproving the charge-sheets tends to prove it. Unless the witnesses succeeded any checking up their earlier statements before coming to depose, discrepancies are bound to occur at the enquiry. In this connection the evidence of Shri S. K. Mehrotra before the enquiring officer in Kartick Mondla's case was more through than that given by him in other cases on the same incident. For all these reasons discussed above consideration of extraneous matters or parallel cases by the enquiring officer cannot be said to have occasioned failure of justice in any of these enquiries and the contradictions in the testimony of some of the witnesses did not in any way affect the case on merits.

(x) Standing Orders and its application

The delinquent employees in all the cases were charged for committing acts of misconducts under the Certified Standing Order of the Company. Misconduct has been defined in an Madras Case reported in 1964 (I), L.L.J., page 500 as a conduct inconsistent with faithful discharge of the service, such as breach of confidence or promoting insubordination, conduct prejudicial to the master's interest, and act of dishonesty in the course of service. Not all the workers here are covered by the Certified Standing Orders, for some of them are members of the staff and the Certified Standing Orders only apply to the manual workers. Whether they were manual worker or not, they would be equally liable for punishment if found guilty of a conduct inconsistent with the faithful discharge of his service as mentioned above. Normally, the Standing Orders would apply to the behaviour on the premises where the workmen discharge their duties and during the hours of their work. But an act outside the place of business or working hours would be regarded as an act of misconduct, if it is coinconsistent with the fulfilment of conditions of service; or is directly linked with the general relationship of employer and employee or has a material bearing on the smooth and efficient working of the concern. Misconduct is defined in Appendix 'D' of the Certified Standing Orders and were of two categories, minor and major. The workers were mostly charged with misconduct under clause 2 of sub-clauses (1), (2), (17), (19), (24), (31) and (42) of Appendix 'D' of the Certified standing Orders. The relevant sub-clauses are quoted seriatim :

(1) Insubordination or insult to superiors or disobedience of any lawful and reasonable order of a superior.

(2) Participation in or instigation to an illegal strike.

(17) Riotous or disorderly behaviour, threatening intimidating, coercing other employee or employees, interfering with the work of other emyloyee or employees assult or threat of assult other provoked or otherwise, within the factory premises or outside having subversive effect on factory discipline.

(19) Commission of any act subversive of discipline.

(24) Organising, holding, attending or taking part in any meeting within the factory premises without the prior sanction of the Manager.

(31) Refusal to accept a charge-sheet, order or other communication served either in accordance with the Standing Orders or in the interest of discipline.

(42) Instigation, incitement, abetment or furtherance of any of the above acts of mis conduct.

Certified Standing Orders was only applicable to the manual workmen of this industry and was not applicable to the clerical staff. Some of the workmen named in the order of reference were members of clerical staff and as such were not to be covered by the standing orders in the instant case even though they were charged under the certified standing orders. This matter has been considered while discussing the case of individual workman and need not be further repeated.

(xi) Punishment

A workman found guilty on a charge of major misdemeanour is liable to be dismissed without notice and was not entitled to any relief or privilege The question of punishment is one for the management to decide and the Tribunal cannot consider the propriety or the adequacy of the punishment unless it was inflicted to victimise the workman i.e imposition of a penalty disproportionate to the offence. Reference in this connection may be made to reform Flour Mills case reported in 1962 (II) L.L J. page 431 The Tribunal, it has been held by the Supreme Court in the Hind Construction and Engineering Co case reported in 1965(I) L L.J. page 462 is not required to consider the propriety, adequacy and severity of the punishment and the question of quantum of punishment in cases where the finding of guilt is justified is not open to review by the Tribunal The Supreme Court further observed in the case of I G N. Railway Company case reported in 1960(I) L.L.J. page 13 that only question of practical importance which may arise in the case of an illegal strike would be the kind or quantum of punishment and that has to be modulated in connection with the facts and circumstances of each case While deprecating the tendency to condone what has been declared to be illegal by statute, the Supreme Court observed that there may be reasons for distinguishing the case of those, who may have acted as more dumb driven cattle from those who may have taken an active part in fomenting the trouble and instigating the workmen to join such a strike or have resorted to violence At the time of settlement, management agreed not to proceed against any worker for more participation in this illegal strike None of the workmen involved in the instant cases were proceeded with for more participation in the strike and the charges against most of the workmen were for causing physical obstruction to willing workers and preventing them from discharging their duties and also for inciting the workers to cause such obstruction during the strike It is true that many of the workmen had put in service for a considerable period and most of them occupied important position in the Union The relationship between the Management and the Union continued to be cordial before the service of strike notice Consequently the Management cannot be accused of harbouring any grudge against the Union leaders. In fact, many Union leaders or workers have not been proceeded with.

The Industrial Tribunals were directed by the Supreme Court in the I.G.N. Railway's case, cited above to consider the question of punishment, keeping in view the over-riding consideration of the smooth and efficient working of the industry as a whole, and that punishment of dismissal or termination of service had therefore to be imposed on such workmen who has not only participated in the illegal strike but had fomented it and had been guilty of violence or acts detrimental to the maintenance of law and order in the locality where work had to be carried on. Tested in the light of the above principles, this Tribunal sees no reasons to interfere with the punishment imposed in the instant cases unless the finding of the enquiring officer could also be assailed as baseless and perverse.

Bearing those preliminary observations and cautions in mind, I now proceed to discuss individual cases on merits serially.

(1) Shri Haridas Malakar

Shri Haridas Malakar was a junior supervisor in Factory No 1 of Jay Engineering Works since 1960. He was dismissed from service with effect from 19th March 1965 after a domestic enquiry He was served with as many as four charge-sheets containing 14 charges of which 9 only were followed up at the enquiry The charges inter alia were

(a) that he instigated the workes to resort to an illegal strike with effect from 17th December 1963,

(b) that he threatened, terrorised and intimidated the willing workers in order to prevent them from going to their respective duties since 17th of December 1963;

(c) that on 30th November 1963 at about noon he organised a meeting of the employees in the factory premises without the permission of the Management and addressed and instigated the workers to resort to a stay in strike and not to leave the factory premises,

(d) that on 14th December 1963 at about 2-30 p.m he organised a meeting of the workers and incited the workers to resort to a strike from 17th December 1963 knowing fully well that the said strike would be illegal;

(e) that on 26th December 1963 at about 10 a.m he along with others stopped the General Manager, Works and the Manager of Factory No. 2, from visiting members of staff at their residence at Naktola and abused them and also incited the workers to do likewise;

(f) that on 25th December 1963 he addresed a meeting of the workers at the Regent Park Maidan and instigated them to continue the illegal strike,

(g) that as a member of the Action Committee of the Union he incited, organised and abated the said illegal strike,

(h) that he organised and participated in a procession from Hazra Park to the Assembly Chambers at about noon on 30th December 1963 for the purpose of supporting, continuing and furthering the aforesaid illegal strike,

(i) that he deliberately refused the official communication sent to him by registered post knowing fully well that the said communication was from the Company and related to official matters

The delinquent workers in his explanation, dated 4th January 1964 and 13th June 1964 denied the allegations and described the charges as false, malicious and motivated The management examined six witnesses and three witnesses were examined by the defence

In his evidence before the Tribunal, the delinquent worker asserted that the enquiry was not fairly or properly conducted and that he was not supplied with the copies of documents on the basis of which charges were drawn up against him, even though he asked for it before the commencement of the enquiry. He further stated that he was not allowed to cross-examine some of the witnesses, who deposed against him and objected to leading questions being put by the representative of the Company at the time of enquiry. The worker also took the plea that the Company's representative Shri Goswami dictated the enquiring officer at different stages of the enquiry. The workman concerned further asserted that as he was an active member of the Union and also a member of the executive committee and of the steering committee to conduct the strike, he has been victimised by the Management. In cross-examination the witness stated that he filed a petition of objection before the enquiring officer as also to the Company about the mode and manner of conducting the enquiry. The enquiring officer (O.P.W.1) in his evidence recorded on 2nd August 1966 denied that the delinquent worker was not allowed to cross-examine some of the witnesses who deposed againt him and stated that whatever questions were disallowed were noted by him. He also denied that the Company's representative dictated him at different stages of the enquiry and asserted that the delinquent worker was given every facility in the matter of his defence and all his objections were noted. Copies of all the documents that were made use of at the enquiry were also made over to the delinquent worker.

The delinquent worker undoubtedly participated in the enquiry, made a statement himself and examined some defence witnesses. He also attested the enquiry proceeding in each page.

Of the witnesses examined by the management, Shri J. Goswami came to prove charge (i), Shri S. C. Mukherjee and Shri Samir Sen charge (c), Shri J. N. Agarwala charge (e), Shri B. M. Ganguly charge (d), and Shri A. K. Gupta charges (f) and (h). There are no witnesses in so far as charges (a), (b) and (g) were concerned.

I shall first take up charge (i). Only evidence tendered by the Management was the registered envelope issued in the name of the delinquent worker. This envelope has been marked Ext. 10 and bears endorsement of the postal peon as 'unclaimed' and 'addressee not available" etc. The enquiring officer took these as clear cases of refusal but the postal peon concerned has not been examined to prove the same. There is no such endorsement as "refused" written on this envelope and there is no evidence to show that the envelope purporting to contain the charge-sheets, dated 29th December 1963, 20th December 1963 and 9th March 1964, really contained these charge-sheets. In fact the envelope that was marked exhibit was found to contain only the charge, dated 9th March 1964, which of course was not followed up at the enquiry. There is nothing on record to show how and by whom the envelope was opened or the contents taken out. When the paper inside the envelope was taken out, it was found to contain the charge, dated 9th March 1964 and not the two other charge-sheets for which the delinquent worker was charged and which were alleged to have been refused by him. In the absence of the postal peon, therefore, this charge cannot be said to have been made out against the delinquent worker, more particularly when the envelope does not bear any remark that it was opened either in presence of the enquring officer or by himself. That being the position, I find that the charge, dated 11th June 1964, is not substantiated and the enquiring officer was not justified in holding the delinquent worker guilty to the charge on the materials on record.

Regarding charges (a), (b) and (g), the enquiring officer lumped charges (a) and (g) together and circumstantially found charge (b) proved on the evidence tendered with regard to charge (e). I have mentioned that no witnesses were examined to prove these charges and when the worker concerned were charged with specific misconduct, there is no point in framing general charge against the delinquent worker and finding him guilty to these charges on materials, which were sufficient to prove only the specific charge. The enquring officer found the delinquent worker guilty to charges (a) and (g) on the basis of certain documents, such as, Labour Commissioner's letter to General Secretary of the Union and also the Bengali Pamphlet entitled "Itihasik Jaya Dharmaghater Parjyalochana" published by the Steering Committee on 16th August 1964. The Steering Committee on which the delinquent worker was one of the members, certainly claimed the authorship of this document, but it came into existence long after the strike ended and the incidents referred to in the pamphlet cannot be taken to mean and establish that the delinquent worker instigated other workers to resort to an illegal stike on and from 17th December 1963 or that he threatened, terrorised or intimidated the willing workers to prevent them from going to their duties since 17th December 1963 or as a member of the Action Committee instigated, organised and abated the illegal strike. A document that came into existence long after the strike ended, does not by itself prove that the delinquent worker or for the matter of that any one, describing himself as a member of the Steering or Action Committee should be held responsible on these charges. The pamphlet is a resume of what happpened during the strike and a criticism of the parts played by the Management, the Government and the Police. Reading this pamphlet as also the other documents exhibited on behalf of the Management, the enquiring officer thought that the complicity of the delinquent worker in inciting, organsing and abating the illegal strike was established beyond question. Even if this observation of the enquiring officer is accepted, threatening, terrorising and intimidating part of the charge was not proved by any evidence on record and all that can be said was that charge (g) was made out against the delinquent worker. It is to be pointed out that the delinquent worker claimed to be the member of the Steering Committee and not of the Action Committee. On a careful consideration of all the mateials on record, I am inclined to hold that the finding of the enquiring officer, in so far as charges (a), (b) and (g) was concerned was baseless and as such cannot be said to be justified.

Regarding charge (c), Management exmined Shri S. C. Mukherjee, Superintendent, Machine Shop Section of Factory No. 1 and Shri Samir Sen, Deputy Superintendent, Production. According to Shri S. C. Mukherjee, they received a notice from the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation on 30th November 1963 for curtailing power in the factory, as a result of which Management proposed to lay off certain sections of workers. The Union refused to accept this ex-parte decision of the Management. After rejecting the Management's proposal, a meeting of the workers was held in between the assembly and shuttle plant, which was addressed amongst others by the delinquent worker. Those of the workers, who were laid-off, were advised not to leave the factory or to accept the Management's decision. No permission for the meeting was obtained and acting on the advice of the delinquent worker and others, the laid-off workers refused to leave the factory and those who were not laid off, resorted to a stay-in-stike. Shri Samir Sen, who was next examined, corroborated the witness in material particulars and further stated that when he reached the factory on 30th November 1963 at about 8 a.m. he found that the work of the factory was suspended due to failure of electric current. He discussed the matter with the Labour Officer Shri Goswami and Superintendent of Production Mr. S. C. Mukherjee and tentatively decided to lay-off some of the sections. The Union leaders were thereupon summoned and the matter was discussed with them. Amongst the Union leaders, who came to discuss the matter, the delinquent worker was one. They, however, refused to accept the proposed lay-off. Deputy General Manager Shri S. K. Sen was then informed over the phone. He came within a short time, but the Union leaders also declined to listen to him. The lay-off notice was thereupon served and the other workers were requested to commence work but they struck work on the advice of the Union leaders. The laid-off worker salso refused to leave the factory on the advice of the Union leaders and a meeting was held, which was addressed, amongst others, by the delinquent worker. The notice of lay-off as also the report of the Labour Officer, dated 1st December 1963, has been marked Ext. 9 and in the said report there is reference to meetings at various places of the factory without the permission of the management which was addresed, amongst others, by the delinquent worker. Both the witnesses were cross-examined and one of them at length but nothing consequence was elicited, so as to detract from the merits of their testimony. There is no allegation of any enmity or ill-feeling against any of these officers and on a careful consideration of all the materials on record, I see no reason to differ from the assessment of the enquiring officer in so far as this charge is concerned. The enquiring officer was, therefore, justified in finding the dilinquent worker guilty to this charge and the Management in upholding it.

Regarding charge (d) Management examined one witness, namely, Shri B. M. Ganguly, Canteen Manager. According to this witness, a meeting was held at the canteen-hall on 14th December 1963 at about 2-30 p.m. without the permission of the Management. The meeting was addressed by the delinquent worker and although the witness did not remember the details but he was emphatic that the purport of the address was to resort to a strike with effect from 17th December 1963. The witness was challenged on the ground that he was deposing falsely as the delinquent worker did not attend office from 10th to 14th December 1963 due to his sister's marriage. The delinquent worker set up an alibi in so far as this charge is concerned and according to the enquiring officer this alibi was a good one in so far as it went. In his evidence before the Tribunal, the enquiring officer admitted that there was evidence on record to show that Shri Malakar was absent from the factory from 9th December 1963 to 14th December 1963 The delinquent worker relied upon his attendance card for the period which was made on exhibit in this case. From this attendance card it appears that the worker concerned was not present in the factory during the period from 9th to 14th December 1963 and examined defence witness Shri Satyendra Nath Malakar, in support of his plea of alibi According to this defence witness, who married the sister of the delinquent worker, the marriage came off on 12th December 1963 and the 'Baubhat' took place on 14th December 1963 and the delinquent worker had to look after both the functions. This statement was also partly corroborated by the defence witness Shri Sushavar Roy who stated that the delinquent worker took leave from the Union office for about 4 days in December 1963. This evidence was considered sufficient by the enquiring officer but in his opinion the bottom was knocked out of the whole of it, in view of what the defence brought out in cross-examination of Shri S. C. Mukherjee's evidence, when he stated that in those days a worker could come into the factory without punching his attendance card and even on off-duty period he could do so. In my opinion this statement made in another context, is not sufficient to knock the bottom out of the whole and the enquiring officer was not justified in disbelieving the defence evidence on this point, which was moreover supported by the attendance card produced from Management's custody. Admittedly, it was in the interest of the worker to have his card punched and there was no evidence, worth the name to show that the delinquent worker entered the factory without having his card punched on 14th December 1963 on which date, he had to look after the marriage function in connection with his sister's marriage. This alibi, though not set up in the explanation, should have been accepted by the enquiring officer and the rejection of this alibi without sufficient justification leads me to conclude that the finding of the enquiring officer, in so far as this charge is concerned, is baseless and perverse.

Regarding charge (e), management examined Dr. Agarwal, Secretary of Factory No. 2 and produced a directive of Shri T. R. Gupta, the then General Manager. This directive has been marked Ext. 8 and the delinquent worker is mentioned by name in this directive. Shri Gupta, however, has not been examined in this case, although on the basis of this directive, charge-sheet was drawn up against the delinquent worker. The failure on the part of the Management to produce Shri T. R Gupta as a witness before the enquiring officer did not in any way disprove the charge for the other witness Dr. Agarwal amply proves the same. According to him, Shri Gupta came to Factory No. 2 on 25th December 1963 and it was reported to him that the members of the staff residing in Naktola area were not being allowed to come to the factory by the strikers. whereupon Shri Gupta suggested to the witness that they should themselve examine the situation. The witness thereupon accompanied Shri Gupta in a car towards Garia Bus terminus. As they went to a lane near the post office, they met some members of the staff, who stated that they wanted to go to the factory but they were being prevented by the strikers. About this time, a number of strikers including the delinquent worker came there. The delinquent worker asked Shri Gupta to go back and told him that no one would be permitted to attend the factory, so long as the strike continued; Shri Gupta tried to reason with the workers but they refused to pay any heed and started shouting slogans and asked him to leave the place at once. This would be about 8 days after the commencement of the strike. The strikers, according to the witness were in a very agitated mood and were shouting and had they not left the place soon, some unpleasant incident might have occurred. The witness was cross-examined at length and the defence succeeded in bringing out in cross examination that the delinquent worker and a few others took leading part in the crowd that collected around Shri Gupta. There is no allegation against this witness. It is true that in the directive of Shri Gupta (Ext. 8) it is mentioned that he was accompanied by the Manager for works of Factory No. 2 but the matter was made clear in the re-examination of this witness when he stated that he was Manager at the relevant time and Shri Gupta used to address him as Manager even though he was holding the post of Secretary. Dr. Agarwal deposed in a more or less straightforward manner and the enquiring officer saw no reason to disbelieve the evidence of Dr. Agarwal, Shri Pathak, on behalf of the Union, sought to contend that as Dr. Agarwal had nothing to refresh his memory, his evidence cannot be accepted without any explanation or sufficient corroboration. I regret, I am unable to agree. The defence examined one Shri Protul Pal, a man of the locality who, if at all, proves anything, proves the presence of Shri T. R. Gupta at the place on the date mentioned above. The witness did not remember having seen the delinquent worker near Shri Gupta on that date. This evidence, as has been observed by the enquiring officer, is week and petered out in cross-examination. On a careful consideration of all the materials on record, I see no reason to differ from the assessment of the enquiring officer in so far as this charge is concerned.

Regarding charges (f) and (h), Management examined Shri A.K.Gupta, who testified having attended a meeting of the workers at Regent Park on the afternoon of 25th December 1963 which was addressed, amongst others by the delinquent worker, whereby the strikers were persuaded to carry on the struggle. Defence witness Shri Sushavan Roy however stated that he was not aware of any such meeting being called with his permission and mentioned about a workers' rally that was held on that day at some other place. The witness further admitted that on the same day a meeting was held at Vijoygarh Colony near Bashdroni Police Out Post and in cross-examination it was suggested that the said place was known as Regent Park. This, of course, was denied but it appears that there was a meeting on the 25th and there is no denying the fact that the delinquent worker addressed such a meeting, being, one of the founder members of the Union and a member of the Steering Committee and also Executive Committee of the Union, it was not unlikely for the delinquent worker to avail of this opportunity to address the workers to expouse the cause that was near to his heart. Judged in that background, evidence of Shri A.K. Gupta does not appear to be untrustworthy and the enquiring officer did not see any reason to reject his testimony on this point.

As for the procession from Hazra Park on 30th December 1963, Shri A.K. Gupta in his evidence stated that the procession was proceeded by a meeting at Hazra Park on 30th December 1963 which was addressed amongst others by the delinquent worker. The witness was cross-examined at length about the place where he took his stand in the Park but his evidence remains unshaken. Holding of the meeting was denied by D.W.1 Shri Sushavan Roy and from the statement of Shri Indrajit Gupta, President of the Jay Engineering Works Workers' Union, which is on record, it is seen that no such meeting was held but a procession was merely taken out from Hazra Park to the State Assembly on that date. Shri Gupta did not offer himself for cross-examination and nowhere in his statement dated 5th December 1964, was it mentioned that delinquent worker did not participate in that procession. On the contrary, the directive of Shri T.R.Gupta to the Labour Officer, dated 30th December 1963, for issuing charge-sheet against those who were seen in the said procession, includes the name of the delinquent worker. Shri T. R. Gupta did not, however, present himself for cross-examination. The delinquent worker in his evidence before the Tribunal denied that he was present in the procession that started from Hazra Park on 30th December 1963 but neither in the statement of Shri Indrajit Gupta nor from the evidence of D.W. 1 Shri Sushavan Roy does it appear that the delinquent worker was not present at the Hazra Park gathering. Even the delinquent worker himself did not make any such statement before the enquiring officer. The object of this procession, there may be little doubt, was to consolidate the strike and to further it and however peaceful it might have been, evidence clearly shows that usual slogans were shouted and the black sheeps were threatened with dire consequence. The enquiring officer on this evidence could not persuade himself to reject the testimony of the Security Officer and on a careful consideration of all the materials on record, I see no reason to differ from the finding. It follows, therefore, that the finding in so far as charges (f) and (h) are concerned, are justified. Even though charges (a), (b), (g) and (i) cannot be said to have been established the other charges were clearly made out and for the reasons discussed elsewhere, the Management was justified in punishing the delinquent worker on the other charges, each of which would be a major misdemeanour within the meaning of the Certified Standing Orders.

Even assuming, that the Certified Standing Orders did not apply to the members of the staff in this industry the incidents for which the delinquent worker was charged would surely amount misconduct, as it was inconsistent with the fulfilment of express or implied conditions of service and had a material bearing on the smooth and efficient working of the concern. As observed by the Supreme Court in the case of Central India Coalfields Ltd., reported in 1961 (I), L.L.J., 548, normally the Standing Orders would apply to the behaviour on the premises where the workmen discharge their duties and during the hours of their work. Section 12A of the Industrial Employment (Standing Orders) Act, 1946, provides that the Model Standing Orders framed by the State Government shall be deemed to have been adopted in that establishment, where there are no Certified Standing Orders. Paragraph 14 of the Model Standing Orders enumerates the acts and ommissions, which shall be treated as misconduct and any acts subversive of discipline or disorderly behaviour during working hours at the establishment are included within the list of misconducts. It is true that the incidents alleged and proved took place or perpetuated outside the factory, but in the special circumstances of the case, it is clear that the incidents took place at a short distance from the factory and on way to it and the conduct of the charge-sheeted worker, which is proved beyond doubt was not merely riotous and disorderly but was clearly subversive of discipline by any standard.

I, therefore, see no reasons to hold that the incidents alleged and proved against the delinquent worker, would not amount to misconduct even though he is not covered by the Certified Standing Orders of the Company.

Regarding Shri Pathak's contention that the delinquent worker has been victimised for his trade union activities, it is to be observed that it was for the Union to establish that the Management is guilty of victimisation. The Union, in my view, has failed to establish the same. It is true that the delinquent worker was an important member of the Union and a founder-member thereof. That by itself is no ground for holding that he has been victimised, for in that event, no important member or office-bearer of the Union could be penalised and it would be easy for them to get away with it by merely raising such a bogey.

It follows, therefore, that the delinquent worker is not entitled to any relief in this case.

(2) Shri Bimal Chatterjee

Shri Bimal Chatterjee was an Accounting Machine Operator of Factory No. 1 of Jay Engineering Works since 1950. He was dismissed from service with effect from 19th March 1965 after a domestic enquiry. He was served with 7 charge-sheets containing 12 charges, of which only six were followed up at the enquiry. The enquiring officer found the delinquent worker guilty in respect of all the six charges. In his explanations, dated 4th January 1964 and 13th April 1964, the delinquent worker denied the allegations and described the charges as irrelevant, vague and misconceived. Shri N.C. Maitra conducted the domestic enquiry during the period from 17th November 1964 to 11th December 1964.

The delinquent worker in his evidence before the Tribunal admitted that he participated at the domestic enquiry and attested the enquiry proceeding in all the pages. He further asserted that he was not given the copies of the documents on the basis of which charges were drawn up against him nor was he supplied with the names of witnesses, who were likely to depose against him, even though he asked for the same. He further stated that he was not allowed to cross-examine all the witnesses who deposed against him and the enquirying officer also allowed himself to be prompted and dictated by the Company's representative Shri Goswami, to which he took exception. He raised the plea of victimisation for his trade union activities and prayed for setting aside of the order of dismissal.

The enquiring officer in his evidence recorded on 1st August 1966 denied that the delinquent worker was not given the opportunity of cross-examining the witnesses, who deposed against him or that he allowed himself to be dictated or prompted by the Company's representative Shri Goswami. The enquiring officer further stated that he was not in a position to deny if the names of witnesses, who were likely to depose against the worker concerned were furnished to him but copies of all the documents which were made use of, were made over to the delinquent worker at the time of enquiry. The charges against Shri Chatterjee were as follows :—

(a) That he incited the workers for resorting to an illegal strike of the factory since 17th December 1963;

(b) That he threatened, terrorised and intimidated the willing workers in order to prevent them from going to their respective duties after 17th December 1963;

(c) That he organised and addressed a meeting of the employees in the factory premises without any permission from the Management at about noon on the 30th November 1963, instigated them to resort to a stay-in-strike and incited others, who were laid-off, not to leave the factory premises;

(d) That on 14th December 1963 at about 2-30 p.m., he organised a meeting of the workers in the canteen hall without permission of the Management and instigated and incited the employees to resort to a strike with effect from 17th December 1963 knowing fully well that the said strike would be illegal;

(e) That on 26th December 1963 at about 11-30 a.m. he along with others forcibly stopped some officers of the company near Poddarnagar on the Prince Anwar Shaw Road when they were going to attend their duties in Factory No.1 and prevented them from proceeding further;

(f) That he organised and participated in a procession from Hazra Park to the Assembly Chamber at about noon on 30th December 1963 for the purpose of supporting, continuing and furthering the illegal strike.

Management examined six witnesses and three witnesses were examined on the defence side. Management also produced various notices and orders and a Bengali Pamphlet entitled "Oitihasik Jaya Dharmaghater Parjyalochana" published under the co-authorship of the delinquent worker and others. Of the six witnesses examined by the Management Shri Goswami is more or less a formal witness, while Shri S.C.Mukherjee and Shri Samir Sen came to prove charge (c), Shri B.M. Ganguly charge (d), Shri B. Kapoor charge (e) and Shri A.K.Gupta charge (f). No oral evidence was led in so far as charges (a) and (b) were concerned.

The enquiring officer at page 10 on his report thought that the pamphlet entitled "Oitihasik Jaya Dharmaghater Parjyalochana" completely proved charge (a) against the delinquent worker and the evidence of Shri B Kapoor is sufficient to prove charger (b) and (e). The pamphlet came to be published on 16th August 1964 and although the delinquent worker was admittedly one of the co-authors, this "autobiography of the illegal strike" as the enquiring officer prefers to describe it, cannot in my view be taken to establish that the workers were instigated for resorting to an illegal strike with effect from 17th December 1963 by a pamphlet published exactly eight months after. At any rate, the charge must be proved by evidence anterior to that date. Regarding charge (b), no specific oral evidence was led to prove that any willing worker was threatened, terriorised or intimidated, The evidence of Shri Kapoor which really proves charge (c) cannot be taken to establish a charge of general nature like charge (b), more particularly, when a specific charge has been framed against the delinquent worker. If any willing worker was prevented for which a specific charge has been framed, such evidence cannot be taken to be a fair sample to prove a charge of a general nature that many willing workers were threatened, terrorised or intimidated by the delinquent worker from going to their duties since 17th December 1963. The enquiring officer was clearly not correct in holding that charge (b) has been proved by this solitary testimony of a witness and I am unable to agree with his finding that the charges (a) and (b) have been duly proved by the materials on record. It, therefore, follows that the finding of the enquiring officer in so as charges (a) and (b) are concerned, are baseless and perverse and cannot as such be upheld.

Regarding charge (c), management examined Shri S.C. Mukherjee, Superintendent, Production Section, Factory No. 1 and Shri Samir Sen, Acting Deputy Superintendent, Production. According to Shri S. C. Mukherjee, a notice was received from the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation at about11 a.m. on 30th November 1963 for curtailment of electric power in the factory. It was then noticed that the total available power would not be sufficient to run the entire factory and as such it was decided to lay-off some of of the sections. The Unions' representative did not accept this decision of the Management on the ground that it was an ex-parte direction to which they could not agree. After this, the workers collected in between the assembly and shuttle plant, where they were addressed, amongst others by the delinquent worker and were advised not to leave the factory. The meeting was held without the prior concurrence of the Management. The workers thereupon refused to accept the lay-off decision or to go outside. Management produced a notice signed by the Deputy General Manager Shri S.K.Sen (Ext.10). This notice is dated 30th November 1963 and the circumstances under which the lay-off had to be resorted to was explained therein. The lay-off notice has been marked Ext. 11, bearing the same date. Shri Samir Sen also corroborated this witness on the material particulars and there is practically no discrepancy in the testimony of these two witnesses, who identified the delinquent worker as one, who addressed the meeting and asked the workers not to accept the Management's decision regarding lay-off or to leave the factory premises. Both the witnesses were cross-examined at length but their evidence remains unrebutted. The defence raised a plea of alibi on the ground that the delinquent worker did not attend the factory on that day and as such it was not possible for him to be present at the unauthorised meeting. He examined Shri Sushovan Roy (D.W.1) and Shri Ramen Sengupta (D.W.3) who denied the presence of the delinquent worker at the unauthorised meeting. The point for decision so far a this charge is concerned is whether or not Shri Bimal Chatterjee attended and addressed the unauthorised meeting on that day. It is true that Shri S.C. Mukherjee named Shri Ramen Sengupta as one of those persons, who addressed the meeting and defence evidence more or less tends to discredit Shri Mukherjee to that extent. The meeting was held about a fortnight before the strike was due to start and the enquiry officer pointed to the complete chaos and indiscipline was then reigning in the factory. Evidence of Shri Sushavan Roy, General Secretary of Jay Engineering Workers' Union (D.W.1) is also of little assistance to the defence. He does not in any way prove the presence or absence of the delinquent worker. That a lay-off notice was issued by the Management on 30th November 1963 due to failure or curtailment of electric power is admitted on behalf of the defence. Shri Roy merely stated that in the said notice there was no reference to a meeting on that day but there is a reference in the notice (Ext.11) that the workers have resorted to an illegal strike by striking work and the workers have not accepted the decision regarding lay-off or left the factory premisses inspite of the order. It is difficult to see that the workers did so or resorted to those acts out of their free will and must have been advised by someone to resort to these activities. Cross-examination of Shri S.C. Mukherjee was on the point of certain happenings in the factory and the delay in issuing the charge-sheets. It is true that the charge-sheets were usually issued promptly but having regard to the circumstances then prevailing, the Management cannot be blamed for not having issued the charge relating to this incident earlier than 29th December 1963. Upon these circumstances, the enquiring officer accepted the evidence of Shri Mukherjee and Shri Sen and on a careful consideration of all the materials on record, I do not see any sufficient reason to differ from his assessment It follows, therefore, that the finding in relation to charge (c) is justified.

Regarding charge (d), Management examined one witness Shri B. M. Ganguly, Manager, Works Canteen of Factory No. 1. He stated that on 14th December 1963 at about 2-30 p.m. a meeting of the Union was held in the Works Canteen of the factory. The discussion was about the strike due to commence from 17th December 1963. Those who attended and addressed the meeting included the delinquent worker. No permission for the meeting was obtained from the Management. The witness was cross-examined at length and it was elicited in cross-examination that the witness submitted a report in writing to the Management about this meeting. This report has been marked Ext. 12 and the name of the delinquent worker appears as having delivered speeches at the meeting. The defence witness, i.e. General Secretary of the Union Shri Sushavan Roy stated that no meeting at the canteen was held on that day to his knowledge. The witness further stated that he met the delinquent worker in the Union office at about 2 p.m. on 14th December 1963 and the delinquent worker accompanied him all the time to a procession and attended a meeting at Vijoygarh and as such it was not possible for him to attend the canteen meeting. Another defence witness Shri Haridas Malakar, who is also a charge-sheeted worker in another case, deposed in favour of the defence and he denied his presence at the canteen meeting on 14th December 1963 or addressed the same, but the witness was not in a position to say if any meeting at the canteen was held on that day. The alibi has been disbelieved by the enquiring officer for good and valid reasons and the alibi not having been taken in his explanation to the charge-sheet cannot but be regarded as an after-thought. The enquiring officer thought that the Union Secretary could not have such a firm grip on his members that no meeting of the Union members could be held without his knowledge. The report (Ext. 12) clearly suggests that there was a canteen meeting on that day and this report corroborates the statement of witness Shri B. M. Ganguly. There is no allegation of any ill-feeling or enmity against him. No motive for submitting a false report or for making a false statement before the enquiring officer has been suggested and the enquiring officer in the circumstances, was perfectly justified in accepting the Managements evidence and finding the delinquent worker guilty to the charge.

Regarding charge (e), only witness examined by the Management is Shri B. Kapoor, who stated that on a certain morning in December 1963, while the strike was on, he was going to the factory in his car. Near the factory wall on the Prince Anwar Shah Road, a group of strikers stopped his car. One Mr. Krishnan was also with him. The crowd asked him to go back and when he insisted on going to the factory, the workers insisted that he should drop Shri Krishnan at his place. As Shri Kapoor did not agree to the proposal they were forced to return and Shri Krishnan was dropped in his house. The delinquent worker was in the crowd and Shri Kapoor submitted a report to the Management, which was shown to him at the time of enquiry. Unfortunately, this report has not been marked. The witness was cross-examined at length but nothing material was elicited from him. There was no allegation against the witness and although he failed to give the exact date of the occurrence, it was made sufficiently clear both in cross-examination and in examination-in-chief that it was after the commencement of the strike. The enquiring officer found no reason to disbelieve the testimony and on a careful consideration of all the materials on record, I do not see any sufficient reason to differ from his assessment. It follows, therefore, that the finding of the enquiring officer in so far as this charge is concerned, is justified.

Regarding charge (f), Management examined Shri A. K. Gupta, Security Officer of the Company, who was deputed to Hazra Park on 30th December 1963 and to watch the meeting and procession, if any, held or conducted on that day. Shri Gupta in his evidence stated that on 30th December 1963 at about 1-30 p.m. he found the delinquent worker (identified) along with several other Union leaders, organising a meeting of the strikers in the Hazra Park, which was addressed by the delinquent worker. The strikers were requested to carry on the strike, until and unless their deemands were satisfied. He also threatened those workers who might betray their cause and warned them that they would be taught adequate lessons. A procession thereafter emanated from the Hazra Park with the delinquent worker shouting slogans at the front. Shri Gupta submitted a report to the Management about this meeting. The charge of course related not to a meeting but to a procession that was organised by the delinquent worker from the Hazra Park to the Assembly Chamber for the purpose of supporting, continuing and furthering the said illegal strike. The report of Shri Gupta is not, however, in the record but a copy of an order of the General Manager, Shri T. R. Gupta to Labour Officer, Shri Goswami was placed on record, in which the name of the delinquent worker appears. This order of the General Manager was referred to by the enquiring officer in his report along with the statement of Shri Indrajit Gupta, President of the Jay Engineering Workers' Union. In this statement Shri Indrajit Gupta made out that no meeting was held at Hazra Park on 30th December 1963 and no speeches were delivered by any one nor any microphone used. Since the charge did not relate to the meeting, evidence on this point is unnecessary and cannot be accepted. As neither Shri T. R. Gupta nor Shri Indrajit Gupta offered themselves for cross-examination, contents of the statements could not also be accepted. The procession which is admitted was in furtherence of an illegal strike and the Security Officer's evidence is not successfully assailed. The enquiring officer thought that there must be a meeting or a muster or an assembly or at least a gathering of workers before there should be a procession to start with. There is no allegation against the Security Officer and it has nowhere been suggested on behalf of the delinquent worker that he was not present or participated in the said procession ; on the contrary, the delinquent worker admitted that on 30th December 1963 a procession emanated from Hazra Park and proceeded towards the Assembly House but it was nowhere stated that he was not in the said procession. As Shri Chatterjee became a General Secretary of the Union in 1964, he must be considered to be one of the leading personalities of the union and it was, therefore, unlikely that he should not be present in an important processions like this. The procession was undoubtedly organised in order to support the cause of the strike that was declared illegal. This cannot be regarded as mere participation in the strike. As observed by the Supreme Court in the I. G. N. Railway's case reported in 1960 (B. L. L. J., page 13, there may be reasons for distinguishing the case of those who have acted as dumb driven cattle from those who have taken active part in fomenting the trouble and instigating the workers to join such a strike or have taken recourse to violence. The Supreme Court in that case made a distinction between those workers, who are more or less silent participator in an illegal strike and those that not only joined the strike but also took part in obstructing loyal workmen from carrying on their work or take part in violent demonstration or acted in defiance of law and order. Judged by all these considerations, Management would be justified in proceeding against the workmen, who had not only participated in the illegal strike but had fomented it and had been guilty of violence or acts detrimental to the maintenance of law and order in the locality where the work had to be carried on ; I, therefore, find that the enquiring officer was justified in finding the delinquent worker guilty to this charge. The case of victimisation as sought to be made out on behalf of the defence could not be established and the mere fact that the delinquent worker was the Union Secretary in the year 1964 was not sufficient for holding that he has been penalised or victimised by the Management. On the contrary, evidence clearly makes out a case of major misdemeanour whether under the Standing Orders or not and the Management was therefore justified in inflicting the punishment awarded in this case.

As already pointed out at pages 39-40 of this award, the delinquent worker would be liable for misconduct even though, the Certified Standing Orders did not apply in his case. The delinquent worker, it follows, is not, therefore, entitled to any relief.

(3) Shri Satya Brata Ghosh

Shri Satya Brata Ghosh was a clerk in Factory No 1 of Messrs. Jay Engineering Works Ltd., since 1952 He was dismissed from service with effect from 19th March 1965 after a domestic enquiry He was served with four charge-sheets, containing 10 charges, of which three were not followed up and the delinquent worker was absolved of these charges. The delinquent workrer in his explanation dated 13th June 1964 denied the allegations and described the charges as false, baseless and motivated. The enquiring officer found the delinquent worker guilty to all the seven charges that were followed up

The worker concerned in his evidence stated that the enquiry against him was not fairly or properly conducted and enquiring officer allowed himself to be dictated by the Company's representative Shri Goswami and the allegations on the basis of which charge-sheets were drawn up against him were never made over to him Shri N C Mutra, O P W 1 in his evidence before the Tribunal denied these allegations and stated that the delinquent worker was given every facility in the matter of his defence and he participated at the enquiry and attested the enquiry proceeding in each page He also denied that he allowed himself to be dictated by the Company's representative Shri Goswami and asserted that those of the documents of which written reports were available were made over to the delinquent worker in course of the enquiry The charges inter-alia were :

(a) That the delinquent worker incited the workers to resort to an illegal strike since 17th December 1963 ;

(b) That he had been threatening, terrorising intimidating the willing workers in order to prevent them from going to their respective duties after 17th December 1963 ,

(c) That on 30th November, 1963 at about noon he organised a meeting of the employees in the factory premises without permission of the Management and addressed the meeting, instigated the workers to resort to a stay in-strike and incited those that were laid-off not to leave the factory premises ;

(d) That on 13th December 1963 at about 5 p.m. he organised a meeting inside the accounts office without permission of the Management and instigated and incited the employees to resort to a strike with effect from 17th December 1963 knowing fully well that the said strike would be illegal ;

(e) That as a member of the Action Committee of the Union, he had been inciting, organising and abating the said illegal strike ,

(f) That on 30th December 1963 at about noon he organised and participated in a procession from Hazra Park to the Assembly Chamber for the purpose of supporting, continuing and furthering the aforesaid illegal strike, and

(g) That he along with others stopped Shri S C. Jain of Foundry Department of Factory No. 1 near the Railway level crossing, gate No 3 while he was coming to the factory in a taxi at about 3-30 p.m on 22nd March 1964, dragged him out of the taxi and assaulted him severely and snatched money and a fountain pen from his pocket and threatened him with a knife

The Management examined four witnesses of whom Shri S. C Mukherjee came to prove charge (c) , Shri R. K Rathi charge (d), Shri A. K Gupta charge (f) and Shri S. C Jain charge No. (g) No oral evidence was led with regard to charges (a), (b) and (e)

I shall take these three charges first The enquiring officer considered some documents to be cumulative evidence with regard to those three charges. These documents include certain notices, correspondences and a pamphlet in Bengali entitled "Oitihasik Jaya Dhagmathater Parjyalochona" published under the authorship of the delinquent worker and four other workers. These charges relate to inciting the workers for resorting to an illegal strike, and threatening, terrorising and intimidating willing workers in order to prevent them from joining their duties during the strike as also organising, inciting and abating the said illegal strike as a member of the Action Committee of the Union. Only evidence that can be said to relate to the first charge is that of Shri A K Gupta, Security Officer of the Company, who deposed that on the 19th or 20th of March 1964, a group of strikers led by the delinquent worker held a street-corner meeting near his house and in the said meeting the workers were threatened that anyone who would join their duty in contravention of the decision of the Union, would do so at his peril Although the delinquent worker cross-examined the witness about the incident of the Hazra Park meeting, dated 30th December 1963, there was no cross-examination in so far as this point is concerned. The other circumstance namely, the authorship of the Bengali Pamphlet has been held to be sufficient and convincing evidence against the delinquent worker in so far as charges (a) and (e) is concerned It is, however, to be pointed out that this pamphlet came to be published on 16th August 1964 i e long after the strike was called off and although the authors were proud of their achievement during the strike charges (a) and (e) can in no way be said to have been established even remotely by the publication of this pamphlet Charge (e) is nothing but a replica of charge (a) and if charge (a) is not established by the pamphlet charge (e) cannot also be said to have been established by it. Moreover, a resume of the events during the strike cannot furnish evidence of these instigations, incitement, etc., nor could the specific charges that were framed against the delinquent worker be called in aid in establishing these charges For all these reasons, I am unable to hold that the enquiring officer was justified in finding the delinquent worker guilty in far as these three charges are concerned It is interesting to note that not one willing worker that was threatened, terrorised or intimidated as per charge (b) was examined in this case There is no report of Shri Gupta in the enquiry proceeding, from which he might refresh his memory The finding of the enquiring officer, so far as these three charges are concerned, must, therefore, be regarded as perverse and baseless

Regarding charge (c), management examined nly one witness namely, Shri S. C. Mukherjee, who in is evidence stated that due to electricity shortage in he factory on 30th November 1963, it was decided o lay-off certain sections of workers. The Union n the other hand decided that this unilateral action f the Management could not be supported. A meeting as convened at the place in between shuttle plant and ssembly plant of the factory without the permission f the Management. The meeting was a addressed mongst others by the delinquent worker. They asked he workers, who were laid off, not to accept the Management's decision and were advised not to leave he factory. The workers did not accept the decision f the Management regarding lay off and continued to o stay inside the factory premises. The Management roduced its letter to the Secretary, Jay Engineering Workers' Union, dated 30th November 1963, Union's eply of the same date and also the Management's reply hereto, which are all part of the record. In their eply, the Deputy General Manager stated that the orkers, who were laid off in the morning, have not left he factory and this was illegal and contravened the Standing Orders. Besides, other workers also resorted o an illegal strike in contravention of section 22 of he Industrial Disputes Act. The General Secretary f the Union was requested to see that the workers, who were laid off, left the factory premises and the emaining workers resumed their work. Shri Mukherjee was cross-examined at length and the only thing hat was sought to be made out in cross-examination as about the delay in issuing the charge-sheet in the nstant case. Although the incident happened on 30th November 1963, the charge-sheet was not issued until 9th December 1963 which is against the normal practice ut that itself cannot be a ground for discarding the harge altogether, if it is otherwise established in vidence. There is no allegation of any enmity or ill-eeling against the witness and the enquiring officer ound no reason to disbelieve his testimony. On a areful consideration of the materials on record, I do ot see any sufficient reason to differ from his finding n this charge.

Regarding charge (d), Management examined Shri . K. Rathi, Secretary, Jay Engineering Works. He tated that on 13th December 1963 a meeting was eld in the Accounts Department, when the witness ent there casually and found the delinquent worker ddressing the workers. No permission for the said eeting was obtained. The witness, however, was not ross-examined, and the evidence as it stood cannot e discarded. It was not even suggested that the itness bore any grudge or ill-feeling against the delin-uent worker and the enquiring officer found no reason o disbelieve his testimony. He accordingly found he delinquent worker guilty of charge (d) and on a areful consideration of all the materials on record, do not see ay sufficient reason to differ from his nding.

Regarding charge (g), Management examined Shri .C. Jain, Foundry Engineer, Factory No. 1. Shri ain in his evidence stated that at about 3 p.m. on 22nd arch 1964, he was proceeding towards Calcutta in a xi, when he was held up at the railway level crossing ate by 10 or 12 persons. He recognised some of these ersons and identified the delinquent worker at the time of enquiry. 2 or 3 of them started assaulting him with fists and blows on the neck and shoulder and the others followed suit. They dragged him out of the taxi and started assaulting him with blows, shoes, etc., and the delinquent worker according to the witness, assaulted him with shoes. The reason for the assault, as given to the witness, was that he was regularly going to the factory on duty inspite of the strike being on and these people did not want him to attend the factory. Witness struggled with his assailants, tried to flee from the place but was prevented. He was threatened with dire consequences if he took the matter to the police. His pen and purse were snatched away and the witness ultimately took shelter in a neighbouring shop. He tried to contact the police from there but failed. Accompanied by some of the passersby, he went to the nearly house of a friend and from there contacted the Management over phone. Management succeeded in informing the police and two constables came after sometime and escorted him to Tollygunge police station, where he made a report to the police. 4 days thereafter, he also made a report to the General Manager and this report has been marked X. Witness was cross-examined at length and the enquiring officer in his report stated that the story related by the witness was somewhat difficult to believe but the strike produced quite abnormal conditions and generated much bitterness as a result of which such incredible things happened. In the report (Ext. X), the name of the delinquent worker undoubtedly appears, along with some other names, but in cross-examination the witness admitted that he never met the delinquent worker before the strike. He, however, stated that he came to learn the name of the delinquent worker from his friends during the strike but did not definitely remember the occasion for it. Cross-examination was fairly long but the witness withstood it and in the absence of any allegation or motive for falsely implicating the delinquent worker, the enquiring officer saw no reason to disbelieve his evidence. A police case appears to have been started over this incident but the F. I. R. was not forthcoming nor was any explanation given for the non-production of the same. Be that as it may, the failure to produce the F.I.R. does not appear to me to be vital to the Management's case and for that reason only, the witness should not be disbelieved.

Shri Pathak, on behalf of the Union sought to contend that the so-called attack on Shri Jain was made outside the factory and not to prevent him from joining his duty. That being the position such attack can have no bearing on the misconduct complained of. I regret, I am unable to agree. The attack in the instant case is covered by caluse 2 (17) of the Certified Standing Orders and was intended to have subversive effect on the discipline. The Standing Orders, however, did not apply in the instant case as the worker concerned was a clerk and not a munual worker. It is, however, well-settled that in order that an act on the part of the employee committed beyond working hours and outside the establishment may be regarded as an act subversive of discipline, it must be inconsistent with fulfilment of the express or implied conditions of service or must have material bearing on the smooth and efficient working of the concern. All that is necessary for the Management to show was that the disorderly and riotous behaviour on the part of the delinquent workman had some rational connection with the employment of the assailant and the victim. Reference, in this connection, may be drawn to the Tata Oil Mills Case, reported in 1964 (II), L. L. J., 116. Clearly the attack in the instant case was made in order to coerce or prevent Shri Jain from joining his duty in the factory in future and as such it had material bearing on the smooth and efficient working not only of the concern itself but was also inconsistent with the fulfilment of employment conditions of the delinquent workman concerned. That being the position, the attack even though it was outside the factory must be regarded as one subversive of discipline and for the reasons given by the enquiring officer, I see no reason to differ from his finding on this point. It follows, therefore, that the delinquent worker had been rightly adjudged guilty in respect of charge (g).

Regarding charge (f), Management examined Shri A.K. Gupta, who in his evidence stated that a meeting took place at Hazra Park at about 1-30 p.m. on 30th December 1963 and he found the delinquent worker taking a leading part in the said meeting. Slogans in support of the strike were shouted at the said meeting and the Management was severely criticised and exciting slogans and abuses were hurled on them. After the meeting, a procession was taken out which proceeded towards Chowringhee and the delinquent worker was in the forefront of that procession, shouting slogans. The witness was cross-examined at this point but nothing material was elicited from him, which might render his testimony doubtful. Management relied upon a directive by Shri T. R. Gupta, who claims to have seen the delinquent worker in the procession. The directive, however, is not on record nor was Shri T. R. Gupta examined in support of this directive. The enquiring officer should not, therefore, have relied upon this directive. Apart from this directive, the evidence of Shri A. K. Gupta appears to be quite trustworthy and there is no reason to reject it. The written statement from Shri Indrajit Gupta, President of Jay Engineering Workers' Union was filed in support of the defence wherein it was stated that no meeting was held on 30th December 1963 at the Hazra Park and no speeches were delivered by anyone and only a procession was taken out from the said place. The certificate (marked Ext. 1) nowhere states that Shri Satya Broto Ghosh was not present nor took part in the said procession, nor was Shri Gupta made available for cross-examination by the Management. In the circumstances the certificate can have little value. The enquiring officer referred to this aspect of the case. The charge itself does not mention anything about any meeting at Hazra Park and there is only reference to a procession starting from the said park. The broad fact as pointed out by the enquiring officer was that the evidence withstood scrutiny fairly well and this also found indirect corroboration from the statement of Shri Indrajit Gupta, filed in support of the defence. The enquiring officer found no reason to disbelieve the testimony and, on a careful consideration of all the materials on record I see no reason to differ from his finding. It follows, therefore, that the delinquent worker has been rightly adjudged guilty in the circumstances of the case and the Management's decision to punish him cannot be challenged. The delinquent worker cannot, therefore, get any relief in this case.

(4) Shri Sanat Chakraborty

Shri Sanat Chakraborty was a Comptometer Operator in Messrs. Jay Engineering Works Ltd. since 1958. He was dismissed from service with effect from 23rd March 1965, after a departmental enquiry. Prior to that he was served with three seperate charge-sheets, containing nine charges out of which 5 only were followed up at the time of enquiry. The worker in his explanation filed on 1st July 1964, described the charges as false and motivated and asserted that some of the charges are covered by the tripartite agreement, dated 27th May 1964. The charges inter alia were:

(a) that the delinquent worker had been threatening, intimidating and terrorising some willing workers in order to prevent them from going to their respective duties after 17th December 1963;

(b) that on 16th December 1963, he along with others organised and addressed a meeting of the workers in the canteen premises of Factory No. 2 without any permission wherein the workers were incited and instigated to resort to a strike with effect from 17th December 1963, and to continue the same;

(c) that he along with others mobbed and stopped some willing employees near the crossing of Netaji Subhas Road and the road approaching the wooden bridge of Factory No. 2 at about 9 a.m. on 1st January 1964, and intimidated, threatened and abused them;

(d) that he along with others mobbed and stopped the car of Company's General Manager, Works and of other officers beyond the wooden bridge towards the factory on the road from the junction of Netaji Subhas Road at about 9 a.m. on 16th April 1964, and further intimidated, threatened and abused the said officers;

(e) that he along with others indiscriminately used brickbats on the officers at Rathtola Netaji Subhas Road, at 12-50 p.m. on 20th January 1964, when they were returning to their residence from Factory No. 2 causing serious injury to one of the officers and damaging most of the cars.

The Management examined six witnesses at the time of enquiry, of whom Shri D. K. Sen and Shri S. K. Mehratra came to prove charge No. (e) Shri A. Das Gupta charge No. (b), Shri Maniyar and Shri J. S. Agarwal charge No. (d). No evidence was led in regard to charges Nos. (a) and (c), and although the enquiring officer did not find the delinquent worker guilty in respect of charge No. (c), he found him guilty in respect of charge (a). The enquiring officer, however, did not discuss the evidence with regard to this charge and consequently his finding with regard to charge (a) cannot be said to be fair or proper. In fact the finding in so far as charge (a) is concerned is baseless. The Tribunal should accordingly consider the materials with regard to the remaining three charges, namely (b), (d) and (e).

Regarding charge (b), the Mangement examined Shri A. Das Gupta, Security Officer and the defence examined two witnesses Shri Madhusudan Shaw and Shri Manick Lal Halder, two canteen boys, who disputed the holding of a meeting in the canteen on the particular day. According to Shri A. Das Gupta, the workers held a meeting inside the canteen at about 3-30 p.m. on 16th December 1963, which was addresed by the delinquent worker and others. The workers were called upon to resort to a strike with effect from 17th December 1963. No permission appears to have been obtained for this meeting. The Security Officer submitted a report to the Management, which however was not in the file of enquiry and Shri Pathak on behalf of the union drew my attention to some slight discripancy in the testimony of Security Officer given in this enquiry on 20th August 1964, and in another enquiry on 8th September 1964. (vide Aloke Halder's case Ext. D series). The report of the Security Officer is in that file and the discripancies pointed out appears to be slight and not material. The two canteen boys no doubt stated that no meeting was held on that day but the enquiring officer was unable to accept their testimony in preference to that of the Security Officer. The delinquent worker wanted to have his attendance card which was produced by the Management and marked Ext. 2 and this shows that on the 16th he left after 5 p.m. The clock stamp however does not appear on this card but it is admitted that the clock was out of order and the defence plea that the attendance card has been tampered with, was not accepted by the enquiring officer. Shri Pathak also referred to the evidence of Mahandra Singh in Alok Halder's enquiry regarding this incident but that evidence was not recorded in presence of the delinquent worker and cannot as such be referred to in this proceeding. Assuming for argument's sake, that the enquiring officer should have satisfied himself by calling for the records of that case and varified the statement of the Security Officer, it is to be pointed out that the enquiry in the instant case was completed long before the enquiry in the other case was started. Hence on a careful consideration of the materials on record, I do not see any sufficient reason to differ from the finding of the enquiring officer and I must accordingly hold that the charge has been substantially proved.

Regarding charge (d), the Management examined Shri Maniyan, Junior Executive Officer, Factory No. 2 and Shri J. S. Agarwal, Secretary, Factory No. 2. According to Shri Maniyan, he was proceeding towards the Factory No. 2 at about 9 a.m. on 16th January 1964, in Dr. Agarwal's car. When they approached the wooden bridge near the factory, they were stopped by a group of strikers, who were shouting slogans. Dr. Agarwal got down from the car and talked to those persons but after sometime he came back to the car. Then they proceeded towards the factory. The strikers however dispersed as a police officer came to the place. The witness could not recognise the delinquent worker amongst the crowd, although he knew him from before. Dr. Agarwal in his testimony corroborated Shri Maniyan and stated that the delinquent worker with a group of about 8/10 persons stopped their car before the wooden bridge near Factory No. 2. These people were shouting slogans, and asked them not to go to the factory. About that time, some policemen arrived at the spot when the strikers dispersed. Dr. Agarwal was emphatic that the delinquent worker was amongst the strikers that blocked their way that day. He also named some other persons. On being asked by the enquiring officer, the witness further stated that he knew the delinquent worker from before as he worked in his department as a member of the staff. The witness submitted a report to the officer-in-charge, Jadavpore Police Station, endorsed by the Deputy General Manager, Shri Ganguly on the very day and the report contains the name of the delinquent worker. In the said report there is mentioned of an incident in which General Shri T. R. Gupta was involved but Dr. Agarwal in his evidence did not mention anything about it. That forms the subject-matter of a separate charge which was not followed up or substantiated. The witness however stated that several other officers were there of whom some were coming in taxi or scooter and others in private cars. The General Manager's car, according to the witness, was not with them but from his report marked Ext. X, it would appear that while the General Manager was being obstructed, other officers including Dr. Agarwal and Shri Maniyan were there. Dr. Agarwal's report to the police does not fully corroborate his evidence before the enquiring officer and this aspect of the matter was not considered by the enquiring officer. It is further to be pointed out that the delinquent worker set up an alibi in so far as this incident and the incident, dated 20th January 1964, was concerned. As per defence version, delinquent worker was ill during the period from 13th January 1964. to 2nd February 1964, and was putting up in his village home at Midnapore district. In support, he produced a medical certificate from a registered medical practitioner (Ext. X) and a certificate from Upaprodhan of the Anchal Panchayat (Ext. Y). None of them were however examined by him for reasons, which have not been satisfactorily explained. The alibi, moreover, was not mentioned in the explanation to the charge-sheet, even though the medical certificate was apparently with him on the day when he submitted his explanation. The enquiring officer could not pursuade himself to accept this blanket alibi or disbelieve the Management's witnesses against whom no enmity or ill feeling has been suggested. They were all senior officers and apparently bore no grudge against the delinquent worker. On a careful consideration of all the materials, I see no sufficient reasons to disagree with the enquiring officer's finding on this charge.

Regarding charge (e), Management examined Shri D. K. Sen, Deputy General Manager, Factory No. 2 and Shri S. K. Mehrotra, Tool Designing Engineer of that Factory. According to Shri D. K. Sen, they were returning from Factory No. 2 at about 12-50 p.m. in a convoy of cars when they were stopped near Rathtola on the Netaji Subhas Road by a group of strikers. As the first car stopped, the whole convoy stopped and the strikers started throwing brickbats. Against this onslaught, the convoy restarted and though damaged, 7 of the cars managed to break through the cordon, while two of the cars did not succeed. The convoy thereupon proceeded towards Garia Police Out Post, where it was noticed that one of the officers Shri Mehrotra, received a bleeding injury on his forehead, as a result of brickbats piercing through the window panes of the car, in which he was travelling. All the cars were more or less damaged. Shri Sen further stated that he knew the delinquent worker and might have seen him in the crowd on that day. F.I.R. was lodged with the Jadavpore Police on the very day and in the said report, name of the delinquent worker appears (Ext. A). In this evidence before the enquiring officer, Shri Sen stated that he got the name of the workers mentioned in the Ejahar from the officers who were with him at the time and the names of these officers also appear in the list attached to the F.I.R. Identification by Shri Sen was not however complete or conclusive. Shri Mehrotra who received a cut injury on his forehead was clear and convicing in implicating the delinquent worker. According to Shri Mehrotra, delinquent worker was amongst the group of striker that indulged in brickbatting and he knew the worker from before. He however could not say which particular person hit him or threw brickbats at him at that time. Shri Mehrotra was in the fourth car of the convoy which belonged to Shri Nangia. Sitting in his car, he found the delinquent worker standing very close to him and this fact was elicited in cross-examination. Two witnesses corroborated each other in material particulars and Shri Mehrotra was definite that the delinquent worker was in the group that indulged in throwing brickbats. The enquiring officer on this evidence accepted the complicity of the delinquent worker in the rowdism and violence of this date and on a careful consideration of all the materials on record, I do not see any sufficient reason to differ from his finding.

Shri Pathak on behalf of the union sought to contend that the incident having taken place on a Monday, which is the weekly rest day of Factory No. 1 (vide evidence of P.W. 13) the officers attached to Factory No. 1 could not be accepted to be present in the convoy on that day. This argument in my opinion cannot be accepted, for, the strike was then on and according to O.P.W. 4, Shri J. Goswami, officers had no fixed working hours in the two factories during the period of strike. Admittedly, Factory No. 2 was open on Mondays and the fact that the officers were being taken in a convoy of cars would go to show that their attendance were not restricted to any particular factory at that eventful time. Three of the officers, who were in the convoy, namely, Shri S. K. Sen, Shri S. K. Dey and another, were officers of Factory No. 1 (vide P.W. 10) but no such suggestion was given to the officers, when they were examined in the relative enquiry proceeding and there is nothing to show that officers of one factory was not called upon to work in another factory, when everything seems to have been disorganised and put out of gear. The question of alibi has already been considered and for the reasons already discussed, I agree with the enquiring officer that it was merely an after-thought and was not set up in earnest by the delinquent worker.

In the next place, Shri Pathak contended that the delinquent worker being a member of staff could not be charged for violation of the standing orders, which only apply to the manual workers. It is true that the certified standing orders did not apply to the members of the staff in this industry but the incidents for which the delinquent worker was charged would surely amount to misconduct as it was inconsistent with the fulfilment of express or implied conditions of service and had a material bearing on the smooth and efficient working of the concern. I therefore see no reason to hold that the incident alleged and proved against the delinquent worker would not amount to misconduct even though he is not strictly covered by the certified standing orders of the Company.

Lastly it was sought to be contended that the worker concerned has been victimised for his trade union activities and this was a case of unfair labour practice on the part of the Management. I regret, I am unable to agree. It is for the Union to establish that the Management is guilty of victimisation or unfair labour practice and the mere fact that the delinquent worker is an important member of the Union is no ground for holding that he has been victimised for, in that event, no important member or office bearer of the Union could be penalised. To hold otherwise would be to give a carte blanche to do some misconduct and to get away with it on the ground that the relationship between the employer and the Union was not happy. Reference may in this connection be made to the Supreme Court decision reported in 1963 (1), L.L.J., page 291. For all these reasons discussed above, I agree with the enquiring officer and hold that the delinquent worker was rightly adjudged guilty in the instant case in so far as these charges are concerned and the Management was justified in imposing the penalty in this case. It follows therefore that the delinquent worker is not entitled to any relief in this case.

(5) Shri Bireswar Chatterjee

Shri Bireswar Chatterjee was a fitter in the Tool Maintenance Section of Factory No. 1 of Jay Engineering Works Ltd. since 1958. He was dismissed from service with effect from 19th March 1965, after a departmental enquiry. Shri Chatterjee was served with six separate charge-sheets containing as many as 17 charges of which 10 only were followed up. The enquiring officer found Shri Chatterjee guilty to all the charges after a domestic enquiry. The charges inter-alia were:

(a) That the delinquent worker along with others forcibly stopped the company's van at Dhakuria Bus stop at about 12 noon on 22nd December 1963, in which two senior employees of the Company were proceeding to Factory No. 1, instigated others to attack the van, used provocative slogans and abused the said employees and forced them to get down and walk;

(b) That he along with others forcibly stopped some of the officers of the Company near Poddarnagar Colony on the Prince Anwar Shah Road, while they were proceeding to attend their duty at Factory No. 1 at about 11-30 a.m. on 26th December 1963, and prevented them from proceeding further;

(c) That he organised and participated in a procession from Hazra Park to the Assembly Chamber at about noon on 30th December 1963, for the purpose of supporting, continuing and furthering the illegal strike;

(d) That he along with others stopped some willing workers, who were proceeding to the factory in a car at about 8-45 a.m. on 2nd January 1964, on the Prince Anwar Shah Road, near Poddarnagar, tried to smash the window panes of the car, abused and threatened them;

(e) That he along with others forcibly stopped Shri U. C. Choudhury, an willing employee near the Mosque on Prince Anwar Shah Road, opposite Mohammedan burial ground at about 1-30 p.m. on 3rd January 1964, and threatened him;

(f) That he along with others stopped Shri S. K. Ghatak, an willing employee, threatened and abused him in filthy language at about 1-30 p.m. on 4th January 1964;

(g) That he along with others obstructed Shri Hansraj, Shri Chaman Lal and other willing employees from proceeding to the factory at about 9 a.m. on 7th January 1964, abused them in filthy language, threw brickbats as also dirty water on the said willing workers;

(h) That he along with 7 or 8 others, stopped Shri A. C. Choudhury, a willing worker at the level crossing near Dhakuria Station, abused, intimidated and threatened him, while he was proceeding towards the factory at about 1 p.m. on 22nd January 1964. The delinquent worker was further accused of snatching away his gold ring and assaulting him with fists and blows.

(i) That he along with others mobbed, encircled and severely assaulted Shri Kanai Chatterjee, Shri Bholanath Banerjee, and Shri Prodyut Chakraborty, willing workers near the Dhakuria Out-post at about 11 a.m. on 24th April 1964 while they were proceeding for their respective duties;

(j) That he deliberately refused an official communication which was sent under registered post knowing fully well that it was a communication from his employers.

'he delinquent worker in his explanation, dated 2th June 1964, and 17th June 1964, denied the llegations and characterised the charges as false, aseless and motivated.

Management examined as many as 16 witnesses f whom Shri S. C. Mukherjee and Shri P. V. Nathan were witnesses in respect of charge (a), Shri S. K. Banerjee in respect of charge (b), Shri A. K. Gupta in respect of charge (c), Shri B. Kapoor and Shri V. Krishnan in respect of charge d), Shri U. C. Chaudhury in respect of charge (e), Shri D. Hansa and Shri Shib Saran Agarwal, Shri Ashim Krishna Mukherjee and Shri J. C. Chakraborty, Shayamapada Ghosh, Shri Anil Choudhuri, J. K. Roy, and Shri Kanailal Chatterjee in respect of charge (g) and Shri J. Goswami in respect of charge (j).

In the first place it is to be pointed out that charge (j) cannot be said to have been established as there is practically no evidence on record to prove this refusal. The postal peon has not been examined and there is no endorsement that the envelope containing the alleged communication was opened in presence of the enquiring officer. This charge appears to have been drawn up on the 11th of June 1966, on which date of the charge-sheets were also made over to the delinquent worker, as will appear from his endorsement. There is, therefore, nothing on the record to show that the relevant envelope which were alleged to have been refused by the delinquent worker, contained the charge-sheets. The enquiring officer was not, therefore, correct in holding that the postal proof of refusal to the Company's communication containing the charge-sheets was made out. The finding must, therefore, be regarded as perverse and baseless and the delinquent worker should be absolved of this charge.

Regarding charge (a), Management examined two witnesses i.e. Shri S. C. Mukherjee, Superintendent of Production, Factory No. 1 and Shri P. V. Nathan, Controller of Purchases and Stores, Factory No. 1. According to Shri S. C. Mukherjee, they were proceeding towards the factory in a van at about 12 noon on 22nd December 1963. As they reached Dhakuria Post Office, their van was stopped by a mob of about 200 people, who started banging the doors of the van continuously and the doors of the van flew open as a result of violence and the occupants were asked to get down. Shri Mukherjee could recognise a number of workers including the delinquent worker, in the group. They did not allow the van to proceed when Shri Mukherjee and Shri Nathan got down. The strikers started abusing them and the delinquent worker, according to Shri Mukherjee, took an active part in the demonstration. They were made to walk the rest of the distance and Shri Mukherjee also saw the delinquent worker taking a leading part in attacking the van and in shouting slogans. Shri Nathan similarly corroborated Shri Mukherjee and recognised the delinquent worker along with some other workers, whom he knew from before. The witnesses were not cross-examined on the ground that their evidence are all false. There is no allegation of any enmity or ill-feeling against any of the witnesses and from the evidence adduced, there is no reason to disbelieve the testimony of these witnesses. The enquiring officer was, therefore, perfectly justified in finding the delinquent worker guilty to this charge.

As for charge (b), Management examined one witneses Shri S. K. Banerjee, Superintendent of Maintenance, Factory No. 1. He stated in his evidence that one day towards the end of December, at about 11 a.m. he was going from Prince Anwar Shah Road to Jodhpur Park with two others on foot, when they were surrounded by a group of about 20/25 people. These people started abusing Shri Banerjee for attending the factory and he identified the delinquent worker as one amongst them; Shri Banerjee knew the delinquent worker from before. Shri Banerjee somehow managed to extricate himself and left the place and on the next day reported the matter to the Security Officer. The Security Officer made a report which was shown to the witness and he re-called the date of incident from the said report. The said report, however, is not on the record nor was the Security Officer examined. The delinquent worker did not cross-examine the witness but described the evidence as false and asserted that he was in his maternal uncle's house at Konnagar from 20th December to 30th January 1964. In support he also produced a statement from his maternal uncle Shri Dhirendra Ch. Mukherjee who however, was not examined to prove the statement. Since no allegation was made against Shri Banerjee, the enquiring officer, in my view, was justified in accepting his testimony and finding the delinquent worker guilty to this charge.

Regarding charge (c), Management examined only one witness Shri A. K. Gupta, Security Officer of the Company. He stated in his evidence that on 30th December 1963, he was on duty at Hazra Park on receiving a report that a meeting of the Union was due to be held there in the afternoon to be followed by a procession to the Assembly House. The procession started from Hazra Park and the delinquent worker was not only in the procession but also organised it in collaboration with others. The worker did not like to cross-examine the witness but asserted that he was putting up with his maternal uncle at Konnagore at the material time. There is no allegation against the witness and even though the Security Officer had no papers to refresh his memory, the enquiring officer thought it fit not to reject his testimony and in the circumstances, I see no reason why his finding should be disturbed.

As for charge (d), Management examined two witnesses Shri B. Kapoor and Shri V. Krishnan. According to Shri B. Kapoor, he was proceeding to the factory in his car accompanied by Shri Krishnan and some others at about 9 a.m. on 2nd January 1964, when they were interrupted by the delinquent worker near Poddarnagar on the Prince Anwar Shah Road. The delinquent worker, stretching his both hands, stood in front of the car. Shri Kapoor stopped the car when the delinquent worker asked him not to proceed to the factory. There was a discussion when Shri Chatterjee was alleged to have abused Shri Kapoor and others. About that time, a police officer who was proceeding along the road, asked Shri Chatterjee to permit the witness, to proceed to the factory. The witness did not know the delinquent worker from before but came to know him on the previous day when there was another incident. Shri V. Krishnan similarly corroborated Shri Kapoor and identified the delinquent worker as one of the group that stopped their car that day. There was slight discrepancy in the testimony of this witness with that of Shri Kapoor. Whereas Shri Krishnan stated that on being obstructed, he returned home, while Shri Kapoor stated that they went to the factory. However, when the witness was reminded about the police officer, he stated that they proceeded to the factory on that day. The witness was not cross-examined and no motive was suggested for falsely implicating the delinquent worker. In the circumstances, the enquiring officer was justified in finding the delinquent worker guilty to this charge.

The witness in his evidence stated that on 3rd January 1964, he attended the factory and thereafter engaged a rickshaw and proceeded towards a Bank for depositing his cheque. As the rickshaw approached the Muslim burial ground on Prince Anwar Shah Road, delinquent worker asked the rickshaw puller to stop. As the rickshaw stopped the witness was surrounded by a group of workers and the delinqent worker and others started abusing him and also threatened him. The witness was abused in a most insulting language whereupon he told them that he was not going to attend the factory any more and the group of strikers then permitted him to go. The witness was not cross-examined on the ground that his evidence was totally false but no motive was suggested for this false evidence. Shri Pathak appearing for the Union sought to contend that the witness also referred to an incident of 1st January 1964, in which Mr. Santra was involved but the said charge though framed, was not proceeded with. In the circumstances, his evidence, according to Shri Pathak, could not be accepted. Shri Choudhury submitted a report on the following day to the Officer-in-charge, Tollygunge Police Station, a copy of which was also forwarded to the Company. A copy of the report is on the enquiry file and the report substantially corroborates the evidence of Shri Choudhury. The enquiring officer was, therefore, justified in not rejecting the testimony of this witness and the charge must be taken to have been fully substantiated.

Regarding charge (g), Management examined eight witnesses Sarbashri D. Hansa, Sib Saran Agarwal, J. K. Roy, Ashim Krishna Mukherjee, J. C. Chakraborti, Kanailal Chatterjee, Anil Kumar Chaudhuri, and Shyamapada Ghosh These groups of witnesses may be described as Usha Bhawan witnesses as they used to live in Usha Bhawan, official quarters for the members of the staff, situated close to the factory. These witnesses more or less, proved that while they were proceeding towards the factory from Usha Bhawan, sometimes in January 1964, they were interfered with by a group of workers headed by Shri Bireswar Chatterjee and others. The delinquent worker started abusing them in filthy language and even threw stones at them. Their path was attempted to be obstructed but the witnesses managed to proceed towards the factory The distance was short and on reaching the factory, they sent a joint petition to the Police on the very day. This joint petition has been marked exhibit by the enquiring officer and the name of the delinquent worker appears in the said report to the police. The joint petition was signed by as many as 9 persons, of whom all are witnesses except Shri Chamanlal. The witnesses all identified Shri Bireswar Chatterjee and some of them even stated that foul water was thrown on them by the strikers, headed by the delinquent worker, in order to prevent them from proceeding to the factory. One of the witnesses, Shri J. C. Chakraborty even stated that brickbats were thrown at them which hit Shri Chamanlal and Shri Shib Saran Agarwal. The evidence is far too convincing to be ignored. There are no allegations against any of these witnesses and the enquiring officer was perfectly justified in accepting their evidence and in finding the delinquent worker guilty to this charge.

Regarding charge (h), Management examined only one witness, namely, Shri A. K. Chaudhuri, Assistant Engineer, Factory No. 1, who came to depose that on 21st or 22nd January, 1964, he went towards Dhakuria at about 11-30 a.m. and on way back was surrounded by a group of strikers, who started abusing him in filthy language; one of them gave him a push and some of them also used fists and blows, etc. The delinquent worker was amongst them. The witness was not cross-examined on the ground that the entire evidence was false, but the reason for giving false evidence was nowhere suggested. Shri Pathak, appearing for the Union, contended that Shri Choudhury did not at first say anything about this incident but on re-examination mentioned about it. The witness was not clear about the place of occurrence and stated nothing about the loss of a gold ring although the charge relates to snatching of a gold ring from him. The enquiring officer, who had the opportunity of seeing the witness, accepted this testimony and in the circumstances, I see no reason to differ from his assessment. Even, assuming for argument's sake that this charge has not been made out, such portion of the charges as has been made out, would amount to misconduct and it would be immaterial if one of the charges against the delinquent worker was not established.

Regarding charges (f) and (i), it is to be pointed out that although from the finding placed in the file (Ext. M series) indicate that the delinquent worker was found guilty in respect of all the charges including these two charges but from the copy made over to the worker (marked Ext. Y) it would appear that he was found not guilty in respect of these two charges. The enquiring officer in his evidence before the Tribunal recorded on 29th July 1966, accepted the copy made over to the worker as the original. Having gone through his report (Ext. Y) it appears that two paragraphs in the said report does not find place in the original placed in the file (Ext. M series). This mistake, according to the enquiring officer is a typographical error. Shri Pathak, on behalf of the Union contended that the Management based its conclusion on the incorrect report of the enquiring officer and the conclusion of the Management cannot, therefore, be accepted as correct and it is not known what would have been the Management's reaction had the true copy of finding was before it. The order of dismissal according to Shri Pathak cannot therefore stand. I regret, I am unable to agree. There are as many as 10 charges of which two were not substantiated, according to the evidence of the enquiring officer.

Another charge, namely (j) has been found to be baseless. If these three charges go, even then there are sufficient material on the record to justify a finding of guilty and as the misdemeanour complained of were serious, Management would have been justified in dismissing the delinquent worker even on any of these charges. This point has been discussed elsewhere in this award and it is immaterial if some of the charges are not borne out or established upon evidence while others are made out and the Management makes its decision on the assumption that all the charges have been made out. It follows, therefore, that the delinquent worker is not entitled to any relief in this case.

(6) Shri Tushar Banerjee

Shri Tushar Banerjee was a setter in Factory No. 2 of Jay Engineering Works Ltd., since 1963. He was dismissed from service with effect from 23rd March 1965. He was served with two charge-sheets, dated 30th December 1963 and 24th April 1964. There were five charges in so far as the charge-sheet, dated 30th December 1963, was concerned, of which charge Nos. 4 and 5 were proceeded with. There were two charges in so far as the charge-sheet, dated 24th April 1964, was concerned, both of which were proceeded with. All the charges were enquired into by O.P.W. 1 Shri Nirmal Chandra Maitra during the period from 31st August 1964, to 15th September 1964. The charges were (a) that he threatened, terrorised and intimidated willing workers in order to prevent them from going to their respective duties after the 17th of December 1963, (b) that he along with others mobbed and stopped some willing workers from attending their duties at about 8-30 a.m. on 23rd December 1963, and also intimidate, threatened and abused them and further incited and instigated others to do likewise, (c) that on 22nd April 1964, at about 10 a.m., he mobbed and encircled Shri N. R. Roy, Shri Dipak Chakraborty, Shri Nikhil Das and Shri Hiranmaya at Babu Bagan, Dhakuria and severely assaulted them while the said willing workers were proceeding to join their respective duties, (d) that on 24th April 1964, at about 11 a.m. he along with others, mobbed and encircled Shri Kanai Chatterjee, Shri Bholanath Banerjee and Shri Prodyut Chakraborty near the Dhakuria Police Out-post while the said willing employees were proceeding to join their respective duties and severely assaulted them. The worker concerned were accused of riotous and disorderly behaviour and commission of acts subversive of discipline as also incitement, instigation and abatement of the above acts of misconduct as per Appendix D, clause 2, sub-clauses (17), (19) and (42) of the Certified Standing Orders.

At the enquiry, Management examined seven witnesses, of whom Shri Prodyut Chakraborty came to prove charges (a) and (d), Shri P. K. Khosla came to prove charge (b) and Sarbasri Hiranmay Mukherjee, Prodyut Chakraborty, Nitya Ranjan Roy, Nikhil Chandra Das and Dipak Chakraborty came to prove the charge (c), whilst Shri M. L. Saha is more or less a formal witness. The defence of the worker at the enquiry was one of alibi in so far as the two latter charges are concerned and he made out a case of absence from Calcutta during the period from 4th February 1964 to 15th May 1964.

In his evidence before the Tribunal, Shri Banerjee (P.W. 5) admitted that he attended the departmental enquiry and from the enquiry proceedings it would appear that he attested each page of the enquiry proceeding. Shri Banerjee in his evidence stated that the enquiry against him was neither fair nor proper and his statement was not correctly recorded by the enquiring officer, nor were the statements of witnesses recorded correctly inspite of his protest. He asserted that he was not given the assistance of a co-worker of his choice nor was he given the copies of documents on the basis of which, charge-sheets were drawn up against him, before the commencement of the enquiry. He further stated that he has been victimised as he was an active member of the Union and the Management wanted to get rid of him. The enquiring officer, in his evidence (O.P.W. 1) recorded on 27th July 1966, stated that Shri Banerjee was given every possible opportunity in the matter of his defence and denied all the allegations made by him in so far as the conduct of the enquiry was concerned. The enquiring officer denied that the statement of Shri Banerjee and of other witnesses were not correctly or properly recorded by him. The enquiring officer, however, admitted that the copies of documents were not made over to the worker before the enquiry but he was permitted to have inspection of the documents at the time of enquiry and this procedure was followed in all the cases. The enquiring officer stated that he found Shri Banerjee guilty in respect of charge No. 5 of the charge-sheet, dated 30th December 1963, and charge Nos. 1 and 2 of the charge-sheet, dated 24th April 1964, although from his report, dated 21st September 1964, it would appear that he found Shri Banerjee guilty in respect of all the charges, including charge No. 4 of the charge-sheet, dated 30th December 1963, which is item No. 1 of his report.

The Management examined only one witness in so far as the charge No. 5 of the charge-sheet, dated 30th December 1963, was concerned. He is Shri P. K. Khosla, Area Manager, Machine Shop Section of Factory No. 2. He deposed to say that he was going to the factory to join his duty on the morning of 23rd December 1963, along with Shri N. N. Chakraborty in his car, when a group of strikers stopped his car near the factory. The delinquent worker was not in that group; he was in another group which sat squatting nearby. The squatters came near and joined the group that stopped the car and as the witness knew the delinquent worker from before, he called him and there was some normal conversation between him and the delinquent worker. On the very day, he along with Shri N. N. Chakraborty, submitted a report to the Management, wherein he mentioned the name of this worker along with another worker. This report has been marked Ext. A by the enquiring officer and there is no mention of stopping the car nor any untoward incident or any threatening or mobbing or any incitement or instigation to the workers.

Shri N. N. Chakraborty who was present with Shri Khosla at the time of occurrence has not been examined in this case, yet. the enquiring officer took the delinquent worker to be a fellow traveller with the other workers, who stopped the car. Even if, this assessment of the enquiring officer is accepted as correct, there is nothing on record to show that there was any threatening or mobbing of Shri Khosla by any of the workers, far less by the delinquent worker. Since the theory of constructive liability as is understood in the criminal law, cannot be imported in the field of industrial adjudication, and as the intention of the workers to stop the car has not been made clear by any evidence whatsoever, this charge cannot be said to have been proved against Shri Tushar Banerjee and certainly he cannot be said to have mobbed or prevented other willing workers from joining their respective duties nor can he be said to have incited or instigated other workers to do likewise. The finding of the enquiring officer in so far as this charge is concerned must therefore be regarded as baseless and the evidence that has been led merely establishes his presence at the place where Shri Khosla's car was detained on the morning of 23rd December 1963. The charge, therefore, in so far as this occurrence was concerned would have been participation in an illegal strike but as per the agreement, dated 27th May 1964, Company agreed to waive this charge against all the workers who merely participated in the strike. That being so, the enquiring officer's finding in so far as this charge is concerned must be regarded as perverse.

In so far as charge No (c) is concerned the Company examined four witnesses namely, Shri H. Mukherjee, Shri N. R. Roy, Shri N. C Das and Shri D. Chakraborty. Of them Shri Hiranmoy Mukherjee in his evidence categorically stated that the delinquent worker did not either assault him or tell him anything. His evidence was that he had been to the house of Shri Anil Roy, (a Supervisor of the Factory), at Dhakuria on a certain date when a group of persons accosted him and asked him what he was doing there. He identified the delinquent worker as one in the group. He was detained at the place up to 1-30 p.m. whereafter he was let off. Certainly the witness was not proceeding to his duty, when he visited the house of Anil Banerjee at Dhakuria and this act on the part of a group at best amounted to wrongful confinement for which a criminal action could have been taken against them but it certainly cannot be said to be a misconduct within the meaning of clause 2(17) of the Standing Orders which provides for riotous and disorderly behaviour, threatening, intimidating, etc. . . . either within the factory or outside having subversive effect on factory discipline. Clearly this hold up or confinement is neither within the factory premises nor can it be said to have subversive effect on the factory discipline when the workers, who were alleged to have been confined were not proceeding to join the factory or going to attend their duties.

Of the other three witnesses, who spoke on this point, only Shri Nitya Ranjan Roy, identified the delinquent worker as one in the group that assaulted him, when he went to Anil Banerjee's house at Dhakuria on the morning of 22nd April 1964. According to this witness, the delinquent worker was in the group that summoned him from Anil Banerjee's house to a place behind Dhakuria Binodini Girls' School but he cannot definitely say whether the delinquent worker also assulted him. In fact, he named several persons as his assultants, of whom Shri Nalini Sarkar was the foremost. The other two witnesses Shri Nikhil Das and Shri Dipak Chakraborty did not see the delinquent worker in the group that called them from Anil Banerjee's house on the morning of 22nd April 1964. Shri Nikhil Das even stated that the delinquent worker was not in the group that assaulted him. The other witness Shri Dipak Chakraborty similarly stated that he did not see the delinquent worker in the group that assaulted him on that day but when he came on the road afterward, he met the delinquent worker on the way. The delinquent worker at that place attended to his injuries, applied Detol and helped him to board a bus. In cross-examination this witness admitted before the enquiring officer that the delinquent worker was not in the group that enticed him from the house of his cousin brother Shri Anil Banerjee nor did he see him before or at the time of assault. On this evidence enquiring officer thought the delinquent worker to be fellow traveller and found him guilty to this charge. The unsubstantial story of alibi set up by the worker was rightly disbelieved by the enquiring officer but upon the materials on record, I do not think he was justified in holding the worker guilty of riotous and disorderly behaviour over an incident for which sub-clause (17) of clause (2) of appendix D can hardly be said to be attracted because the incident not merely took place outside factory but also at a time when the alleged victims were not planning to join their duties nor can the delinquent worker be said to have participated in the alleged assault. If the evidence is accepted in toto, it would, at best, prove his presence neara bout the place of occurrence but as the principle of constructive liability cannot be imported in matters of industrial adjudication, he should not have been found guilty of major misdemeanour merely on the footing that he was a fellow traveller with others.

As to charge No. 2 of the charge-sheet, dated 24th April 1964, only witness examined by the Management is Shri Prodyut Chakraborty. The delinquent worker was alleged to have mobbed, encircled and assaulted Shri Kanai Chatterjee, Shri Bholanath Banerjee and Shri Prodyut Chairaborty at Dhakuria Police Out Post at about 11 a.m. on 24th April 1964. Shri Kanai Chatterjee and Shri Bholanath Banerjee have not been examined in this case and Shri Prodyut Chakraborty who has been examined, in his evidence stated that he was assaulted severely by a group of people as a result of which, he temporarily lost his senses, received bleeding injuries and sustained fracture in the Nasal Bone. A police case was started but what transpired in the police case has not been made clear. The witness further stated that the delinquent worker was in the group but he did not take part in the assault. Witness claims that he was X-rayed and the necessary documents were exhibited in another case. The materials were not placed before the enquiring officer in this case but he took them into consideration in finding this worker guilty in respect of this charge; obviously, the delinquent worker had no opportunity to meet this point which was put into evidence in a connected case, in which he was not charge-sheeted. This solitary uncorroborated testimony of the witness was accepted by the enquiring officer on the ground that no enmity has been suggested between the witness and the delinquent worker. Enquiring officer also disbelieved the defence case of alibi on the ground that it was quite possible to make a hasty exit from Calcutta on 24th April 1964 so as to reach Darjeeling on 25th April 1964 and from there write a letter. This letter was put into evidence. It is true that the story of alibi was not set up in the explanation of the delinquent worker but the enquiring officer overlooked the inherent improbability of a hasty exit from Calcutta after the incident of 24th April 1964 so as to reach Darjeeling on 25h April 1964, which was only possible if he availed of a plane from Calcutta and this was next to impossible for a worker like him. The worker in his evidence before the Tribunal stated that he went to Darjeeling with his elder sister on the 5th or 6th February and stayed there with his sister for sometime. He claimed to have written 3 or 4 letters to his father and produced one such letter bearing the date of 25th April 1964 before the enquiring officer. Had the delinquent worker really been at Darjeeling on the particular day, it will reasonable to hold that he would have set up such a case in his defence but no such case was made out in his explanation submitted on 13th July 1964. The enquiring officer was, therefore, correct in rejecting the plea of alibi as an after-thought but the reasons given by him for rejecting the plea of alibi at page 12 of his report was neither fair nor just to the delinquent worker. Enquiring officer placed too much reliance on the uncorroborated testimony of witness Shri Prodyut Chakraborty, who apart from any motive or ill-feeling, might have made a honest mistake. So when this witness even did not allege that the delinquent worker took part in the assault, a charge of major misdemeanour under clause 2(17) of Appendix D of the Standing Orders cannot be said to have been made out against this worker and the finding to the contrary must therefore be regarded as perverse and not based on proper evidence.

It is worthy of note that although none of the witnesses knew the delinquent worker by name or even by face, the Management somehow got his name when they issued the charge-sheet on 24th Aptil 1964 against him. How and under what circumstances the name of this worker transpired before the Management has not been disclosed before the enquiring officer and none of the witnesses before the enquring officer ventured to say that they supplied the name or description of this worker to the Management before the charge-sheet came to be issued. That being the position, the issue of a charge-sheet against him on certain reports which had not been disclosed at the time of enquiry remains obscure and the enquiring officer did not also consider this aspect of the case.

Considering all the facts and circumtances very carefully, the Tribunal holds that the worker cannot be made constructively liable for the misdeed of other workers and the charges must fail and the order of dismissal cannot be held to be justified.

(7) Shri Khitish Chatterjee

Shri Khitish Chatterjee was a grinder in the machine shop section of Factory No. 1 of Jay Engineering Works since 1963. He was dismissed from service with effect from 19th March 1965 after a domestic enquiry. He was served with three charge-sheets containing as many as 10 charges of which three were pursued. The worker in his explanation, dated 23rd June 1964, denied the charges and characterised them as false and motivated. The charges inter alia were :

(a) that on 19th December 1963 at about 9 a.m. he stopped a car in Katjunagar on Prince Anwar Shah Road in which some workers were proceeding to Factory No. 1 and abused and threatened them ;

(b) that he along with others forcibly stopped some willing workers near Poddar Nagar on Prince Anwar Shah Road at about 7-30 a.m. on 20th December 1963 while they were proceeding to Factory No. 1 for joining their duties; and

(c) that he along with others stopped the car of Shri H. P. Chakraborty, an employee of the Company from proceeding towards the factory at about 11-30 a.m. on 4th January 1964 near Poddar Nagar on Prince Anwar Shah Road, dragged him out of the car, abused,threatened and manhandled him.

The Management examined four witnesses, of whom Shri G. S. D. Mathur. Development Officer of Factory No. 1 and Shri P. V. Nathan, Controller of Stores and Purchase, Factory No. 1, came to prove charges (a) and (b), whilst Shri Hara Prosad Chakraborty, Electrical Supervisor, came to prove charge (c). The other witness Shri J. Goswami proved some formal exhibits.

The delinquent worker in his evidence stated that the domestic enquiry was not fairly or properly conducted and he was not furnished with the copies of documents on the basis of which charge-sheets were drawn up and the enquiring officer also did not record the statement of witnesses correctly or properly. The enquiring officer Shri N. C. Maitra (O.P.W.1) in his evidence recorded on 10th August 1966 denied the allegations and asserted that the statements of witnesses were correctly and properly recorded and all the objections of the delinquent worker were noted. Copies of all the documents made use of at the time of enquiry were made over to the charge-sheeted worker, who also cross-examined one of the witnesses examined by the Management but did not chose to cross-examine the other witnesses, even though he was given an opportunity to do so. The enquiring officer in his report found the charge-sheeted worker guilty to all the three charges.

Shri G. S. D. Mathur in his evidence at the domestic enquiry stated that on the 18th or 19th of December 1963, he was going to the factory at about 9 a.m. in his car. Mr. Nathan and two other officers were with him. Near about a 'Colony' called Katjunagar on Prince Anwar Shah Road, the car was held up by a crowd of strikers, that had gathered there. The group obstructed them and they found it impossible to proceed further. The witness identified the delinquent worker as one in the group, who obstructed their passage. All the workers abused them in filthy language. The officers were held up for about 45 minutes, when they were forced to return home. On the next day there was repetition of the incident, when the witness along with Shri P. V. Nathan and another officer were going to the factory to attend their duty and the charge-sheeted worker was also in that crowd. The incident was similar and the workers continued to abuse the officers in filthy language and they could not attend their duties and had to go back. The witness was corroborated by Shri P. V. Nathan in all particulars and he also identified the delinquent worker as one of the leading members of the group. None of the two witnesses were cross-examined by the delinquent worker, who admitted before the Tribunal in his evidence (P.W.19) that he had no dispute or ill-feeling with any of the officers.

On behalf of the Union, Shri Pathak contended that the enquiring officer has referred to certain reports by Shri Mathur,dated 19th and 20th December, 1963 which are not on record. There is undoubtedly a reference to these two reports by Shri Mathur in the report of the enquiry, but there is nothing to show that the enquiring officer was influenced by these reports. On the contrary, besides referring to the reports, he did not refer to its contents and had Shri Mathur's evidence been in any way differet from that contained in the reports, he would certainly have referred to it. It is also contended that the time of incident as per the charge-sheet is c somewhat different from that given out in evidence. As per the charge-sheet, the time of incident is mentioned as 7-30 a.m. while according to Shri Nathan, it was about 9 a.m.; this difference in my view is immaterial. The fact remains that a group of strikers, of whom the delinquent worker was a prominent member, prevented a group of officers from joining their duties, threatened and abused them and forced them to go back. There is little or no discrepancy in the statement made by Shri Nathan and his evidence recorded about six months after the incident. I, therefore, see no reason to differ from the assessment made by the enquiring officer and on a careful consideration of all the materials on record, the enquiring officer it seems to me, was perfectly justified in finding the delinquent worker guilty to the charges (a) and (b).

Regarding charge (c), it is to be pointed out that the Management examined Shri H. P. Chakraborty, who in his evidence stated that he was going to Factory No. 1 at about 11-30 a.m. on 4th January 1964, in a taxi, when he was stopped near Poddarnagar colony by a group of strikers. There were about 20 or 25 men in the group and the witness could recognise the delinquent worker as a prominent member there of The witness also identified the delinquent worker before the enquiring officer. The workers asked him to get down from the taxi and threatened to throw him out, if he did not comply. The taxi driver being frightened, also asked the witness to get down. At that time some of the workers tried to force the door of the taxi open and these workers, included the delinquent worker. Being afraid, the witness got down from the taxi and the delinquent worker caught hold his hand and threatened and abused him. The matter was reported to the Security Officer on the same day, who in turn reported the matter to Tollygunge police-station. This report has been marked Ext. M. The report substantially corroborates the statement of the witnesses. This witness was cross-examined and the only question put was the number of the taxi or the name of the taxi driver. The witness replied saying that he had no occasion to know the name and number of taxi. The delinquent worker was also known to the witness but there is no allegation of any enmity or ill-feeling against him. The enquiring officer, who had an opportunity of seeing the witness could not persuaded himself to reject his testimony and on a careful consideration of all the materials on record I see no reason to differ from his assessment. It is true that there is no corroboraton of this evidence except in the report of the Security Officer, who, however, has not been examined but that is no reason for discarding his testimony more particularly, when there are no allegations against him. The enquiring officer, in my view, was perfectly justified in finding the delinquent worker guilty to the charge and the Management in punishing him. It follows, therefore, that the concerned workman is not entitled to any relief.

(8) Shri Badal Chatterjee

Shri Badal Chatterjee was a checker in the Inspection Department of Factory No. 2 of Jay Engineering Works Ltd., since 1960. He was dismissed from service with effect from 26th May 1965 after a domestic enquiry. He was served with two charge-sheets, dated 30th December 1963 and 24th January 1964. There were five charges in the charge-sheet, dated 30th December 1963, none of which were proceeded with and one charge in the charge-sheet, dated 24th January 1964. This latter charge was enquired by O.P.W.1 Shri Nirmal Chandra Maitra during the period from 19th August 1964 to 29th August 1964.

This charge against Shri Chatterjee was to the effect that at about 12-50 p.m. on 20th January 1964, he along with others indiscriminately used brickbats on the officers at Rathtala, when they were returning to their residence from Factory No. 2, causing serious injury to one of the officers and damaging most of the cars. The worker was accused of riotous and disorderly behaviour under Appendix D, clause 2, sub-clauses (17), (19) and (42) of the Certified Standing Orders of the Company.

At the enquiry, two witnesses were examined. They are Shri D.K.Sen, at the time Deputy Manager, Works Factory No. 2 and Shri A.K Bhowmick, Assistant Security Officer, Factory No. 2 of Jay Engineering Works Ltd. Shri Sen in his evidence before the enquiring officer stated that about 30or 40 officers of Factory No.2 were returning to their residence at about 12-50 p.m. on 20th January 1964 in a convoy of cars. Near Rathtola, they were obstructed by a group of workers, who were then on strike. After the hold up, the workers, started throwing stones and brickbats and most of the cars were damaged and glass panes of some of the cars were broken and one of the officers received a cut injury on his forehead. The convoy resumed its journey and several cars struggled through to Jadavpur Police Station where Shri Sen lodged first information. This first information has been marked Ext A before the enquiring officer but the name of Shri Badal Chatterjee does not appear in the list of workers alleged to have been recognised. Shri Sen, who was new to the factory could not recognise anyone nor did he know any one of the strikers by name. At the time of his examination before the enquiring officer, he could not remember if he saw the delinquent worker amongst the stone throwing strikers on that day. The other witness, Shri A. K. Bhowmick, who was examined 10 days after Shri Sen, stated that he was in the last vehicle of the convoy on that day. He also substantially corroborated the incident, namely, throwing of stones by the strikers and further identified Shri Chatterjee. He, however, could not say if the delinquent worker was himself threw stones but he was emphatic that Shri Chatterjee was in the group, that indulged in throwing stones. It is however, to be pointed out that Shri Bhowmick proceeded towards Jadavpur Police Station via Tollygunj along with Shri Ganguly, the Deputy General Manager, from the place of occurrence. The names of Shri Bhowmick and Shri Ganguly appear in the list of officers, in the convoy, that was submitted to Jadavpur Police Station by Shri D.K.Sen at the time of lodging the First Information. Now if Shri Bhowmick had been to Jadavpur Police Station at the time Shri Sen was there, there is no reason, why the name of Shri Badal Chattejee should not appear in the first information lodged with the police immediately after the occurrence. Shri Bhowmick in cross-examination could not remember whether he made a report to the Management, after this incident. If any report was submitted, the Management did not choose to produce the said report and it has not been explained at what point of time, during the period from 20th January 1964 to 24th January 1964 when the charge-sheet appears to have been drawn up, name of this workman transpired. If Shri Bhowmick submitted any report to the Management implicating this worker, there is no reason why the name should not occur in the F.I.R. lodged with the police on 20th January 1964 by Shri Sen. It is true that in that report to the police (Ext. A of the domestic enquiry) names of some miscreants, who could be recognised was only given but it is in evidence of Shri Bhowmick that he recognised this worker at the time of incident and before he had been to Jadavpur Police Station on the same day. Absence of any explanation for his not mentioning this fact to Shri Sen before the F.I.R. was lodged, leaves a hiatus in the story set up by the Management. This aspect of the case was not considered by the enquiring officer in its proper perspective. It is true that Shri Badal Chatterjee was also arrested by the police in connection with this case and Dr. Bose contends for the Company that unless there were materials against him how is it that he should be arrested by the police. This contention, in my opinion, has little substance for, the the police may arrest a person on mere suspicion. Moreover, police also submitted final report against Shri Chatterjee in this case, as sufficient evidence was not forthcoming against him. Shri Chatterjee was placed in a T.I. parade on 31st March 1964 and 2nd April 1964 in connection with this case but no one succeeded in identifying him. Amongst the witnesses at the T.I. parade was one Shri Nangia, who happened to be an officer in the same department in which Shri Chatterjee was working. Even Shri Nangia could not identify him as having participated in the incident on that day. Shri Nangia, however, was not a witness at this enquiry but he was a witness at the enquiry conducted by this enquiring officer against Shri Bharat Giri and Shri Mantu Das, who were also charge-sheeted for this very incident. That being the position, it is not clear how Shri Chatterjee's name came to be associated with this incident nor was it made clear at what point of time his name transpired before the Management. Shri Nirmal Chandra Maitra, O.P.W.1, who held the domestic enquiry, in his examination before the Tribunal on 28th July 1965 stated that charges were sometimes drawn up on verbal complaints and sometimes on written complaints. In finding the delinquent worker guilty, enquiring officer solely dedepended on the evidence of Assistant Security Officer Shri Bhowmick and proceeded to observe that he was not like Shri Sen, new to the organisation and he knew most of the strikers. There are no materials on the record in support of this observation and Shri Maitra in his cross-examination admitted that he could not point out to any evidence in the enquiring proceeding in support of his observation that Shri Bhowmick was not new to the organisation or that he knew most of the strikers. The officer who was alleged to have been injured in this incident was not examined before Shri Maitra and the other officers mentioned in the F.I.R. to the police of that date, were not also produced before him. There was no corroboration of Shri Bhowmick's statements and the circumstances also do not seem to justify the conclusion of the enquiring officer. In fact, the only evidence against this worker was that of Assistant Security Officer, who did not choose to disclose the name of the delinquent worker on the very day of the incident, although he had ample opportunity of doing so nor did he choose to offer any explanation for this non-disclosure. If he submitted any report to the Management, he might have refreshed his memory from that report; unfortunately, no such report was produced before the enquiring officer. If he did not submit any report to the Management, then he could only draw upon his imagination. No doubt, the delinquent worker set up an alibi which could not be substantiated by any convincing evidence. Whether or not the plea of alibi stood him in good stead, Management must make out a prima facie case against him and the evidence against the delinquent worker must be such as would enable a reasonable person to arrive at the same conclusion as the enquiring officer did in the instant case. Even if the evidence is taken at his face value, it merely proves that the delinquent worker was amongst the strikers that indulged in stone throwing on that day but no one attributed any specific acts to him. This conduct could hardly be construed as disorderly behaviour unless he can be held constructively liable for the guilt of his co-workers, who indulged in these activities.

As already pointed out, the Tribunal cannot and should not interfere, where the enquiry has been fairly and properly conducted and the findings of the enquiring officer is not perverse or baseless. A finding cannot be said to be perverse or baseless merely because it is possible to take a different view on the evidence and a wrong finding is not necessarily a perverse finding. The question really is whether in view of the nature of the offence, penalty imposed was disproportionate to the offence complained of. If that is so, question of victimisation would come in and in the case of Hind Construction and Engineering Co. Ltd., reported in 1965 (I) L.L.J., page 463, Supreme Court observed that where the punishment is too disproportionate in regard to the particular conduct and the past record is such that no reasonable employer would ever impose such penalty in like circumstances, the Tribunal may treat the imposition of such punishment as itself showing victimisation or unfair labour practice. Normally, imposition of penalty is within the discretion of the Management but in cases where punishment of dismissal for the misconduct proved is so grossly out of proportion to the nature of the offence, the Tribunal is entitled to draw an adverse inference of victimisation merely from the punishment inflicted. The workman concerned in his evidence before the Tribunal stated that the Company proceeded to dismiss him as he was an active member of the Union and a member of the executive committee as well as the departmental committee. It is worthy of note that the enquiring officer himself felt that the case should not be treated at par with the other delinquent workers and recommended lenient punishment for this worker but his recommendation was not accepted. On a careful consideration of all the facts and circumstances of the case I must, therefore, hold that the order passed in the case is one of victimisation and unfair labour practice and the order of dismissal cannot, therefore, be regarded as proper or justified. The workman is accordingly entitled to be reinstated to his former post.

As the concerned workman claims to be unemployed ever since his dismissal, he should get half pay and allowances for the back period and the entire period should be treated as extraordinary leave.

(9) Shri Kartick Mondal

Shri Kartick Mondal was a die-maker in Factory No.2 of Messrs. Jay Engineering Works Limited for about 18 years. He was dismissed from service with effect from 23rd March 1965 after a domestic enquiry. He was served with 3 charge-sheets, containing as many as 13 charges of which only charge No. 2 of the charge-sheet, dated 17th January 1964 and the charge of the charge-sheet, dated 24th January 1964, were followed up.

Shri Kartick Mondal in his evidence before the Tribunal challenged the enquiry as unfair and improper and asserted that it was held in presence of the General Manager and Security Officer of the Company, to which he objected. The enquiring officer in his evidence recorded on 9th August 1966, stated that the objections put forward by the delinquent worker was duly noted by him and the General Manager (then Deputy General Manager) was present at the enquiry as one of the witnesses. As for the Security Officer, the enquiring officer stated that he was not a witness but he occasionally came to the place of enquiry as it was held in his room, but he was not allowed to stay there for long.

The enquiring officer found this worker guilty in respect of the charge Nos. 2 and 3 of the charges-sheet, dated 17th January 1964 and of the charge, dated 24th January 1964. In cross-examination, however, the enquiring officer admitted that Shri Kartick Mondal was found guilty in respect of charge No. 2 of charge-sheet, dated 17th January 1964, and not in respect of charge No. 3 of that date, as it was not followed up by any evidence. The enquiring officer admitted that his statement to the contrary in his examination-in-chief was not correct. Now charge Nos. 2 and 3 relate to incidents of the same date and almost of the same time. Charge No. 2 related to an incident, in which some of the officers of the Company, who were returning to their residence from the factory were alleged to have been threatened and abused by the delinquent worker at the crossing of Netaji Subhas Road and the road approaching the Wooden Bridge of Factory No.2 at about 12-30 p.m. on 2nd January 1964; while charge No. 3 related to an incident that took place at or about 1 p.m. on the same date over the hold up of the car of the Secretary for Works, by this delinquent worker and others. The management examined as many as three witnesses on this point who are Shri A.D. Nangia, Shri N. Chakraborty and Shri A. Das. A joint report by the three witnesses along with four others was submitted to the Officer-in-charge of the police-station in which one Shri Kartick Mondal of Machine Shop Section of Factory No. 2 was described as one of the persons, who surrounded the officers on the Netaji Subhas Road near the factory at about 12-30 p.m. on 2nd January 1964. At the time of hearing before the Tribunal, the Union tried to make out a case of of mistaken identity and asserted that the charge-sheeted worker Shri Kartick Mondal was not attached to Machine Shop Section but to tool room section of Factory No. 2. No such objection appears to have been raised at the time of enquiry and both Shri Nangia and Shri N. N. Chakraborty knew the charge-sheeted worker for a considerable time from before and identified him at the time of enquiry. Shri Nangia in his evidence stated that at the time of incident, he was under the impression that the delinquent worker was attached to Machine Shop Section but he knew him thoroughly well and Shri Chakraborty stated that he knew him for about 10 years. All the three witnesses found the delinquent worker in an excited mood, uttering slogans and abuses and inciting others to assault the officers. According to Shri N. N. Chakraborty, this worker passed orders and the others complied with it. He was undoubtedly taking the lead in the matter. None of the witnesses were cross-examined on behalf of the defence and the delinquent worker merely stated that the evidence against him were all false and there was no necessity of cross-examining the witnesses. There is no allegation of any enmity or ill-feeling against any of these witnesses. On behalf of the defence plea of an alibi appears to have been taken, which was rejected by the enquiring officer for sufficient and valid reasons. The delinquent worker also examined one witness, Shri Shibdas Bhattacharya, President of the Local Union Board, who came to prove that he toured the village of the delinquent worker on 2nd January 1964 and 20th January 1964 in connection with the election to Anchal Panchayet. The alibi was not however taken in the explanation to the charge-sheet and no suggestion was given to the Management's witnesses that the delinquent worker was not present at the time of incident. Defence witness Shri Shibdas Bhattacharya did not keep any record about the timing and the distance from the worker's native village and the place of incident was not at such a distance as to render it altogether impossible for him to attend both places on the same day. The defence also produced a letter from the local M.L.A. Shri Khagen Roy Chowdhury wherein it is stated that he found Shri Kartick Mondal present at a meeting at about 11 a.m. on 2nd January 1964 in the Sonarpur Union Board Office. Shri Roy Chowdhury was not produced for cross-examination and this certificate addressed "To whom it may concern" carried little weight. Moreover, it was obtained only three or four days before the defence evidence and long after the Management closed its case. Hence on a consideration of all the materials on record, I must hold that the enquiring officer was justified in finding the delinquent worker guilty to the charge relating to the earlier incident of 2nd January 1964 but the word "incidents" in this context appears to have been used somewhat loosely. As the management did not follow up the other charge of this date with evidence, enquiring officer should not have found the delinquent worker guilty to both the charges. However, this finding is merely an irregular finding and did not in any way vitiate the result of the enquiry, or the ultimate decision of the Management.

As for the charge of the charge-sheet, dated 24th January 1964, management examined as many as five witnesses namely Shri P. B. Chowdhury, Shri A. Bose, Shri S. K. Mehrotra, Shri K. P. Ganguly, and Shri D. K. Sen. The charge inter-alia was that the delinquent worker along with others indiscriminately used brickbats at Rathtala, on the Netaji Subhas Road on the officers, who were returning to their residence from Factory No. 2 at about 12-50 p.m. on 20th January 1964, causing serious injury to one of the officers and damage to most of the cars. The delinquent worker was charged for major misdemeanour under clause 2, sub-clasue (17) of the Standing Orders, but the enquiring officer found him guilty under sub-classes 2(17),(19) and (42) of the Standing Orders. Undoubtedly the alleged misdemeanour would come under sub-clauses (17), (19) and (42) although the delinquent worker was charged only under sub-clause (17). Be that as it may, even if he is found guilty of contravention of sub-clause (17) it would amount to a major misdemeanour for which the Management would be justified in punishing him in the manner they did.

Of the five witnesses examined by the Management, Shri P. B. Chowdhury in his evidence stated that they were returning form the factory in a convoy of cars at about 12-50 p.m. on 20th January 1964, when a group of strikers opposed them near Rathtala on the Netaji Subhas Road. Shri Chowdhury was in the first car of the convoy. The whole convoy stopped. Shri Chowdhury identified the delinquent worker as one in the group. Shortly after the hold up, the strikers started brickbatting. Although the witness did not see the delinquent worker throwing brickbats, he found that the worker was carrying brickbats with him which he passed on to others for hunting. As the situation almost went out of control, the convoy restarted and struggled through the mob, first to Garia Police Out Post and then to Jadavpur Police Station, where a report was lodged to the police in which the name of this worker appears. This report was lodged by Shri D. K. Sen on behalf of the officers. Shri Sen in his evidence also corroborated the witness but could not identify the worker. Shri A. Bose, Foreman of Tool Room of the Factory No. 2 under whom the delinquent worker worked, completely corroborates Shri Chowdhury Shri Bose found the delinquent worker running about the place in an excited manner and supplying brickbats to other workers. Shri S. K. Mehrotra, who received a brickbat injury on his forehead also corroborates other witnesses. He also identified the delinquent worker as one of the leading members of the group found him throwing brickbats. Shri K.P. Ganguly, the then Deputy General Manager of Factory No. 2, was in the last but one car of the convoy. He also identified the delinquent worker as the person who was throwing brickbats in an excited manner. Cross-examination of the witnesses was declined on the ground that the evidence against the delinquent worker were all false and there was no necessity of cross-examining the witness. The identification so far as could be seen from the evidence recorded by the enquiring officer was complete and there was no scope for confusion or mistake. The enquiring officer considered the evidence in its proper perspective and there is no allegation of enmity or ill feeling against any of the witnesses, some of whom, belong to the top management. They apparently did not bear any grudge against the delinquent worker and no case of victimisation or unfair labour practice could also be made out. The worker was a member of the Works Committee and that of the Strike Committee. The evidence stood the test of scrutiny fairly well and the story of alibi set up at a very late stage, did not stand scrutiny. Moreover, evidence adduced by the defence in support of its alibi was of feeble and sketchy nature and the enquiring officer gave very good reasons for not accepting the alibi set up for the first time after the Management closed its evidence. The delinquent worker took active part in the hold up and brickbatting of the cars at Rathtala on 20th January 1964 in which Shri Mehrotra received a head injury. Medical report furnished by Shri Mehrotra and marked Ext. 1 has been criticised on the ground that it speaks of an accidental injury occuring on 20th January 1964. This report was drawn up on 16th February 1964 whilist on the very day Shri D.K. Sen lodged a complaint with the police in which it was clearly mentioned that Shri Mehrotra received severe injury on his forehead. The evidence also shows that as a result of the brickbatting most of the cars got damaged and window panes of some of them were broken. The mob were clearly in a violent and aggresive mood and it was providential that this witness was spared of further assault and injury. The enquiring officer upon the materials before him was perfectly justified in finding the delinquent worker guilty of major misdemeanour under clause 2, sub-clause (17) of the Certified Standing Orders and the Management's decision on this finding can in no way be regarded as excessive or exorbitant. For all these reasons discussed above, I find that the delinquent worker is not entitled to any relief and the Management was justified. in punishing the delinquent worker on these charges

(10) Bimalendu Bose

Shri Bimalendu Bose was a checker in the Inspection Department of Jay Engineering Works (Factory No. 2) since 1960. He was dismissed from service with effect from 23rd March 1965 after a departmental enquiry. He was served with two charge-sheets, being dated 31st December 1963 and 24th January 1964. There were five charges in the charge-sheet, dated 31st December 1963, which, however, were not proceeded with and one charge in the charge-sheet, dated 24th January 1965. This latter charge was enquired into against him by O. P. W. 1 Shri Nirmal Chandra Maitra during the period 31st August 1964 to 14th September 1964 and the delinquent worker participated in the enquiry. The charge against Shri Bose was to the effect that at about 12-50 p.m. on 20th January 1964 at Rathtala (Netaji Subhas Road), he, along with others indiscriminately used brickbats on the officers, who were returning to their residence from Factory No. 2 causing serious injury to one of the officers and damage to most of the cars. The worker was accused of riotous and disorderly behaviour and his conduct amounted to major misdemeanour under Appendix D, clause 2 sub-clause (17) of the Standing Orders of the Company.

The worker in his explanation, dated 14th June 1964 denied the allegation and described the charge as false and motivated.

Management examined 3 witnesses at the enquiry They are Shri S. K. Melhotra, Shri N. N. Chakraborty and Shri D. K. Sen. No witnesses were examined by the delinquent worker, although a plea of alibi was set up at the time of enquiry. In his evidence before the Tribunal, the delinquent worker (P. W. 8) stated that the enquiry was not fairly and properly conducted and the statement of the witnesses were not correctly recorded by the enquiring officer. He also stated that copies of the documents on the basis of which charge-sheets were drawn up, were not made over to him. These allegations were denied by the enquiring officer in his evidence taken on 28th July 1966 and he stated that copies of all the documents on the basis of which charge-sheets were drawn up were made over to the delinquent worker.

Shri Melhotra in his evidence before the enquiring officer stated that about 40 or 50 officers and other members of the staff of Factory No. 2 were returning to their residence at about 12-45 p.m. on 20th January 1964 in a convey of 9 cars. On way to Garia they were stopped by a group of people at a place on the Netaji Subhas Road known as Rathtala. The group starting stoning and brickbatting the cars. Most of the cars were damaged and the witness, who was in the car of Shri Nangia was hit with a brickbat on his forehead and received a cut injury. He identified the delinquent worker as one of the persons, who was in the group. The other witness Shri N. N. Chakraborty, who was in the same car, saw the delinquent worker amongst the strikers, who indulged in throwing brickbats. He, however, could not say whether the delinquent worker was himself throwing stones. The convey restarted and proceeded to Jadavpur P. S. where witness Shri D. K. Sen lodged F. I. R., in which the name of this worker appears. Shri Melhotra was thereafter taken to Alipore Police Case Hospital, where his wounds were stitched up and medically examined. The witness was cross-examined about the identity of the delinquent worker and he stated that he knew the worker from before. Shri N. N. Chakraborty also substantially corroborated the version of Melhotra and he also stated that he saw the delinquent worker in the group that indulged in stone throwing but it was not possible for him to say if he was himself throwing stones. At the police-station, the witness claims to have supplied the name of this delinquent worker to Shri D. K. Sen, when the F. I. R. was lodged and the name of this witness was also incorporated in the F. I. R. lodged immediately after the incident. Shri D. K. Sen did not know anyone of the workers and his evidence at best shows that he might have seen the delinquent worker amongst the strikers on that day The worker in his defence set up a belated alibi and produced a medical certificate from a medical practitioner to the effect that he was confined to bed with an attack of remittent fever and he was under treatment during the period from 28th December 1963 to 23rd January, 1964 He took time to produce the M O. as a witness but failed to do so on the pretext that does not stand a moment's scrutiny. This plea of alibi was not set up in his explanation submitted on 14th June 1964 although the medical certificate purports to bear the date of 30th January 1964. Presumably, he had the medical certificate with him at the time, when he submitted his explanation in reply to the charges, levelled against him, but it was not then asserted that he was lying ill on the date of occurrence and had been under treatment of a medical practitioner at the time. The enquiring officer was therefore perfectly justified in not only rejecting the plea of alibi as an after-thought but also in rejecting the medical certificate as having little or no evidentially value The failure to produce the medical practitioner, who granted the medical certificate, before the enquiring officer would show that the defence of alibi was most untrustworthy The enquiring officer, it appears, gave the delinquent worker sufficient opportunity to produce the Medical Officer but he evaded the responsibility on a flimsy pretext. The enquiring officer appears to have conducted the enquiry in accordance with the rules of natural justice and the conclusion reached at the enquiry could not be regarded as perverse or even incorrect. The enquiring officer found the delinquent worker guilty of major misdemeanour under sub-clause (17), clause 2 of Appendix D of the Certified Standing Orders of the Company but the Management in their letter, dated 30th September 1964 to the worker, pointed out that the enquiring officer found him guilty under sub-clauses (17), (19) and (42) of clause 2 of Appendix D of the Certified Standing Orders of the Company, though he was not charged under all the sub-clauses Shri Pathak for the Union contended that the General Manager, who was himself a witness of this incident and under whose signature charge-sheets were drawn up and issued, must have imported his own knowledge in introducing sub-clauses (19) and (42) of clause 2 of Appendix D of the Certified Standing Orders and as such the finding must be regarded as perverse and in violation of the principles of natural justice This is, apparently, a clerical mistake, for if the worker is found guilty under sub-clause (17) of clause 2 of Appendix D which is a major misdemeanour under the Certified Standing Orders, it is immaterial whether the other two sub-clauses were attracted or not In a case reported in 1960 (II), L. L. J. page 228, enquiring officer found 3 of the 4 charges duly proved The delinquent worker was however dismissed on all th four charges in one of which he was absolved. One of the grounds taken was that the order of dismissal was illegal Supreme Court in negativing the contention, held that it was merely a clerical error which did not affect the validity of the order in any way.

Hence on a careful consideration of all the materials on the record, I hold that the enquiring officer was justified in finding the delinquent worker guilty to the charge and the Management was justified in dismissing him. It follows, therefore, that the worker concerned is not entitled to any relief in this case.

(11) Shri Aloke Halder

Shri Aloke Halder was a fan assembler in Factory No. 2 of Jay Engineering Works since 1960 He was dismissed from service on 23rd March 1965 after a domestic enquiry He was served with a charge-sheet, dated 30th December 1965, containing as many as 7 charges, of which charge No 5 was only proceeded with He was absolved from other charges as the management did not adduce any evidence against him in respect of those charges.

The charge against Shri Halder was that on 16th December 1963 at about 3-30 p.m. he organised a meeting of the employees at the Canteen of Factory No. 2 without any permission from the Management and addressed the workers, instigated and incited them to resort to in an illegal strike with effect from 17th December 1963 knowing fully well that the said strike would be illegal He was accordingly charge-sheeted under sub-clauses (2), (17), (19), (24) and (42) of the Standing Orders of which, sub-clauses (2), (24) and (42) are really attracted in so far as this workman is concerned.

As per terms of agreement, dated 27th May 1964, Management agreed not to proceed against any of the workers for mere participation in the strike So, instigation to an illegal strike, or organising, holding, attending or taking part in any meeting within the factory premises without prior sanction of the Management would amount to misconduct and instigation, incitement, abatement or furtherence of any of the above acts would also amount to misconduct under sub-clause (42) of the Standing Orders On the basis of this charge, a departmental enquiry was conducted by Shri N C Maitra (O P W 1) during the period from 27th August 1964 to 12th September 1964, and Shri Maitra submitted his report on 30th September 1964 Management examined two witnesses including the Security Officer Shri A. Das Gupta and one durwan, Shri Mahendra Singh of Factory No 2 The worker, on the other hand, examined three witnesses including Shri Buddhiswar Mondal, a peon of the factory, Shri Arjun Ram, a canteen worker and Shri Nanku Mallick, a sweeper, who came to prove the defence story. The defence is one of alibi in that the delinquent worker left the factory before 12-30 p m on that day, with a gate pass and as such it was not possible for him either to organise or to address any canteen meeting at 3 30 p m on 16th December 1963 That there was a meeting at the canteen at or about the time and date, has not been disputed by the defence and it is also proved by Management's witnesses Shri Das Gupta (Security Officer) and durwan Shri Mohendra Singh of Factory No 2 The two defence witnesses Shri Arjun Ram and Shri Nanku Mullick, however, flatly denied that there was any such meeting in the canteen on that day Both of them claimed to have been present in the canteen on the afternoon of 16th December 1963 The enquiring officer could not persuade himself to accept the testimony of these two witnesses on this point and has given very good reasons for rejecting their testimony Shri Das Gupta, Security Officer of the Company was emphatic that there was a meeting at the canteen at about 3 30 p m on 16th December 1963 where he found the delinquent worker addressing the workers He submitted a report to the D. G. M. (Works) of Factory No. 2 on the same day and the name of the delinquent worker appears in the said report. At the said meeting the speakers as well as the workers shouted antimanagement slogans and the Security Officer ascertained over the telephone, if any permission for the said meeting had been obtained by anyone and came to learn that no such permission was given. Admittedly, the delinquent worker attended the factory on that day but his defence is that at he left the factory rather early and in support of his statement, examined defence witness Shri Bhudeswar Mondal and also produced an unused meal coupon for the third tiffin (Ext. M) for establishing that he did not have his meal in the canteen on that day. This third tiffin is usually served between 12.30 to 1 p.m. and a worker cannot have an unused meal coupon, if he takes his meal at the canteen. Similarly, the defence witness Shri Budheswar Mondal in his evidence stated that he went to serve a charge-sheet on the delinquent worker on that day but could not find him at his place. There is nothing on record to show that this worker was served with a charge-sheet regarding some other incident or that any charge-sheet was drawn up against this worker before 16th December 1963. Had it been so, he must have been in possession of it and this might have been produced. Shri Mondal further stated that he came to learn on enquiry that the delinquent worker had left the factory earlier after obtaining a gate pass on that date. The witness did not check or verify the information from the supervisor. Inspite of all this mass of materials, the worker in his explanation, dated 17th June 1964, to the charge-sheet did not set up such a defence and merely stated that the charge No. 5 was misconstrued and absolutely baseless. The plea of abidi was not set up therein and the enquiring officer was right in rejecting this plea of alibi as an after-thought. The unused coupon (Ext. M of domestic enquiry) does not prove that the delinquent worker was not in the factory, and it merely proved that he did not take his meal at the canteen. In fact, his attendance card was not punched for exit on that day although it was an offence under the Standing Orders to enter or leave the factory without having the card punched. Such offences according to Jagadish Goswami (O. P. W. 4) was committed every day by workers, who forgot to have their cards punched. Moreover, the workers were due to go on strike from the following day and there was considerable tension all round and the Management was frantically trying to avert the strike, as will appear from the notices, circulars and newspaper advertisements issued by the Management from day to day before the commencement of the strike. The delinquent worker asked for the production of certain papers, which, however, could not be produced readily and the delinquent worker was not prepared to wait. The other witness for the Management Shri Mohendra Singh, is a durwan in the factory. His evidence is also clear and convincing. This witness found the delinquent worker present at the meeting but at the time when he went there, some other speaker was addressing the meeting. It is true that Shri Mohendra Singh did not say that he saw the delinquent worker addressing other workers in the canteen but he confirms that he found the Security Officer there and also identified the delinquent worker as one of the persons present there. As per sub-clause (24), organising, holding, attending or taking part in any meeting within the factory premises without the prior sanction of the Manager, is a major misconduct. So, if the delinquent worker was found to have attended the said meeting at the canteen then it would amount to misconduct within the meaning of sub-clause (24) of clause 2 of Appendix D of the Certified Standing Orders. The report of the Security Officer, Shri Das Gupta, has been marked Ext. A and Shri Pathak, appearing on behalf of the Union, sought to assail it on the ground that the strike had not been declared illegal before 16th and there was, therefore, no occasion for Shri Das Gupta to make a report. I regret, I am unable to accept that contention. I had sent for the original report of the Security Officer to D. G. M. which not only contains the endorsement of D. G. M. but was also signed by the suspended worker Shri Sanat Chakraborty in each page. There is, therefore, no reason to disbelieve the report which corroborates the evidence of the Security Officer, and there is practically no contradiction in the evidence. Consequently, the enquiring officer was perfectly justified in accepting the evidence for the Management and in rejecting the evidence adduced on behalf of the worker. The Management, it appears from the circulars, notices and advertisements issued on and from 13rd December 1963 were desparately trying to avert the strike and also gave out that as the matter was then under negotiations, proposed strike itself would be illegal. This will appear from the notices, dated 13th December 1963, 16th December 1963 and 17th December 1963 which are also filed. The delinquent worker in his evidence before the Tribunal tried to make out a case that the enquiry was not fairly or properly conducted as he was not allowed to be represented by a co-worker of his choice and the enquiring officer did not correctly record the answers given by the witnesses. I have already discussed the issue of representation in the earlier part of my award. As for the other objections taken, it is to be pointed out that the enquiring officer in his evidence recorded on 26th July 1966 (O. P. W. 1) stated that Shri Halder was given all possible opportunity in the matter of his defence. He participated at the enquiry, cross-examined the witnesses and also examined defence witness. He signed the enquiry proceeding at the end of every page and a copy of each day's proceeding was made over to him then and there. The record of the proceeding faithfully represents what transpired at the enquiry. After going through the record of the enquiry proceeding and the report of the enquiring officer, there can be little doubt that the enquiry in the instant case was conducted in a fair and proper manner and the principles of natural justice was not in any way interferred with or violated. The finding of the enquiring officer in view of the materials on record, cannot be said to be perverse or against the weight of evidence on record. That being the position, I see no reason to interfere with the finding of the enquiring officer in this case and the dismissal of the delinquent worker must, therefore, be held to be justified.

(12) Shri Soumendra Nath Bhattacharjee

Shri Soumen Bhattacharyya was an electrical helper in the Maitenance Department of Factory No. 1 of Jay Engineering Works Ltd. since January 1957. He was dismissed from service with effect from 31st May 1965. He was served with three charge-sheets, dated 6th March 1964, 9th March 1964 and 24th April 1964, containing as many as 7 charges out of which there only were pursued. The worker concerned submitted his explanation on 13th June 1964 and 25th August 1964 denying the allegations and described the charges as irrelevant, false and motivated. A domestic enquiry was conducted by Shri K. P. Das Gupta during the period from 1st September 1964 to 30th September 1964.

The charges inter-alia were (a) that the delinquent worker along with others threatened, terrorised and intimidated willing workers in order to prevent them from joining their respective duties after 17th December 1963 ; (b) that on 4th March 1964 at about 9-30 a.m. he along with others attacked three cars and a taxi near bus stop at the Dhakuria Railway Level Crossing in which some willing officers were proceeding towards the factory and assaulted some officers, causing severe injury to one of them and damage to some of the cars ; (c) that he along with others mobbed and encircled some willing workers and severely assaulted them near the Dhakuria Out Post at about 11 a.m. on 24th April 1964.

The worker was accused of major misdemeanour under clause 2, sub-clauses (17), (19) and (42) of the Certified Standing Orders of the Company. In his evidence, Shri Soumen Bhattacharyya (P. W. 14) stated that the enquiry was not fairly or properly conducted even though he participated in the enquiry and attested the enquiry proceeding in each page. The worker concerned alleged that his identification at the enquiry was motivated and the copies of documents on the basis of which the charges were drawn were not made over to him. The enquiring officer Shri Das Gupta in his evidence recorded on 30th July 1966 stated that all objections of the delinquent worker were noted by him. He further stated that the delinquent worker was given every facility in the matter of his defence and the idetification of th delinquent worker before him was not motivitated. The enquiring officer also denied that wintesses for the Management were examined in presence of other witnesses although there was no such endorsement in the record of the proceeding.

The Management examined 7 witnesses of whom five, namely, Shri S. K. Deb, Shri D. K. Sen, Shri J. N. Agarwal, Shri Tej Bhan Gupta and Shri B. K. Saxena came to prove charge (b). The other two witnesses Shri Kanilal Choudhury and Shri Prodyut Chakraborty came to prove charge (c). The worker set up a plea of alibi at the time of hearing but no such alibi was taken in his defence. It was alleged that he worked as an electrical helper in Bangalaxmi Oil Mill in Tobin Road from 1st January to 24th May 1964 and examined one witness Shri Durga Mohan Roy in support of his case. He also produced a certificate from the employer (without any date) in support of his case. This plea of alibi was rejected by the enquiring officer for very good reasons.

Regarding charge (c), two witnesses examined by the Management corroborated each other and there was practically no discrepancy in so far as their evidence is concerned. From the evidence there can be a little doubt that a riotous mob attacked the taxi near Dhakuria Out Post in which some of the officers were travelling on the morning of 24th of April 1964. From the testimony of Prodyut Chakraborty, it is evident that he along with Shri Kanailal Chatterjee and one Shri Banerjee were proceeding along Gariahat Road in a tax towards Shri Dharji's house at Ballygunge Park Road with some office records. The taxi stopped near the Dhakuria Railway Crossing when they were surrounded and attacked by a group of strikers. The strikers forcibly opened the door of the taxi and dealt blows to the occupants. Shri Chakraborty received bleeding injury in his hands and Shri Kanailal Chatterjee was hit on the face, as a result of which one of his tooth was uprooted. Shri Banerjee was also assaulted in his neck with a brickbat. Police appeared on the scene and escorted them to the taxi from where, they were taken to the police-station and thence to Sambhu Nath Pandit Hospital. After the assault, Shri Prodyut Chakraborty lost his consciousness for a short time. He identified the delinquent worker as one of the persons in the group that assaulted him, although he was not definite who actually assaulted or delivered the blows. Shri Chatterjee also corroborated Shri Prodyut Chakraborty and identified the delinquent worker as one within the group, that assaulted them. The ejahar to the police, however, was not produced but the out-door tickets of Shri P. Chakraborty, who was examined in the Sambhunath Pandit Hospital on the same day, was produced. Shri Chakraborty was also X-rayed at the Calcutta Radiological Clinic, where some fracture was noticed by the Radiologist. The relevant medical report were marked Exts. G. H and I series by the enquiring officer. From the evidence recorded there can be little doubt that Shri P. Chakraborty and Shri Kanailal Chatterjee were attacked by a group of workers, who amongst others included the delinquent worker and both of them received serious bleeding injury. It was sought to be contended on behalf of the Union that since they were not proceeding towards the factory but away from it, misconduct, even if proved, could not be said to be in connection with the employment. Sub-clause (17) of clause 2 of Appendix D defines the misconduct as—

> Riotous or disorderly behaviour....., interferring with the work of other employee or employees.....within the factory premises or outside having subversive effect on factory discipline.

From the evidence it is clear that the workers were proceeding to the residence of one of the Directors with some office records and the attack even it was committed outside the factory was clearly intended to have subversive effect on factory discipline. As such the assault in the instant case would come within the definition of misconduct for which the worker can be proceeded with and punished. As the participation of the workman has been clearly proved and the incident was reported to the police on the same day and as no allegation of enmity or ill-feeling has been made against any of the witnesses, I see no reason to differ from the finding of the enquiring officer in so far as the charge is concerned.

As for the second charge, it is to be pointed out that the Management examined five witnesses, who corroborated each other except on the point of identification. The first three witnesses Shri D. K. Sen, Shri S. K. Deb and Shri Tej Bhan Gupta did not identify the delinquent worker but the other two witnesses Dr. J. N. Agarwal and Shri B. K. Saxena identified the delinquent worker and proved his participation in the hold up and assault. The incident took place at about 8-30 a.m. on 4th March 1964 when a group of officers were proceeding towards Factory No. 2 in three cars anda taxi. When the cars had passed the Gariahat Level Crossing, a large number of strikers surrounded the cars and tried to force the doors open with the result the bottom hinge of the front door of the car, which was being driven by Shri D. K. Sen gave way. Shri Tej Bhan Gupta, who was travelling with Shri Nangia in another car was given a blow on his lip by one of the strikers, causing a bleeding injury. The third car driven by Dr. Agarwal was also mobbed and partially damaged. The mob was very violet and they also attacked Shri D. K. Sen's car with lathis and bamboos. The taxi in which some of the officers were proceeding in this convey was also damaged and the driver was assaulted. A report of the incident was prepared by Shri K. P. Ganguly on the same day and name of the delinquent worker appears as Babloo Bhattacharya in the said report. It is admitted by the delinquent worker that he is addressed as Babloo Bhattacharya in his house. It is true that the first three witnesses Shri Deb, Shri D. K. Sen and Shri Gupta could not identify the delinquent worker but Dr. Agarwal in his evidence clearly and categorically identified the delinquent worker. A report was also lodged with Tollygunge Police on the same day. Shri K. P. Ganguly, Deput General Manager, submitted a report to the General Manager which was marked Ext. K. Shri B. K. Saxena also corroborated the other witnesses and identified the delinquent workeras one of the persons in the group. Of course this identification was somewhat halting and was made six month's after the occurrence. The enquiring officer did not accept this identification, or attach much weight to Saxena's identification but he saw no reason to reject or disbelieve the identification of Dr. Agarwal against whom there is no allegation of enmity or ill feeling. The delinquent worker refused to cross-examine the witnesses on ground that the statements were all false. In the absence of any suggestions why all the witnesses would conspire to parjure themselves against the delinquent worker, who as an ordinary member of the Union, the enquiring officer seems to be perfectly justified in not rejecting the Management's testimony on this point.

Shri Pathak on behalf of the Union, sought to contend that there were no materials on the record to show on what basis this charge was drawn up. I need only point out that the report of Shri K. P. Ganguly (Ext. K), dated 5th March 1964, was more than sufficient for the purpose of drawing up of the ceharge-sheet. The M nagement adduced no evidenc in so far as charge No. 4 of the charge-sheet, dated 6th March 1964, is concerned. Shri Das Gupta in his cross-examination admitted that no witness was examined before him for proving the threatening, etc. from 17th December 1965. It was contended on behalf of the Company that the incident dated, 4th March 1964 and 24th April 1964 were sufficient to cover the case of threatening, terrorisation and intimidating willing workers in order to prevent them from going to theird uties since 17th December 1964. Since separate charges relating to those incidents were framed, these cannot be taken to prove the general charge. That being the position, the enquiring officer should have held that there is no case in so far as charge (a) was concerned and in that view of the matter, he should have held that the Management failed to establish this charge. On a careful consideration of all the materials on record, I must, therefore, hold that Charge No. 4 of the charge-sheet, dated 6th March 1964, has not been made out and finding of the enquiring officer in so far as this charge is concerned is perverse and baseless. But as the other two charges have been duly proved and as the misconduct complained of and established is a major one the management cannot be said to be unjustified in inflicting the punishment in the instant case. It follows, therefore, that the delinquent worker is not entitled to any relief.

(13) Shri Jagat Jyoti Guha—

Shri Jagat Jyoti Guha was a Press Operator of Bobbin Machine of Factory No. 1 of Jay Engineering Works since 1962. He was dismissed from service with effect from 19th March 1965 after a domestic enquiry. He was served with a charge-sheet on 6th January 1964 containing as many as 5 charges of which charges Nos. 4 and 5 were only pursued. These charges inter alia were:

(a) that he threatened, terrorised and intimidated willing workers in order to prevent them from attending their respective duties after the 17th December 1963 and

(b) that he obstructed some willing workers near the junction of Rash Behari Avenue and Gariahat Road and also intimidated, threatened, abused and prevented them from joining their respective duties and incited and instigated others assembled there, to do likewise. The delinquent worker was accused of riotous and disorderly behaviour, amounting to major misdemeanour within the meaning of sub-clauses (2), (17), (19) and (42) of clause 2, Appendix D.

There was a domestic enquiry, which was conducted by Shri K.P.Das Gupta, (O.P.W.2) during the period from 1st September 1964 to 15th September 1964. The delinquent worker in his explanation, dated 12th June 1964, described the charges as false, baseless and motivated. Though he set up a story of alibi at the time of enquiry, this story was not set up in his explanation, dated 12th June 1964. The delinquent worker in his evidence before the Tribunal challenged the enquiry as unfair and improper and asserted that the statement of witnesses were not correctly recorded not were his objections duly noted. He also contended that he was not allowed to have the assistance of a co-worker of his own choice nor was he given the copies of the documents on the basis of which charge-sheets were drawn up. The worker further asserted that he was victimised because of his union activities. The enquiring officer, in his evidence given on 30th July 1966, stated that the charge-sheeted worker was given every facility in the matter of his defence and he participated and attested the enquiry proceeding in every page. The enquiring officer denied that the statement of witnesses or the worker concerned was not properly or correctly recorded or that the witnesses made statement as per promotings of the Labour Officer Shri Goswami. All objections, according to the enquiring officer, were noted and the worker concerned was allowed to go through all the papers during the enquiry and the proceedings were interpreted to him in Bengali. The enquiring officer after enquiry submitted a report in which he found the delinquent worker guilty to both the charges.

In the first place, it is to be pointed out that there was no evidence before the enquiring officer in so far as charge (a) referred to above was concerned, namely threatening, terrorising and intimidating willing workers from joining their duties since 17th December 1963. The enquiring officer, in his evidence before the Tribunal admitted that there was no evidence before him at the time of enquiry that anyone was threatened or intimidated from attending the factory on and from 17th December 1963. Consequently, the finding of the enquiring officer, in so far as charge No. 4 of the charge-sheet, must be regarded as perverse as it is not supported by any evidence whatsoever. Moreover, when there is a specific charge against the delinquent worker for threatening, terrorising and intimidating some willing workers on a particular day, this general charge without further evidence, would be redundant and the enquiring officer was not justified in finding the delinquent worker guilty in so far as charge No. 4 of the charge-sheet, dated 6th January 1964, was concerned.

In so far as the charge No. 5 is concerned, Management examined one witness, Shri Jogendra Kishore Roy, who happenes to be the Supervisor of shuttle bobbin section of the factory where the delinquent worker was was a workman. This witness in his evidence stated that on the last day of 1963 when he was trying to board a bus at the junction of Rash Behari Avenue and Gariahat Road in order to attend the factory, some workers obstructed and abused him in filthy language; the witness could not attend the factory on that day and identified the delinquent worker as one of those who obstructed him from joining his duty on that day. The witness submitted a report to the Management on the next day. This report has been marked Ext. A by the enquiring officer and in the said report, name of delinquent worker appears. The witness is substantially corroborated by his report submitted to the Management on the very next day. There are no allegations of enmity or ill-feeling as between this wi ness and the delinquent workman, who even declined to cross-examine the witness on the ground that the evidence was all false. The delinquent worker examined one witness to prove his alibi. According to this witness the delinquent worker stayed with him in his railway quarters at Nalpur from the end of December 1963 to April 1964. This place was at a distance of 17 k.m. from Howrah and one could reach Howrah Station in 45 minutes from that place. It was, therefore, quite possible for him to be present at the place on the date of occurrence, at about 9-30 a.m. even if the defence story is accepted in toto-Undoubtedly, there were a large number of trains connecting those two stations and the time taken to cover the distance was not considerable. This apart, the story of alibi not having been set up in the defence, cannot be accepted and the enquiring officer was perfectly justified in rejecting it as an afterthought.

Shri Pathak, appearing on behalf of the Union, sought to contend that this enquiry was scheduled to be held by Shri N. C. Maitra on 28th August 1964 but was actually conducted by Shri K. P. Das Gupta on a subsequent date. As there was no evidence on the record to show that Shri Das Gupta came to be entrusted with the enquiry, the finding must be regarded as vitiated and should as such be set aside. I regret, I am unable to agree. The notice of enquiry issued by the Management on 29th August 1964 shows that it was entrusted to Shri K. P. Das Gupta and Shri Maitra (O.P.W.1) in his evidence recorded on 30th July 1966 categorically stated that he did not hold any domestic enquiry against this worker. The notice of enquiry, dated 22nd August 1964 (Ext. O), in which it was stated that Shri N. C. Maitra will hold the domestic enquiry must be taken to have been superseded and Shri Maitra himself does not remember if he was entrusted with this enquiry. That being the position, the objection must be overruled. Objection was also taken on the ground that the witness at the enquiry did not fully implicate the delinquent worker and identification was obtained after putting leading questions to him. It is true that the witness asked the enquiring officer that he should be questioned in order that he may answer them but there is nothing on the record to show that the questions were put in a leading form. Moreover, there is nothing wrong on the part of the Management to put questions to the witness in order to illustrate the story, which they seek to make-out. This obejction cannot, therefore, be accepted.

It is true that one of the charges against the delinquent worker cannot be said to have been established but the other charge, which is a serious one and would certainly amount to major misdemeanour within the meaning of sub-clauses (17), (19) and (42), if proved, could entail punishment of dismissal. It is immaterial, therefore, that one of the charges against the delinquent worker has not been made out and the Management cannot be said to have proceeded on a wrong basis in punishing the worker. It is well-settled that where the finding of the enquiring officer prima facie make out a case of misconduct, the question of quantum of punishment was not open to review by the Tribunal. Reference may in this connection be made to the cases reported in 1963 (I), L.L.J. page 240 and 1965 (I), L.L.J. page 174. The Orissa High Court in the case of Narayan Mishra reported in 1965 (I), L.L.J. page 259 held that the ultimate order of punishment could not be interferred on the ground that the said punishment would have been imposed by the concerned authority, had the petitioner been found guilty of only charge out of the three charges levelled against him. On the authority of the aforesaid decisions therefore, it must be held that the question of punishment cannot be reviewed by this Tribunal, even though the finding in respect of one of the charges must be regarded as perverse and therefore unsustainable.

Having regard to the materials on record the enquiry in the instant case must be said to have been properly and fairly conducted and the dismissal in the circumstances, must be held to be justified.

(14) Snehendu Bikash Kanango

Shri Kanango was an Operator in Factory No. 1 of Messrs. Jay Engineering Works Ltd., since 1957. He was dismissed from service with effect from 19th March 1963 after a domestic enquiry conducted by Shri N.C. Maitra, during the period from 26th June 1964 to 28th July 1964. The worker concerned was served with four charge-sheets containing as many as 8 charges of which three only were pursued. These charges inter-alia were .

(a) that the delinquent worker along with others mobbed and stopped some willing workers of Factory No. 1 near Katjunagar on Prince

Anwar Shah Road an at about 9 a.m. on 19th December 1963 when they were going to attend their duties. He was also accused of threatening, intimidating and abusing the said workers;

(b) that he along with others mobbed, stopped and assaulted a willing employee Narayan Chandra Nag near the Lake on 28th January 1964 at about 11 a.m. while he was going to join his duty and he also abused and intimidated the said willing worker and instigated others to do likewise;

(c) that on 3rd January 1964 he deliberately refused to accept the charge-sheet sent to him under registered post, knowing fully well that the said communication was from his employer.

The worker in his exptionlan, adated 13th July 1964, denied the allegations and characterized the charges as false, baseless and motivated.

The Management examined five witnesses of whom Sarbashri P. N. Nathan, Samir Sen and Dhruba Nath Mukhoti came to prove the first charge and Shri N. C. Nag came to prove the second charge. No witness was examined in respect of charge (c). Fifth witness Shri Goswami was a formal witness.

With regard to charge (c), it is to be observed in the first place that the postal peon has not been examined and the communication alleged to have been refused by the delinquent worker, does not bear any endorsement that it was opened by the enquiring officer or in his presence. The enquiring officer in his report stated that the delinquent worker had every reason to know that it was a communication from his employers as the name of the Management was written on the envelope. This envelope was marked . xt. A. There is nothing on the record to show who opened this envelope or whether the enquiring officer received it in open condition. Moreover, the postal peon not having been examined, no inference could be drawn against the delinquent worker. The charge relates to refusal to accept charge-sheets, dated 30th December 1963 and 28th January 1964. The envelope containing the charge-sheet dated 30th December 1963 does not appear to have been put into evidence, nor does it appear that the envelope containing the charge-sheets, dated 28th January 1964, was duly tendered to the worker concerned. That being the position this charge cannot be said to have been substantiated. The charge also does not appear to have been read over to the delinquent worker at the commencement of the enquiry and this was admitted by the enquiring officer in his evidence taken on 27th July 1966. That being the position, the enquiring officer was not justified in finding the delinquent worker guilty to this charge.

Regarding charge No. (a), Management examined three witnesses. Shri P. V. Nathan, Controller of Stores and Purchase, stated that he was going to the factory on the morning of 19th December 1963 in Shri Samir Sen's car There were two other officers in the car, namely, Shri G. S. D. Mathur and Shri Dhruva Mukhoti. Near Katjunagar on Prince Anwar Shah Road, about 30/40 strikers stopped the car and asked them not to proceed further. The officers refused whereupon there was an altercation. Finding themselves unable to proceed further, they turned the car and parked it in front on Shri S. C. Mukherjee's house. Shri Dhruva Mukhoti and Shri G. S. D. Mathur went back at this stage. Witness and Samir Sen still persisted. As they proceeded for some further distance they came up before a crowd of about 150 strikers, when they could not proceed further. Some of the strikers used abusive language and surrounded the car from all sides. At this point the witness noticed the delinquent worker along with several other workers. He found them adopting threatening attitude and being terrorised, they were forced to withdraw. The witness was not sure if the delinquent worker shouted a slogans but he was definite that the delinquent worker did not use any abusive language or threatened them. Shri Samir Sen also materially corroborated Shri Nathan and identified the delinquent worker. He further stated in his evidence that the delinquent worker shouted and used abusive language and took a leading part in the incident. Shri Dhruva Mukhoti also corroborated the other witness and identified the delinquent worker as the person who threatened and abused them. He found their attitude to be menacing and impartinent and did not think it wise to proceed to the factory. The witness further stated that the delinquent worker himself abused the witness as "Dalal" and "Chhotoloke". None of the three witnesses were cross examined by the delinquent worker, in whose presence the evidence was recorded. The ground for not cross-examining the witnesses was that the evidence was all false and no useful purpose would be served by cross-examining them. The enquiring officer who had an opportunity of seeing the witnesses and hear them, could not persuade himself to reject their testimony and on a careful consideration of all the materials on record, I do not see any sufficient reasons to differ from his finding It follows, therefore, that the finding of the enquiring officer, in so far as charge (a) is concerned is justified.

Regarding charge (b) the Management examined only one witness, namely, Shri Narayan Chandra Nag. According to this witness, he was proceeding towards the factory at about 11 a.m. on 28th January 1964 when he was surrounded by a group of strikers near the petrol pump in front of Jodhpur Park. The strikers were in violent mood and the delinquent worker was amongst them. They started abusing him and the delinquent worker dealt him a blow on the face, as a result of which, he lost one of his tooth. The witness showed a gap in his tooth line to the enquiring officer. Almost all the men in the group assaulted him and he became unconcious. The witness reported the matter to the Management and lodged a complaint with the Tollygunge P.S. on the same day. This report is on the record but there is considerable divergence in this report with that of his evidence before the Enquiring Officer. The report to the Police does not refer to any personal injury although the witness was alleged to have lost one of his tooth. In his evidence before the enquiring officer he did not mention anything about the loss of his cycle although that was the specific case made out in the report to police. In the absence of any satisfactory explanation for this apparent discrepancy, the enquiring officer in my view should not have accepted this testimony. It is true that the delinquent worker put up a plea of alibi in so far as this charge is concerned and the enquiring officer could not persuade himself to accept it for very good and valid reasons. According to the delinquent worker, he was in Rourkela at the time of this incident. In support of this story he produced a letter from his cousin, an engineer of Hindusthan Steel Limited. This letter has been marked Ext. A and bears the date 1st July 1964. This letter was produced before the enquiring officer on 28th July 1964 and although it is addressed to the General Manager, Jay Engineering Works, it is coming from the custody of the delinquent worker. The letter has not been produced before the enquiring officer on 16th July 1964 when the delinquent worker himself made a statement although it was presumably in his possession on that day. In that view of the matter, the enquiring officer was perfectly justified in rejecting the plea of alibi but he did not address himself to the discrepancy noted above. The discrepancy about the nature of injury and loss of property in the police report and in his evidence before the enquiring officer has not been explained and in the absence of any satisfactory explanation his evidence on this point can hardly be accepted, more particularly, as it has not been corroborated by any other witness. The finding of the enquiring officer in so far as this charge is concerned cannot therefore be supported and must in the circumstances, be regarded as baseless and perverse. Be that as it may, finding with regard to charge (a) having been fully made out by the Management in the instant case, I do not see any sufficient reason to differ from the finding of the enquiring officer. For the reasons already discussed by me, the enquiring officer is justified in holding the delinquent worker guilty to the charge and the Management in dismissing him.

(15) Shri Priya Brata Sen Gupta

Shri Priya Brata Sen Gupta was an assembler fitter in Factory No. 1 of Messrs. Jay Engineering Works from 1958 to December 1963. He was dismissed from service with effect from 13th March 1965, after a domestic enquiry. He was served with four different charge-sheets containing as many as 8 charges,of which charge No. 5 of the charge-sheet, dated 29th December 1963 and the charges of the charge-sheet, dated 31st December 1963, 7th February 1964 and 11th June 1964 were followed. The enquiring officer found him guilty to charge No.5 of the charge-sheet, dated 29th December 1963, and the charges, dated 31st December 1963 and 11th June 1964, and not guilty to the charge, dated 7th March 1964.

The charges inter-alia were:

(a) that on 17th December 1963 at about 11-30 a.m. he along with others detained some willing employees near Dhakuria Bus Stop, who were proceeding to Factory No. 1 and prevented those employees from joining their duties. He was also alleged to have shouted provocative slogans and hurled abuses at them.

(b) that he along with others organised and participated in a procession from Hazra Park to the Assembly Chambers at about noon on 30th December 1963 for the purpose of supporting, continuing and furthering the illegal strike; and

(c) that he deliberately refused certain communications from the Company knowing fully well that the said communication was from the company and related to official matters.

The delinquent worker was accused of riotous and disorderly behaviour under paragraph 2, sub-paragraps (2) (17), (19) and (42) of the Certified Standing Orders.

The delinquent worker in his evidence stated that the enquiry was not fairly or properly conducted in as much as he was not allowed to have the assistance of a co-worker of his choice, nor was given copies of the documents on the basis of which charge-sheets were drawn up, though he asked for them and his objections were not noted by the enquiring officer in the enquiry proceedings. He further stated that he had been dismissed from service for his Union activities as he was entrusted with the publicity work in connection with the strike and also for collection of funds. The worker prayed for setting aside the order of dismissal and reinstatement with back pay and allowances.

The Enquiry Officer in his evidence recorded on 10th August 1966 stated that the delinquent worker was given every facility in the matter of his defence except that he was not allowed to have the assistance of a suspended co-worker. Copies of all the documents which were made use of, were made over to him at the time of enquiry and all objections were noted. The charge-sheeted worker was present all through the enquiry, made a statement himself and attested the enquiry proceedings in all the pages. The Enquiry Officer in his report found him guilty to three of the charges referred to above and the entire enquiry proceeding has been marked Ext. V series.

At the outset, I must observe that the charge (c) cannot be said to have been made out against the worker concerned as the postal peon has not been examined to prove the refusal. Moreover, the envelope which has been marked Ext. B (wrongly described as Ext.2 by the Enquiring Officer) does not contain the name and address of the delinquent worker. It is an envelope with a transparent paper affixed to it and the name was written on the inside communication for viewing from outside. There is no evidence to show that this inside communication contained the name of the delinquent worker at the time the envelope was alleged to have been tendered to him. On the contrary the Enquiring Officer in his cross-examination stated that he had no definite recollection if the envelope purporting to contain the charge-sheet and alleged to have been refused by the delinquent worker on 14th July 1964, was the envelope that was opended before him. There is nothing on the record to show how and by whom the envelope was opened and the contents taken out. When the charge from this open envelope was taken out before the Tribunal, it was found to contain the charge-sheet, dated 7th February 1964 and not the other two charge-sheets, dated 29th December 1963 and 30th December 1963 (which were also alleged to have been refused by him). The charge, dated 7th February 1964, was not followed up. The Enquiring Officer could not say after looking into the charge-sheet, dated 11th June 1964, if the charge-sheeted worker refused to accept all the three charge-sheets sent to him under seperate covers or not. In the absence of the postal peon, this charge cannot be said to have been made out against the delinquent worker, more particularly when the envelope does not bear any remark that it was opened either in presence of the Enquiring Officer or by himself. That being the position, finding so far as the charge, dated 11th June 1964, is concerned cannot be accepted.

Regarding charge (a) the Management examined four witnesses, namely, Shri B. C. Chakraborty, Shri Ajit Kumar Das, Shri S. Ghatak, and Shri Rabindra Bose The worker, of course, denied the allegation but he refused to cross-examine the witnesses for the Management on the ground that there was no necessity for it. Shri Chakraborty in his evidence stated that on 17th December 1963 at about 11-30 a m. he along with three other officers, were proceeding in a car towards the factory. As they approached the Dhakuria Bus Stop they were surrounded by about 25 to 30 persons and were forced to stop their car. The witness identified the delinquent worker who was alleged to have uttered abusive language. This witness was working in the factory for about 20 years and stated that he had seen the delinquent worker in the factory on many previous occasions. Witness submitted a report to the Management on the same day (marked Ext.A) and in the said report, he mentioned the name of this worker as the person who took a leading part in the hold up. The witness was corroborated by Shri S. Ghatak who was also travelling with him is the same car. Shri Ghatak also identified the delinquent worker as the person, who asked them to get down from the car. The witness further stated that having failed to get admittance in the factory, he went to the company's Sales Office at Gariahat and informed the Management about the incident over the phone. The witness did not make any seperate report in writting. The witness was not cross-examined and the identity of the worker was not challenged. The two other witnesses Sarbasree A. Das and R. Bose testified about another incident that took place at or about the same time and place but unrelated to this one. There is no seperate charge for this incident but having regard to the language in which charge (a) was framed, this incident in my view is also covered by the evidence led by those two witnesses. Shri Das and Shri R. Bose were travelling towards Jadavpur in a bus at about 10-30 a.m. on 17th December 1963 and as the bus stopped near the Dhakuria Bus Stop, some persons boarded the bus and started to enquire if there was any member of the staff there. The delinquent worker did not, however, board the bus. As the witnesses were threatened, they got down from the bus, and saw the delinquent worker and others. The delinquent worker and other were alleged to have used insulting language to the witnesses, who afterwards went to a factory by a different road. Shri Das submitted a report to the Management about the incident on the same day wherein the name of the delinquent worker was mentioned. The report has been morked Ext. C by the Enquiring Officer. The witness was not cross-examined. Shri R. Bose in his evidence corroborated Shri Das and identified the delinquent worker as the person, who was shouting from below. This witness, however, stated then when they were forced to get down from the bus, they found witness Shri B. Chakraborty's car surrounded by some of the strikers. There was exchange of words and the workers shouted slogans. The strikers were at first peaceful but subsequently they became aggressive. To avoid any untoward incident an and also out of fear, the witness went back. This witness was not also cross-examined and there is no suggestion of any ill-feeling or enmity against any of them. No motive has been assigned, why so many persons would conspire to support a false story against the delinquent worker, and in the absence of any allegation against any of the witnesses, enquiring officer found no reason to reject their testimony. The enquiring officer considered the discrepancies in their proper perspective and on the materials placed before me. I am not prepared to differ from his conclusion. At any rate, it cannot be said that the finding is baseless or perverse so as to call for interference by this Tribunal.

It was sought to be contended that there were two separate incidents on 17th December 1963 testified by two groups of witnesses but the delinquent worker was charged for only one incident. It is true that there were two incidents; one closely followed by the other and as such these might have formed the subject-matter of two specific charges, but the framing of a single charge for these two incidents, cannot be said to have caused any miscarriage of justice in the instant case and the charge-sheeted worker was not in any way misled in his defence. No such objection was taken at the enquiry stage and the witnesses testified to the incidents separately. One incident was quickly followed by the other and there is hardly any time lag between the two with the result that these were compounded into one charge. Moreover, the charge in both the cases was the same, namely to prevent different groups of willing employees from joining the factory or doing their duty. I do not, therefore, consider that this failure on the part of the Management to frame separate charges for these incidents, has led to failure of justice or that the finding of the enquiring officer would have been different, had separate charges been framed.

Regarding the charge, dated 31st December 1963, Management examined only one witness, namely, Shri Ashoka Gupta who was present at the Hazra Park, when the procession was taken out. He identified the delinquent worker as one of the persons, who attended the meeting at Hazra Park but the charge is not for holding a meeting but for organising and participating in a procession which commenced from Hazra Park. The witness also mentioned about a procession that emanated from Hazra Park in which the delinquent worker was alleged to have uttered provocative slogans. No other witness was examined nor is there any report by the Security Officer on record. There is nothing to show how and wherefrom the Security Officer refreshed his memory. Unless, he had something to go by, it is difficult to believe that the Security Officer would be in a position to remember a particular workman 7 months after the incident. Undoubtedly, many workers participated in the procession and unless the Security Officer had something to refresh his memory, it is difficult to accept the identification in this case. Moreover, the charge-sheet, dated 31st December 1964, containing this charge, does not appear to have been communicated to the delinquent worker. There is nothing on the record to show that he was served with this charge-sheet. The worker concerned in his reply, dated 8th January 1964 and 12th June 1964, denied the charges. The reply, dated 8th January 1964, refers to charge-sheet, dated 29th December 1963 and the reply, dated 12th June 1964, to the charge-sheet issued on 10th June 1964. There is no charge-sheet, dated 10th June 1964, but there is one, dated 11th June 1964. Consequently, it cannot be held that the charge-sheet, dated 31st December 1964 was issued or served on the delinquent worker but the charge appears to have been read over to him at the enquiry and the worker concerned merely denied them. No objection was raised before the enquiring officer that this charge-sheet was not issued or served upon him. The enquiring officer did not consider this aspect of the case nor did he consider it fit and proper to insist on corroboration of Shri Ashoke Gupta's evidence. The enquiring officer thought that the evidence in so far as it went is clear and convincing and the delinquent worker not only attended the meeting but also took a leading part in the procession. The meeting, if any, was not the subject matter of the charge nor is there any evidence to show that any meeting was held or attended by anyone at Hazra Park on that day. On behalf of the defence it was sought to be contended that no meeting was held at the Hazra Park on that day and only a procession was organised which emanated from the Hazra Park. Having regard to the wordings of the charge, the enquiring officer's finding that the delinquent worker participated in a meeting cannot be said to have been made out in clear terms, more particularly, when there is nothing on the record to show that the relevant charge-sheet was served upon him. The enquiring officer apparently misdirected himself on this point and the finding must therefore be regarded as baseless and against the weight of evidence on record. This charge cannot, be said to have been made out and I find accordingly.

It is however to be pointed out that the other charge, namely, charge No. 5 of the charge-sheet, dated 29th December 1963, having been clearly made out, the enquiring officer was perfectly justified in finding the delinquent worker guilty of major misdemeanour on one of the charges, and it was immaterial if the other charges were made out. Where the finding of the enquiring officer prima facie makes out a case of misdemeanour, the Tribunal had no jurisdiction to direct the Management to reconsider the ultimate order of punishment on the ground that some of the findings were not legally sustainable. It is not open to the Tribunal to interfere with the order of punishment merely on the ground that the punishment or the finding would not have been arrived at, had the delinquent worker been found guilty in respect of one of the three charges. A single incident of misconduct has been held sufficient to sustain or justify an order of dismissal by the Madras High Court in a case reported in 1964 (I) L.L.J. page 510. Reference in this connection may also be made to the decision of the Orissa High Court reported in 1965 (I) L.L.J., pages 174 and 259. For all those reasons discussed above, I must hold that the enquiring officer was justified in finding delinquent worker guilty in respect of charge No. 5 of the charge-sheet, dated 29th December 1963 and the Management in punishing him and delinquent worker is not, therefore, entitled to any relief in this case.

(16) Shri Ranjit Bose

Shri Ranjit Bose was a machine operator in Factory No. 2 of Messrs. Jay Engineering Works Ltd., from 1957 to 1963. He was dismissed from service with effect from 23rd March 1965 following a domestic enquiry. He was served with three charge-sheets containing 11 charges, of which three charges, being charge No. 5, of the charge-sheet, dated 31st December 1963, charge No. 2 of the charge-sheet, dated 17th January 1964 and the charge, dated 8th April 1964, were followed up. These charges are as follows:

(a) That the delinquent worker along with other workmen organised a meeting of the workers at the canteen of Factory No. 2 on 16th December 1963 at about 3-30 p.m. without the permission of the Management and instigated the workers and incited them to resort to an illegal strike;

(b) That he along with others mobbed and stopped the car of the Company's General Manager, Works and of other officers beyond the wooden bridge towards the factory near Netaji Subhas Road at about 9 a.m. on 16th January 1964 and intimidated, threatened and abused them, and,

(c) That he along with others assaulted Shri Santra with fists and blows and kicks, etc. at about 4-30 p.m. on 5th April 1964 while said Shri Santra was proceding along Gariahat Road near R. N. Agarwala's Petrol Pump, causing severe bleeding injury to him.

In his explanation, dated 23rd June 1964, the delinquent worker denied the allegations and described the charges as baseless, false and motivated. Management examined four witneses at the enquiry and the enquiring officer, on a consideration of the evidence adduced, found the delinquent worker guilty to all the three charges.

The worker in his evidence before the Tribunal admitted that he participated at the enquiry, which according to him was not conducted in a proper and fair manner. He asserted that the answers given by the witnesses were not always properly and correctly recorded by the enquiring officer and written protest was also lodged by him. Further the documents on the basis of which the charges were drawn up, were not also made over to him before the commencemet of the enquiry. He further asserted that the Company dismissed him as he was an active member of the Union.

The enquiring officer Shri N. C. Maitra in his evidence given on 26th July 1966 denied that the enquiry was not fairly or properly conducted and stated that all objections raised by the worker were recorded correctly. In fact, an objection filed by the delinquent worker in which the enquiring officer endorsed his comments has been marked Ext. 4 but this was not make a part of the proceeding. The enquiry officer further admitted that some papers asked for by the delinquent worker could not be produced by the Management.

Regarding charge (a), Management examined Shri A. Das Gupta, Security Officer. He stated that on 16th December 1963 at about 3-30 p.m. a group of workers held a meeting in the canteen and at the said meeting the factory workers were asked to go on strike with effect from 17th December 1963 and the Management was also criticised He identified the delinquent worker as one of the persons present at the meeting The witness ascertained from the departmental-in-charge as also the Canteen Manager that no permission for the meeting was obtained from the authorities The Security Officer submitted a written report about this meeting to D G M., Works, on the same day and this report has been marked Ext 1 at the enquiry. The name of the delinquent worker appears in the said report. This report has been challenged by Shri Pathak on the ground that Shri Ganguly, to whom the report was alleged to have been submitted, was not the D G M at the time but was the Manager for Works It is in evidence that Shri Ganguly held both the posts at the relevant time and the original report was also produced before the Tribunal for scrutiny The Security Officer was cross-examined but his evidence remained unshaken. The delinquent worker prayed for the production of attendance card, pay-sheet, production paper and accounts, presumably to show that he left the factory early on that day but this could not be produced by the Management The enquiring officer considered all these matters and thought that the documents were not called for bona fide reasons and the challenge by the delinquent worker looks somewhat like a piece of play acting He rightly rejected the contention of the defence and even if, these papers had been produced it cannot perhaps be ruled out that he delinquent worker was present inside the factory at the relevant time Defence did not dispute that he attended office on that day and the enquiring officer could not persuade himself to disbelieve the positive evidence of the Security Officer, more particularly, as his evidence is corroborated by the report submitted on that very day I, therefore, see no reason to differ from the finding of the enquiring officer in so far as this charge is concerned

Regarding charge No (b), Management examined Dr J. N Agarwal and Shri R. S Maniyan. The charge refers to the stoppage and mobbing of the cars of General Manager, Works and of other officers General Manager, however, has not been examined nor did Dr Agarwal in his evidence state that the General Manager was present at the time but in his report to the police (marked Ext A) it was mentioned that Shri T R Gupta, General Manager, was also stopped, abused an intimidated by the workers, while he was proceeding to Factory No 2 about 9 a m on that day. Dr Agarwal in his evidence stated that he was proceeding to Factory No. 2 in his own car on the morning of 16h Janury 1964 when he was stopped near the wooden bridge by a group of strikers This group included the delinquent workers and Dr. Agarwal identified him before the enquiring officer Dr Agarwal got down from his car and tried to reason with the striker but they were in a excited and agitated mood They used hard words and as a constable approached the place at the time, the group dispersed Shri Maniyan, who was in the same car, also corroborated Dr Agarwal Neither Dr Agarwal nor Shri Maniyan stated anything about intimidation, threatening or abuse and Shri Maniyan even did not mention that the workers were very much excited or agitated He, however, identified the delinquent worker and stated that he was amongst the group that stopped them on the way There was undoubtedly some discrepancy in the evidence about Shri T R. Gupta's presence but this matter was considered by the enquiring officer and he decided to ignore this discrepancy for reasons, which appear to me to be cogent and valid In the circumstances, I see no reason to differ from the finding of the enquiring officer and the charge must therefore held to have been substantiated.

Regarding charge No. (c), Management examined Shri Santra and Shri A Das Gupta, who corroborated each other in material particulars. Shri Santra was returning home along Gariahat Road after doing some work in the Director's house at 20 Ballygunge Park Road at about 4 p m. on 6th April 1964 As he approached the Gol Park on foot, he was confronted by a man, whom he knew by face only. The man asked him a few questions and then started assaulting him and Shri Santra immediately found himself surrounded by a group of 8/10 men, who started assaulting him with fists and blows He was thrown on the pavement and kicked by some of them and he recognised some of the workers including the delinquent worker and identified him before the enquiring officer at the time of enquiry A case was also registered against the delinquent worker at the Tollygunge police-station on the same evening where Shri Santra was taken by Shri A Das Gupta As the incident was narrated to Shri Das Gupta shortly after the occurrence, his evidence also becomes relevant. Shri Santra was thereafter taken to Tollygunge police-station and a F I R was lodged and he was subsequently taken to Sambhunath Pandit Hospital As no paying bed was available there, he was taken to S.S K M Hospital where also no paying bed was available. He was thereupon taken to and admitted in the Presidency Nursing Home, where he was detained till 5th May 1964, on which date he was discharged. The medical report was in the file of a parallel case but the enquiring officer was not justified in referring to it without bringing it on record. From the defence exhibit, it would appear that a criminal case was also started against the delinquent worker [vide copy of order-sheet, Ext 3(b)] but a final report was submitted It was sought to be contended on behalf of the Union that since the delinquent worker was discharged in the criminal case, there is no scope for a domestic enquiry on the same set of facts and the delinquent worker should have been found not guilty to the charge Nature of the two proceedings are entirely different and they operate in different fields and in different objectives It is well-settled that the scope of the two enquiries are entirely different In a criminal trial an incriminating statement made by accused is totally inadmissible in certain circumstances or before certain individuals In a departmental enquiry the officer is not bound by such technical rules. Gujarat High Court in a case reported in 1966(1), L L J page 55 held that there is no violation of principles of natural justice in holding a departmental enquiry on the sme facts on which a Criminal Court has recorded an order of acquittal The object of the enquiry, it was observed in the said case was to find out whether a delinquency has been committed or not and whether the worker does or does not deserve to be retained in service and if so, on what terms The High Court also negatived the contention that a departmental enquiry after acquittal by a Criminal Court can only be held if there are additional evidence or material at the disposal of the authorities It is, therefore, clear that a decision in a criminal case which did not operate as res judicata, did not debar the Management from proceeding with a departmental enquiry against the workman on the same set of facts. This contention of Shri Pathak cannot, therefore, be accepted. The enquiring officer has considered the evidence and recorded his decision very carefully. The defence story of alibi set up for the first time at the time of enquiry was also disbelieved by him. The defence was that the delinquent worker was ill from 31st March 1964 to 13th April 1964 and had been under medical treatment during the period. A medical certificate was also filed but the doctor was not examined as a witness for reasons best known to the defence. The medical certificate came to be produced at a last stage of enquiry and is not corroborated by any other evidence on record. On the contrary, the delinquent worker in his defence, dated 23rd June 1694, did not set up any such plea, which could not be overlooked and seems to suggest that the alibi was an after-thought. The defence did not suggest any enmity or ill-feeling against any of the Management's witnesses even though the witnesses were cross-examined at length.

Having reard to all the materials on record, I do not see any sufficient reason to differ from the finding of the enquiring officer and on a careful consideration of all the facts, I must hold that the charges in the instant case were fully substantiated and the delinquent worker is not, therefore, entitled to any relief.

(17) Shri Bharat Giri

Shri Bharat Giri was a machine man in Factory No. 1 of Messrs. Jay Engineering Works Ltd., for about 10 years. He was dismissed from service with effect from 23rd March 1965. At the time of strike he was attached to Factory No. 2. He was served with a charge-sheet, dated 31st January 1964, containing as may as 5 charges of which charge No. 5 only was followed up.

The charge inter alia states that Bharat Giri along with others indiscriminately used brickbats at Rathtala (Netaji Subhas Road) on the officers who were returning to their residence from Factory No. 2 at about 12-50 p.m. on 20-1-64 thereby causing serious injury to one of the officers and damage to most of the cars. Shri Bharat Giri was accused of riotous and disorderly behaviour, amounting to major misdemeanour under clause 2, sub-clauses 2(17), (19) and (42) of Appendix 'D' of the Certified Standing Orders. Shri Bharat Giri in his explanation, dated 23rd June 1964, described the charges as irrelevant, false and motivated. A domestic enquiry was conducted by Shri N. C. Maitra during the period from 4th July 1964 to 22nd August 1964. Shri Bharat Giri was represented by a co-worker of his choice, Shri Satya Singh by name.

In his evidence before the Tribunal, he stated that he did not participate at the enquiry as a police case was then pending against him over the same incident in which he was finally acquitted. He however did not challenge the enquiry. The enquiring officer in his evidence given on 11th August 1968 stated that Shri Bharat Giri was given every facility in the matter of his defence and he also had the assistance of a co-worker of his choice although at one stage of the enquiry he withdraw therefrom on the ground that a criminal case was pending against him more or less on the same charges and his participation in the enqiury might adversely affect his case before the Criminal Court. A fresh notice was thereupon served on him and he appeared and participated in the enquiry. The enquiring officer appears to have made over copies of all the evidence recorded by him and Shri Bharat Giri was given every opportunity to cross-examine the witnesses, who were examined in his absence. Shri Bharat Giri declined to have them cross-examined but he attested the enquiry proceeding on those days on which he participated in the enquiry. One witness for the Management was re-examined after Shri Bharat Giri participated in the enquiry proceeding. The enquiry proceeding has been marked Ext. 'Z' series. On a consideration of the materials on record, the enquiring officer found Shri Bharat Giri guilty to the charge that was followed up.

The Management examined 5 witnesses, who are Shri A. D. Nangia, Shri N. N. Chakraborty, Shri B. K. Saxena, Shri D. K. Sen and Shri S. K. Mehrotra, while the defence examined two witnesses whose names are Shri Shyam Bahadur and Shri Dinanath. The worker concerned took an alibi for the first time on 10th July 1964 when he made a statement before the enquiring officer. This was followed up by evidence on 22nd August 1964 when he examined Shri Shyam Bahadur, a worker at Batanagar where the delinquent worker was alleged to have put up during the time of occurrence. The other witness Dinanath, another worker of Batanagar also stated that Shri Bharat Giri was in their house at Batanagar as a guest throughout 20th of January 1964. This alibi was not set up in the explanation and the enquiring officer on a careful consideration of all the materials refused to accept the plea of alibi. This apart, the place where Shri Bharat Giri was alleged have stayed on the day of occurrence, is not far off and could easily be covered in a few hours' time. The witness, who came to plead for the delinquent worker did not assign any reason for their remembering this particular day even though they were testifying to a fact that took place 7 months back. Coming now to the evidence adduced by the Management, it is to be pointed out that the enquiring officer has discussed the evidence of the Management's witnesses in its proper perspective. About 40 officers were returning from Factory No. 2 at about 12-45 p.m. on 20th January 1964 in a fleet of cars, when they were stopped near Rathtola on the Netaji Subhas Road. As the convoy was held up by the strikers there was some excited conversation, which was followed by showering of brickbats. Most of the cars were damaged and window panes of some of the cars were broken. A stone hurled through the broken glass panes, hit Mr. Mehrotra on his head causing a bleeding injury. The convoy somehow made its way to proceed to Jadavpur Police Station via Garia Police Out Post, where a written complaint was filed by Shri D. K. Sen. Shri Sen, who was new to the office could not possibly identify any of the workers. The other witnesses were quite clear about their identification. In the F.I.R. that was lodged to the police and marked Ext. B by the enquiring officer. name of Shri Bharat Giri appears as one of the miscreants and a criminal case was also started againt him. It is true that Shri Bharat Giri was acquitted in the criminal case but that could not stand in the way of the enquiring officer finding him guilty to this charge provided the employer has been able to make out a case against the delinquent worker. Nature of enquiry before the enquiring officer was entirely different from that of a trial before the criminal court. There is no legal basis for the contention that a departmental enquiry is barred on the same set of facts on which an order of acquittal has been recorded by a Criminal Court and there is no constitutional bar to a departmental proceeding being instituted after an order of acquittal has been recorded. Such a contention was raised and negatived by the Calcutta High Court in the decision reported in A.I.R. 1953 Calcutta, page 316 and also by the Gujrat High Court in 1966 (I), L.L.J., page 55. Evidence that may not be sufficient for the purpose of success in a criminal case, has been held to be quite sufficient for the purpose of a disciplinary action. Reference, in this connection, may be made to the case reported in 1954 L.A.C. page 364. Jammu and Kashmir High Court in a decision reported in A.I.R. 1966, J & K page 73 has held that the petitioners' acquitted in a criminal case will not be a bar to the holding of a departmental enquiry or the Head of the department in coming to a conclusion contrary to the one arrived at by the Criminal Court.

Of the five witnesses, examined by the Management Shri B. K. Saxena in his evidence stated that he was in the 3rd car of the convoy at the time of the incident. Through the window glasses, he saw the crowd, picking up and throwing brickbats at them. Shri Bharat Giri, an employee, whom the witness had seen many times and whom he could easily recognise, was one of those who led the group. Shri S. K. Mehrotra, who received brickbat injury on his head, in his evidence stated that he knew Shri Bharat Giri, who was an employee of machine shop section from before and saw him amongst the attackers that stopped the convoy and threw stones. He saw and recognised Shri Bharat Giri and some others in the mob. Shri Giri was picking up and throwing stones at the witness, gesticulating wildely and shouted either slogans or abuses. In his cross-examination, the witness further stated that he saw Shri Bharat Giri with a stone in hand in the crowd and he also recognised him at that time. Shri N. N. Chakraborty and Shri A. D. Nangia also distinctly identified Shri Bharat Giri. Shri Nangia saw Shri Bharat Giri throwing stones from a distance of about 12 feet while Shri N. N. Chakraborty saw the delinquent worker from a distance of 10 to 12 feet and could recognise him clearly. There is no allegation against any of these witnesses and most of them were not cross-examined also. Enquiring officer has rightly pointed out about the improbability of the senior officers' conspiring against Shri Bharat Giri or perjuring themselves in a matter like this.

On behalf of the defence, it was sought to be contended that the report is vitiated as the enquiring officer considered materials or evidence adduced in other enquiries which were not brought on record of this case. In support of this contention, reliance was placed upon the evidence of enquiring officer before the Tribunal recorded on 11st August 1966 wherein he stated that the statement given by Shri Mehrotra in an other enquiry was also considered by him in this case as the particular charge against the two workers were identical. It is true that at the time of examination of Shri Mehrotra in another enquiry, against Shri Kartick Mondal, the delinquent worker was not present and had no opportunity of cross-examining the witness. These materials should not have been used by the enquiring officer in coming to a conclusion in this enquiry. There is nothing on the record to show that the enquiring officer read over this piece of evidence before the delinquent worker at any stage of enquiry and to that extent the enquiring officer's observation must be regarded as improper but on a careful consideration of the report and the evidence recorded in this enquiry, I am unable to hold that this reference to Mehrotra's evidence has prejudiced the delinquent worker in such a way as to lead to failure of justice In fact, from the report it does not appear that this part of evidence was actually considered or relied upon by the enquiring officer in such a manner as to make his decision dependent on Shri Mehrotra's evidence in Shri Kartick Mondal's case. Lastly, it was sought to be contended that the copy of the F.I.R. produced before the enquiring officer was an incorrect copy and the charge-sheet drawn up on the basis of such a copy cannot be accepted The mistakes pointed out were in inconsequential and the description and particulars of factory in the copy of the F.I.R. can hardly be regarded as material, for it did neither mislead the delinquent worker nor did it affect the case on merits in any way whatsoever. For all these reasons discussed above I must hold that the enquiring officer was perfectly justified in finding the delinquent worker guilty to the charge.

(18) Shri Mantu Das

Shri Mantu Das was an assembler in Factory No. 2 of Messrs. Jay Engineering Works Limited since 1959 He was dismissed from service with effect from 23rd March 1965. He was served with a charge-sheet dated 31st January 1964, containing as many as 5 charges, of which charge No. 5 was only persued. He replied to the charge-sheet denying the allegations and a domestic enquiry was conducted by O.P.W. 1 Shri Nirmal Chandra Maitra during the period from 24th July 1964 to 12th August 1964.

The charge that was proceeded with was to the effect that on 20th January 1964 at about 12-50 p.m. at Rathtala (Netaji Subhas Road), the delinquent worker along with others indiscriminately threw brickbats on the officers, who were returning to their residence from Factory No. 2 in a convoy of cars, causing serious injury to one of the officers and damage to most of the cars. The worker was accused of riotous and disorderly behaviour amounting to major misdemeanour within the meaning of sub-clauses (17),(19) and (42) of clause 2, Appendix 'D' of the Certified Standing Orders.

At the enquiry, Management produced six witnesses and no witness was examined on behalf of the delinquent worker. The witness produced by the Management include Shri D. K. Sen, Deputy Manager, Works, Factory No. 2, Shri B. K. Saxena, D. M., Assembly, Factory No. 2, Shri N. N. Chakraborty, D. M., Tool Room, Factory No. 2, Shri S. K. Mehrotra, Tool Designing Engineer, factory No. 2, Shri A. D. Nangia, Chief Inspector, factory No. 2, and Shri M. K. Issar, Assistant Engineer, Machine Shop, Factory No. 2, Shri M. L. Saha, was also examined as a formal witness.

Shri D. K. Sen, in his evidence before the enquiring officer stated that about 30 or 40 officers of Factory No. 2 were returning to their residence at about 12-50 p.m. on 20th January 1964 in a convoy of 9 cars. Near Rathtala on the Netaji Subhas Road, the party was obstructed by a mob of workers, who were then on strike. After the hold up, Shri S. K. Sen who was in the first car, had a discussion with some of the workers and shortly thereafter stones and brickbats started falling on the cars and most of the cars got damaged, glass panes of some of the cars were broken and one of the officers received a cut injury on the forehead. The convoy resumed its journey and several cars struggled through to Jadavpur police-station where Shri Sen lodged F. I. R. and the names were supplied by the officers, who were in the convoy. This F. I. R. was marked Ext. 10 before the enquiring officer and the name of Mantu of T. Fan Assembly Section of Factory No. 1 appears therein. Factory No. 1 is obviously a mistake, for it appears that fans are not produced in that factory but it is in Factory No. 2 that fans are manufactured. The defence is one of mistaken identity and there is also a plea of alibi. The delinquent worker in his cross-examination sought to make out that there was more than one Mantu in the Fan Assembly Section and it appears from the evidence that there is one Mantu Rudra and another Mantu Chakraborty in Factory No. 2. According to Mantu Das, (P.W. 9) Mantu Rudra and Mantu Chakraborty also worked in the table fan assembly line whereas according to R. P. Mithal (O.P.W. 9) only Mantu Das worked in the T. Fan Assembly Section in December 1963 whereas Mantu Chakrabotry was employed in Ceiling Fan Assembly section and Mantu Rudra used to work in Pedestal section. He also produced the engagement register wherein Mantu Rudra's name appears against serial No. 842 and Mantu Chakraborty's against serial No. 1091 and Mantu Das's against serial No. 1350. All the three were shown against section I(1). From the day to day progress Registrar for November and December 1963, it however appeared that Shri Mantu Das was working in the table fan section and Shri Mantu Rudra and Shri Mantu Chakraborty were working in other sections. Shri Mantu Chakraborty, it was stated was merely a helper and not a skilled worker. The defence, on the other hand, produced the pay slip of Mantu Rudra, for July 1964 which shows that he belonged to PTA/28 section. It is however, admitted by Shri R. P. Mithal that in December 1963 the Code Word of Production Assembly Table Fan was P.T.A. and it would thus appear that Shri Mantu Rudra was working in the production assembly for table fan in July 1964, when his pay was being disbursed under pay slip produced by the defence. This evidence however, was not produced before the enquiring officer. Be that as it may, the materials on the record are sufficient to connect Shri Mantu Das with the incident occuring on 20th January 1964. The charge-sheet was drawn up on 31st January 1964 and the delinquent worker in his explanation, dated 24th June 1964, merely described the charge as false and motivated. No plea of alibi or mistaken identity was set up in his evidence, althouth at a later state he sought to produce evidence from his employer—one Shri Mahabir Ch. Das to the effect that he was engaged in a Laundry at Sarat Bose Road during the period from 10th January to 30th April 1964 and the hours of work were from 8-30 a.m. to 8-30 p.m. with a recess of 3½ hours commencing from 12-30 p.m. This evidence, even if it be accepted in toto, does not altogether exclude the delinquent worker's presence at Rathtala at about 12-50 p.m. on 20th January 1964 when the occurrence took place. The laundry owner was not produced as a witness and a letter purported to have been written by him was produced before the enquiring officer to prove the alibi, which has been rightly rejected by the enquiring officer as an afterthought. As many as five witnesses identified the delinquent worker as having participated in the incident. Of these witnesses, Shri Nangia and Shri B.K. Saxena named him and Shri M. K. Issar, Shri N. N. Chakraborty and Shri S. K. Mehrotra identified him. The delinquent worker worked under Shri B. K. Saxena for sometime and when the witness found him in the group, he had some brickbat in his hand. Witness further stated that he saw this worker for throwing brickbats towards the convoy on that day. Shri Nangia who had an opportunity of seeing him from a distance of 10/12 feet, found him in the group that was stoning the cars in the convoy. Shri M. K. Issar also saw the delinquent worker in the mob, that threw stones and brickbats, Shri Mehrotra, who received a cut injury on his forehead, also identified him. Shri N. N. Chakraborty similarly stated that he saw the delinquent worker throwing brickbats and he claims to have supplied the same of the delinquent worker to Shri D. K. Sen at the Jadavpore police-station. The enquiring officer accepted the evidence of these witnesses and there is nothing to doubt the case iron character of these identifications There is no allegations of any enmity or ill-feeling against any of the officers, who either recognised or identified the delinquent worker at the enquiry. The evidence considered as a whole, appears to be credible and trustworthy and do not suffer from any serious infirmities. Such discrepancy, as has been pointed out, on behalf of the Union, cannot be regarded as material or fatal and in the circumstances, the enquiring officer was perfectly justified in finding the delinquent worker guilty to the charge. As every possible opportunity was given to the delinquent worker in the matter of his defence and the enquiry does not suffer from any infirmities and was fairly and properly conducted, I see no reason to differ from the enquiring officers finding and the punishment in the instant case must be held to be justified. It follows, therefore, that the delinquent worker is entitled to no relief.

(19) Shri Sanat Banerjee

Shri Sanat Banerjee was an Assembly Fitter in Factory No. 2 of Messrs. Jay Engineering Works for about 10 years. He was dismissed from service with effect from 23rd March 1965 after a domestic enquiry conducted by Shri N. C. Moitra during the period from 25th July 1964 to 10th September 1964. He was served with four charge-sheets containing eleven charges, out of which four were followed up. These charges are :—

(a) That on 27th December 1963 at about 4-30 p.m. he along with others, stopped the car of the Manager for Works near the crossing of Netaji Subhas Road and the road approching the wooden bridge of Factory No. 2 when they were returning to their resident insulted and threatened the occupants to leave the car and also incited and instigated others to do likewise.

(b) That on 2nd January 1964 at about 12-30 p.m., he along with others threatened some officers with dire consequences at the crossing of Netaji Subhas Road and the road approaching the wooden bridge of Factory No. 2 when they were returning to their residence and abused them in filthy language.

(c) That on 16th January 1964 at about 9 a.m. he along with others, stopped the car of the General Manager for Works at the junction of Netaji Subhas Road and the road approaching the wooden bridge of Factory No. 2, intimidated and abused him and also instigated and incited others to do likewise.

(d) That on 20th January 1964 at about 12-30 p.m. he along with others, indiscriminately used brickbats on the officers at Netaji Subhas Road when they were returning to their residence from Factory No. 2 causing serious injury to one of the officers and damage to most of the cars.

The delinquent worker was accused of disorderly behaviour and riotous conduct under sub-clauses (17), (19) and (42) of clause 2 of Appendix 'D' of the Certified Standing Orders.

Management examined 7 witnesses and no witness was examined by the delinquent worker in his defence. Of the 7 witnesses, Shri K. P. Ganguli, Deputy General Manager for Works came to prove charge (a), Shri Nangia came to prove charge (b), Shri R. S. Manian, Shri Kakkar and Shri J. N. Agarwal came to prove charge (c) and Shri A. D. Nangia and Shri S. K. Mehrotra came to prove charge (d), Shri M. L. Saha, Labour Officer, was more or less a formal witness.

The delinquent worker set up a plea of alibi in his defence, namely, that he worked in a small electrical concern at Howrah during the period from 25th December 1963 to 30th May 1964 and stayed in the house of one of his uncles there. He further stated that he was ill during the period from 13th January 1964 to 28th January 1964 and produced a medical certificate to that effect. The alibi, however, was not set up in his explanation, dated 24th June 1964, wherein he merely described the charges as false and motivated.

The delinquent worker in his evidence before the Tribunal stated that the domestic enquiry, in which he was present and participated was not fairly and properly conducted as he was not furnished with the copies of documents on the basis of which charges were drawn up before the commencement of the enquiry. Shri Pathak, on behalf of the Union, raised the plea of mistaken identity of the delinquent worker and the union examined 2 other Sanat Banerjees, who were working as assembler and mechanic in Factory No. 2, where the delinquent worker also worked, and contended that the description of Sanat Banerjee in the report to the police, dated 20th January 1964 (Ext. R) did not tally with the description of the delinquent worker. In Ext. R, which is a report to the Jadavpore Police, Sanat Banerjee is described as a worker in Pedestral Assembly Section of Factory No. 1. It is contended on behalf of the Company that this description of Factory No. 1 is clearly a mistake, as according to O.P.W. 4, Shri J. Goswami, only sewing machine are produced in Factory No. 1 whereas fans are manufactured in Factory No. 2. He also stated that there is no such section in Factory No. 1 known as Pedestral fan and table fan assembly section. There is no cross-examination on this point. O.P.W. 5, Shri R. P. Mithal, in his evidence stated that the assembly section in Factory No. 2 had various sub-sections such as, table fan assembly, pedastral fan assembly and these are described by different code numbers. Consequently, the description of Factory No. 1 in the copy of the Ejahar (Ext. R) against Sanat Banerjee's name is a mistake. The question of identification was raised for the first time before the Tribunal and no such objection was taken before the enquiring officer. The worker concerned has been described in the charge-sheet as belonging to fan assembly of Factory No. 1. The ticket number was given differently in the charge-sheet, dated 9th March 1964, although ticket number in the other three charge-sheets, which were followed up were correctly given. Charge-sheet, dated 9th March 1964, was not, however, followed up and the misdescription in the ticket number does not therefore, matter. There has been some confusion in describing the number of the factory, to which the worker was attached, in Ext. 10 but this description in my view is not very material for, the worker concerned was not misled in his defence nor were the other two Sanat Banerjee asked to answer any of these charges. Identification made by the witnesses before the enquiring officer, leaves no room for doubt about the identity of the correct person. At no stage of the enquiry was it suggested that it was a different Sanat Banerjee, who was involved in these incidents nor did the delinquent worker make any allegation againt any of the witnesses for wrong or false identification. Consequently, scope for mistaken identification in this case does not arise.

As for charge No. (a), Shri K. P. Ganguly, the then Manager for Works, in his evidence stated that he went to attend Factory No. 2 with Shri Hansraj and an electrical contractor named Shri Makhan because of electrical breakdown, at about 4-30 p.m. on 27th December 1963. While they were returning, their car was held up by a number of people near the crossing of Netaji Subhas Road and the Factory Road. The group included the delinquent worker whom the Manager identified. They started shouting that Makhan should get down from the car and Manager was also threatened. On being requested, the crowd resufed to give way. At that time an armed policeman, who was on duty near the place came and requested the workers to allow the car to pass, when they withdrew. The delinquent worker, according to the witness, was in a very agitated mood and all the time demanded that Makhan should get down from the car and he also tried to open the door by pulling the door handle. The witness was not cross-examined and the delinquent worker made a statement that as the witness has been tutored by the Labour Officer, his testimony had no evidentiary value. Enquiring officer considered this evidence to be sufficient in so far as the incident of 27th December 1963 was concerned and observered that corroboration was not essential in the circumstance of the case. On behalf of the delinquent worka it was contended that the electrical contractor Makhan should have den produced as a witness. He was a man from outside not subject to factory discipline and there was no allegation against the witness and the motive for falsely implicating the accused as suggested appear to be wanting in this case. Defence of alibi was not set up in the explanation and the medical certificate (Ext. T) cannot be accepted for the simple reason that the doctor has not been produced as witness. Moreover, this medical certificate is dated 12th July 1964 but it was not produced at the earliest possible opportunity. This other alibi, that the delinquent worker was employed by the proprietor of an electrical concern at Howrah during the period from 25th December 1963 to 30th May 1964 cannot also be accepted as this certificate was not set up in the defence though it was in the possession of the delinquent worker from before the date of his explanation. In the circumstances, the alibi seems to be an after-thought and it was rightly rejected by the enquiring officer. Enquiring officer pointed out that the delinquent worker would have easily made in and out trips to Calcutta, being noticed, and the occurrence would without not, therefore, be totally inconsistent with the alibi, regard being had to the nature of the illness and the nature of work, he had to perform. Shri K. P. Ganguly made a report on the very day of occurrence which has been marked Ext. Q, original, of course, was not been before the enquiring officer (vide evidence of enquiring officer before the Tribunal on 10th August 1966). Original was, however, produced before the Tribunal and on a careful consideration of the same, I do not see any reason to reject it. The delinquent worker is named in the report and the report substantially corroborates the statement of Shri K. P. Ganguly made before the enquiring officer. I, therefore, see no reason to differ from the finding of the enquiring officer in so far as this charge is concerned.

Regarding charge (b), Management examined on witness, namely, Shri A. D. Nangia. According to this witness, he was returning from he factory in his car at about 12-30 p.m. on 21st January 1964 with other officers, when they were held up by a group of strikers, who abused and threatened them. The witness identified the delinquent worker as one amongst the group. He reported the incident to the officer-in charge, Tollygunge police-station, with a copy to the Management. This report has been marked Ext. 10 and it refers to two incidents on the same day one taking place at 9-30 a.m. when the witness was going to the factory and another at about 12-30 p.m. when he was returning from the factory. The name of the delinquent worker appears in the said report which was signed by Shri Nangia, Shri A. Das, Shri S. K. Mehotra and some other officers. Shri S. K. Mehotra was of course examined as a witness in this case but he did not mention anything about this incident. Shri Nangia in his evidence described both. the incidents of 21st January 1964 but first one was not followed up. He further identified the delinquent worker as one in the group, that took part in the hold up. According to the witness, the workers started abusing them and even threatened to break the car and physically assulted them. Being afraid, he restarted the car and forced his way through the group. The witness was cross examined about this incident. There is on suggestion that the witness bore any enmity or ill-feeling against the delinquent worker. The enquiring officer did not see any sufficient reasons to disbelieve this solitary witness without corroboration, and on a careful consideration of all the materials on record, I see no sufficient reasons to reject his testimony.

Shri Pathak on behalf of the Union, sought to contend that the enquiring officer made a confusion about the hold up of cars on 21st January 1964 and the enquiring officer does not specifically find the delinquent worker guilty to this charge. It is true that he did not specifically find this charge to have been proved but gave sufficient indications what his finding should be in so far as this charge concerned. In fact, he accepted the evidence of and identification by Shri Nangia and it follows that he found the delinquent worker guilty to this charge also.

Regarding charge (c), Management examined three witnesses, Dr. J. N. Agarwal, Shri S. P. Kakkar and Shri R. S. Manian. Principal withnes in so far as this incident is concerned is Dr. J. N. Aarwal, Secretary of Factory No. 2. According to this witness,he was proceeding towards the factory in his car with some other officers at about 9 am. on 16th January 1964, when they were stopped near a tea-stall by a group of 8/10 workers. The delinquent worker was one in the group. Shri Manian was with Dr. Agarwal in his car and Mr. Kakkar was following them in a scooter. Dr. Agarwal got down from his car and asked these persons why they were obstructing him, when he was told they would not be allowed to go to the factory. There was heated exchange of words when the police constable on duty came and the strikers dispersed. In cross-examination, Dr. Agarwal was very specific and pointed out the delinquent worker and stated that he was the man, who was instrumental in holding up the car and others were with him. Shri Kakkar though substantially corroborated him, did not and could not identify the delinquent worker. Shri Kakkar further stated that he was following Dr. Agarwal's car in a scooter whilist Shri Manian said that Shri Kakkar was in a taxi. The discrepancy, in my view, is not very material and Mr. Manian may have made a mistake.

Shri Pathak, on behalf of the Union sought to contend that the hold up of Dr. Agarwal is the subject-matter of charge No. 3 of charge sheet, dated 17th January 1964. which however was notfollowed up; on the contrary, charge No. 2 of the charge-sheet. dated 17th January 1964, relates to the threatening of some of the officers, who were returning to their residence from Factory No. 2 at about12-30 p.m. on 2nd January 1964 and not the threatening of Dr. Agarwal. It is, however, to be pointed out that the two incidents though subject-matter. of separate charges, were almost inseparable as one incident occurred within half-an-hour of the other. Dr. Agarwal together wth Shri K. P. Ganguly lodged a report to the Jadavpore police-station on the same day, copy of which has been marked Ext. M and the name of the delinquent worker also appears in the said report. The incident is substantially corroborated and the name of Mr. Kakkar is also to be found in the same report. In the circumstances, the discrepancy does not appear to be very material and on a careful consideration of all the materials on record, I do not see any sufficient reason to differ from the finding of the enquiring officer.

Regarding charge (d), Management examined Shri A. D. Nangia and Shri Mehotra. They were returning to their residence in convoy of cars at about 12-50 p.m. on 20th January 1964 when the convoy was held up on the Netaji Subhas Road by a group of strikers, who started throwing brickbats and almost all the cars were damanged and Shri Mehrotra was hit on the forehead with a brickbat causing bleeding injury. The witness was emphatic that he saw the delinquent worker in the group and saw him throwing stones. A part of the convoy struggled through and proceeded to Jadavpore police-station where Shri D. K. Sen lodged the F. I. R. and the name of the delinquent worker was supplied to Shri Sen by other officers present. Copy of this report is marked Ext. R and the name of the delinquent worker appears there. Shri Mehrotra substantially corroborated Shri Nangia but could not definitely say if the delinquent worker was one amongst the stone throwing strikers. He also did not furnish the names of the delinquent worker to Shri Sen at the time of lodging of F. I. R. Since the name of the delinquent worker appears in the F. I. R. which substantially corroborates the statement of both the witnesses, there is no reason why the identification by Shri Nangia should be rejected, more particularly, when there is no allegation of enmity or ill-feeling against him. No motive for falsely identificating the delinquent worker has been suggested and in the circumstances the enquiring officer, it seems, was perfectly justified in accepting the evidence and finding the delinquent worker guilty to the charge. Hence on a careful consideration of all the materials on record, I see no reason to differ from the finding of the enquiring officer and the decision of the Management is justified in the circumstances of the case. The delinquent worker is, therefore, entitled to no relief in the case.

Shri Pathak raised a further contention that although there was no enquiry with regard to the charge of the charge-sheet, dated 9th March 1964, it was read over to the delinquent worker at the time of commencement of the enquiry and as such the enquiry is vitiated. I regret, I am unable to agree. The delinquent worker cannot be said to have been prejudiced in any way nor was it followed up by evidence. The point raised must, therefore, fail.

(23) Sudhamoy Bhattacharyya

Shri Amalesh Kar did not appear before the Tribunal as a witness. Shri Sudhamoy Bhattacharjee appeared in this case as a witness. This domestic enquiry was jointly conducted against both the workers. Amalesh Kar was dismissed from service with effect from 23rd March 1965 and Sudhamoy with effect from 19th March 1965. These workers along with another Bireswar Ganguly was charged under a charge-sheet, dated 8th April 1964, but other charges were not persued against them.

The charge was to the effect that these two workers along with several other persons, assaulted Shri S. Santra, an officer of the company on the afternoon of 7th April 1964 in front of R. N. Agarwala's Petrol Pump while he was proceeding along the Gariahat Road, causing severe bleeding injuries on his persons. The workers were besides charged having incited and instigated others to do likewise and their behaviour was described as riotous and disorderly, which was a major misdemeanour within the meaning of clause 2 sub-clause (17) of the Certified Standing Orders.

Both the workers submitted written explanations. Amalesh Kar in his explanation, dated 29th May 1964, denied the allegation and asserted that he lives at a distance of about 4 miles to the south of the factory and had no occasion to go to Gariahat Road on the date of occurrence which was over a mile to the north of the factory. Sudhamoy Bhattacharjee in his explantion, dated 2nd July 1964, described the charges as false and motivated. Shri Nirmal Chandra Maitra (O. P. W. 1) conducted the domestic enquiry in so far as this charge is concerned.

Of these two workers, only Sudhamoy Bhattacharjee was examined before the Tribunal in this case and in his evidence, he stated that both of them participated at the domestic enquiry which however was not conducted fairly or properly, the reasons being that they were not allowed to have the assistance of a co-worker of their choice and the answers given were not properly or correctly recorded. He further stated that they were not allowed to have the copies of the documents on the basis of which charges were framed against them before the enquiry and they were dismissed as they were active members of the Union and a number of the Departmental Staff Committee. Shri Nirmal Chandra Maitra (O. P. W. 1) in his evidence given on 26th July 1966 stated that the workers were present at the time of enquiry, participated in it and signed at the bottom of each page. They were given all facilities in the matter of their defence and all evidence was properly or correctly recorded. No evidence according to O. P. W. 1 was not recorded in the absence of the workers concerned and workers themselves also examined witnesses in support of their respective cases. The enquiring officer further stated that copies of the documents were made over to the charge-sheeted workers before the commencement of the enquiry.

Management examined three witnesses, who include Shri S. Santra, Development Engineer, Factory No. 1, Shri R. V. Easwaran, P. A. to General Manager, Jay Engineering Works and Dr. S. Bhattacharya, F. R. C. S. Shri Santra in his evidence stated that he was going home on the afternoon of 6th April 1964 after attending to some work at 20[1] Ballygunge Park Road, where one of the General Managers of Jay Engineering Works Ltd., resided. Nearabout the Gol Park (Gariahat) he was proceeding towards the South when he was accosted by a man, whom he knew by face only. He was in a group of about 5 persons and sensing danger, he took off his spectacles and was at once attacked by the group who rained blows and punches on him and throw him down on the pavement and kicked him. He shouted for help ; as soon as he was thrown to the ground, the strikers beat a hasty retreat. Some people collected there and the witness somehow managed to proceed to his house in South End Park near the Lakes from where he rang up Deputy General Manager Shri Sen. He suffered bleeding injury all over his face and body and his tooth were shaken. The Management sent R. V. Easwaran to his house. He was accompanied by Shri N. Chakraborty and Shri Sen Gupta, Security Officer of the company. They took him to Tollygunge P. S. and from thence to Sambhu Nath Pandit Hospital, where he was admitted. The next day he was at first taken to P. G. Hospital and from there to Presidency Nursing Home for treatment. X. Ray Skiagram were taken and he was treated by Dr. S. Bhattacharjee, F. R. C. S., at the Nursing Home. His story was sufficiently corroborated by R. V. Easwaran and F. I. R. to the police also shows that these two workers were named as assailants in the F. I. R. On behalf of the Union, it was sought to be contended that as ShriSantra was not in a position to say or suggest any motive of the assault, it would be unwise to find the workers guilty on the uncorroborated testimony of Shri Santra alone. The enquiring officer, who had an opportunity of seeing the witnesses, was clearly impressed by their demeanour and the mode and manner of speaking. Apart from any other motive, the workers of the factory were on strike at the time and stray cases of violence had occurred even before this. On his own showing, Sudhamoy Bhattacharyya was an active member of the Union and a member of the Staff Departmental Committee and was as such, keenly interested in the success of the strike. Shri Santra, who was presumably one of the loyal officers was attending the factory and on the date of incident had gone to the house of one of the General Managers of Jay Engineering Works at 20 Ballygunge Park. Naturally, there was clash of interest between the workers and this officer. The story narrated by Shri Santra was a coherent one and the enquiring officer did not note any flatering or hesitation in the matter of identification on his part. These circumstances however stand out prominently in this case. Firstly, there was a report to the police, within a short time of the occurrence, in which, names of these two workers appear as assailants and the injuries including fracture of bones, such as fracture Tr processes of 2,3 and 4L Spine Rt. and the detention of the witness at the Nursing Home for a considerable period. It is evident from the testimony of the doctor that the injuries were very serious and such injuries could not have been stage-managed or self-inflicted. The workers in cross-examination did not suggest any motive for falsely implicating them and they merely asserted that the allegations made against them are baseless. The fact that Shri Santra promptly denounced these two delinquent workers as his assailants to his colleagues immediately after the occurrence and also at the police-station that very evening, go to show beyond reasonable doubt that the delinquent workers were not sought to be implicated after the happening of the incident nor did the Management want to take advantage of the situation. There is no reason why of all the workers, these two delinquent workers should be selected or made scapegoats, when there are other important office bearers, who were not sought to be implicated or linked with the occurrence.

Both the workers set up different alibi. Shri Sudhamoy Bhattacharjee asserted that he was attacked with bacillary dysentery from 5th April 1964 to 10th April 1964 and during this period he was advised bed rest by his physician. A medical certificate was, no doubt, filed but the doctor was not produced as witness and in the absence of the medical officer who granted the certificate, no importance can be attached to the medical certificate. Moreover, the worker was entitled to free medical treatment from the E. S. I. doctor but the service of such doctor was not availed of and the reasons therefor has not been sufficiently clear. Besides the delinquent worker in his defence or explanation to the charge-sheet, furnished on 3rd July 1964, set up a completely different plea even though he had the medical certificate with him long before that date. Failure to take up specific defence plea in his explanation must therefore be regarded as an after-thought.

Amalesh Kar in his defence similarly stated that on 6th April 1964 he was engaged throughout the day in a stage rehearsal of a play that his dramatic club was going to present. This alibi was not set up in the defence or explanation to the charge-sheet, although the explanation is fairly long. Two witnesses were no doubt examined in support of this alibi. They are the President and Secretary of the Local Dramatic Club. It is interesting to note that the defence witnesses gave contradictory version for holding the dress rehearsal on that day. The enquiring officer could not persuade himself to accept their testimony and thought the evidence of those witnesses to be tendentious. He therefore rejected the plea of alibi as an after-thought and an attempt to save a hopeless situation. On a careful consideration of all the materials on record, I do not see any sufficient reason to differ from the conclusion reached by the enquiring officer.

Shri Pathak on behalf of the Union, contended that Shri Santra was a Development Engineer, attached to Factory No. 1 of Jay Engineering Works which remained closed on Mondays. The date of incident being a Monday, Shri Santra therefore had no occasion to attend to any work on that day. As per clause 2, sub-clause (17) of the Standing Orders, it would only amount to a major misdemeanour if the conduct of the workmen was riotous or disorderly or if he threatened, intimidated, coerced other employees or interfered with their work, either within the factory premises or outside having subversive effect on factory discipline. Consequently, as Factory No. 1 was closed on the date, the assault, even if, committed by the workers on a holidays, could not be regarded as having subversive effect on discipline in the factory. I regret I am unable to agree. It is to be pointed out in the first place that a strike was going on and sporadic incidents have been reported earlier. Such incidents were clearly intended to prevent the loyal workers from joining their duties and would thus have subversive effect on the factory discipline. That being the position the conduct of the delinquent workers in the instant case must amount to major misconduct even though the assault took place outside the factory and the enquiring officer was therefore perfectly justified in finding them guilty and the Management in dismissing them.

(21) Prodyut Kumar Ghosh

Shri Prodyut Ghosh was a fitter (Electro Plating Department) of Factory No. 1 of Jay Engineering Works Ltd., since 1947. He was dismissed from service with effect from 19th March 1965 after a domestic enquiry. He was served with two charge-sheets containing 8 charges, being dated 29th December 1963 and 11th June 1964. The worker in his explanation, dated 13th May 1964, denied the allegations and characterised the charges as irrelevant, vague and motivated. In his evidence before the Tribunal the delinquent worker stated that although he participated in the domestic enquiry it was not fairly or properly conducted and he was not furnished with the copies of the documents on the basis of which charges were prepared. He further alleged that these and previous false charges which ultimately proved infructuous, were levelled, against him in order to remove him from service. The enquirinjg officer Shri N. C. Maitra, in his evidence taken on 29th July 1966 denied that the enquiry was not properly or fairly conducted and asserted that usual procedure was followed in this case. He further stated that he did not know if the workman concerned was supplied with the details of charges before the commencement of the enquiry.

The Management led evidence in so far as five of the charges were concerned, out of which the Enquiring Officer found the worker not guilty in respect of one charge, namely, serial No. 7 of the charge-sheet, dated 29th December 1963. The Enquiring Officer, however, found him guilty to the remaining six charges, which are set out seriatim :

(a) That he has been threatening, terrorising, intimidating the willing workers in order to prevent them from going to their respective duties after 17th December 1963 ;

(b) That he organised a meeting in his section at about 2-30 p.m. on 15th December 1967 without the permission of the Management instigated and incited the workers to resort to a strike with effect from 17th December 1963 knowing fully well that the said strike would be illegal ;

(c) That on 19th December 1963 at about 8-30 a.m. he detained a car near Poddar Nagar Colony, on Prince Anwar Shah Road, in which some willing workers were proceeding to Factory No.1 and prevented them from joining their duty. In addition, he shouted provocative slogans and hurled abuses at the said willing workers ;

(d) That he deliberately refused a communication sent to him by registered post knowing fully well that the said communication relates to official matter and was from the company.

Management examined six witnesses and two witnesses were examined by the defence ; Shri A. B. Roy, came to prove charge (b), Ashoke Gupta and Shri Dilip Kumar Ghosh came to prove charge (c). Nirapada Naskar and Upendra Nath Mondal came to prove some charges of which the delinquent worker was found not guilty by the enquiring officer (vide page 12 of his report). It is not, therefore, necessary to discuss these charges and it has not been enumerated in the list of charges mentioned above. Shri J. Goswami came to prove charge (d). I shall take up the last charge first.

With regard to this charge, it is to be observed in the first place that the concerned postal peon has not been examined. The enquiring officer in his report stated that the delinquent worker has every reason to know that it was a communication from his employer, as the name of the employer was written on the envelope. This envelope was marked as an exhibit by him, but there is nothing on the record to show, who opened this envelope or whether the enquiring officer received in open condition. The envelope Ext. B does not contain the charge-sheet nor does it bear any endorsement that it was either opened by the enquiring officer or by any one authorised by the enquiring officer. Moreover, the charge is not specified and the date of refusal is not shown therein. From the envelope, Ext. B it appears that the service could not be effected in absence of the number of quarters. The worker in his explanation, dated 30th July 1964, stated that his quarters remained closed most of the time. So he was not in a position to say, if actually the peon went to his house. Shri Goswami, who was the only witness examined by the Management with regard to this charge was not present at the time of service and he merely came to prove that the letter was despatched in the name of the delinquent worker from his office. Undoubtedly, he was not present at the time of service and in the absence of the postal peon, this charge against the delinquent worker having deliberately refused the official communication from the employer, cannot be said to have been made out.

Regarding charge (a), it is to be pointed that there is no specific evidence that the delinquent worker threatened, terrorised and intimidated any willing worker in order to prevent him from going to their duties. Shri Asoke Gupta and Dilip Kumar Ghosh merely proved the incident of 19th December 1963 for which a separate charge, being charge (c) was framed against the delinquent worker. When the worker concerned was specifically charged for this incident and no further evidence is forthcoming relating to charge (a), the enquiring officer in my view, should not have found him guilty to the specific charge as also to the general charge. The enquiring officer did not refer to a single instance, which would go to prove charge (a) in addition to what the witnesses stated regarding charge (c). In my view, therefore, the enquiring officer was not justified in finding the delinquent worker guilty to the charge on the evidence on which he found him guilty to a specific charge, namely, charge (c).

Regarding charge (b), Management examined Abani Bhusan Roy, Foreman of Factory No. 1. According to this witness, on the 15th of December 1963, or thereabout, he found the delinquent worker addressing a group of 30/40 workers inside the factory and exhorting them to resort to a strike with effect from 17th December 1963. The witness asked the delinquent worker why without his permission he was addressing the workers or holding the meeting. At first, the delinquent worker kept silent, when the witness asked other workers in the group to go and join their duties. After the workers dispersed, the witness asked the delinquent worker to proceed to his duty, when he reported saying that in such circumstances, it was not possible to keep one's head. The delinquent worker at that stage refused to cross-examine the witnesses and reserved his right to cross-examine the witness afterwards. There is no allegation of any enmity or ill-feeling against this Foreman, who was his immediate superior officer. The delinquent worker in his statement denied that he held a meeting and asserted that because he was connected with the Union, attempts were being made to victimise him time and again. He also examined a defence witness Amrita Bilas Thakur, in support of his case that no meeting was held on that day in his office section. This witness is a junior supervisor in the Nickel Department of Factory No. 1. He stated that he was employed in morning shift in the week ending 15th December 1963 and the delinquent worker was also working in that shift during that week. He also denied that any meeting was held in the nickel department at about 2.30 p.m. on that day but there was a joint meeting of the Union in the quarters. The delinquent worker asked for his permission to attend that meeting but he asked him to get the permission from the superior officer. As no superior officer was then present, he gave him permission, following a telephone call. He was cross-examined at length over certain activities of the workers, which were considered to be subversive of discipline. The enquiring officer considered this evidence in its proper perspective and thought the witness to be decidedly tendentious. Another defence witness Shri Sushavan Roy, also came to prove the delinquent worker's presence at the expanded executive committee meeting of the Union which continued from 12 noon to about 4 p.m. on that day. Admittedly more than 100 persons attended that meeting and it seems strange that no one would be allowed to leave the meeting during these long hours. It is all the more surprising that the witness should remember after lapse of such a long time whether the delinquent worker left the meeting even for sometime and the enquiring officer has referred to certain discrepancies in the statement of the delinquent worker and his defence, which led him to disbelieve the delinquent worker's presence at the meeting for entire period. Enquiring officer for good and valid reasons thought that neither the evidence of Amrita Thakur nor that of Sushavan Roy could be accepted in toto and he considered it prudent to accept the testimony of Abani Bhusan Roy against whom no allegation has been made. On a careful consideration of all the materials, I do not see any sufficient reasons to differ from the assessment made by the enquiring officer, more particularly, when he had an opportunity of seeing the witnesses and noting their demeanour. It follows therefore that the enquiring officer's finding that Prodyut Ghosh held a meeting of a group of workers at about 2.30 p.m. on 15th December 1963 in the Nickel Department of Factory No. 1, must be accepted.

Regarding charge (c) two witnesses examined by the Management are Shri Ashoke Gupta and Dilip Kumar Ghosh. According to Shri Gupta, he was going to the factory at about 8.30 a.m. on 19th December 1963, in a car with some other fellow employees, including Shri Dilip Ghosh. Nearabout the factory, in the Poddar Nagar Colony, he was obstructed by a group of strikers, who formed a road block. They asked the occupants of the car get down and when the latter refused, their attitude became very violent and they stated abusing them filthily. Shri Gupta identified the delinquent worker as one in the group that took a leading part in intimidating and threatening them. Shri Gupta however forced his car through the crowd and went to the factory and submitted a report. The delinquent worker at first did not cross examine the witness but subsequently cross-examined. Shri Gupta and the only question put was whether the delinquent worker had enmity or ill-feeling with the witness or whether he was ever insulted or ill-treated by him This was denied and the Security Officer was quite clear that there was no personal difference or ill-feeling between them. Shri Ghosh in his evidence substantially corroborated Shri Gupta and identified the delinquent worker as one, who took a leading part in the group and abused them. The witness was cross-examined and in cross-examination the witness clearly stated that he could recognise the delinquent worker in the group perfectly. There is no allegation against this witness and the witness satisfactorily and sufficiently corroborated the Security Officer Shri Gupta. The delinquent worker did not adduce any evidence in so far as this charge was concerned even though he was given every opportunity to do so.

Shri Pathak on behalf of the Union sought to contend that this witness referred to the place where the incident took place as Pankajini Math whereas the charge relates to a place known as Poddar Nagar Colony on the Prince Anwar Shah Road. The enquiring officer himself had no idea about the topography of the place (vide his evidence, dated 27th July 1966). On behalf of the Management it was sought to be contended by Dr. Bose that the place formerly known as Poddarnagar Colony subsequently came to be known as Pankajini Math as it was established at the place on a latter date. The explanation does not appear to be improbable and even though there is no evidence to connect both the places, the discrepancy in my opinion is not important, for, the delinquent worker never took any exception about the misdescription of the place before the enquiring officer and it was for the first time before this Tribunal that this objection has been taken. I have carefully considered the evidence on record and I do not see any sufficient reasons to differ from the assessment of the evidence made by the enquiring officer. Moreover the Tribunal is not sitting in appeal over the finding of the enquiring officer. For all these reasons discussed above, I must hold that the enquiring officer was perfectly justified in finding the delinquent worker guilty of charges (b) and (c). Failure of the two charges out of the four found by the enquiring officer will not in any way vitiate the ultimate finding and the Management would be perfectly justified in acting upon or taking a decision even on the two remaining charges. The finding against the delinquent worker is therefore upheld. It therefore follows that the enquiring officer was justified in finding the delinquent worker guilty and the Management in punishing him in the manner they did and the worker concerned is not entitled to any relief.

(22) Shri Dipak Kumar Chakraborty

Shri Dipak Kumar Chakraborty was a turner in the Tool Room of Factory No. 2, of Jay Engineering Works Ltd. for about 2 1/2 years. He was dismissed from service with effect from 23rd March 1965 after a domestic enquiry. He was served with a charge-sheet, dated May 3, 1964, containing as many as 5 charges, of which Nos. 4 and 5 were only pursued. Charges were :

(a) That he threatened, terrorised and intimidated willing workers in order to prevent them from going to their respective duties since the 17th December 1963 ;

(b) That he assaulted Shri Logan Deep Sharma of Factory No. 1 in front of Corporation Office on Prince Anwar Shaw Road, on the afternoon of 2nd May 1964. The worker was accused of riotous and disorderly behaviour, amounting to major misdemeanour within the meaning of clause 2 (17), (19) and (42) of the Standing Orders.

The worker in his explanation, dated 17th June 1966, described these charges as baseless and motivated. Shri N. G. Maitra (O. P. W. 1) conducted a domestic enquiry against Dipak Chakraborty during the period from 29th August 1964 to 21st September 1964 and found the delinquent worker guilty to the charges. Shri Dipak Chakraborty (P. W. 12) in his evidence before the Tribunal, challenged the enquiry as unfair and improper on the ground that the enquiring officer was misled by false evidence produced by the Management and the copies of documents on the basis of which charges were drawn up, were not made over to him before the commencement of enquiry. He also asserted that he had been victimised because of his Union activities. The enquiring officer in his evidence before the Tribunal denied that the enquiry was not fairly or properly conducted and asserted that the delinquent worker was given all possible facilities in the matter of his defence ; cross-examined the witnesses produced by the Management and were also afforded opportunities of producing his own witnesses but did not choose to do so.

Management examined two witnesses Shri Logan Deep Sharma and Shri Kartick Niyogi and no witness was examined on behalf of the delinquent worker. Shri Logan Sharma in his evidence before the enquiring officer, stated that on the afternoon of 2nd or 3rd May 1964, he was proceeding along Anwar Shaw Road to attend a meeting at the Congress Bhawan when the delinquent worker suddenly attacked him from behind with bottle and hit him on his head. He looked behind and found the delinquent worker standing with another bottle in hand and being chased, ran for safety into a neighbouring ghar. Some local people collected, when the worker withdraw and the witness was then removed to Bangur Hospital. The wound on his head was stiched up and he was detained in the hospital for about four days. A police officer saw him that very night, had his statement recorded and on the next day he also made a statement to the other witness Shri Kartick Niyogi. The witness identified the delinquent worker and referred to another incident in the month of December or January when he was sought to be prevented by this worker from joining his duties. On that day also, he was assaulted and witness Shri Kartick Niyogi was with him at the time. The reason given being that the delinquent worker and his group took him for a person, who was working against the successful conclusion of the strike. Other witness Shri Kartick Niyogi more or less corroborated the story of Shri Logan Deep Sharma and stated that when he met him at the Bangur Hospital on the next day, Shri Logan Deep Sharma denounced Shri Dipak Chakraborty as his assailant. This witness also corroborated the incident that took place towards the end of 1963 or beginning of 1964 when the delinquent worker sought to attack them while they were going to attend a Congress Meeting. The delinquent worker was coming in a cycle, suddenly gave a push to this witness and thereafter abused him in filthy language and also dealt a blow in his stomach when he objected. He was assaulted and when Shri Logan Deep came to his rescue, he was also assaulted. The evidence appear to be on the whole consistent and the enquiring officer saw no reason to doubt or disbelieve the witnesses, who had actually suffered and observed that plethora of evidence is not needed in a matter like this. After having gone through the enquiry proceedings thoroughly, I do not see any reason to differ from the finding of the enquiring officer. The matter is one for the enquiring officer to believe and this Tribunal in this adjudication cannot sit as a Court of appeal over the enquiring officer and take a different view of the evidence. Since there was some evidence to connect the delinquent worker with the case made out in the charge-sheet, the finding cannot be regarded as perverse nor can the enquiry be regarded as unfair or improper. It is to be pointed out that the delinquent worker was represented by an observer of his own choice and he was given every opportunity to cross-examine the witnesses and all his objections were noted. The acts complained of, if proved, would normally amount to major misconduct under Appendix "D", clause 2 (2), (17), (19) and (42) of the Standing Orders.

Shri Pathak, appearing on behalf of the Union, sought to contend that at the time when the charge-sheet was drawn up on 3rd May 1964, Management had no materials before it to proceed against this worker for neither Shri Logan Deep Sharma reported the matter to the Management nor witness Shri Kartick Niyogi gave out the story to the Management before 7th of May, when they joined their duties. On his own showing, Shri Kartick Niyogi could not have informed the Management of the incident before 7th and the Management did not offer any explanation for issuing the charge-sheet on May 3, 1964. He also referred to the discharge certificate (Ext. B) and drew the Tribunal's attention to the date of admission mentioned therein, namely, 3rd May 1964 which would show that either the incident took place on May 3, 1964 or Shri Logan Deep Sharma did not go to the Hospital on the date of incident. Shri Pathak accordingly contends that in the absence of the report and the complaints on the basis of which charge-sheet was drawn up on May 3, 1964, the Tribunal would not be justified in accepting the Management's version at all. I regret, I am unable to agree. Charge-sheet is not expected to be a record of evidence and when it gives necessary particulars of the misconduct alleged, it cannot be characterised as imprecise. In the case of Raghunath Banerjee, reported in 1966 (I), L. L. J., page 190, it was held by the Calcutta High Court that failure to supply allegations on the basis of which charge was framed was at best an irregularity. This objection must, therefore, fail. On a careful consideration of all the materials on record, I find that the enquiring officer was justified in finding the delinquent worker guilty and the Management in dismissing him in the instant case. Accordingly the delinquent worker is not entitled to any relief in this case.

With the above finding, last of the worker mentioned in the list attached to the order of reference is exhausted and that disposes of issue No. 1.

On behalf of the Union an objection was however taken on the ground that many of the workers who were involved in the same incident were charge-sheeted separately and separate proceedings were started against them. The result of this was that same witnesses were examined with regard to particular incidents on different dates resulting in discrepancy in their evidence. This discrepancy, though not of serious nature, were bound to occur whether the witnesses spoke or deposed about the same incident at intervals. Sometimes different witnesses were examined in different enquiries relating to the same incident and there was also some shift in their evidence. Such shift was bound to occur as the witnesses who testified to the facts, were examined on different dates and under different conditions. I shall illustrate this with regard to some particular incidents, for example, workmen Sanat Banerjee, Sanat Chakraborty, Mantu Das, Bharat Giri, Bimalendu Bose, Kartick Mondal and Badal Chatterjee were all charge-sheeted for the Rathtola incident over the hold up of a concoy of cars in which some officers were returning to their residence from Factory No. 2 on 20th January 1964 and throwing of brickbats on the convoy as a result of which injury was caused to one of the officers and most of the cars were damaged. Now, all these workers were separately charge-sheeted for this incident and separate enquiries were conducted against them. A number of officers were in the convoy and their names appear in the list attached to the F.I.R. that was lodged with the Jadavpore police on the same day. In the enquiry against Sanat Chakraborty two of these officers Shri D. K. Sen and S. K. Mehrotra were examined as witnessas whereas in the enquiry against Saoat Banerjee, Shri A. D Nangia and S. K Mehrotra testified to this charge. In the enquiry against Mantu Das as many as six witnesses were examined and they are Shri D. K. Sen, B. K. Saxena, Shri A. D. Nangia, Shri M. K. Issar, Shri N. N. Chakraborty and Shri S. K. Mehrotra. In the enquiry against Bharat Giri, the Management examined five of the above witnesses excepting Shri M. K. Issar. In the enquiry against Bimalendu Bose, Management examined Sarbashri S. K. Mehrotra. S.K. Chakraborty and D.K. Sen, as witnesses whereas, against Kartick Mondal, Shri P. B. Choudhury, Shri A. Bose, Shri S. K. Mehrotra, Shri K. P. Ganguly and Shri D. K. Sen were examined as witnesses in so far as this charge was concerned. It is interesting to note that in this enquiry against Kartick Mondal, Sarbasri A. D. Nangia and N. N. Chakraborty who were also witnesses of this Rathtola incident, were examined but in relation to another charge and did not say a word about the Rathtola incident to which they were vital witnesses. In the enquiry against Badal Chatterje only Shri D. K. Sen and Shri A. K. Bhoumick were examined as witnesses in relation to this charge. It will thus appear that different sets of witnesses were examined in different cases and evidence as such against some of the workers were very thorough, while against others it was not pursued by the Management as vigourously as they should have done. It is also interesting to note that the evidence of some witnesses in some enquiries were not the same in other enquiries and in particular, reference may be made to evidence of Shri S. K. Mehrotra in the enquiry against Shri Kartick Mondal, which was thorough and leaves little room for improvement whilist that given by him in other enquiries left much to be desired.

The Management thought it better to proceed against the individual workman and listed all the charge against them for getting that it was much better to proceed incidentwise. Since this was not a criminal case, failure on the part of the Management to proceed transaction-wise against different workers would not be very material. It is not also necessary that a requisite number of witnesses should be examined for proving a particular incident; for the Indian Evidence Act nowhere lays down that certain number of witnesses are necessary to prove a certain set of facts. One witness, if believed, would be sufficient to prove a particular fact but if evidence was available, as it was available for the Rathtola incident, it would certainly have been much better to conduct one enquiry against the aforesaid 7 workmen over this charge relating to Rathtola incident and one set of witness would have been more than sufficient to establish this charge. Similarly, five workmen, namely, Priya Brata Sengupta, Bireshwar Chaterji. Haridas Malakar, Bimal Chatterjee and Satya Brata Ghosh were separately charge-sheeted for organising, and participating in a procession from Hazra Park to the Assembly Chambers at about noon on 30th December 1963. Separate enquiries were conducted against them over this charge and in most of these enquiries Shri A. K. Gupta deposed as a witness for the Management Likewise Sanat Chakraborty, Sanat Banerjee, Ranjit Bose and Kartik Mondal were charge-sheeted for the incident near the factory on the Netaji Subhas Road on the morning of 16th January 1964 and of these four workmen Sanat Chakraborty, Sanat Banerjee and Ranjit Bose were separately proceeded with. These separate enquiries, I need hardly point out created more confusion and produced more loopholes in the evidence, of which the defence failed to take proper note of, at the time of enquiry. Most of the witnesses were not cross-examined at the time of domestic enquiry and the evidence of some witnesses tendered in connection with the another enquiry over the same incident were not brought on record nor was the attention of the witness drawn to the discrepancy. Be that as it may, the enquiries in all these cases, in so far as it went, were conducted with a thoroughness and promptitude for which the enquiring officer, deserves special mention.

Issue No. 2 relates to the demotion of Shri Balai Ghosh, an assembly fitter in Factory No. 1 of Messrs. Jay Engineering Works since 1951.

Shri Bimal Ghosh was demoted as a mazdoor with effect from 19th March 1965 as a result of a domestic enquiry conducted against him by O.P.W. 1, Shri N. C. Moitra. Shri Ghosh was served with two charge-sheets, dated 31st December 1963 and 12th January 1964. There are as many as six charges in the charge-sheet, dated 21st December 1963, of which the Management proceeded with only three charges but he was absolved of all these charges as there was no evidence. The only charge that was pursued is the charge contained in the charge-sheet, dated 12th January 1964. The charge inter-alia was that on 4th January 1964 at about 9 a.m. Shri Balai Ghosh along with other workers, stopped Shri D. Hansa and some other willing workers on the Prince Anwar Shaw Road, threatened and abused them while they were proceeding to the factory. His behaviour was described as objectionable and the worker was accused of major misdemean our under Appendix 'D', clause 2 sub-clauses (17) and (19) of the Standing Orders. The enquiring officer found him guilty to this charge and the Management after obtaining the permission of the Tribunal, demoted him as above.

Management examined five witnesses, of whom Shri D. Hansa, Shri Siva Saran Agarwal, Shri Ashim Krishna Mukherjee and Shri Chamanlal came to prove the incident in question. The other witness Shri J. Goswami was a formal witness. The worker in his evidence before the Tribunal challenged this enqiury as unfair and improper and asserted that copies of complaints and other documents were not made over to him before the enquiry. He further challenged that the enquiry proceeding was neither explained nor read over to him even though he attested the same out of fear. The worker also contended that the company had taken vindictive measure against him because of his association with the Union, The enquiring officer Shri N. C. Maitra in his evidence on 11th August 1966 denied that Shri Ghosh attested the enquiry proceeding out of fear and the enquiry proceeding having been conducted in Bengali, there was no difficulty for him to understand it. He moreover stated that copies of the documents that were made use of, were made over to Shri Ghosh and he was allowed all possible facilities in the matter of defence. Admittedly Shri Ghosh, attended, the enquiry proceeding, participated in it and attested the enquiry proceeding in every page. The materials on record do not justify that Shri Ghosh attested the enquiry proceeding out of fear.

Turning now to the evidence adduced at the enquiry it is to be pointed out that the evidence is not only, contradictory but the testimony of two witnesses was completely at variance with the testimony of the other two witnesses so as to give rise to considerable doubt in the mind of any reasonable man about the varacity of their statements. The witnesses were all residents of Usha Bhawan, their official quarters. It was situated close to Factory No. 1, on Anwar Shah Road.

One day in the month of January 1964, witness Shri Shib Saran Agarwal along with Shri D. Hansa, Shri Ashim Krishna Mukherjee and several others were proceeding towards Factory No. 1 about 9-10 a.m. when they found four or five people standing on the Prince Anwar Shah Road. These persons started abusing them. The workers were then on strike and these people presumably were the strikers. Amongst these persons, the witness noticed Shri Ghosh and several others. The workers however did not specifically abuse any of the officers by name. The officers reported the matter to the Security Officer, who in turn made a report to the Tollygunge Police Station on the same day. This report has been marked Ext. A by the enquiring officer. Shri D. Hansa in his evidence substantially corroborated the statement of Shri Agarwal and identified Shri Balai Ghosh, who according to the witness, was noticed using indecent language, such as "chhotolokes", etc. Shri A. K. Mukherjee in his evidence, however, stated that one morning in the month of January 1964, while they were proceeding towards the factory in a group from Usha Bhawan. brickbats, mud, etc. were thrown on them. This was done presumably with a view to prevent the willing employees from attending their duties as the workers were then on strike. The witness named certain persons but could not identify or recognise Shri Balai Ghosh on that day. The last witness to this incident Shri Chaman Lal in his evidence substantially corroborated Shri Ashim Krishna Mukherjee's story of throwing of brickbats and mud. The witness went on to say that after reaching the factory, they reported the matter to the Security Officer jointly. This report was not however, produced before the enquiring officer and there is nothing on the record to show, what happened to that report. The two first named witnesses did not at all refer to the throwing of brickbats or mud at that time whilist the two last named witnesses were emphatic that there was not only brickbatting and mud throwing but they also proceeded to make a joint report to the Security Officer. As none of the witnesses were clear about that date, one might take the view that these were different incidents altogether but the enquiring officer in his cross-examination admitted that all the witnesses examined in this enquiry testified to one incident, namely, that took place at 9 a.m. on 4th January 1964. The charge against the worker was that he tried to stop Shri D. Hansa and other employees from proceeding towards the factory, and abused and threatened them, but the evidence of Shri Siva Saran Agarwal and Shri D. Hansa did not really make out that part of the charge. In fact, none of the witnesses could be prevented from going to the factory nor were they molested or stopped. It is true that all the witnesses have stated that they became afraid as a result of showing of temper or hurling of abuses. If the evidence of the two last named witneses are to be accepted, it would appear that there was not merely attempt to annoy and hurling of abuses at the witnesses but even to assault them. If that was so, then the first two witnesses would certainly have mentioned about it. Consequently in the absence of the joint report submitted by the witnesses Shri Chamanlal and others it cannot be ascertained what really transpired on the morning of, 4th of January 1964. The two latter witnesses failed to recognise this delinquent worker and the two earlier witnesses, though identified this worker, did not substantially corroborate the incident that took place. As the witnesses were all testifying to the same incident this discrepancy in the absence of any explanation. assumes serious proportion and the enquiring officer should not have disregarded it. Moreover, the enquiring officer failed to consider the evidence of Shri Chamanlal, who was examined before him nor made any attempt to reconcile the discrepancy in the evidence. From the evidence recorded at the enquiry, no reasonable man should have found this worker guilty to the charge and the finding as such must be regarded as perverse.

There is another point which also strikes at the root of the enquiring officer's finding. The delinquent worker was charged for misdemeanour under sub-clauses (17) and (19) of clause 2 of Appendix 'D' of the Standing Orders. Rule 2 (17) provides for:

> Riotous or disorderly behaviour, threatening, intimidating, coercing other employees or employee leader within the factory premises or outside having subversive effect on factory discipline.

In the charge-sheet the delinquent worker was not charged for riotous or disorderly behaviour but his behaviour was described as most objectionable. Even assuming that the delinquent worker threatened, coerced or interferred with the work of other employees, it is to be pointed out that the evidence of one set of witnesses did not make out this ingredients, while the other set even went to the length of proving the assault. The other clause which provides for the commission of any act subversive of discipline cannot also be attracted in the instant case because according to first set of witnesses, the workers did not commit any act except making some utterences, whilist according to the second set of witnesses the workers threw brickbats and mud at them. To me, it appears that the whole incident, if there was one, was attempted to be utilised for attracting the provisions of clause 2 (17) of Appendix 'D', which should not have been attracted in this case. In short, the Management tried to make a mountain out of the mole hill and a small incident was attempted to be magnified in order to rope in this worker, so that he might be found guilty for major misdemeanour under clause 2, sub-clause (17) and (19) of the Certified Standing Orders. Management could not persuade themselves to dismiss him from service but inflicted a lesser punishment.

It however. appears that this offence, even if it be assumed that the management has succeeded in establishing the charge against this worker in the instant case, should have some under clause 1, sub-clause (16) of Appendix 'D' which is a minor misdemeanour and for which warning suspension and fine could only be inflicted. Sub-clause (16) provides for any other acts subversive of factory discipline.

That being the position and as the punishment in the instant case appears to be out of all proportion, to the misdemeanour proved to have been committed, there is no escape from the conclusion that the delinquent worker in the instant case has been victimised for his union activities. For all these reasons discussed above, I must hold that the order of demotion in the instant case is not justified, and the concerned workman is entitled to be reinstated to his original position, with effect from the date of order.

In view of what has been discussed above, issue No. I must be answered in the affirmative except in the case of workmen Tushar Banerjee (6) and Badal Chatterjee (8) whose dismissals must be held to unjustified. These two workmen are therefore entitled to be reinstated to their former post. As they claimed to be unemployed over since their dismissal, they should get half pay and allowances for the break period; and the period from the date of suspension to the date of joining should be treated as extraordinary leave.

Demotion of Shri Balai Ghosh, in view of what has been discussed above must be held to be unjustified and the order demoting him as accordingly set aside and he is reinstated to his former post with full pay and allowances for the entire period.
